Veit Dietrich, Summaria Christlicher Lehr (1548)

The whole book in German and English, arranged by the church year: Dietrich's summaries of the Gospels, with his collects, those of The Lutheran Hymnary (1913) revised against them, and the rest newly translated in the same idiom

For every Sunday and principal feast, Dietrich's Summaria gives a saying from Scripture, nearly always from the day's Gospel, a short summary of what is to be learned from it, and a prayer. All of it is given here in the original German, followed by its English. The sayings are given in King James wording, and the summaries and the rest of the book's prose are translated into formal modern English (§2.6). The prayers are given in the idiom of The Lutheran Hymnary (TLHy). Where TLHy has the prayer, its English has been checked clause by clause against the German, corrected where it departs from it, and printed as Revised TLHy, with every change listed beneath it. Where TLHy lacks the prayer, a New translation in TLHy's idiom is given instead. The index in §3 lists every collect in church-year order and links to it.

1. Source and scope

Source. Veit Dietrich, Summaria Christlicher lehr/für das junge volck/Was auß eim yeden Sontags Euãgelio zu mercken sey/Sampt angehenckten Gebeten. durch Vitum Dietrich. M.D.XLVIII. [Summaries of Christian Doctrine for the Young People: What Is to Be Noted from Each Sunday's Gospel, Together with Appended Prayers. By Vitus Dietrich. 1548.] Google Books digitization, 306 PDF pages. The book has signatures but no page numbers, so every page reference below is to the PDF page of the scan (PDF p. 3 = title page). The colophon (PDF p. 304) reads Gedruckt zu Nürmberg/durch Johañ vom Berg/vnd Vlrich Newber. [Printed at Nuremberg by Johann vom Berg and Ulrich Neuber.]

PDF pp. 1–2 are Google's digitization notices. The book opens with the title page (PDF p. 3; its verso, p. 4, is blank) and Dietrich's dedicatory letter to Johann Neudörffer, dated 2 September 1546 (pp. 5–12). The temporale runs PDF pp. 13–228 (First Sunday in Advent through the Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity, with St. Stephen's Day placed after Christmas). The sanctorale, headed Sum̃aria Christlicher ler auß den Euangelien der fürnembsten Fest durchs Jar [Summaries of Christian doctrine from the Gospels of the principal feasts through the year], runs pp. 229–296 (St. Andrew through Sts. Simon and Jude). After the sanctorale come Dietrich's address Dem Christlichen Leser [To the Christian Reader] (pp. 297–298), two appended prayers (pp. 299–303) and the colophon (p. 304).

The sections. Every day has a section in four parts: a heading naming the day and the chapter of its text; a saying (spruch) of a few verses, given here as Verse; Dietrich's summary of what is to be learned from it; and a prayer headed Gebet. Dietrich's address to the reader (Part III) says how the book was meant to be used: children were to learn the saying by heart each Sunday and recite it daily through the week, and at times to read the summary and the prayer with it. Most sayings are taken from the day's Gospel; nine come from elsewhere in Scripture (Appendix D, item 11).

Scope. This edition gives the whole book: the front matter; every section of the temporale and the sanctorale, with its heading, saying, summary and prayer; and the end matter. The prayers are the ones Stratman marks (S), meaning they come from the Summaria: 80 numbered collects. Because [86] and [87] are the same prayer printed twice, there are 79 distinct texts. Bracketed numbers are Stratman's throughout.

- 54 collects are in TLHy. Each is printed as Revised TLHy, with its changes listed. They include [10], which TLHy prints at Quinquagesima and which is restored here to the Sunday after New Year, and Maundy Thursday, where TLHy's collect ([33]) proves to be a free adaptation of Dietrich's [32].
- 26 collects are not in TLHy. Each is given in a New translation in TLHy's idiom. Among them is Dietrich's own Quinquagesima collect [23].
- TLHy's other collects, which do not come from Dietrich, are given in Appendix A, so that every TLHy day can be found. Thirteen of them belong to TLHy's first series and are English versions of Norwegian collects: twelve that Stratman marks (H), and TLHy's second collect for St. Stephen's Day, which he omits. Each is given in the Norwegian of 1887 and revised against it, as Dietrich's collects are revised against his German. Appendix A also gives, for reference, TLHy's own texts of [24] and [33] (Dietrich's [10] and [32]) and its harvest collect [77], so that it holds every collect Stratman marks (H).
- The four collects Stratman marks (ELH), [73], [75], [76] and [78], are given in Appendix B with their origins and a version in TLHy's idiom. Two of them, [75] and [78], prove to be in TLHy after all, in its second series of collects.
- The front matter (title page and dedicatory letter) precedes Part I. Part III gives the end matter: Dietrich's address to the reader, the two prayers appended at the end of the book, and the colophon.

2. Conventions

2.1 Transcription

- Semi-diplomatic. Original spelling, capitalization and punctuation are kept, including the virgule (/). Abbreviations stay as printed: vñ = vnd, dz = das, d̓ = der, and a bar or tilde over a letter stands for a following m or n (lebē = leben, stim̃ = stimm). Long ſ and r rotunda (ꝛ) are normalized to s and r. Superscript-e vowels are given as ä, ö, ü. Words broken at a line end are joined without comment. The print's question mark, a point with a curved stroke above it, is given as ?.
- Decorated initials. The initial is printed as part of the first word (HErr, HERR, ALmechtiger, O Jesu).
- j-forms. The printer sets the pronoun forms jn, jm, jhn, jren with a descending j, distinct from the preposition in. This was checked at 400 dpi and is followed here.

- Misprints and damage. Misprints are kept and marked [sic], with the intended reading. Damaged type is noted where it occurs, and letters that have failed to print are supplied in square brackets, as in bl[i]ben.
- Page breaks. The title page is given line by line. In the dedicatory letter, the sayings, the summaries and the address to the reader, [p. 6] and the like mark where a new PDF page begins; when a page ends inside a divided word, the marker follows that word. Catchwords and signatures are omitted, and ꝛc., the sign for et cetera, is kept as printed.
- Paragraphs. Most summaries are printed as a single paragraph. Where the print breaks one, the break is kept, and the entry says so.
- Checking. Every transcription was read from the page images at 200 dpi, and doubtful points were checked at 400 dpi or more. The scan's OCR layer was used only to find pages and, afterwards, to cross-check that no words or lines had been skipped; for the sayings and summaries this was done by aligning each transcription with the OCR text of its pages.

2.2 TLHy's idiom, and how it has been revised

Every TLHy collect that comes from the Summaria was set beside Dietrich's German and compared clause by clause. The comparison shows how TLHy worked:

1. Register and syntax. TLHy uses Thee/Thou/Thy/Thine, -est/-eth verbs and capitalized divine pronouns. It shapes each prayer as a collect: invocation, a relative clause ("who hast…"), a colon, then the petition ("We beseech Thee…"). Scripture echoes are given in King James wording.
2. Plural for singular. TLHy recasts Dietrich's first-person-singular prayers in the plural (Epiphany 2; Trinity 11, 12, 19 and 20).
3. Conclusions. TLHy adds its full conclusion to every prayer, whether Dietrich ends with no conclusion at all, with a short "durch Christum…" (e.g., Easter 1, Trinity 8), or with a Trinitarian close of his own (Epiphany 4; Trinity 22 and 25).
4. Free paraphrase. TLHy often paraphrases. It drops clauses (Epiphany 4's "to hear our prayer in all temptation and need"; Trinity 13's "and sooner forsake all things"), adds others (Maundy Thursday's "remember Thine agony and death"; Trinity 8's prayer to "send us now and ever pious pastors"), and at times reverses the sense (Trinity 18 blames "the weakness of our flesh and blood," where Dietrich says that flesh and blood are too strong in us). At Maundy Thursday it readdresses Dietrich's prayer to Christ. Not all of this is TLHy's own work: TLHy translated the Norwegian collects of 1887 (Appendix A), and the Maundy Thursday prayer is already addressed to Christ there, with "remember Thine agony and death" (komme din Pine og Død ihu).

How TLHy is revised here.

- Kept: TLHy's register, syntax, collect shape and "We beseech Thee"; its settled equivalents wherever they render the German without loss (table below); King James wording wherever Dietrich's German follows the same verse ("overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and cares of this life," Advent 2; "an honest and good heart," Sexagesima; "besides women and children," Trinity 7); and TLHy's conclusions (§2.4).
- Corrected: omissions are restored; additions are removed; changed sense is given literally; Dietrich's address, person and number are restored, and for the singular prayers a plural "congregational form" is supplied, as TLHy's practice requires; dein liebes wort is "Thy dear word," not "Thy holy word"; and "Holy Ghost" replaces "Holy Spirit" (§2.3). Slips in the Orthodox Lutheran Ministerium's web text of TLHy, such as "Holy Gaost" or a closing "Amen,", are corrected and noted.

- Recorded: every change is listed under Changes from TLHy, in the form "TLHy wording" → "revised wording," followed by the German that requires it.

The new translations follow the same rules, so that the two kinds of text can stand side by side. The prose of the front matter, the summaries and the end matter is translated in formal modern English instead, with Scripture still in King James wording (§2.6).

für vnsere sünde bezalen	atone for our sins (Trinity 16)	pay for our sins
vns versündigen	defile ourselves (Trinity 1, 15)	sin

2.3 "Holy Ghost"

"Holy Ghost" is used throughout for heyliger Geyst, as in TLHy's own conclusions and Trinitarian formulas; "Holy Spirit" is not used in any rendering. "Spirit" alone, as in TLHy's "Thy Spirit and grace" (Epiphany 1) or "the power of Thy Spirit" (Day of Humiliation and Prayer), stands as it is. In the revised TLHy texts each such change is recorded under "Changes from TLHy." In the new translations, the congregational forms and Part III, the earlier draft of this edition had "Holy Spirit"; all of these now read "Holy Ghost."

2.4 Conclusions (TLHy endings)

Dietrich usually ends with "Amen" alone, whereas TLHy closes every prayer with its full conclusion. Every collect here carries a conclusion, chosen by the rules below. Words not in Dietrich's German are set in italics, so that his own text can always be told apart; his "Amen" stands after them. The congregational forms carry the same endings.

- (a) Dietrich gives no conclusion, and the Son has not been named. In the revised TLHy texts, TLHy's own conclusion for the day is kept as TLHy prints it, with its variants (e.g., "ever one God" at Sexagesima). In the new translations: through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Used at [13], [81], [92].
- (b) Dietrich gives no conclusion, and the Son has already been named. Revised TLHy: as in (a), e.g., [46]. New translations: through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Used at [6], [16], [23], [83], [89], [90], [94], [95], [96], [97], [98].
- (c) Dietrich's last clause already contains "through Christ," "through Him" or "through Thy Son." That phrase is moved to the end of its clause, as TLHy does at Christmas and Easter 2, and the conclusion follows it: "…through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end." Only the word order changes. Revised TLHy at [2], [3], [26], [34], [35], [37], [38], [40], [52], [56], [63], [64], [67], [70]; new translations at [8], [30], [79], [84], [85].

- (d) Dietrich already closes with Christ. His close is kept and continued, as TLHy does at Easter 1 and Trinity 8: "...through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth...". Revised TLHy at [5], [15], [27], [28], [32], [36], [42], [44], [53], [54], [61]; new translations at [29] ("for the sake of Thy dear Son and our Redeemer, Jesus Christ") and [91].
- (e) Prayers to Christ. Thou who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. This is TLHy's form at Trinity 5 ([51]). Used also at [93], and at [80], whose last petition is addressed to the Son.
- (f) The prayer to the Holy Trinity, [45]. who livest and reignest, one God, world without end. This is the prayer-book ending for a prayer addressed to the Holy Trinity, as in the Book of Common Prayer's collect for Trinity Sunday. It reads "one God" where TLHy's other endings read "one true God"; the prayer-book wording is kept.
- (g) Dietrich's own Trinitarian conclusion. Nothing is added. Where TLHy had replaced or enlarged his close, Dietrich's words are restored ([18], [68], [71]); at Pentecost ([43]) TLHy's rendering of his close is accurate and is kept. At [86]/[87] the prayer closes "...through Him live eternally with Thee and Thy Holy Ghost, and be saved."

The two appended prayers in Part III end with their own conclusions, and nothing is added to them.

2.5 How each entry is laid out

1. Heading: Stratman's number and the day in TLHy's calendar.
2. Dietrich's heading: the section heading in the Summaria, with an English rendering in brackets.
3. Verse: the saying set at the head of the section, in German and in English.
4. Summary: Dietrich's exposition, in German and in English, followed by Notes on the verse and summary. Where an entry needs a note on how its collect is assigned in TLHy's calendar (Assignment or Relation to TLHy), it comes next.
5. Prayer: the prayer as printed, with its PDF page.
6. Revised TLHy (TLHy's collect, corrected to the German) or New translation (where TLHy lacks the prayer).
7. Congregational form, where Dietrich prays in the first person singular.
8. Changes from TLHy (revised texts) or Notes (new translations).

Stratman's modern versions are compared with the German in Appendix C.

2.6 The sayings and summaries

- Sayings. Each saying is given in King James wording. Where Dietrich's German differs from the King James text in a way that matters, because the summary turns on the word or because a clause is missing, the English follows Dietrich and the notes say so. Dietrich's own introductions, such as "Christ said unto His disciples," are translated as they stand.
- Summaries. The summaries are translated into formal modern English, close to the German but in English sentences: Dietrich's long chains of clauses joined by virgules are divided where English needs it. Scripture that he quotes is given in King James wording and identified in the notes.
- Capitals and spelling. Pronouns referring to God are capitalized in Dietrich's own words, as in the collects; the King James wording keeps its lower case and its spelling (Saviour, neighbour). Otherwise the translations use American spelling.

Recurring words are rendered consistently:

Dietrich	Rendered
selig, selig werden	saved, be saved; "blessed" where the saying has it ([3], [59])
sein geniessen	have the benefit of Him
anfechtung	temptation
sicher, sicherheyt	secure; carnal security
Euangelion	the gospel (the message); the Gospel (the day's reading)
beruff	calling
glück, vnglück	good fortune, misfortune
Buß thun	repent
Kirchendiener	ministers of the Church
Pfaffen	priests (a disparaging word for the Roman clergy)

"Section" gives the PDF pages of a day's whole section in the Summaria (heading, verse, summary and prayer), and "Prayer" those of the prayer alone. "Revised TLHy" marks a TLHy collect corrected against the German or, in Appendix A, against the Norwegian of 1887 from which TLHy translated it; "New translation" marks a Dietrich collect that TLHy lacks. TLHy's Quinquagesima collect (Stratman's [24]) is [10], and its Maundy Thursday collect ([33]) is revised under [32]; both are also given unrevised in Appendix A. "(TLHy)" marks the collects that Stratman marks (H), all of which are in Appendix A, and "(ELH)" the four that he assigns to ELH alone (Appendix B). Every number in Stratman, [1] to [99], is listed. The one row without a number is TLHy's second collect for St. Stephen's Day, which Stratman does not include.

FRONT MATTER (PDF pp. 3–12)

PDF pp. 1–2 are Google's digitization notices and are not part of the book. The book itself opens with the title page (p. 3), whose verso (p. 4) is blank, and Dietrich's dedicatory letter to Johann Neudörffer (pp. 5–12). The First Sunday in Advent begins on p. 13.

These pages are prose, not prayers, so they are translated in formal modern English rather than in TLHy's prayer idiom; Scripture is still given in King James wording.

Translation

> Summaries of Christian doctrine for the young people: what is to be noted from each Sunday's Gospel, together with appended prayers. By Vitus Dietrich. 1548.

Notes

- "Summaries." Summaria is a Latin plural, "summaries."

- "Vitus." Vitum is the Latin accusative of Vitus, Dietrich's Latin name (German Veit), governed by durch ("by").

Dedicatory letter to Johann Neudörffer (PDF pp. 5–12)

The letter runs on without a break in the print. The paragraph divisions (¶1–¶10) are editorial and are the same in the German and the English. Each paragraph gives the German first (indented) and the translation after it. [p. 6] and the like mark where a new PDF page begins.

Address (PDF p. 5)

> Dem Ersamen/vnd namhafften Johann Newdörffer/deutscher Schulmeyster in Nürmberg/Meinem sonder lieben freunde.

To the honorable and renowned Johann Neudörffer, German schoolmaster in Nuremberg, my especially dear friend.

¶1 (p. 5)

> DEr heylige Simeon/da er zu Jerusalem im Tempel/das kindlin Jesus in seinen armē hat/weyssagt er/Es werde nicht yederman diß kindlin annemen/noch für seinen heyland haben/sonder der meyste theyl/werde jm widersprechen/Vnd sein lere/so die eynige rechte seligkeyt ist/lestern/vnnd alß Ketzerey verdammen/Ob nun solches den Christen sehr werde wehe thun/soll es doch dazu dienen/das viler hertzen gedancken offenbar werden/vnnd wir die leut recht erkennen lernen/vnd durch falschen scheyn/nicht betrogen werden.

Holy Simeon, when he has the child Jesus in his arms in the Temple at Jerusalem, prophesies that not everyone will receive this child or hold Him for his Savior, but that the greater part will speak against Him, and will blaspheme His doctrine, which is the one true salvation, and condemn it as heresy. Now although this will grieve Christians sorely, it shall nevertheless serve to this end: that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed, and that we may learn to know people rightly and not be deceived by a false appearance.

> [p. 6] Solche weyssagung gehet für vnnd für vnter den Christen/Bald/das liebe Euangelion sich lest hören/ist es allenthalb vol zungen/die jhm widersprechen/vnd alß Ketzerey vnd verfürische lehr es verdammen/Ja es ist an dem widersprechen nit gnug/man nimbt auch das schwert in die faust/vñ wil es mit gewalt dempffen. Werden derhalb die armen Christen mit zweyen schwerten geschlagen/Das eine durchdringet jnen jr hertz/Denn es ye einen grossen grewlichen schmertzen geberē muß/das die welt so blind ist/den gnedigen Gott im himel so lestert/dem Teuffel so willig diener/dem wort/da doch all jr seligkeyt anligt/so bitter feynd/vnnd der lügen/dem ergsten seelengifft/so vber alle massen zugethon vnnd hold ist/Das ander schwert/Nemlich/die verfolgung/mattet/verwundet/vnd würget den leyb/Solches soll mit disem kind/mit seim wort/dem heyligen Euangelio/vnd darnach mit allen Christen/für vnd für practiciert vnd geübt werden.

This prophecy comes to pass continually among Christians. As soon as the dear gospel makes itself heard, everywhere is full of tongues that speak against it and condemn it as heresy and seductive doctrine. Indeed, the speaking against is not enough; men also take the sword in hand and would stifle it by force. Poor Christians are therefore struck with two swords. The one pierces through their heart. For it must surely bring forth a great and dreadful pain that the world is so blind, so blasphemes the gracious God in heaven, is so willing a servant to the devil, so bitter an enemy to the word, on which all its salvation yet depends, and is so devoted and attached beyond all measure to the lie, the worst poison of souls. The other sword, namely persecution, wearies, wounds, and slays the body. This shall be practiced and carried out continually upon this child, upon His word, the holy gospel, and thereafter upon all Christians.

> [p. 7] Was aber für ein ergetzligkeit in yenem leben werde folgen/wissen wir auß Gottes wort lautter vnd gewiß/deñ es wirt ein vberauß herrlich/frölich/vnd wonreychs wort sein/wenn der Son Gottes sagen wirt: Kombt her jr gesegneten meines Vatters/ererbet das Reych/das euch bereytet ist/von anbegin der welt. Die hunde aber/vnnd die Zauberer(wie inn der Offenbarung am 22. stehet) Vnd die Hurer/vnd die Todschleger/vnd die Abgöttischen/vnd alle die lieb haben vnd thun die lügen/werden hinunder müssen inn das hellische fewer/vnnd ewige flammen/Da wirt sich alß denn der rechte wechssel finden.

But what delight will follow in the life beyond, we know clearly and certainly from God's word. For it will be an exceedingly glorious, joyful, and blissful word when the Son of God shall say: "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." But the dogs, and the sorcerers (as it stands in Revelation 22), and the whoremongers, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and all who love and make a lie, will have to go down into the fire of hell and the eternal flames. There, then, the right exchange will be found.

¶4 (pp. 7–8)

> Hie aber auff erden/sagt Simeon/sollen die Feynde des worts offenbar werden/Das alle Christen jhnen in das hertz hinein sehen/vnd gründlich sie vrteylen können/wer sie sind/wie sie leben vnd sterben/vnd was für ein vrtheyl sie für Gott in ewigkeyt tragen müssen/Solchs ist nicht ein geringes/damit die Christen inn der verfolgung [p. 8] sich mögē trösten.

But here on earth, says Simeon, the enemies of the word shall be revealed, so that all Christians can see into their heart and judge them thoroughly: who they are, how they live and die, and what judgment they must bear before God in eternity. That is no small thing, with which Christians may comfort themselves in persecution.

> Wir haben in deutschen land nun ein lange zeyt das widersprechen/starck hören vnd dulden müssen/Yetzundt kombt das schwert mit gewalt dazu/das der Antichrist zu Rom/mit seim Anhang vnsere kirchen gar will tilgen/vnd verwüsten/vnd durch sein Antichristisch Conciliabel zu Trient/alle abgötterey vnd lügen wider anrichten. Solches fürnemen/schmucken sie zierlich vnnd fein/vnd ist gewiß/wer jhren worten will glauben/der ist schon betrogen. Denn anderst hörest nicht von jnen/denn das sie die strittigen Religion/vergleychen/eynigkeyt anrichten/vñ die Scheflein in den rechten stal bringen wöllen.

We in the German land have now for a long time had to hear and endure the speaking against in full force. Now the sword comes with force besides, in that the Antichrist at Rome, with his adherents, would utterly destroy and lay waste our churches, and through his antichristian conciliabulum at Trent set up again all idolatry and lies. This undertaking they adorn elegantly and finely, and it is certain that whoever will believe their words is already deceived. For you hear nothing else from them than that they would settle the disputed religion, establish unity, and bring the little sheep into the right fold.

¶6 (pp. 8–9)

> Vnd kan wol sein/das jr vil/so zu solchem blutdürstigen fürnemen helffen/jres wandels vnd lebens halb from̃ sind/Aber was saget Simeon/bald du das widersprechen hörest/das sie des Herrn Christi wort nicht wöllen leyden/noch war lassen sein/so frag nicht weyter/jr hertz stehet dir so glat vnd gar offen/alß hettest [p. 9] du es in deiner hand/Kanst derhalb vrtheylen/das es eytel Heucheley mit jnen ist/das der Teuffel jhnen im hertzen sitzt/sie treybet vnd füret/Vnd in summa/das sie gar des Teuffels sind/wie sie stehen vnd gehen/vnangesehen jres ampts/stands/wandels/zucht/vñ was sonst mehr für tugend an jnen mögen gerhümet werden. Denn das Euangelion verfolgen/den Son Gottes nicht allein für vnsern erlöser halten/Andere mittel der seligkeyt den leuten fürhalten/vnd suchen/Abgötterey verteydigen ꝛc. solches ist ein sünde/die nicht allein hie auff erden mit allerley plagen/sonder in yener welt/mit dem hellischen ewigen fewer/muß gestraffet werden.

And it may well be that many of those who help in such a bloodthirsty undertaking are upright as regards their conduct and life. But what does Simeon say? As soon as you hear the speaking against, that they will not suffer the word of the Lord Christ nor let it be true, then ask no further: their heart stands as plainly and wide open to you as if you had it in your hand. You can therefore judge that it is sheer hypocrisy with them, that the devil sits in their heart, drives and leads them, and, in sum, that they are wholly the devil's, as they stand and go, without regard to their office, station, conduct, discipline, and whatever other virtue may be praised in them. For to persecute the gospel, not to hold the Son of God alone for our Redeemer, to set other means of salvation before people and to seek them, to defend idolatry, etc.: this is a sin which must be punished not only here on earth with all manner of plagues, but in the world beyond with the eternal fire of hell.

> Da sehen wir/die wir sonst des Creutzes/vnd der verfolgung halben/kleinmütig vnnd verzagt sind/was für einen grossen treffenlichen vortheyl/wir für der welt haben/ob gleich die selb mit gewalt/ehren/gut/vnd anders vns vberlegē ist. Sollen derhalb dem genedigen Gott im Hymel/ [p. 10] nicht vndanckbar für solche gnade sein/vnd sonderlich weyl die welt/mit dem widersprechen nicht will ablassen/sonder noch das schwert dazu in die faust nimbt/sollen wir beden/dem Teuffel vnnd der welt zu trotz/Vnnd darnach dem Son Gottes zu ehren/vnnd vnseren nachkommen zu nutz/mit dem bekentniß in alle weg/so vns müglich/getrewlich vnd fleyssig anhalten/vnd vnsere rechte Christenliche lehr/auff alle weyse zu pflantzen/vnd erweytern versuchen.

Here we, who are otherwise fainthearted and despondent on account of the cross and of persecution, see what a great and excellent advantage we have over the world, although it is superior to us in power, honors, wealth, and other things. We should therefore not be unthankful to the gracious God in heaven for such grace. And especially, since the world will not leave off the speaking against, but takes the sword in hand besides, we should, in defiance of both the devil and the world, and further to the honor of the Son of God and for the good of our descendants, persevere faithfully and diligently in the confession in every way possible to us, and try in every manner to plant and extend our true Christian doctrine.

> Sonderlich aber sollen wir auff das junge volck sehen/das es inn zeyt zu Gottes wort gehalten/vnnd trewlich damit vnterrichtet werde. Solche vrsach hat mich bewegt/dise kurtze Euangelien Summaria/so > ich für meine kindlein zuschreyben newlich angefangen/yetzt diser zeyt/da ich schwachheyt halb/mein ampt in der Kirch/nicht hab selb verwalten können/gar zuuerfertigen/vnnd der jugend zu gut inn druck zu geben/auff das/wer lust dazu hat/meiner arbeyt [p. 11] möchte geniessen/ob ich gleych stetter kranckheyt halb/das predigampt hab müssen anstehen lassen.

But especially we should look to the young people, that they be kept to God's word early and faithfully instructed in it. This reason has moved me, now at this time when on account of weakness I have not been able to administer my office in the church myself, to finish completely these short summaries of the Gospels, which I recently began to write for my little children, and to give them to the press for the good of the youth, so that whoever has a desire for it might have the benefit of my labor, although on account of continual illness I have had to let the office of preaching rest.

> Jch hab aber günstiger vnnd lieber Newdörffer/euch vnd ewer schule/damit verehren wöllen/weyl jr/alß ein Christlicher trewer Schulmeyster/ewr gesindlin sonderlich fleyssig zu Gottes wort haltet/das ich nicht allein zu solchem gutem werck euch hülffe/sonder durch ewr Exempel/auch andere deudsche vnnd lateynische Schulmeyster/reytzete/ewrem Exempel nach/hie vnd an andern orten/die jugend fleyssig zu Gottes wort zu halten. Denn da müssen wir anheben/so wir anders Christliche lehr erhalten/vnnd Gottes namen heyligen/Ja auch fromme/gefölgige/züchtige/vnd glückselige Kinder haben wöllen.

But, kind and dear Neudörffer, I have wished to honor you and your school with it, because you, as a Christian and faithful schoolmaster, keep your little household especially diligently to God's word; so that I might not only help you in such a good work, but through your example might also stir up other German and Latin schoolmasters, after your example, here and in other places, to keep the youth diligently to God's word. For there we must begin, if indeed we would preserve Christian doctrine and hallow God's name, yes, and also have godly, obedient, well-disciplined, and happy children.

> Bey den Papisten soll diß klein Büchlein/so vnansehenlich es ist/sein frucht auch reychlich mit bringen/das es zum ewigen zeuckniß/sampt andern der vnsern schrifften offentlich da stehen sol/das sie vñ yederman sehen/was doch [p. 12] mangels an vnser lehr sey/die sie bißher mit lestern so hart angefochten/vnd yetzundt mit dem schwert gar zu tilgen sich vnterfangen haben. Aber sie sollens nicht enden/Dise lehr/soll vnd muß bleyben/Sie aber/wenn sie es nit wöllen leyden/müssen drüber zu grund gehen/vñ soll sie kein macht noch herrligkeyt helffen. Der Allmechtige/wölle euch/vnd alle fromme Christen/sonderlich zu diser kömmerlichen zeyt/gnedig erhalten vnd behüten/Amen.

Among the papists too this little book, unimpressive as it is, shall bring its fruit abundantly, in that it shall stand publicly, together with other writings of ours, as an everlasting testimony, so that they and everyone may see what fault, after all, there is in our doctrine, which they have hitherto assailed so hard with blasphemy and have now undertaken to destroy utterly with the sword. But they shall not accomplish it. This doctrine shall and must remain. But they, if they will not suffer it, must perish over it, and no power or glory shall help them. May the Almighty graciously preserve and protect you and all godly Christians, especially in this sorrowful time. Amen.

Date and subscription (p. 12)

> E. W. Vitus Dietrich.

Written on the second of September, in my study and sickroom, in the year 1546.

Your willing [servant], Vitus Dietrich.

Notes

- Neudörffer (Address). Johann Neudörffer the Elder (1497–1563) was Nuremberg's celebrated writing and arithmetic master. deutscher Schulmeyster means the master of a German school, one that taught in German rather than in Latin; Dietrich draws the same distinction in ¶9 ("German and Latin schoolmasters"). sonder lieben is "especially dear."
- Simeon (¶1, ¶4). The letter is built on Luke 2:34–35. widersprechen ("speak against") is the verb of Luke 2:34 in Luther's Bible ("ein Zeichen, dem widersprochen wird"; King James: "a sign which shall be spoken against"), and the noun das widersprechen is rendered "the speaking against" throughout. "That the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed" is Luke 2:35 in King James wording, which Dietrich's German follows closely.
- The two swords (¶2). The first sword "pierces through" the heart, applying to all Christians Simeon's word to Mary, "a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also" (Luke 2:35). The second is persecution.
- "So willing a servant to the devil" (¶2). The print reads diener ("servant"), checked at 400 dpi. dienet ("serves") would also make sense, but the noun matches the parallel feynd ("enemy") in the next clause.
- Scripture in ¶3. The words of the Son of God are Matthew 25:34. The list of the condemned is Revelation 22:15, in King James wording; the rest of that sentence, that they "must go down into the fire of hell," is Dietrich's own (compare Revelation 21:8).
- "The right exchange" (¶3). wechssel means exchange or reversal: in the life beyond, present fortunes are turned around.
- Trent (¶5). The Council of Trent had opened in December 1545. Conciliabel (Latin conciliabulum) is the term for an illegitimate council; Dietrich denies Trent the name of a council. vergleychen ("settle") is the vocabulary of the religious colloquies that sought to reconcile the two parties; Dietrich had himself taken part in the one held at Regensburg in 1546.
- The sword "now" (¶5, ¶7, ¶10). The letter is dated 2 September 1546, during the Schmalkaldic War, which had broken out that summer. This is the sword that, Dietrich says, has now been added to the speaking against.
- "As they stand and go" (¶6). An idiom for "in all that they are and do."
- Dietrich's illness (¶8, subscription). He says he can neither administer his office nor preach, because of continual illness, and dates the letter from his "study and sickroom." He died at Nuremberg on 25 March 1549.
- "Honor you with it" (¶9). verehren here has its older sense of honoring someone with a gift, that is, presenting the book to him.
- "Your little household" (¶9). gesindlin is the diminutive of Gesinde, a household; here it evidently means Neudörffer's pupils.
- Subscription. E. W. is taken as the usual abbreviation for Ewer Williger, "your willing [servant]."
- Two-word forms (¶7). ob gleich ("although") and die selb ("the same") are printed as two words and are kept so.

PART I. TEMPORALE

St. Stephen's Day, which the Summaria prints after Christmas, is given with the saints' days in Part II ([81]).

Advent

[1] First Sunday in Advent

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 13): Am ersten Sontag des Aduents/wie Christus zu Jerusalem auff eim Esel einreytet/Euang. Matth. 21. [On the First Sunday in Advent: how Christ rides into Jerusalem on an ass. Gospel, Matthew 21.]

Verse (PDF pp. 13–14): Auß dem Propheten Zacharia. 9. [From the prophet Zechariah 9.]

> DV tochter Zion/frewe dich sehr/Vñ du tochter Jerusalem jauchtze. Sihe dein König kombt zu [p. 14] dir/ein gerechter vñ ein helffer/Arm/vnd reytet auff einem Esel/vnd auff eim Füllen der Eselin.

Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; and shout, thou daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee, a righteous one and a helper, poor, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

Summary (PDF pp. 14–15)

> DJser spruch lehret/was wir von dem Herren Christo sollen glauben/vnnd wie wir sein sollen geniessen/Er ist ein König/das ist/er will ein volck vnnd Regiment haben auff erden. Aber nicht wie andere welt König/die herrlich prangen/vnd mechtig sind/Denn diser König Christus/ist für der welt arm/wie man auch an dem mercket/das er nur auff einem entlehneten Esel einreytet/da er zu Jerusalem/alß ein König sich will sehen lassen/Das aber ist sein herrligkeyt/das er gerecht ist/vnd von sünden allen den wil helffen/so jn für einen König annemen/vnd an jn glauben/Vnd das er ein helffer ist/der von dem ewigen tode erlösen will/Wie er denn solcher vrsach halb/das vns von sünd/vnd todt geholffen [p. 15] würde/am Creutz sich auffgeopffert hat/vnd gestorben ist/Solches Königes sollen wir vns frewen/vnd jn mit hertzen annemen/vber jm jauchtzen/vnd guter ding sein/vnnd Gott für solche gnad dancken/wie der Prophet saget.

This saying teaches what we are to believe of the Lord Christ, and how we are to have the benefit of Him. He is a King; that is, He will have a people and a kingdom on earth. But not like other kings of the world, who make a splendid show and are mighty. For this King Christ is poor in the sight of the world, as one may see also in this, that He rides in upon nothing but a borrowed ass when He would show Himself at Jerusalem as a king. But this is His glory: that He is righteous, and will help out of sins all who receive Him as their King and believe in Him; and that He is a helper, who will redeem from eternal death. As indeed, for this very reason, that we might be helped out of sin and death, He offered Himself up on the cross and died. In such a King we are to rejoice, and receive Him with our hearts, shout for joy over Him and be of good cheer, and thank God for such grace, as the prophet says.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse. Zechariah 9:9, which the Gospel quotes (Matthew 21:5). Where the King James Version has "he is just, and having salvation; lowly," the German, as in Luther's Bible, has ein gerechter vñ ein helffer/Arm ("a righteous one and a helper, poor"), and the summary expounds those three words in turn, so they are translated literally. A stroke stands over the m of Arm; it has no meaning here.
- "Have the benefit of Him." sein … geniessen (genitive) means to enjoy something, to have the use and benefit of it.
- "Kingdom." Regiment is rule or government; with König it is rendered "kingdom."

Prayer (PDF pp. 15–16)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee, as is meet and right, we bless and praise Thee forever, that over us poor men, who because of sin had to be under the tyranny of death and Satan, Thou hast set Thy Son as King, to be a righteous King and Savior, that is, by His death to set us free from our sins, and to rescue and help us against death: We beseech Thee also so to enlighten, govern and direct us by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may hold to this righteous King and Savior alone, and not, after the manner of the world, be offended at His humble form and despised word, and so, through a firm trust in Him, obtain eternal salvation; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "we thank Thee" → "we thank Thee, as is meet and right," restoring ye billich.
- TLHy's "that Thou didst send Thy Son to rule over us poor sinners, who for our transgressions did justly deserve to remain in the bondage of sin and Satan, and didst give us in Him a meek and righteous King, who by His death became our Savior from sin and eternal death" is replaced by a rendering of the German. Dietrich speaks of "poor men" (armen menschen), not "sinners"; of men who "had to be" (haben müssen sein), not who "did justly deserve to remain"; and of "the tyranny of death and Satan" (des todtes vnnd Sathans Tyranney), not "the bondage of sin and Satan". "Meek" is not in the prayer. The Son is set as King "to be" Savior, "that is," to free us from sin by His death and to help us against death (der ein gerechter König vñ Heyland sein/das ist/vns von vnsern sünden/durch seinen todt ledig machen/vnnd wider den todt retten vnd helffen soll).
- "We beseech Thee so" → "We beseech Thee also so" (auch).
- "ever remain faithful to this righteous King and Savior" → "hold to this righteous King and Savior alone" (vns alleine halten).
- "with His humble form" → "at His humble form" (idiom only).
- "but, firmly believing in Him," → "and so, through a firm trust in Him," (vnd also durch ein festes vertrawen auff jn).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[2] Second Sunday in Advent

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 16): Am andern Sontag des Aduents/was für zeychen vor dem Jüngsten tag kommen/vnd wie die Christen dazu sich schicken sollen/Luce am 22. [On the Second Sunday in Advent: what signs come before the Last Day, and how Christians should prepare themselves for it. Luke 22 [sic, for 21].]

Verse (PDF p. 17). The Gospel (Luke 21:34–36) stands without a source line.

> HVtet euch/das ewre hertzen nit beschweret werden/mit fressen vnd mit sauffen/vnd sorgen für die Narung/vnnd komme diser tag schnell vber euch. Denn wie ein fallstrick wirdt er kommen/vber alle die auff erden wohnen/So seydt nun wacker alle zeyt/vnnd bettet/das jr wirdig werden möget/zu empfliehen disem allem/vnnd zu stehen für des menschen Son.

Take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting and with drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares. For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the earth. Watch ye therefore at all times, and pray, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things, and to stand before the Son of man.

Summary (PDF pp. 17–18)

Our Lord Christ first prophesies how a Last Day will come, heaven and earth will pass away, and what signs will go before it. And then He comforts His Christians: they are not to be terrified before such a day, for then they shall be redeemed from sin, from the world, and from the temptation of the wretched devil and from all evil, and eternal salvation shall follow. He also warns us how we are to prepare ourselves for such a day: namely, that we are not to be secure, nor burden ourselves with surfeiting and drunkenness, but are to be watchful, wakeful and sober, and live evermore in the fear of God, and guard ourselves against sins, and then also continue in prayer, that God would govern us by His Holy Ghost and keep us from sins and from all temptation. Whoever does this, that day shall not overtake him; it shall be to him a day of redemption and a beginning of eternal life.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is the end of the Gospel, Luke 21:34–36, in King James wording. Dietrich's text lacks "on the face of the whole earth" and "that shall come to pass," and puts "at all times" with "watch." sorgen für die Narung (cares for one's livelihood) is "cares of this life," as in the collect.
- "Secure." sicher has its old sense of careless, unconcerned; compare "carnal security" in the table in §2.2.
- "Jtem." Latin item, "likewise, further," common in German prose of the time; rendered "also."

Prayer (PDF pp. 18–19)

> HERR Gott hymlischer Vatter/der du durch deinen Son vnns hast offenbaret/wie Hymel vnd erden zergehn/vnser leybe wider aufferstehen/vnd wir alle für Gericht sollen gestellet werden/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest durch deinen heiligen geyst vns in deim wort/vnd rechtem glauben erhalten/für > sünden genedig behüten/vnd in aller anfechtung erhalten/das wir vnsere hertzen mit fressen vnd sauffen/vnd sorgen der Narung nicht beschweren/sonder allzeyt wacker sein/vnd beten/vnd in gewiser zuuersicht deiner gnad/der zukunfft deines Sons mit frewden erwarten/vnd durch jn ewig selig werden/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who by Thy Son hast revealed to us that heaven and earth shall pass away, that our bodies shall rise again, and that we all shall appear before the judgment seat: We beseech Thee, keep us by Thy Holy Ghost in Thy word and in the true faith, graciously defend us from sin and preserve us in all temptations, that our hearts may not be overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and cares of this life, but that we may ever watch and pray, and in sure confidence of Thy grace await with joy the coming of Thy Son, and obtain eternal salvation through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "keep us by Thy Holy Spirit in Thy word; establish us in the true faith" → "keep us by Thy Holy Ghost in Thy word and in the true faith." The German has one verb for both (vns in deim wort/vnd rechtem glauben erhalten); "establish" is not in it.
- "trusting fully in Thy grace" → "in sure confidence of Thy grace" (in gewiser zuuersicht deiner gnad).
- "the glorious coming" → "the coming"; "glorious" is not in the German.
- "and at last obtain eternal salvation, through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord," → "and obtain eternal salvation through Him," (vnd durch jn ewig selig werden; "at last" is not in the German). TLHy's conclusion follows (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

Note. "Overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and cares of this life" is TLHy's King James wording of Luke 21:34, which Dietrich's fressen vnd sauffen/vnd sorgen der Narung follows in Luther's version; it is kept.

[3] Third Sunday in Advent

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 20): Am dritten Sontag des Aduents/wie Johannes seine Jüngern zu Christo schicket/Matth. 11. [On the Third Sunday in Advent: how John sends his disciples to Christ. Matthew 11.]

Verse (PDF p. 20)

> CHristus sprach zu Johannis jüngern/Die Blinden sehen/die Lamen gehen/die Aussetzigen werden reyn/vnd die Tauben hören/vñ die todten stehen auff/vnnd den armen wirdt das Euangelion gepredigt/Vnd selig ist der sich an mir nit ergert

Christ said to John's disciples: The blind receive their sight, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them; and blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

> DJß ist auch ein lehr/vom Ampt vnsers lieben Herren Christi/das wir lernen sollen/wozu wir sein bedürffen/vnd wie wir sein geniessen sollen. Nemlich/das er darumb auff erden kombt/das er vns menschen helffen will/wider den Sathan/vnd alles vnglück wenden/so durch die sünde auff vns kommen ist/Derhalben sollen wir inn allem vnglück bey dem Herrn Christo hilffe suchen/vnd hoffen/Vnd sonderlich sein wort/das heylig Euangelion mit hertzen annemen vñ glauben/Denn durch das selbe/werden wir von sünden ledig/vnd kommen zum ewigen leben. Darumb ist solches die höchste vnd gröste wolthat/vnnd das herrlichste wunderwerck/das er den armen das Euangelion prediget/das ist/die jre sünde sehen vnd fülen/vnd lassen ins hertzlich leyd sein/Dise tröstet Christus/sie sollen zu friden sein/er wölle für die sünde bezalen/vnnd sie dauon ledig machen. Solche zusagung nimme mit [p. 22] glauben an/vnd ergere dich an Christo nicht/das ist/zweyffele an solcher zusagung nicht/so bist du selig. Wer aber zweifflet/vnd sich an Christo ergert/der wirdt nicht selig.

This too is a teaching of the office of our dear Lord Christ, that we may learn for what we need Him and how we are to have the benefit of Him: namely, that He comes upon earth for this purpose, that He will help us men against Satan, and turn away all the misfortune that has come upon us through sin. Therefore in every misfortune we are to seek help from the Lord Christ and hope in Him, and above all receive His word, the holy gospel, with our hearts and believe it; for through it we are set free from sins and come to eternal life. Therefore this is the highest and greatest benefit, and the most glorious miracle, that He preaches the gospel to the poor, that is, to those who see and feel their sins and are heartily sorry for them. These Christ comforts: they are to be at peace; He will pay for their sin and set them free from it. Receive such a promise with faith, and be not offended in Christ, that is, do not doubt such a promise, and you are saved. But whoever doubts and is offended in Christ will not be saved.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 11:4–6, introduced by Dietrich's own "Christ said to John's disciples," in King James wording.
- "Saved." selig means both "blessed," as in the verse, and "saved." Dietrich takes the verse's "blessed is he … not offended" as a promise of salvation (so bist du selig), so the summary has "saved."
- "Heartily sorry for them." vnd lassen ins hertzlich leyd sein, literally "and let it be heartily grievous to them."
- "Pay for." für die sünde bezalen, as in the table in §2.2.

Prayer (PDF p. 22)

> HErr Got hymlischer Vatter/der du deinen Son vnsern herrn Jesum Christum mensch werden/vnd darumb inn dise welt hast kommen lassen/das er des Teuffels Tyranney wehren/vns armen menschen wider sünd vnd tod helffen/vnd ewig soll selig machē/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest mit deinem heiligen Geist/vnsere hertzen also füren vnd leyten/das wir auff anders nichts/denn auff sein wort sehen/vnd also allem ergernuß/da vnser vernunfft vnns auffweyset/empfliehen/vnnd vnter dem heufflein mögen gefunden werden/welcher sich an deinem Son Christo Jesu nicht ergert/sonder durch jn selig wirdt/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst suffer Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, to become man, and for this cause to come into this world, that He should restrain the tyranny of the devil, help us poor men against sin and death, and save us eternally: We beseech Thee so to lead and guide our hearts with Thy Holy Ghost, that we may look to nothing else but His word, and so avoid all offense whereunto our > reason directeth us, and may be found among the little company which is not offended in Thy Son, Jesus Christ, but is saved through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "and to come into the world" → "and for this cause to come into this world" (vnd darumb inn dise welt).
- "that He might destroy the works of the devil" → "that He should restrain the tyranny of the devil" (des Teuffels Tyranney wehren).
- "deliver us poor offenders from sin and death" → "help us poor men against sin and death" (vns armen menschen wider sünd vnd tod helffen).
- "and give us everlasting life" → "and save us eternally" (vnd ewig soll selig machen).
- "so to rule and govern our hearts by Thy Holy Spirit" → "so to lead and guide our hearts with Thy Holy Ghost" (mit deinem heiligen Geist … füren vnd leyten).
- "that we may seek no other refuge than His word" → "that we may look to nothing else but His word" (auff anders nichts/denn auff sein wort sehen).
- "and thus avoid all offense to which, by nature, we are inclined" → "and so avoid all offense whereunto our reason directeth us" (da vnser vernunfft vnns auffweyset).
- "in order that we may always be found among the faithful followers of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, and by faith in Him obtain eternal salvation" → "and may be found among the little company which is not offended in Thy Son, Jesus Christ, but is saved through Him" (vnter dem heufflein … welcher sich an deinem Son Christo Jesu nicht ergert/sonder durch jn selig wirdt). "Offended in" is the King James idiom of Matthew 11:6, the Gospel of the day.
- "through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord," is dropped, since Dietrich's last clause already ends "through Him"; TLHy's conclusion follows it (§2.4c).

This sermon of John the Baptist teaches how we are to distinguish the Lord Christ, as to His office and person, from all other men. John the Baptist, the apostles, and all ministers of the Church baptize only with water; that is, although the Holy Ghost is given to people through such baptizing with water, yet they themselves give no more than the water; the Spirit they cannot give. But our dear Lord Christ merits the Holy Ghost for us by the obedience which He renders to His Father, and is Lord over such gifts, so that He distributes them according to His will to all who let themselves be baptized into His death and receive His word with faith. Therefore learn both of these things. We men can give the Holy Ghost to no one; Christ alone can give Him. But He will give Him through the office of men. When men preach the gospel, when they baptize, when they administer the Supper, through such works of men Christ will give the Holy Ghost. Therefore everyone is to seek and use the preaching of the gospel, holy baptism, and the gracious Supper of the Lord, and then hope through Christ for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and also ask Him for it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 1:26–27, with Dietrich's "(Christ)" in the text, in King James wording. The German has "who was before me" (welcher vor mir gewesen ist), where the King James Version has "is preferred before me," and is translated accordingly.
- "Ministers of the Church." Kirchendiener, literally "servants of the Church."
- "Into His death." in seinem todt … tauffen echoes Romans 6:3.
- "Supper." Dietrich uses both Nachtmal and Abendmal for the Lord's Supper; both are rendered "Supper."

Prayer (PDF pp. 25–26)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/wir dancken dir ye billich/das du die selige gnadenreyche Tauf/durch den heyligen Tauffer Johannem hast erstlich angerichtet/vnnd vns auch dazu lassen kommen/In welcher du vns vmb deines Suns Christi Jesu willen zusagest vergebung der sünden/den heyligen Geyst/vnd das ewige leben/Wir bitten dich/erhalte vns inn solchem vertrawen auff dein gnad vnd barmhertzigkeyt/das wir an solcher zusagung nymmer mehr zweyffelen/sonder der selben inn allerley anfechtung vns trösten/Vnd gib durch deinen heyligen Geyst/das wir für sünden vns hüten/vnnd in solcher vnschuld/dazu wir durch die Tauffe kommen sind/bleyben mögen/Oder ja wo wir fallen/vnnd menschlicher schwachheyt halb nicht können bestehen/das wir inn sünden nicht ligen bleyben/sonder durch rechtschaffene Buß vns bekeren/vnnd deiner gnad vnnd zusagung/vns wider trösten/vnd also durch dein genad ewig selig werden/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, it is meet and right that we should give thanks unto Thee, that Thou didst first establish the blessed baptism, rich in grace, through holy John the Baptist, and hast caused us also > to come unto it, wherein Thou dost promise us, for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, the remission of sins, the Holy Ghost, and everlasting life: Preserve us, we beseech Thee, in such trust in Thy grace and mercy, that we may never doubt Thy promise, but be comforted by the same in all temptations; and grant by Thy Holy Ghost that we may guard ourselves against sin, and continue in the innocence unto which we have come through baptism; or, if we fall, and by reason of human weakness cannot stand, that we may not lie still in sin, but turn again through true repentance, and comfort ourselves again with Thy grace and promise, and so through Thy grace obtain eternal salvation; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "that Thou hast given us a more glorious baptism than that of John the Baptist" → "that Thou didst first establish the blessed baptism, rich in grace, through holy John the Baptist, and hast caused us also to come unto it" (das du die selige gnadenreyche Tauf/durch den heyligen Tauffer Johannem hast erstlich angerichtet/vnnd vns auch dazu lassen kommen). Dietrich does not set our baptism above John's; he says it was first instituted through John.
- "and hast therein promised us the remission of sins, the Holy Spirit, and everlasting life through Thy Son, Jesus Christ" → "wherein Thou dost promise us, for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, the remission of sins, the Holy Ghost, and everlasting life" (vmb deines Suns Christi Jesu willen, "for the sake of," not "through").
- "in such faith in Thy grace" → "in such trust in Thy grace" (vertrawen).
- "and grant us Thy Holy Spirit that we may renounce sin, and ever continue in the righteousness bestowed upon us in baptism" → "and grant by Thy Holy Ghost that we may guard ourselves against sin, and continue in the innocence unto which we have come through baptism" (das wir für sünden vns hüten/vnnd in solcher vnschuld/dazu wir durch die Tauffe kommen sind/bleyben mögen).
- Restored the clause TLHy omits: "or, if we fall, and by reason of human weakness cannot stand, that we may not lie still in sin, but turn again through true repentance, and comfort ourselves again with Thy grace and promise" (Oder ja wo wir fallen … vns wider trösten).
- "until by Thy grace we obtain eternal salvation" → "and so through Thy grace obtain eternal salvation" (vnd also durch dein genad ewig selig werden).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit" (twice).

[5] Christmas Day

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 27): Am heyligen Christage/von der geburt Christi/Luce am 2. [On holy Christmas Day: of the birth of Christ. Luke 2.]

Verse (PDF p. 27)

The angel said unto the shepherds, Fear not: behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day the Saviour, which is Christ the Lord, in the city of David.

Summary (PDF pp. 28–29)

> DJse Engelpredigt lehret vns/wie wir von der geburt/vnsers lieben Herrn Christi halten/vñ vns dagegen stellen sollē. This sermon of the angel teaches us what we are to hold concerning the birth of our dear Lord Christ, and how we are to conduct ourselves toward it. He bids the shepherds be joyful and fear nothing at all, and gives the reason: because the Savior is born, who is to help and to save, not as worldly kings do, against temporal misfortune, but against sin, death, and all the misfortune that flows out of sin. For this is what the little word "Christ" testifies: that this child is God's Anointed, of whom God promised in Paradise that He should bruise the serpent's head and take from Satan all his might and power. Therefore we too are to rejoice from our hearts in this little child, and sing with the angels: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, and to men a hearty joy and good pleasure." For we are to praise and thank God from our hearts that through this child He has made peace on earth, reconciled us with God, and restrained the tyranny of Satan. We are therefore to be joyful and of good cheer, and to hold to this comfort in every misfortune.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 2:10–11 in King James wording, introduced by "The angel said unto the shepherds." The German reads "great joy" without "good tidings" (ich verkündige euch ein grosse frewde); the King James phrase is kept because Dietrich's German follows the same verse.
- "Christ." Christus is the Greek for "Anointed" (der gesalbte). The promise in Paradise is Genesis 3:15.
- The angels' song. Luke 2:14, with Dietrich's own enlargement: Luther's Bible has vnd den Menschen ein wolgefallen; Dietrich writes "and to men a hearty joy and good pleasure."
- "Restrained." wehren (with genitive or dative) is to check or restrain, as in the Advent 3 prayer ("restrain the tyranny of the devil").

Prayer (PDF p. 29)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/wir dancken dir deiner grossen gnad vñ barmhertzigkeyt/das du deinen eingebornen Sun inn vnser fleisch kommen/vnd durch jn/vns von sünden vnd dem ewigen tod/genediglich hast helffen lassen/Vnd bitten dich/erleuchte vnsere hertzen/durch deinen heyligen Geyst/das wir für solche deine genad dir danckbar sind/vnnd der selben vns in allerley not vnnd anfechtung trösten/vnd also durch deinen Sun/vnseren Herren Jhesum Christum/ewig selig werden/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we give thanks unto Thee for Thy great grace and mercy, that Thou didst suffer Thine only-begotten Son to come into our flesh, and through Him hast graciously helped us out of sin and everlasting death: We beseech Thee, enlighten our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may be thankful unto Thee for such Thy grace, and comfort ourselves with the same in all tribulation and temptation, and so obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "that of Thy mercy and compassion" → "for Thy great grace and mercy, that" (deiner grossen gnad vñ barmhertzigkeyt).
- "Thy dear Son to become incarnate" → "Thine only-begotten Son to come into our flesh" (deinen eingebornen Sun inn vnser fleisch kommen).
- "and didst through Him redeem us from sin and everlasting death" → "and through Him hast graciously helped us out of sin and everlasting death" (durch jn/vns von sünden vnd dem ewigen tod/genediglich hast helffen lassen).
- "that we may ever be thankful for such grace" → "that we may be thankful unto Thee for such Thy grace" ("ever" is not in the German; dir restored).
- "and at last obtain eternal salvation through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord," → "and so obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ," which is Dietrich's own close (vnd also durch deinen Sun/vnseren Herren Jhesum Christum); TLHy's conclusion continues it (§2.4d).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

Simeon said unto Mary the mother of Jesus, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against; and a sword shall pierce through thy soul, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

Summary (PDF pp. 34–35)

> DJß ist ein weyssagung/wie es vnserm Herrn Christo/vnd hernach dem heyligen Euangelio/vñ allen Christen in der welt ergehn sol. This is a prophecy of how it shall go with our Lord Christ, and afterward with the holy gospel and with all Christians in the world: namely, that not all will receive Christ or be saved through Him, but will be offended in Him and fall; and that what is glorious, mighty and great in the world will speak against Him, hold the gospel for heresy, blaspheme it and revile it. This grieves Christians to the heart, and is just like a sword that cuts through the heart. But it nevertheless serves a purpose: namely, that hearts are revealed by it. For whereas people otherwise adorn themselves and could pass themselves off as the best and most godly Christians, by persecuting the word they bring themselves to light, so that everyone must see and confess that the devil, who is such a murderer, sits within their hearts, and that it is nothing but sheer hypocrisy with them, since they can neither tolerate nor bear the gospel.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 2:34–35 in King James wording, introduced by "Simeon said unto Mary the mother of Jesus." The print reads durch sein Seele ("through his soul"); Luther's Bible has durch deine Seele ("through thy soul"), and sein is taken as a misprint.
- Simeon's prophecy is also the theme of Dietrich's dedicatory letter (front matter, ¶1–¶4), where "the speaking against" (das widersprechen) and the sword through the heart are developed at length.
- "Pass themselves off as." sich … verkauffen für, literally "sell themselves for."
- "Bring themselves to light." geben sie sich … an tag, they reveal themselves.

Assignment: TLHy's First Sunday of Christmas. TLHy's only collect for that day is not Dietrich's ("O almighty and everlasting God, mercifully direct our ways…"; Appendix A, [7]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 35–36)

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who by holy Simeon didst prophesy that Christ, Thy Son, is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel: We beseech Thee, enlighten our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may rightly know Thy Son, Jesus Christ; in all manner of need and danger hold fast unto Him and rise again in Him, and not, with the secure and blind world, stumble at Him; and also, in all manner of suffering and temptation which befalleth us for the sake of Thy word and the confession thereof, be of good comfort and courage: since it is certain that they who persecute Thy word belong not to Thy kingdom, but they who believe it and abide by it shall obtain eternal salvation; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Wordplay on the text. The opening follows Luke 2:34 and is given in King James wording ("set for the fall and rising again"). Dietrich then plays on the verse with an jm auffstehen ("rise again in Him") and vns an jn stossen ("stumble at Him"). Both are kept.
- "Secure." sicher has the sense TLHy renders elsewhere as "carnal security."
- "Confession thereof." deines worts vnnd bekentnuß halb is literally "for the sake of Thy word and confession." "The confession thereof" makes the reference explicit.

[8] The Circumcision / New Year's Day

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 36): Am newen Jarstag/wie das Kindlin beschnitten/vnd Jesus ist genennet worden/Luc. 2. [On New Year's Day: how the Child was circumcised and named Jesus. Luke 2.]

Verse (PDF p. 37)

> DA acht tage vmb waren/das das Kind beschnitten wurde/da ward sein Nam genennet Jesus/welcher genennet war/ehe denn er in Mutter leyb empfangen war.

When eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called Jesus, which was so named before he was conceived in the womb.

Summary (PDF pp. 37–38)

> WAs des Herren Christi ampt sey/vnnd warumb er mensch worden/vnnd auff erden kommen sey/haben wir gehöret/Jm heutigen Euangelio aber stehet von seinem namen/das/ehe er in Mutter leyb ist empfangen worden/der Engel auß Gottes befelh jm den namen geben hat/er soll Jesus heyssen. Vñ sagt: Er soll Jesus heissen/Denn er wirt sein volck selig machen von jren sünden/Hilfft er aber von sünden/so hilfft er auch vom tod/vnd gibt das ewige leben/Denn wo keine sünde ist/da kan auch kein todt sein. So lerne nun dises Kindlins [p. 38] recht brauchen/vnd dich sein trösten. Engsten dich deine sünde/fürchtest du dich fur dem todt/wo wilt du anders wohin/denn zu disem Jesu/der darumb den namen hat/das er von sünden/seinem volck/das ist/allen so jn für jren Herrn annemen vnnd bekennen/helffen will: Wie er auch im werck heut beweyset/das er sich lest beschneyden/so er doch ein Herr vber das Gesetz war/Aber er gibt sich darum̃ mit der beschneydung vnter das Gesetz/das er vns vom fluch des Gesetzes will ledig/vnd also von sünden frey machen. Des sollen wir dem genedigen Gott von hertzen dancken/vnnd widerumb seines willens vns fleissen/vnnd für sünden vnd vngehorsam hüten.

What the office of the Lord Christ is, and why He became man and came upon earth, we have heard. But in today's Gospel we are told of His name: that before He was conceived in His mother's womb, the angel by God's command gave Him the name, that He should be called Jesus. This name the angel himself explains, Matthew 1, and says: "He shall be called Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." But if He helps from sins, He helps also from death, and gives eternal life; for where there is no sin, there can be no death either. Learn now, then, to use this little child rightly and to comfort yourself with Him. If your sins distress you, if you are afraid of death, where else will you go but to this Jesus, who has the name for this reason, that He will help His people from sins, that is, all who receive Him as their Lord and confess Him? As He also shows today in deed, in that He lets Himself be circumcised, although He was Lord over the law. But He puts Himself under the law with circumcision for this reason, that He would set us free from the curse of the law, and so make us free from sins. For this we are to thank the gracious God from our hearts, and in return apply ourselves to His will, and guard ourselves against sins and disobedience.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 2:21 in King James wording. Dietrich's text lacks "of the angel" (Luther: von dem Engel), and the translation follows him.
- Matthew 1:21 is quoted in King James wording.
- "Curse of the law." Galatians 3:13; compare Galatians 4:4–5, "made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law."
- "Apply ourselves to His will." seines willens vns fleissen: sich fleissen (with genitive) is to be diligent in something.

Assignment: TLHy's Circumcision of Christ. TLHy's only collect for that day is not Dietrich's ("O merciful and eternal God, heavenly Father, who didst cause Thy Son to endure circumcision…"; Appendix A, [9]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 38–39)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/wir dancken dir für dein Väterliche gnad/das du der armen sünder dich angenommen/vnd deinen Sun/vns zu gut/vnter das gesetz hast gethan/auff das er durch seinen volkommen gehorsam/deinen zorn stillete/vnnd vnsern vngehorsam heylete/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst/vnsere hertzen also erleuchten/das wir solches gehorsams vns wider vnsere sünde vnnd böses gewissen trösten/vnd durch hilff deines heyligen Geystes/auch anfahen gehorsame kinder zu sein/vnd endlich durch Christum ewig selig werden. Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy fatherly grace, that Thou hast had compassion upon poor sinners, and for our good hast put Thy Son under the law, that by His perfect obedience He might still Thy wrath and heal our disobedience: We beseech Thee so to enlighten our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may comfort ourselves with this obedience against our sins and an evil conscience; and that by the help of Thy Holy Ghost we may also begin to be obedient children, and at last obtain eternal salvation through Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Under the law. vnter das gesetz hast gethan echoes Galatians 4:4 (Luther: "vnter das Gesetz gethan"; King James: "made under the law"). The subject is the Father: it is the Father who puts the Son under the law.
- "Had compassion upon." sich … annehmen means to take up someone's cause or care for them. "Had compassion upon" gives the sense.
- Whose obedience. solches gehorsams vns … trösten means to comfort ourselves with this obedience, that is, Christ's, set against our sin.
- Ending. Dietrich's closing "through Christ" is moved to the end of its clause so that TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" can follow it; only the word order changes (§2.4c).

[10] Second Sunday of Christmas (Sunday after New Year), restored from Quinquagesima

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 40): Am Sontag zwischē dem Newen jar vnd Obersten/wie Christus am Jordan von Johanne ist getauffet worden/Matth. 3. [On the Sunday between New Year and Epiphany: how Christ was baptized by John at the Jordan. Matthew 3.] Oberster (Tag) is Dietrich's name for Epiphany.

Verse (PDF pp. 40–41)

> DA Jesus getauffet war/steyg er bald herauff auß dem wasser/Vnd sihe/da thet sich der Himel auff vber jm/vñ Johannes sahe den Geyst Gottes/gleych als ein Taube herab faren/vnd vber jhn kommen/ [p. 41] Vnd sihe ein stim̃ vom Himel herab sprach: Das ist mein lieber Sun/an dem ich wolgefallen hab.

When Jesus was baptized, he went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and John saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: and lo a voice from heaven said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

Summary (PDF pp. 41–42)

> DAs vnser lieber Herr Christus/selb sich von Johanne im Jordan lest tauffen/solches geschicht erstlich/das (wie er sagt) er alle gerechtigkeyt erfülle/das ist/das er nichts dahinden lasse/das da gehört zu vnser gerechtigkeyt/Denn weyl Gott durch Johannem die tauff geordnet hette/für die armen sünder/sie damit zu trösten/Gott wölte jhnen gnedig sein/kombt vnser lieber Herr Christus als ein armer sünder/denn er war Gottes Lamb/das der gantzen welt sünde auff sich träge/vnnd begerte der heyligen Tauff auch/vñ Johannes tauffet jn auch/vnd geschicht/das der heylig Geyst auff den Herren Christum sitzet/in gestalt einer Tauben/vnnd Gott von himel herunder lest sich hören/vnnd spricht: Das ist mein lieber [p. 42] Sun/da ich hertzliche freud an hab/Solches ist nun vnser sonderlicher trost/weil Christus vnser sünde tregt das wir sehen/das Gott vnser sünden halb jm nit vngnedig ist/sonder vns durch jn zu genaden annimbt/wenn anders wir vns in seim namen tauffen lassen/vnd seiner zusagung glauben. Zum andern/sollen wir lernen die Tauff hoch halten/sintemal sie der Sun Gottes selb mit seim leyb geheyligt/vnnd die gantze Gottheit sich da sichtigklich offenbaret hat/als bey eim solchem werck/da Gott nicht anders denn gnedig bey könne sein.

That our dear Lord Christ Himself lets Himself be baptized by John in the Jordan happens, first, so that (as He says) He may "fulfil all righteousness," that is, that He may leave nothing undone that belongs to our righteousness. For since God had ordained baptism through John for poor sinners, to comfort them with it that God would be gracious to them, our dear Lord Christ comes as a poor sinner (for He was the Lamb of God, who was to bear the sin of the whole world) and desires holy baptism too; and John baptizes Him too; and it comes to pass that the Holy Ghost rests upon the Lord Christ in the form of a dove, and God lets Himself be heard from heaven, and says: "This is my beloved Son, in whom I have heartfelt joy." Now this is our special comfort: since Christ bears our sin, we see that God is not ungracious to Him on account of our sins, but receives us into grace through Him, if only we let ourselves be baptized in His name and believe His promise. Secondly, we are to learn to hold baptism in high esteem, since the Son of God Himself hallowed it with His body, and the whole Godhead revealed itself there visibly, as at a work at which God cannot be present otherwise than graciously.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 3:16–17 in King James wording. With Luther's Bible, Dietrich's text has "John saw" where the King James Version has "he saw," and the translation follows him.

- "Fulfil all righteousness." Matthew 3:15. "The Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" is John 1:29.
- "In whom I have heartfelt joy." da ich hertzliche freud an hab: in the summary Dietrich paraphrases the Father's word "in whom I am well pleased."
- "Rests upon." sitzet, literally "sits."
- "Cannot be present otherwise than graciously." da Gott nicht anders denn gnedig bey könne sein: where the whole Trinity is revealed in baptism, God can be there only as gracious.

Assignment. TLHy prints this collect at Quinquagesima. It is restored here to the Sunday after New Year, which TLHy calls the Second Sunday of Christmas, and Quinquagesima receives Dietrich's own collect [23]. TLHy followed the Dano-Norwegian pericopes, in which Quinquagesima (Fastelavn) carries the Baptism of Christ, Matthew 3:13–17; in the German pericopes Dietrich follows, Quinquagesima has Luke 18:31–43, and the Baptism falls on the Sunday after New Year. TLHy's own collect for the Second Sunday of Christmas is not Dietrich's (Appendix A, [11]). TLHy's unrevised text of this prayer, Stratman's [24], is given in Appendix A.

Prayer (PDF pp. 42–43)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du dich mit deim heyligen Geyst/inn allen genaden bey der Tauffe deines lieben Suns/der vnser aller sünde auff sich geladen/hast offenbaret/vnnd vns mit deiner stim̃ zu jm gewisen/das wir durch jhn vergebung der sünde/vnd alle gnad haben sollen/Wir bitten dich/erhalt vns in solcher zuuersicht/vñ weil wir nach dem Befelh vnd Exempel deines Suns auch getauffet sind/Stercke vnsern glauben durch deinen heiligen Geist/vnd hilff vns zum ewigen lebē/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst manifest Thyself, with Thy Holy Ghost, in all grace at the baptism of Thy dear Son, who hath taken upon Himself the sins of us all, and with Thy voice didst direct us to Him, that through Him we should have forgiveness of sins and all grace: Keep us, we beseech Thee, in this confidence; and inasmuch as we also have been baptized according to the command and example of Thy Son, we pray Thee to strengthen our faith by Thy Holy Ghost, and to help us unto eternal life; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "with the Holy Ghost" → "with Thy Holy Ghost" (mit deim heyligen Geyst).
- "in the fullness of grace" → "in all grace" (inn allen genaden).
- "and with Thy voice didst direct us to Him who hath borne our sins" → "who hath taken upon Himself the sins of us all, and with Thy voice didst direct us to Him" (der vnser aller sünde auff sich geladen … vnnd vns mit deiner stim̃ zu jm gewisen). The clause is restored to its place and to its full wording (cf. Isaiah 53:6).
- "that we might receive grace and the remission of sins" → "that through Him we should have forgiveness of sins and all grace" (das wir durch jhn vergebung der sünde/vnd alle gnad haben sollen).
- "in the true faith" → "in this confidence" (in solcher zuuersicht).
- "inasmuch as we have been baptized in accordance with Thy command, and the example of Thy dear Son" → "inasmuch as we also have been baptized according to the command and example of Thy Son" (weil wir nach dem Befelh vnd Exempel deines Suns auch getauffet sind). Both the command and the example are the Son's.

- "and lead us to everlasting life and salvation" → "and to help us unto eternal life" (vnd hilff vns zum ewigen lebē).
- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics. "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit"; the OLM web text's "Amen," corrected.

Epiphany

[12] The Epiphany of Our Lord

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 43): Am Oberstag/Wie die weysen auß dem morgenland gehn Hierusalem koñen/vnnd nach dem newgebornen kindlin fragen/Luc. 2. [On Epiphany: how the wise men come from the East to Jerusalem and ask after the newborn child. Luke 2 [sic, for Matthew 2].]

There came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

Summary (PDF pp. 44–50). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

Dise/wie du sihest/heben an zufallen/durch hoffart vnd vnglauben/das sie das wort haben/wöllen aber jm nicht folgen noch glauben.

As holy Simeon, in the Gospel of the Sunday just past, prophesies of the little child that it is set for this, that some shall rise again by Him and some shall fall, so in today's Gospel we see two examples of that prophecy, which are very strange and almost wholly incredible. For there are, first, the Jews, who have the promise of Christ, that He is to be their Savior, their King and their Leader. They not only know where Christ is to be born, but also teach it to these heathen: if He is born, they will find Him at Bethlehem; thither they are to go. But this very thing that they know and teach to others, they themselves do not believe to be true. Otherwise King Herod, the chief priests and scribes would surely either have gone to Bethlehem with the wise men themselves, or at the least have sent some servants along to find out the matter. But they do not do it. They hold it for a fable, and think that if it were true they would know it too, as those who were highest in the secular and the spiritual office; it would have to be an everlasting shame to them that they should not know it, and the heathen should know it. These, as you see, begin to fall, through pride and unbelief, in that they have the word but will neither follow it nor believe it.

> Dagegen aber sind dise weysen noch Heiden/vnnd predigt jnen nicht/wie den hirtē auff dem felde ein engel/Es predigt jnen nicht Simeon noch Anna/frome/alte/warhaffte leutlin. Ein sum̃er [sic, for stum̃er] stern leß sich am himel sehen/auß dem selben lernen sie/auß eingebung des heiligen Geistes/wie der Juden [p. 46] König geborn sey/auff dises blosses gesicht machen sie sich auff/vnd ziehen disem König nach/einē so weiten weg/auß Persia biß mitten in Judeam/mit so grosser gefahr. Dise nu stehn an dē Herrn Christo auff/vnd glauben der göttlichen offenbarung. Da ist ferner wol zu mercken/wie der vnglaub/so zum fall sich angehoben/gestigen vnd ye lenger ye grösser worden/widerum̃ der glaub in den fromen Heiden auch gewachssen sey.

But over against them, these wise men are still heathen, and no angel preaches to them as to the shepherds in the field; neither Simeon nor Anna, godly, old, truthful folk, preaches to them. A mute star let itself be seen in the sky; from it they learn, by the inspiration of the Holy Ghost, that the King of the Jews is born. On the strength of this bare sight they set out and follow this King, so long a way, from Persia into the very midst of Judea, with such great danger. These now rise again by the Lord Christ, and believe the divine revelation. Here it is further to be well noted how the unbelief which had begun to fall rose and grew ever greater, and how, on the other hand, faith in the godly heathen grew as well.

> Denn da dise Heyden die offenbarung durch den stern annemen/vnnd dem kindlin Jesu nach zihen/ob sie es gleich zu Hierusalem nicht finden/so finden sie doch das zeugniß des Propheten Miche/vñ lernen drauß/das die Juden von disem könig ein gewisse verheissung haben/das er sol zu Bethlehem geborn werden. Darumb faren sie flugs fort auff Bethlehem zu/vnd wie sie nahe hinbey komen/leßt der stern sich wider sehen/da wurden sie sehr fro/vnnd erkennen aller erst das sie nicht jrren/noch vergebens vmb [p. 47] ziehen/darnach da sie zu Bethlehem komen/leßt der stern sich so gewaltig herunder/das er jnen auch die thür vñ das hause weyset/da Christus innē ware. Sihe also wo man anhebt recht zu glauben/wird der glaube jm̃er ye lenger ye gewisser/Vnd folget/das sie disen könig finden vnd sehen/vñ betten jn an/nicht als ein welt könig/deñ sie sehen wol/das kein welt pracht da war/vnd westen auß Daniele/der in jrem land sein weissagung geschriben hette/Er wurde ein solcher könig sein/der sünde vergeben/vñ ewige gerechtigkeit damit wurde bringen/das er sich selb wurde in den tod zum opffer gebē. Nach solchem anbetten/thun sie auch jre schetz auff/vnnd schencken jm gold/weyrauch/vnd myrrhen/Vñ ziehen als denn wider heim. Also sind nu dise Heyden am Herrn Christo aufferstanden/haben sich an jm nicht geergert/sind derhalb durch jn selig wordē.

For when these heathen accept the revelation through the star and follow after the child Jesus, although they do not find Him at Jerusalem, they nevertheless find the testimony of the prophet Micah, and learn from it that the Jews have a sure promise of this King, that He is to be born at Bethlehem. Therefore they journey on at once toward Bethlehem; and as they come near to it, the star shows itself again. Then they rejoiced greatly, and only now recognize that they are not going astray nor wandering about in vain. Afterward, when they come to Bethlehem, the star comes down so mightily that it shows them even the door and the house where Christ was. See, then: where one begins to believe rightly, faith grows ever more certain. And it follows that they find and see this King, and worship Him, not as a king of the world, for they see well enough that there was no worldly pomp there; and they knew from Daniel, who had written his prophecy in their land, that He would be a King who would forgive sins and bring everlasting righteousness, and would do so by giving Himself into death as a sacrifice. After such worship they also open their treasures, and give Him gold, frankincense, and myrrh, and then go home again. So these heathen have now risen again by the Lord Christ, have not been offended in Him, and have therefore been saved through Him.

> Aber Herodes vnd die Juden/bald sie anfangen Gotes wort zu verachtē/bleibt es nicht dabey/Herodes vñ das [p. 48] gantze Hierusalē mit jm/spricht Mattheus 1. [sic, for 2.] erschrecken/Warumb doch? ist doch das jr könig/der jn vergebūg der sünde vnd ewige seligkeit sol bringen? Wie deñ/das sie sich sein nicht frewen? Es ist den armen leuten darumb zu thun/das jn ein zeitlicher fride lieber ist/denn das ewige. Deñ sie gedencken es werde nu an ein rauffen gehn/der new könig werde das sein wöllen haben/so werde es Herodes nicht gestatten/da müsse es zum vnfrid geratten. Auff dise sünd/die da sehr schwer ist/folget ein andere/die ist noch grösser/dz sie gedencken diß kind vmbzubringen/weil es noch klein vnd vnuermöglich sey/Vñ sonderlich Herodes decket diß sein fürnemen/sagt die weysen sollen das kindlin suchen/so wölle er auch komen vnnd es anbetten. Aber er redet mit einer wolffstim̃/vnd nicht mit einer menschen stim̃/deñ anbetten heißt er mörden vnd würgen. Darumb feret er endtlich zu/da er sihet/das die weysen sein wolffssprach verstanden haben/vnd würget alle kindlin in/vñ [p. 49] vmb Bethlehem/die zwey jerig vnd drunder sind/vñ helffen jm die hohen priester dazu. Also sind sie fur vnd fur ye lenger ye tieffer in den fall geratē/vnd entlich in das ewige verdamniß kommen.

But with Herod and the Jews, as soon as they begin to despise God's word, it does not stop there. Herod, and all Jerusalem with him, says Matthew 2, are troubled. Why so? Is He not their King, who is to bring them forgiveness of sins and eternal salvation? How then is it that they do not rejoice in Him? The poor people's concern is that a temporal peace is dearer to them than the eternal one. For they think it will now come to blows: the new King will want to have what is His, Herod will not allow it, and so it must come to strife. Upon this sin, which is very grievous, follows another, which is greater still: that they think to kill this child while it is still small and helpless. And Herod in particular cloaks this design of his, saying that the wise men are to seek the little child, and he too will come and worship it. But he speaks with a wolf's voice and not with a man's voice; for to worship, with him, means to murder and to slay. Therefore, when he sees that the wise men have understood his wolf's language, he finally sets to work and slays all the little children in and around Bethlehem who are two years old and under, and the chief priests help him in it. So they have fallen continually, ever deeper, and at last come into everlasting damnation.

> Solches sollen wir lernen vnd vns fur dem fall hüten/vnd mit den fromen Heyden an Christo auffstehen. Deñ vns ist auß Gottes gnaden/der selige stern der auff Christum weyset/vnd zu jm füret/das heilige Euangelion/zu diser zeit auch erschinen/Den sollen wir nicht verachten/wie die vnglaubigē Juden/sonder jm nachgehn/vnd kein fahr fliehen noch mühe vnnd vnkost sparen/so werdē wir das kindlin Jesus sehen vnd finden/vnd es anbetten/das ist/vnser hoffnung vnnd trost auff jn setzen/er werde vns selig/vnd von sünden ledig machen.

This we are to learn, and guard ourselves against the fall, and with the godly heathen rise again by Christ. For by God's grace the blessed star that points to Christ and leads to Him, the holy gospel, has appeared to us also in this time. We are not to despise it, as the unbelieving Jews did, but follow it, and flee no danger and spare no labor and expense. So shall we see and find the child Jesus, and worship Him, that is, set our hope and comfort on Him, that He will save us and set us free from sins.

> Darnach weyl diß kindlin klein vñ arm ist/sollen wir vnsere schetze auch auffthun/das ist/wir sollen mit vnserm zeitlichen segen da zu helffen/das das kindlin möge erzogen werden vñ [p. 50] nicht allein arme leut vnser geniessen/sonder wir vnser gut gern dahin geben/das fleissige gelerte Kirchen diener/erzogen vnd erhalten werden.

Next, since this little child is small and poor, we too are to open our treasures; that is, with our temporal blessings we are to help the little child to be brought up, and not only let poor people have the benefit of us, but gladly give our goods to this end, that diligent, learned ministers of the Church may be trained and maintained.

> Ob es aber gleich nicht wird felen/wir werden mit disen Heyden auch etwas des worts halb müssen leiden/so will doch Gott bey vns sein/vnd fur dem Herode warnē/das wir jm nicht in die hende koḿen. Solche lehr vnnd trost sollen wir auß dem heutigen Euangelio mercken/vnd an dem Herrn Christo mit den weysen aufferstehen zum ewigen leben/Amen.

And although it will not fail that we too, with these heathen, must suffer something for the word's sake, yet God will be with us, and warn us against Herod, so that we do not fall into his hands. Such doctrine and comfort we are to note from today's Gospel, and with the wise men rise again by the Lord Christ to eternal life. Amen.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 2:1–2 in King James wording. The heading's reference, "Luc. 2.", is a misprint (Appendix D).
- Rising and falling. Dietrich reads the Epiphany Gospel through Simeon's prophecy in the Gospel of the Sunday after Christmas (Luke 2:34, "set for the fall and rising again of many"). an jm auffstehen and am Herrn Christo aufferstanden are rendered "rise again by Him," after the King James "rising again."
- "A mute star." The print reads sum̃er (summer), which gives no sense; stum̃er ("mute, silent") is taken as intended. The star preaches no word, unlike the angel to the shepherds and Simeon and Anna in the Temple.
- "Leader." Hertzog (duke), as in Luther's Matthew 2:6, "aus dir sol mir komen der Hertzog" (King James "a Governor").
- Micah and Daniel. The testimony of Micah is Micah 5:2, quoted in Matthew 2:5–6. Dietrich's appeal to Daniel, "who had written his prophecy in their land," refers to Daniel 9:24–26 (to "make an end of sins … and to bring in everlasting righteousness," and the Anointed who "shall be cut off"); Daniel wrote in Babylon and Persia, whence Dietrich brings the wise men ("from Persia").
- "They rejoiced greatly." da wurden sie sehr fro: Dietrich here borrows the past tense of Matthew 2:10, "they rejoiced with exceeding great joy," within a passage otherwise in the present tense.
- "Herod and all Jerusalem … are troubled." Matthew 2:3. The print reads "Mattheus 1."
- "Two years old and under." Matthew 2:16 in King James wording.
- "Wolf's voice." The image is Dietrich's: Herod's "worship" (Matthew 2:8) means murder. Compare Matthew 7:15.
- "Ministers of the Church." Kirchen diener; as in Advent 4, they are to be "trained and maintained" (erzogen vnd erhalten), that is, educated and supported.
- "Amen." The summary itself ends with "Amen," before the prayer, as do those of the Third, Tenth, Twelfth and Twenty-fifth Sundays after Trinity and of Sts. Simon and Jude ([49], [56], [58], [71], [98]).

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who hast caused Thy dear word, the true star which showeth the child Jesus, to shine upon us: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that we may indeed receive this light and make use of it unto our salvation; that we, like the wise men, may follow this star, and suffer no toil nor peril to affright us, but with our whole heart hold to Thy Son, Jesus Christ, as the only Savior, and turn our temporal goods also to this end, that Thy poor Christendom may thereby be bettered, and Thy Son, Jesus Christ, be served, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "who hast given us the light of Thy holy word, the guiding star, which leadeth us to the Christ-child" → "who hast caused Thy dear word, the true star which showeth the child Jesus, to shine upon us" (der du dein liebes wort den rechtē Stern/der das kindlin Jesus zeyget/vns hast lassen leuchten).
- "Send, we beseech Thee, Thy Holy Spirit into our hearts" → "We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts" (gib deinen heiligen Geist in vnsere hertzen; §2.2).
- "receive this light" → "indeed receive this light" (ja).
- "and that we, like the wise men, when they were seeking the star, may not be afraid because of any hardship or peril" → "that we, like the wise men, may follow this star, and suffer no toil nor peril to affright us" (das wir/wie die Weysen/solchem Stern nachziehen/kein mühe noch fahr vns lassen schrecken). In the German it is we who follow the star.
- "but put all our trust in Thine only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, as our only Savior" → "but with our whole heart hold to Thy Son, Jesus Christ, as the only Savior" (mit gantzē hertzen vns an deinen Sun Christum Jesum/als den eynigen Heyland halten).
- "devote our earthly possessions to the advancement of Thy kingdom, and in all things serve Him, Thine only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord," → "and turn our temporal goods also to this end, that Thy poor Christendom may thereby be bettered, and Thy Son, Jesus Christ, be served," (vnd vnnser zeitliches auch dazu wenden/das dein arme Christenheyt dadurch gebessert/vñ deinem Sun Christo Jesu gedienet werde). TLHy's conclusion is attached to the Son's name, as TLHy itself attaches it here.
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

This is a very fine example, which young people are to note, and follow diligently in their youth and through their whole life: that, like the child Jesus when He was twelve years old, they are to be glad to be in church, and to hear and learn God's word. For God's word is the one true seed from which the fear of God and every kind of virtue grow. And it follows further that God will give such children good fortune and blessing, keep them from sickness and every kind of mishap, and preserve them, as is written here of the child Jesus: "He increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man." Whereas, on the other hand, children who care nothing for the church and God's word become reckless and insolent; men and God become their enemies, and there is neither good fortune nor well-being with them, as the examples are before our eyes. Therefore let everyone learn to keep diligently to God's word and to the church.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 2:46 in King James wording, with "Mary and Joseph" and "the child Jesus" from Dietrich's German. The print's Jpseph is a misprint for Joseph.
- "He increased in wisdom and stature." Luke 2:52 in King James wording; Luther's Alter is "age," for which the King James Version gives "stature."
- "Good fortune." glück, here and in the next sentence, is prosperity, things going well.
- "Reckless." rochloß (ruchlos), heedless, wicked.

Assignment: TLHy's First Sunday after Epiphany. TLHy's only collect for that day is not Dietrich's ("...who in mercy hast established the Christian home among us..."; Appendix A, [14]).

Prayer (PDF p. 53)

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, I thank Thee for Thy grace, that Thou hast caused me to come to blessed baptism and to the knowledge of Thy divine word and will: I beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into my heart, that I may diligently apply myself to Thy word, neither neglect nor despise it, but mark it well, and that it may work in me the right fruit; that I may live in Thy will, increase and grow in faith and in the fear of God, and at last die blessedly in Thy word, and be saved; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus > Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Congregational form (TLHy practice)

Notes

- Person and wording. The German is in the first person singular. mich hast lassen kommen is rendered after TLHy's own "Thou hast caused us to come to the knowledge of Thy word" (Trinity 8). sich … fleyssigen (with genitive) means to apply oneself diligently to.

[15] Second Sunday after Epiphany

John 2.]

Verse (PDF p. 54)

> DAs ist das erste zeychen/das Jesus thet/vñ offenbaret seine herrligkeyt/vnd seine Jünger glaubten an jn.

This is the first sign which Jesus did, and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

Summary (PDF pp. 55–56)

> DAs vnser lieber Herr Christus auß wasser weyn machet/solches wunderwerck ist ein starcke beweysung/das er ein Herr vber die Creatur/vnd ewiger Gott sey/Denn etwas besser vnnd anders machen/denn es von Gott erschaffen ist/solches kan niemand denn Gott. That our dear Lord Christ makes wine out of water: this miracle is a strong proof that He is Lord over the creature and eternal God. For to make something better and other than it was created by God, that no one can do but God. But we are to comfort ourselves with this miracle, so that, when we find ourselves in want of food, of servants, or of anything else, we do not despair on that account, but betake ourselves to the Lord Christ, in the hope that, as He here at the wedding turned away the want and made wine out of water, He can and will do the like with us also, especially when we ask Him for it. For it costs Him no more than a word or a thought, and water must become wine, sickness must become health, death must become life. But married people in particular are to have this comfort: if they are godly and upright, and invite the Lord Christ to their wedding, He will graciously turn away all want and lack by His blessing.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 2:11 in King James wording, without "in Cana of Galilee," which Dietrich omits. zeychen is "sign"; the King James Version has "This beginning of miracles."
- "Servants." gesind is the household staff, the servants and hired hands.
- "No more than." schlecht has its old sense, "merely, simply."
- "Want and lack." mangel vnd felh.
- The prayer that follows is headed "For those who are in the estate of marriage," and the summary's last sentence leads into it.

Prayer (PDF p. 56). Headed Für die/so im Ehestand sind. [For those who are in the estate of marriage.]

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, I thank Thee, that Thou hast given me Thy grace, and hast caused me to come into holy matrimony, and thereby hast kept me from sin: And I beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost, who may so lead and direct me therein, that I may be of one mind with my spouse, give no occasion for ill will and anger, but lead a friendly and godly life; that, although temptation will not stay away, we may nevertheless evermore perceive Thy gracious help and blessing, rear our little children in accordance with Thy will, and live together in all godliness, and at last obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Rubric after the prayer (PDF p. 57)

> Das junge gesind/so im Ehestand noch nicht ist/soll sein Gebet dahin richten/das Gott/wenn sie zun jaren kommen/glück vnnd segen zu disem stand geben/vnnd in des für vnzucht gnedig behüten wölle.

The young household folk who are not yet in the estate of marriage should direct their prayer to this: that God, when they come of age, would give good fortune and blessing for this estate, and meanwhile graciously keep them from unchastity.

Changes from TLHy. TLHy recasts this prayer freely, so most of it is changed.

- Person: Dietrich's prayer is spoken by a married person ("I," turning to "we" for the household) and headed "For those who are in the estate of marriage." TLHy makes it a general intercession for "every husband and wife." The revised text follows Dietrich, and a congregational form is supplied (§2.2).
- "that of Thy grace Thou hast instituted holy matrimony, in which Thou keepest us from unchastity, and other offenses" → "that Thou hast given me Thy grace, and hast caused me to come into holy matrimony, and thereby hast kept me from sin" (das du mir dein gnad geben/vnd mich in den heyligen Ehestand kommen lassen/vnd dadurch für sünden behütet hast).
- "We beseech Thee to send Thy blessing upon every husband and wife, that they may not provoke each other to anger and strife, but live peaceably together in love and godliness" → "And I beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost, who may so lead and direct me therein, that I may be of one mind with my spouse, give no occasion for ill will and anger, but lead a friendly and godly life" (gib deinen heyligen Geyst/der mich also drinn leyte vñ füre/das ich mit meinem Ehegemahel eynig sein/kein vrsach zu widerwillen vnnd zorn geben/sonder ein freundliches/Gottseliges leben füren möge).
- "receive Thy gracious help in all temptations" → "that, although temptation will not stay away, we may nevertheless evermore perceive Thy gracious help and blessing" (Auff das ob gleich anfechtung nicht aussen wirt bleyben/wir dennoch jmmerdar dein gnedige hilff vnd segen spüren).
- "and rear their children" → "rear our little children" (vnsere kindlein).
- "grant unto us all to walk before Thee, in purity and holiness, to put all our trust in Thee, and lead such lives on earth, that in the world to come we may have everlasting life" → "and live together in all godliness, and at last obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, Jesus Christ" (vnd in aller Gottseligkeyt vnter einander leben/vnd endlich durch deinen Sun Christum Jhesum ewig selig werden). TLHy's "through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord" gives way to Dietrich's own close, which TLHy's conclusion continues (§2.4d).

[16] Third Sunday after Epiphany

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 57): Am dritten Sontag/wie Christus einen aussetzigen reyn/Vnd zu Capernaum des Haubtmans Knecht gesundt machet/Matthei am 8. [On the Third Sunday: how Christ makes a leper clean, and at Capernaum makes the centurion's servant whole. Matthew 8.]

Verse (PDF p. 58)

> DER Aussetzige sprach: Herr so du wilt/kanst du mich wol reynigen/Vnnd Jesus strecket seine hand auß/vnd rüret jn an/vñ sprach: Jch wils thun/sey gereyniget/Vnnd alß bald war er von seinem Aussatz reyn.

The leper said, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, and said, I will; be thou clean. And immediately he was clean of his leprosy.

Summary (PDF pp. 58–59)

> DJse zwey wunderzeychen/lehren erstlich das vnser lieber Herr Christus geren helffen will/vnd wol helffen kan/wider allerley leibliche not/sonderlich aber wider die sünde/auß welcher aller jammer herfleust. Doch so fern/das wir erstlich jn vmb hilff bitten/vñ zum andern/das wir an solcher hilff nicht zweyfflen/sonder im glauben fest vñ gewiß sind. These two miracles teach, first, that our dear Lord Christ is glad to help and well able to help against every kind of bodily need, but above all against sin, out of which all misery flows. Yet only on these terms: first, that we ask Him for help, and secondly, that we do not doubt such help, but are firm and sure in faith. But how we are to pray where temporal need is concerned, we learn well from the leper, who says: "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean." For although we are by no means to doubt that, whatever need may press upon us, God will help, yet we are to set our will in God's will, and, if God would have it so, bear the cross patiently. Such obedience we owe to God, and God is especially well pleased with it. But we must also, with the centurion, set all our hope on the word of our Lord Christ alone, as the word that is almighty and has made all things out of nothing.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 8:2–3 in King James wording, introduced by "The leper said." The second miracle of the heading, the centurion's servant (Matthew 8:5–13), is not quoted, but the summary closes with it.
- "Glad to help." geren is gern.
- "Whatever need may press upon us." es drucke vns für not was da wölle.
- "Made all things out of nothing." Compare Psalm 33:9 and Hebrews 11:3. The centurion trusts the bare word (Matthew 8:8, "speak the word only").

Assignment: TLHy's Third Sunday after Epiphany. TLHy's only collect for that day is not Dietrich's ("O almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities…"; Appendix A, [17]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 59–60)

> HERR Gott himlischer Vater/der du auß sonderlicher lieb vnd barmhertzigkeyt vns deinen Sun geben/vnnd für vns mensch werden/vnnd am Creutz hast sterben lassen/Gib deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen/das wir all vnser vertrawen auff jn setzen/vnd durch jn vergebung vnser sünde/vnnd ewiges leben ja so fest glauben alß der Hauptman hie glaubt/er werde sein krancken Knecht mit eim wort helffen. Wir haben ye sein wort/Wer an mich glaubt soll den todt nit sehen ewigklich/Gibe > nur/lieber Vatter im himel/das wirs mit vnzweyffenlichem hertzen glaubē/vnd an vnserm letzten ende fest dabey bleyben. Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who of especial love and mercy hast given us Thy Son, and hast suffered Him to become man for us and to die upon the cross: Give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that we may put all our trust in Him, and through Him believe the forgiveness of our sins and eternal life even as firmly as the centurion here believeth that He will help his sick servant with a word. We have indeed His word: "He that believeth on Me shall never see death." Only grant, dear Father in heaven, that we may believe it with undoubting hearts, and at our last end abide firmly thereby; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- The quotation. The quoted word combines John 8:51 and John 11:26 and is given in King James idiom. sein wort is Christ's word, not the Father's.

[18] Fourth Sunday after Epiphany

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 60): Am vierden Sontag/wie der Herr Christus seine Jünger errettet/in eim grossen vngewitter auff dem Meer/Matth. 8. [On the Fourth Sunday: how the Lord Christ rescues His disciples in a great storm on the sea. Matthew 8.]

Verse (PDF p. 61). The heading stands alone on p. 60; the woodcut heads p. 61.

> ES erhub sich ein groß vngestüm̃ auff dem Meer/Also das das schifflein mit wellen bedecket war/Jesus aber schlieff/vnd die jünger tratten zu jm/wecketen jn auff/vnnd sprachen: Herr hilff vns/wir verderben/Er aber sagt zu jhn: Jr kleinglaubigen warumb seydt jhr so forchtsam/Vnd er stund auff/vnnd bedrowete den wind/vnd das meer/da war es gantz still.

There arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but Jesus was asleep. And the disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, help us: we perish. And he saith unto them, O ye of little faith, why are ye so fearful? Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the sea; and there was a great calm.

Summary (PDF p. 62)

> DJß ist ein tröstliche Histori/da wir erstlich lernen/wer mit Christo ins Schif will/dae [sic, for das] ist/wer Christum kennen/vnd in seim Reych begert zu bleyben/der muß sich einer vngestümme/oder eines vngewitters erwegen/Wie Paulus sagt: Wer inn Christo will Gottselig leben/der muß verfolgung leyden. Da findets sich aber allweg/das Christus schlefft/das ist/er stellet sich/alß wisse er nicht wie es vns gehe/vnnd gedencke nicht an vns/Aber wir sollen/wie die Jüngern hie/zu Christo tretten/vnd mit ernstem gebet jn auffwecken/so will er mit seim allmechtigen wort Meer vnd wind stillen/Das sollen wir gentzlich glauben/Vnd derhalb/ob die hilff sich ein zeytlang verzüge/mit dem Gebet nicht ablassen/Denn es heyst/wer verharret biß ans ende/der wirt selig.

This is a comforting history, in which we learn, first, that whoever will go into the ship with Christ, that is, whoever desires to know Christ and to remain in His kingdom, must make up his mind to a tempest or a storm, as Paul says: "All that will live godly in Christ must suffer persecution." But then it always turns out that Christ is asleep; that is, He acts as though He did not know how it goes with us, and does not think of us. But we are to come to Christ, as the disciples do here, and wake Him with earnest prayer; then He will still the sea and the wind with His almighty word. This we are to believe wholly, and therefore, even if help should be delayed for a time, not leave off praying. For it is written: "He that endureth to the end shall be saved."

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 8:24–26 in King James wording. The disciples' cry is given as "Lord, help us" (Herr hilff vns, as in Luther's Bible; King James "Lord, save us"), because the summary takes up the word "help."
- "Make up his mind to." sich … erwegen (with genitive) is to resign oneself to, to reckon on.
- Paul's word is 2 Timothy 3:12, freely quoted; "He that endureth to the end" is Matthew 10:22 and 24:13.

Prayer (PDF p. 63)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du auß vätterlichem vnnd gutem rath/vns deine Kinder hie auff erden/vnter das Creutz stellest/vnnd allerley vngewitter lest vber vns kommen/der sünde damit zu wehren/vnnd vns im glauben/hoffnung vnd gebet zu üben/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest dich vnser erbarmen/vnser gebet in aller anfechtung vnnd not hören/vnd gnedige hilff schaffen/auff das wir dein gnad vnd vätterlichen beystand erkennen/vnd dich mit all deinen heyligen in ewigkeyt loben vnnd preysen/der du mit deim Sun vnnd heyligen Geyst/allein der ewige almechtig Got bist/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who of fatherly and good counsel dost set us, Thy children, here on earth under the cross, and sufferest all manner of storms to come upon us, thereby to restrain sin, and to exercise us in faith, hope, and prayer: We beseech Thee to have mercy upon us, to hear our prayer in all temptation and need, and graciously to grant us help, so that we may perceive Thy grace and fatherly help, and with all Thy saints forever praise and glorify Thee, who with Thy Son and the Holy Ghost alone art the eternal, almighty God. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "who in Thy divine wisdom and fatherly goodness" → "who of fatherly and good counsel" (auß vätterlichem vnnd gutem rath).
- "makest Thy children to bear the cross" → "dost set us, Thy children, here on earth under the cross" (vns deine Kinder hie auff erden/vnter das Creutz stellest).
- "and sendest divers afflictions upon us to subdue the flesh, and quicken our hearts unto faith, hope and unceasing prayer" → "and sufferest all manner of storms to come upon us, thereby to restrain sin, and to exercise us in faith, hope, and prayer" (allerley vngewitter lest vber vns kommen/der sünde damit zu wehren/vnnd vns im glauben/hoffnung vnd gebet zu üben). "Storms" keeps Dietrich's link to the Gospel of the day (Matthew 8:23–27).
- Restored "to hear our prayer in all temptation and need" (vnser gebet in aller anfechtung vnnd not hören), which TLHy omits.
- "and graciously deliver us out of our trials and afflictions" → "and graciously to grant us help" (vnd gnedige hilff schaffen).

- "and with all saints forever praise and worship Thee" → "and with all Thy saints forever praise and glorify Thee" (mit all deinen heyligen … loben vnnd preysen).
- TLHy's "through Thy dear Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end" → Dietrich's own Trinitarian close, "who with Thy Son and the Holy Ghost alone art the eternal, almighty God" (der du mit deim Sun vnnd heyligen Geyst/allein der ewige almechtig Got bist). No TLHy ending is added, as at [86]/[87] (§2.4g).

> DAs Himelreych ist gleych einem menschen/der guten samen auff seinen acker seet/Da aber die leute schlieffen/kam sein feynd/vnd seete vnkraut zwischen den Weytzen/vnd gieng dauon.

The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which soweth good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

This Gospel is a necessary teaching against the common offense, that even in the little flock that bears the name of Christians there are so many offenses and so many wicked knaves. For when the world sees it, it can judge no otherwise than that such mischief comes from the doctrine. It thinks: if the doctrine were pure and good, people would surely be more godly. But our dear Lord Christ rebukes such a judgment, and says that the word of God and Christian doctrine is a truly good seed, from which nothing can grow but what is good. But that tares grow in the field where this good seed is sown, and that there are many wicked knaves in the little flock that has God's word pure and clear, this, He says, is the fault of the enemy, of Satan, who lies in wait like a wicked husbandman, and when people sleep, sows tares in the good field. Therefore everyone is to be watchful and wakeful, and diligently give heed to God's word, and guard himself against the enemy. But those who sleep and let themselves be led into offense, although they may escape punishment here on earth, must nevertheless answer for it on the Last Day, and bear eternal judgment for it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 13:24–25 in King James wording. vnkraut (weeds) is the King James "tares."
- "Knaves." böser buben, wicked fellows, scoundrels.
- "Answer for it." herhalten, to be made to pay.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee, that Thou hast sown the good seed, Thy holy word, in our hearts: We pray Thee that by Thy Holy Ghost Thou wilt cause this seed to become living in us and bring forth fruit, and defend us from the evil enemy, that he may not sow tares therein. Keep us from carnal security, preserve us in Thy fear, and help us in all temptations, until we obtain eternal salvation; through Thy beloved Son, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "cause this seed to grow" → "cause this seed to become living in us" (solchen samen in vns lassen lebendig werden).
- "from the enemy" → "from the evil enemy" (für dem bösen feind).
- Restored "preserve us in Thy fear" (vnd erhalt in deiner forcht), which TLHy omits.
- "and give us at last eternal salvation" → "until we obtain eternal salvation" (biß wir ewig selig werden).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

Our dear Lord Christ likens the kingdom of heaven, or the Christian Church, to a vineyard, in which some work many hours and some few, and yet receive the same wage. For although all Christians in the vineyard are to work, each according to his calling, and are by no means to stand idle, yet God will deal with us not according to our merit or our work, but according to His grace. But here the Jews come forward, who had the law and an ordered worship of God. They want to have an advantage over the heathen, and it vexes them that God is gracious and will treat the heathen as He treats them. So it comes about that, whereas they could otherwise have been the first, had they worked faithfully and held to God's grace, they become the last, and fall into God's deep displeasure. For God will deal with us men according to grace and not according to merit. This we are to receive with the highest thanks, and yet not be idle on that account, but exercise ourselves in obedience to God and in His will to the best of our ability, and nevertheless look to His grace alone, and comfort ourselves with it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 20:16 in King James wording.
- The heading names no Sunday (Appendix D); the Gospel is that of Septuagesima.
- "Worship of God." Gottesdienst, the ordered service of God under the law.
- "Displeasure." vngnad, the opposite of gnad.

Prayer (PDF p. 69)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who through Thy dear word hast called us into Thy vineyard: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that we may labor faithfully in Thy vineyard, shun sin and all offense, diligently apply ourselves to Thy word and will, and set all our hope on Thy grace alone, which Thou hast bestowed upon us so plenteously through Thy Son Jesus Christ, and so obtain eternal > salvation through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy holy word" → "Thy dear word" (dein liebes wort; §2.2).
- "Send, we beseech Thee, Thy Holy Spirit into our hearts" → "We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts" (gib deinen heyligen Geist in vnser hertz; §2.2).
- "obediently keep Thy word and do Thy will" → "diligently apply ourselves to Thy word and will" (deines worts vnd willens vns fleyssigen).
- "put our whole and only trust in Thy grace" → "set all our hope on Thy grace alone" (alle hoffnung allein auff dein gnad ... setzen).
- "that we may obtain eternal salvation" → "and so obtain eternal salvation" (vnd also ewig selig werden). TLHy's "through Him" is part of its conclusion and is italicized with it.

[22] Sexagesima

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 70): Am Sontag Sexagesima/vom Samen der eins theyls an weg/ein theyls auff das felsicht/vnd eins teyls vnter die dorn fellet/Luce am 8. [On Sexagesima Sunday: of the seed, which falls partly by the way, partly upon the rock, and partly among the thorns. Luke 8.]

Verse (PDF p. 70)

> DEr Same auff dem guten lande/sind die das wort hören/vnd behalten inn einem feinen gutten hertzen/vnnd bringen frucht inn gedult.

The seed on the good ground are they which hear the word, and keep it in an honest and good heart, and bring forth fruit with patience.

Summary (PDF p. 71)

> MJt disem gleichnuß/vom Same zeigt der Herr an/was die vrsach sey/dz Gottes wort nicht allenthalb frucht bringt/Nemlich/dz der mangel nit am wort/sonder an dē hertzen/vñ darnach am Sathan sey/Etliche habē leichtfertige vnachsame [sic, for vnachtsame] hertzen gegen das wort/den mag der Teuffel leicht etwas in weg werffen/so ist der predigt gar vergessen/Etliche sind blöd vñ zart/wöllen nichts vmb des worts willen leyden/noch wagen/Etliche lassen jnen gelt vnd gut so sehr lieben/das sie des worts nit wartē mögen/darumb bleibt die frucht bey solchen hertzen aussen. Aber wo die hertzē fein achtsam sind/vnnd Gottes wort fleissig hören/vñ gewenen sich zur gedult/das sie etwas leyden/vnd lassen die weltsorg sich nit vberwachsen/noch das hertz jnen gar einnemen/da wirt die rechte frucht/Nemlich/glaub vnd lieb/vñ darnach das ewige leben folgen. Daruṁ lerne ein yeder Christ sich also gegen das wort schicken.

With this parable of the seed the Lord shows what the reason is that God's word does not bring forth fruit everywhere: namely, that the fault lies not in the word, but in the hearts, and then in Satan. Some have frivolous, heedless hearts toward the word; for them the devil can easily throw something in the way, and the sermon is quite forgotten. Some are faint-hearted and soft; they will suffer nothing for the word's sake, nor venture anything. Some let money and goods be so dear to them that they cannot attend to the word.

Therefore the fruit fails to appear in such hearts. But where hearts are properly heedful, and hear God's word diligently, and accustom themselves to patience, so that they suffer something, and do not let the cares of the world grow up over them nor take their heart wholly captive, there the right fruit will follow, namely faith and love, and after that eternal life. Therefore let every Christian learn to conduct himself so toward the word.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 8:15 in King James wording, introduced by "The seed on the good ground"; "an honest and good heart" renders einem feinen gutten hertzen, as in the collect.
- "Heedless." The print's vnachsame is taken as a misprint for vnachtsame; the contrast is achtsam ("heedful") below.
- The four kinds of ground. Wayside, rock and thorns (Luke 8:12–14) are the frivolous, the faint-hearted and the lovers of money; weltsorg ("cares of the world") echoes the thorns.
- "Fails to appear." bleibt … aussen, literally "stays outside," stays away.

Prayer (PDF p. 72)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee, that through Thy Son Jesus Christ Thou hast sown Thy dear word among us: We pray that Thou wilt so prepare our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may diligently hear Thy word, keep it in an honest and good heart, and bring forth fruit with patience; and that we may not incline to sin, but subdue it by Thy help, and in all manner of persecution comfort ourselves surely with Thy grace and everlasting help, and hope therein; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy holy word" → "Thy dear word" (dein liebes wort; §2.2).
- "prepare our hearts" → "so prepare our hearts" (dermassen).
- "diligently and reverently hear" → "diligently hear" (mit fleyß hören; "reverently" is not in the German).
- "keep it in good hearts" → "keep it in an honest and good heart" (in eim feinen guten hertzen; King James, Luke 8:15).
- "subdue it by Thy power" → "subdue it by Thy help" (durch dein hilff).
- "and in all persecutions comfort ourselves with Thy grace and continual help" → "and in all manner of persecution comfort ourselves surely with Thy grace and everlasting help, and hope therein" (deiner gnad/vnd ewigen hilffe/vns gewiß trösten vñ hoffen).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."
- TLHy's conclusion reads "ever one God" here; it is kept as TLHy prints it.

Verse (PDF pp. 73–74)

> VNser Herr Christus sprach: Des menschen Son wirdt vberantwortet werden den Heyden/Vnd er wirdt verspottet/vnnd geschmehet/vñ verspeyet werden/vnd sie werden jhn geysseln vnd tödten/ [p. 74] vnd am dritten tag/wirdt er wider aufferstehen/Aber seine Jünger vernamen der keines.

Our Lord Christ said: The Son of man shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on: and they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again. And his disciples understood none of these things.

Summary (PDF pp. 74–75)

> WArumb vnser lieber Herr Christus solches hab müssen leyden/wissen wir/Denn er hat darumb sich angenommen/vñ ist darumb mensch worden/das er für aller welt sünde hat bezalen wöllen. Darumb sollen wir erstlich vns hie erinnern/wie ein grewliche last es vmb die sünde sey/vnd die selben mit höchstem fleiß meyden/sintemal niemand denn der Son Gottes/durch so ein hefftige marter/vnd hefftigen todt dafür hat bezalen können. Zum andern/sollen wir dises leydens vnd sterbens/vns auch wider die sünde trösten/vnd nit zweyfflen/ob gleych wir den ewigen todt/durch die sünde verwircket haben/das doch Gott vmb seines Sones willen gnedig sein/vnd die schuld an vns ferner nicht wölle fordern/so durch Christum [p. 75] bezalet ist. Zum dritten/sollen wir vns auch drein ergeben/vnnd nicht dran ergern/ob wir auch müssen mit leyden vnd mit sterben/Denn der Jünger ist nit vber seinen Meyster/noch der Knecht vber seinen Herrn. Solches wustē die Jüngern dazumal nit/aber hernach lerneten sie es.

Why our dear Lord Christ had to suffer this, we know. For He took it upon Himself, and became man, for this very reason, that He would pay for the sin of all the world. Therefore we are, first, to consider here what a dreadful burden sin is, and to shun it with the greatest diligence, since no one but the Son of God could pay for it, through so grievous a torment and so grievous a death. Secondly, we are also to comfort ourselves with this suffering and dying against sin, and not doubt that, although we have deserved eternal death by sin, God will nevertheless be gracious for His Son's sake, and will no more require of us the debt that has been paid by Christ. Thirdly, we are also to resign ourselves to it, and not be offended, if we too must suffer and die with Him; for the disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord. This the disciples did not know at that time, but afterward they learned it.

> Das Christus den blinden sehend machet/merck das wort: Dein glaub hat dir geholffen/Denn wer vmb hilf den Herrn Christum anschreyet/vnd glaubt/dem soll hilff widerfaren.

That Christ makes the blind man see: mark the word, "Thy faith hath helped thee." For whoever cries to the Lord Christ for help, and believes, to him help shall come.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 18:32–34 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Christ said."
- "Deserved eternal death." verwircken here is to bring a penalty on oneself by one's deeds.

- "The disciple is not above his master." Matthew 10:24 in King James wording.
- "Thy faith hath helped thee." Luke 18:42, where the King James Version has "hath saved thee." Luther's geholffen is kept, because Dietrich's point is the help (hilff) that comes to faith.
- The paragraph break before the last sentence follows the print.

Assignment: Quinquagesima (Luke 18:31–43). It replaces the baptism collect [10] that TLHy prints on this Sunday.

Prayer (PDF pp. 75–76)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/der du dem Blinden menschen/durch deinen Son Christum Jesum gnedigklich die augen geöffnet/vnd das liecht hast sehen lassen/Wir armen sünder bitten dich/du völlest [sic, for wöllest] durch dein liebes wort vnsere blinde hertzen erleuchten/das wir dich durch Christum deinen Son/der für vnns am Creutz gestorben/vnd für vnsere sünde bezalet hat/recht lernē erkennen/vnd in allen nöten vnd anfechtungen allein auff dein gnedige hilff vñ barmhertzigkeyt sehen/die selbe durch ein glaubiges gebet suchen/vnd also trost vnd rettung wider Teuffel/sünd/vñ todt finden/Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, didst graciously open the eyes of the blind man, and didst suffer him to see the light: We poor sinners beseech Thee, enlighten our blind hearts by Thy dear word, that through Christ, Thy Son, who died for us upon the cross and paid for our sins, we may rightly learn to know Thee; and that in all necessities and temptations we may look only to Thy gracious help and mercy, seek the same by believing prayer, and so find comfort and deliverance against the devil, sin, and death; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices. dein liebes wort is TLHy's "Thy holy word" elsewhere, given literally here (§2.2). rettung means rescue or deliverance.

Ja die lieben Engel werden kommen/ [p. 79] retten/trösten/vnd dienen wo nit leyblich/wie zu Christo/doch geystlich vnd durchs wort.

This history of how Christ was tempted by the devil is written, first, so that we should be warned and guard ourselves against carnal security; for if Satan dared to try his hand on the Son of God Himself, he will not spare us, that is certain. Secondly, so that we should also learn how we can defend ourselves against Satan and withstand him by God's word alone. Now these are the temptations with which Satan commonly plagues Christians. The first: when things go ill with them, he drives them to despair, as though God had forgotten us. But Christ teaches that we are not to judge God's grace by how it goes with us here on earth, but by His word, and by what He promises us through Christ; for in the word of God alone stands the true life, and in nothing else, whether it be called bread, money, goods, honor, etc. The second temptation is this: when Satan cannot quench faith with despair, he tries whether he can make us presumptuous, so that we believe and venture more than God has commanded. This, the Lord says here, is called tempting God, and is wrong. The third: that he leads hearts away from the word into idolatry by money, goods, honor and other things. But here we are to know that we are to serve neither money nor the world, but God alone, and worship Him alone. Whoever thus defends himself with the word against Satan's temptation conquers, and Satan must leave off. Yes, the dear angels will come, rescue, comfort, and minister, if not bodily, as to Christ, then spiritually and through the word.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 4:3–4 in King James wording, introduced by "came to the Lord Jesus." The print's wreden is a misprint for werden.
- The three temptations follow Matthew 4:3–10: bread (despair of God's care), the pinnacle of the Temple (presumption, "tempting God," 4:7), and the kingdoms of the world (idolatry, "him only shalt thou serve," 4:10). The angels who "came and ministered unto him" are 4:11.
- "Try his hand on." sich … versuchen an, to make an attempt on someone.
- "Presumptuous." vermessen, rashly overconfident.

Prayer (PDF p. 79)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, inasmuch as the evil enemy doth continually creep after us, and as a roaring lion doth walk about, seeking to devour us: We beseech Thee for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, to stand by us with the Holy Ghost, and to strengthen our hearts by Thy word, that our enemy may not prevail over us, but that we may evermore abide in Thy grace, and at last be saved; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "the adversary doth continually afflict us" → "the evil enemy doth continually creep after us" (der arge feind/für vnd für vns nachschleichet).
- "for the sake of the suffering and death of Thy Son" → "for the sake of Thy Son" (vmb deines Sones Christi Jesu willen; "the suffering and death" is not in the German).
- "to help us by the grace of the Holy Spirit" → "to stand by us with the Holy Ghost" (mit dem heyligen Geyst zu vns setzen, literally "set [Thyself] by us").
- "and be preserved unto everlasting life" → "and at last be saved" (vnd endlich selig werden).

Verse (PDF p. 80)

> VNser Herr Jesus sprach zu dem Heydnischen Freulin/O Weyb dein glaub ist groß/dir geschehe wie du wilt/vnd jr Dochter war gesund zur selbigen stund.

Our Lord Jesus said unto the heathen woman, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

Summary (PDF pp. 81–82)

> DAs ist ein sehr fein Exempel/wie wir im Gebet anhalten/vnnd ymmer auff dem gedancken fest bleyben sollen/Gott sey gnedig/er werde alß ein Vatter sich vber vns/seine kindlein erbarmen/vnnd in allen nötten helffen. Aber da können wir mehr nicht/sollen auch mehr nicht thun/denn das wir vns mit disem Heydnischen Freulin von hertzen demütigen/vnd sprechen: Es ist doch ye war/das ich ein sünder/vnd nicht werdt byn/das Gott das oder yenes mir gebe/Vnd dennoch weyl Gott gnedig vnd barmhertzig ist/soll ich an seiner genad vnd güte nicht zweyfflen. Das es also bedes beysam̃ stehe/das wir vnser [p. 82] sünd halb für Gott vnns demütigen/vnd vmb seiner barmhertzigkeyt willen/die er in Christo Jesu vns bewisen hat/glauben/er werde vns nit verlassen. Diser glaub erlanget alles/wie wir hie sehen/da Christus spricht: Dein glaub ist groß/dir geschehe wie du wilt.

This is a very fine example of how we are to persevere in prayer, and ever hold fast to the thought that God is gracious, that He will have mercy on us, His little children, as a father, and help in every need. For as we see here in the Lord Christ, that He lets Himself be asked for a long time and acts as though He would not help, so it befalls us also: it seems to us that all is in vain and God will not hear; and above all our sins hinder us, and our knowing that we have not deserved it of God. But there we can do no more, and are to do no more, than humble ourselves from our hearts with this heathen woman, and say: "It is indeed true that I am a sinner, and not worthy that God should give me this or that; and yet, since God is gracious and merciful, I am not to doubt His grace and goodness." So both stand together: that for our sin we humble ourselves before God, and for the sake of His mercy, which He has shown us in Christ Jesus, believe that He will not forsake us. This faith obtains all things, as we see here, where Christ says: "Great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt."

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 15:28 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Jesus said unto the heathen woman." Freulin (Fräulein, little woman) is Dietrich's word for the Canaanite woman, as in the heading (Frewlin); the prayer calls her das Cananeisch Weyblin.
- "Have deserved it of God." vmb Got … verdienet, to have earned something from God.

Prayer (PDF p. 82)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/wir biten dich/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst/den glauben vnnd hoffnung auff dein gnad vnnd barmhertzigkeyt in vnserm hertzen fest vñ gewiß machen/auff das/ob wir gleich vnsers gewissens/sünde/vnd vnwirdigkeyt halb vrsach haben vnns zu förchten/wir dennoch an deiner genade/wie das Cananeisch Weyblin/fest hangen bleyben/vnd durch Christum hilff vnnd rettung in allerley anfechtung vnd nöten bey dir finden/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we beseech Thee, by Thy Holy Ghost make faith and hope in Thy grace and mercy firm and sure in our hearts, so that, although we have reason to fear because of our conscience, our sin, and our unworthiness, we may nevertheless, like the woman of Canaan, hold fast to Thy grace, and in all manner of temptation and need find help and deliverance with Thee through Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "grant us, we beseech Thee, by Thy Holy Spirit, that He may strengthen our hearts and confirm our faith and hope in Thy grace and mercy" → "we beseech Thee, by Thy Holy Ghost make faith and hope in Thy grace and mercy firm and sure in our hearts" (du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst/den glauben vnnd hoffnung auff dein gnad vnnd barmhertzigkeyt in vnserm hertzen fest vñ gewiß machen).
- "with the woman of Canaan" → "like the woman of Canaan" (wie das Cananeisch Weyblin).

- "and in every trial and temptation find Thee a very present help and refuge" → "and in all manner of temptation and need find help and deliverance with Thee through Christ" (vnd durch Christum hilff vnnd rettung in allerley anfechtung vnd nöten bey dir finden).
- TLHy's "through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord," gives way to Dietrich's "through Christ," which the conclusion follows (§2.4c).

> MJt disen worten lehret vnser lieber Herr Christus/wie wir dises wunderwercks vns trösten/vnd was wir drauß lernen sollen/das er dem armen stummen menschen hilfft/vnd jn vom Teuffel ledig macht/Nemlich/dz wir sollen wissen/wie der gnedige Vater im Himel sich vnser not angenommen/vnd hilff wider den Sathan vñ sein Tyranney/vns durch seinē Sun genedigklich verschaffet hab/auff dz/wer disen Jesum Christum mit glauben annimbt/der soll fürt an in Gottes Reych sein/vnnd der Sathan soll jn nicht mehr/wie zuuor/treyben vnd zwingen. Denn durch Christum empfangen wir den heyligen Geyst/der hilfft vns wider den bösen feind streyten vnnd siegen/welchen vnser lieber Herr Christus/alß der stercker/allgereyt vberwunden/jm seinen harnisch außgezogen/vnd seinen Christen den raub außgetheylet hat/das sie solcher vberwindung auch geniessen sollen. [p. 85] Aber gleych wie Christus vber solchem gnedigen werck sich muß lassen vrteylen vnd lestern: Also geht es sein wort noch heutigs rages [sic, for tages] in der welt/das manß ein Teuffels lehr schillt vnd verdam̃et als ketzerey.

With these words our dear Lord Christ teaches how we are to comfort ourselves with this miracle, in which He helps the poor dumb man and sets him free from the devil, and what we are to learn from it: namely, we are to know that the gracious Father in heaven has taken our need to heart, and has graciously procured for us, through His Son, help against Satan and his tyranny; so that whoever receives this Jesus Christ with faith shall henceforth be in God's kingdom, and Satan shall no longer drive and compel him as before. For through Christ we receive the Holy Ghost, who helps us to fight against the wicked enemy and to conquer. Him our dear Lord Christ, as the stronger, has already overcome; He has taken from him his armor and divided the spoils among His Christians, so that they too may have the benefit of that victory. But just as Christ must let Himself be judged and blasphemed over this gracious work, so it goes with His word in the world even today: men call it the devil's doctrine and condemn it as heresy.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 11:20 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Jesus said unto the unbelieving Jews." Luther's ye ("surely") is the King James "no doubt."
- "The stronger … his armour … the spoils." Luke 11:21–22: "when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour … and divideth his spoils."
- "Judged and blasphemed." Luke 11:15: "He casteth out devils through Beelzebub."
- "Even today." The print reads heutigs rages, a misprint for tages.
- "Henceforth." fürt an is fortan.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who for this cause didst suffer Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, to become man, that He should restrain the tyranny of the devil, and defend us men against the evil enemy: We give thanks unto Thee first for such gracious help, and then we beseech Thee graciously to stand by us in all temptations, to preserve us from carnal security, and by Thy Holy Ghost graciously to keep us in Thy word and Thy fear, that unto the end we may remain safe from the evil enemy, and obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "who hast sent Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, to take upon Himself our flesh" → "who for this cause didst suffer Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, to become man" (darumb hast lassen mensch werden).
- "that He might overcome the devil" → "that He should restrain the tyranny of the devil" (des Teuffels Tyranney wehren), as at [3].
- "and defend us poor sinners against the adversary" → "and defend us men against the evil enemy" (vns menschen wider den argen feind/schützen).
- "We give thanks unto Thee for Thy merciful help" → "We give thanks unto Thee first for such gracious help" (erstlich für solche gnedige hilff).

Verse (PDF pp. 86–87)

> VNser Herr Jesus nam die brodt vnd dancket/vnnd gab sie den Jüngern. Die Jüngern aber/denen die sich gelägert hetten/Desselben [p. 87] gleichen auch von den Fischen/wie vil er wolt.

Our Lord Jesus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as he would.

Summary (PDF pp. 87–88)

> DJß ist ein schöne tröstliche Histori/das wir vns keinen mangel sollen anfechten lassen/sonder nur allein dahin sehē/das wir bey dem Herren Christo vnnd seim wort bleyben/Denn so wir das thun/ob gleich mangel fürfelt/so wissen wir/das vnser Herr Christus die macht hat/es sey so wenig für der hand alß jmmer wöll/so gibt er doch dauon alß vil er will/vnnd muß durch seinen segen alles jm vnter den henden wachsen vnnd zunemen. This is a beautiful, comforting history: that we are to let no want trouble us, but only see to it that we abide with the Lord Christ and His word. For if we do that, even if want befalls us, we know that our Lord Christ has the power: however little there may be at hand, He nevertheless gives from it as much as He will, and through His blessing everything must grow and increase under His hands. Now where He gives His blessing in this way, it is further to follow that one is to keep it carefully, and not squander it uselessly, as He commands here that the fragments that remain are to be gathered up. Therefore let everyone learn to comfort himself with this history and to guard himself against covetousness. Covetousness looks only to the great heap; but a Christian is to look to God's word and to the Lord Christ, and then hope that he has a rich God in heaven, who will not let him suffer want.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 6:11 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Jesus." Dietrich has "as much as he would" (wie vil er wolt), where the King James Version has "as much as they would"; the translation follows him.
- The heading says "five thousand men, not counting women and children" (Man/weyb vnnd kind nicht mit gerechnet), from Matthew 14:21; John 6:10 has only "about five thousand."
- "Gathered up." John 6:12, "Gather up the fragments that remain."
- "Keep it carefully." jn schon auffheben: schon (schonend) is carefully, sparingly, and jn refers to the blessing.

Prayer (PDF p. 88)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du durch deinen Sun in der wüsten fünff tausent Mañ/weyb vnnd kind nit mitgerechnet/nur mit fünff brodt vñ zwen fischen/reychlich/gespeyset hast/Wir bitten dich/sey mit deinem segen auch gnedig bey vns/behüte für dem geytz vnd sorgen der narung/das wir dein Reych vnd dein gerechtigkeyt am ersten süchen/vnd deine milte Väterliche güte in allem/was wir zu leyb vnd seel bedürffen/gnedigklich spüren durch Jesum Christum vnsern Herren/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who by Thy Son didst richly feed in the desert five thousand men, besides women and children, with but five loaves and two fishes: We beseech Thee to abide graciously also with us with Thy blessing. Preserve us from avarice and the cares of this life, that we may seek first Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness, and graciously perceive Thy bountiful fatherly goodness in all that we need for body and soul; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "didst feed five thousand men in the desert with five loaves and two fishes" → "didst richly feed in the desert five thousand men, besides women and children, with but five loaves and two fishes" (fünff tausent Mañ/weyb vnnd kind nit mitgerechnet/nur mit fünff brodt vñ zwen fischen/reychlich/gespeyset; "besides women and children" is the King James wording of Matthew 14:21).
- "in the fullness of Thy blessing" → "with Thy blessing" (mit deinem segen; "fullness" is not in the German).
- "and in all things perceive Thy fatherly goodness" → "and graciously perceive Thy bountiful fatherly goodness in all that we need for body and soul" (deine milte Väterliche güte in allem/was wir zu leyb vnd seel bedürffen/gnedigklich spüren).
- "through Jesus Christ" → "through Jesus Christ our Lord," which is Dietrich's own close (durch Jesum Christum vnsern Herren); TLHy's conclusion continues it (§2.4d).
- The OLM web text omits the comma before "world without end"; restored.

Note. "The cares of this life" is TLHy's King James wording (Luke 21:34) for sorgen der narung, as at [2]; it is kept.

[29] Fifth Sunday in Lent (Judica)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 89): Am Sontag nach Mitfasten/Johannis am 8. [On the Sunday after Mid-Lent. John 8.]

Verse (PDF p. 89)

> VNser Herr Jesus sprach: Warlich warlich ich sage euch/so yemand mein wort wirdt halten/der wirdt den todt nicht sehen ewigklich.

Our Lord Jesus said: Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my word, he shall never see death.

Summary (PDF pp. 90–91)

> DAs ist ein treffenliche/nütze/vnnd nötige/aber doch bey den Juden/vñ der welt sehr ergerliche ler/das kein ander weg zum ewigen leben sey/deñ das wort vnsers Herren Christi halten. Denn vernunfft helts dafür/man werde selig/weñ man gute werck thue/vnnd dem gesetz Gottes folge/Aber hie hörest nicht ein wort/das Christus vom Gesetz oder guten wercken sagte/Wer den todt nicht will sehen/das ist/wer da will das ewige leben haben/der wirts mit dem nicht erlangen/das er Mosen helt/diß oder yenes thut/Mein wort muß er halten. Was ist denn des Herren Christi wort? oder/was predigt er/das Moses nicht predigt? Dises/das er Gottes Sun sey/das er für vnsere sünde am Creutz sich opffere vnd bezale/vnd Gott vmb seiner willen vns gnedig sein/vnd zu kindern vns wölle annemen/Wer das wort helt/das ist/mit vnzweyffenlichem glauben annimbt/ [p. 91] der soll den tod nicht sehen ewigklich. Denn ob wol der leyb muß sterben/so soll doch der Geyst lebendig bleyben in Gott/vnd der leyb durch Christum am Jüngsten tag auch zu eim newen vnd ewigen leben aufferwecket werden. Da hilfft vns des Herren Christi wort zu/Moses wort hilfft vns nicht dazu.

This is an excellent, profitable and necessary teaching, but one that gives great offense to the Jews and to the world: that there is no other way to eternal life than to keep the word of our Lord Christ. For reason holds that one is saved if one does good works and follows the law of God. But here you do not hear a word from Christ about the law or good works. Whoever would not see death, that is, whoever would have eternal life, will not obtain it by keeping Moses or doing this or that: he must keep My word. What then is the word of the Lord Christ? Or what does He preach that Moses does not preach? This: that He is the Son of God; that He offers Himself on the cross for our sins and pays for them; and that God for His sake will be gracious to us and receive us as children. Whoever keeps this word, that is, receives it with undoubting faith, shall never see death. For although the body must die, the spirit shall nevertheless remain alive in God, and the body too shall be raised through Christ on the Last Day to a new and eternal life. To this the word of the Lord Christ helps us; Moses' word does not help us to it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 8:51 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Jesus said," except that "my word" (mein wort) is kept where the King James Version has "my saying," because the summary turns on the word.
- "Keeping Moses." das er Mosen helt, that he keeps the law of Moses.
- "He must keep My word." Dietrich slips into Christ's own voice.

Assignment: Fifth Sunday in Lent. TLHy has no collect at all for this Sunday.

Prayer (PDF pp. 91–92)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/dein lieber Sun vnnd vnser erlöser Christus Jesus sagt: Wer mein wort helt/wirdt den todt nicht sehen ewigklich/Wir bitten dich gibe deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen/weyl du zu deines Suns wort vns kommen/vnnd das selb hast hören lassen/das wirs auch halten/von gantzem hertzen vns drauff verlassen/vnd mitten im tod desselben vns trösten/vnnd den todt in ewigkeyt nicht sehen/vmb deines lieben Suns/vnnd vnsers erlösers Christi Jhesu willen/AMEN.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, Thy dear Son and our Redeemer, Jesus Christ, saith: "Whosoever keepeth My word shall never see death." We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that, since Thou hast brought us to the word of Thy Son and hast caused us to hear it, we may also keep it, rely upon it with our whole heart, comfort ourselves therewith in the midst of death, and never in eternity > see death; for the sake of Thy dear Son and our Redeemer, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- The quotation. It is John 8:51.
- A reason, not a request. weyl du … vns kommen/vnnd das selb hast hören lassen gives the ground of the petition ("since Thou hast…"); it is not itself a petition.
- Ending. Dietrich's own close, "for the sake of Thy dear Son and our Redeemer, Jesus Christ," is continued with TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" (§2.4d).

[30] Palm Sunday

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 92): Am Palm Sontag/vom leyden vnsers Herren Christi/Esa. 53. [On Palm Sunday: of the suffering of our Lord Christ. Isaiah 53.]

Verse (PDF pp. 92–93)

> FVRwar er trug vnser kranckheyt/vnnd lud auff sich vnsere schmertzen/wir aber hielten jhn für den/der von Got geplagt vñ geschwechet [p. 93] wer/Aber er ist vmb vnser missethat willen verwundet/vnd vmb vnser sünde willen zuschlagen/Die straff ligt auff jm/auff das wir fride hetten/vnd durch seine wunden sind wir geheylet/Wir giengen jrre/wie die schaffe/ein yegklicher sahe auff seinen weg/Aber der Herr warff all vnser sünde auff jn.

Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him smitten of God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed. Like sheep we went astray; we turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.

Summary (PDF pp. 93–95). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DAs leyden vnsers liebē Herren Christi sollen wir dazu brauchē/das wir drauß lernen Gott fürchten/Gott trawen/vñ Gottes willen gedultig tragen/Deñ weyl die Sünd durch kein Creatur hat können versönet werden/der Sun Gottes selb/hat dafür leyden vnd bezalen müssen/solchs soll vns dahin treyben/das wir Gott fürchten/vñ vns für der sünde/alß für dem vntreglichstem last/vnd schedlichstem vnnd ewigem gifft/mit höchstē fleyß hüten/Aber die welt/wil [p. 94] leyder solches nicht glauben/sie achtet die sünd für gering/vnd hat noch lust dazu/Das ist ein anzeygung/das sie vnsers Herren Christi leyden nie recht bedacht hat.

We are to use the suffering of our dear Lord Christ to this end, that we learn from it to fear God, to trust God, and to bear God's will patiently. For since sin could not be atoned for by any creature, but the Son of God Himself had to suffer and pay for it, this should drive us to fear God, and to guard ourselves with the utmost diligence against sin, as against the most unbearable burden and the most harmful and everlasting poison. But the world, alas, will not believe this; it counts sin a small thing, and even takes pleasure in it. That is a sign that it has never rightly considered the suffering of our Lord Christ.

> Zum andern/sollen wir auch lernen Gott trawen/vnd vns aller genad zu jm versehen/sintemal sein eyniger Sun/vnser Gott/für vnsere sünd mit seinem eygnen leyb vnd blut bezalet/vnd durch solches opffer Gottes zorn gestillet/vnd vns mit seinem Vatter versönet hat/Darumb/wen seine sünde engsten/der sehe den Sun Gottes am Creutz an/vnnd bedencke warumb er doch da also ellendigklich hange/so wirt er finden/wie der Prophet sagt/das es vmb vnsert willen geschehen sey/das vns dadurch würde geholffen/wie er spricht: Durch seine wunden sind wir heyl worden.

Secondly, we are also to learn to trust God and to look to Him for every grace, since His only Son, our God, has paid for our sin with His own body and blood, and by this sacrifice has stilled God's wrath and reconciled us with His Father. Therefore whoever is distressed by his sins, let him look upon the Son of God on the cross, and consider why He hangs there so wretchedly. Then he will find, as the prophet says, that it happened for our sake, that we might be helped by it, as he says: "With his stripes we are healed."

> Zum dritten/sollen wir auch lernen gedultig sein/vnd Gottes willen tragē/Denn so der Sun Gottes selb/vmb vnsert willen das Creutz auff sich genommen hat/der doch keiner sünde [p. 95] schuldig war/wie können wir vns des Creutzes beschwerē/die wir durch eygne sünd für vnnd für dazu vrsach geben/vnd der sünden halb/der ruten oder straff sehr wol bedürffen? Wir sollen aber auch im leyden dise hoffnung fest halten/gleich wie Christus auß dem leyden zu seiner herrligkeyt ist gangen/also soll vnser leyden auch zur freude werden/wenn wir nur gedultig sind/vnnd in festem glauben vmb hilff bitten.

Thirdly, we are also to learn to be patient and to bear God's will. For if the Son of God Himself, who was guilty of no sin, took the cross upon Himself for our sake, how can we complain of the cross, we who by our own sin continually give occasion for it, and on account of sin have great need of the rod or of punishment? But in suffering we are also to hold fast this hope: as Christ went through suffering into His glory, so our suffering too shall be turned to joy, if only we are patient and pray for help in firm faith.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Isaiah 53:4–6 in King James wording. Dietrich's text has "plagued and weakened by God" (von Got geplagt vñ geschwechet), rendered with the King James "smitten of God, and afflicted," and lacks "all" in "All we like sheep have gone astray."
- The text. Like Pentecost (Joel 2), this section takes a prophecy as its text rather than the Gospel of the day; its subject is the Passion (Appendix D).
- "Look to Him for every grace." vns aller genad zu jm versehen: sich versehen zu is to expect from someone.
- "Into His glory." Luke 24:26: "Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?"

Assignment: Palm Sunday. TLHy's collect for that day is not Dietrich's ("Almighty and everlasting God, who hast caused Thy beloved Son to take our nature upon Himself…"; Appendix A, [31]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 95–96)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du auß väterlicher gnade/deines eingebornen Sunes nit verschonet/sonder in den todt vnd an das Creutz hinan geben hast/Wir bitten dich/gib deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen) [sic: ")" for virgule] das wir solcher gnad vns hertzlich trösten/für sünden ferner vns hüten/vnnd was du vns zu leyden zuschickest/gedultig tragen mögen/auff das wir durch jhn/mit dir ewigklich leben/Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who of fatherly grace didst not spare Thine only-begotten Son, but didst deliver Him up unto death and to the cross: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that we may heartily comfort ourselves with such grace, guard ourselves henceforth against sin, and patiently bear whatever Thou sendest us to suffer; that we may live with Thee eternally through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- The text. Dietrich's Palm Sunday text is Isaiah 53. nit verschonet … hinan geben echoes Romans 8:32.
- Ending. Dietrich's closing "through Him" is moved to the end of its clause so that TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" can follow it; only the word order changes (§2.4c).

[32] Maundy Thursday

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 96): Von dem Abendmal des Herren 1. Cor. 11. [Of the Lord's Supper. 1 Corinthians 11.]

Verse (PDF p. 97)

> JCh habe es von dem Herren empfangen/das ich euch gegeben hab. Denn der Herr Jesus inn der nacht da er verrathen war/nam er das brod/dancket vnd brachs/vnd sprach: Nemet hin vnnd esset/das ist mein Leyb/der für euch gebrochen wirdt/Solches thut zu meinem gedechtnuß. Desselben gleychen auch den Kelch nach dem Abendmal/vnd sprach: Diser Kelch ist das newe Testament inn meinem blut (Das für euch vnd für vil vergossen wirdt/zu vergebung der sünden) Solches thut so offt jhrs drincket/zu meinem gedechtnuß.

I have received of the Lord that which I delivered unto you. For the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread, gave thanks, and brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. After the same manner also the cup, when he had supped, and said, This cup is the new testament in my blood (which is shed for you and for many, for the remission of sins): this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

Summary (PDF pp. 97–100). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> VOn des Herrn Abendmal/soll ein yeder Christ dise stück wissen/Erstlich das es der Herr Christus befolhen/vnd zum Testament seiner kirchen vermeinet [p. 98] hat/das mans brauchen soll/Derhalb sind dise nicht Christen/so es können haben/aber doch nicht wöllen brauchen.

Of the Lord's Supper every Christian should know these points. First, that the Lord Christ has commanded it, and appointed it as His testament to His Church, that it should be used. Therefore those are not Christians who could have it and yet will not use it.

> Zum andern/hat der Herr diß Abendmal also geordnet/das man das brod vnd den Kelch den Christen soll reychen. Vnd dise klare wort mit angehengt/wer diß brod esse/der esse seinen Leyb/vnnd wer disen Kelch trincke/der trincke sein blut. Solche wort müssen wir nicht in wind schlagen/alß weren es > allein wort. Wie der Herr Christus redet/also ist es in der warheyt/vnd ist ein grewliche sünde von disem Sacrament halten wie Zwingel/vnd die Sacramentschwirmer/das es nur brod vnd weyn sey.

Secondly, the Lord has so ordained this Supper that the bread and the cup are to be given to Christians, and has added these clear words: whoever eats this bread eats His body, and whoever drinks this cup drinks His blood. Such words we must not cast to the wind, as though they were mere words. As the Lord Christ speaks, so it is in truth; and it is a dreadful sin to hold of this sacrament, as Zwingli and the sacramentarian fanatics do, that it is only bread and wine.

> Zum dritten/hat Christus solches Abendmal geordnet/das man sein dabey soll gedencken/das ist/wir sollen vns seines leydens trösten/vnnd wie die wort klar mit bringen/nit zweyflen/sein leyb sey für vns geben/vnnd sein blut für vnsere sünde vergossen. Denn auff das solcher glaub fest vnd [p. 99] gewiß wer/ordnets Christus/das wir nicht allein solches im wort sollen hören/sein leyb sey für vns geben/vnd sein blut für vnsere sünde vergossen/sonder der leyb vnd das blut Christi/wirt vns in vnsern mund gelegt/vnd zu essen vnd drincken geben/das wir ja nicht zweyfflen/vnsere sünde sind bezalet/vnnd sollen ferner vns nicht zugerechnet werden.

Thirdly, Christ has ordained this Supper so that we should remember Him in it; that is, we are to comfort ourselves with His suffering, and, as the words clearly declare, not doubt that His body is given for us and His blood shed for our sins. For, in order that such faith might be firm and certain, Christ ordained that we should not only hear in the word that His body is given for us and His blood shed for our sins, but the body and blood of Christ are laid in our mouth and given us to eat and to drink, so that we may by no means doubt that our sins are paid for and are no longer to be imputed to us.

> Zum vierdten/wer nun diß Abendmal will brauchen/soll zuuor sich prüffen/das ist/sein hertz erforschen/ob er sich für einen sünder erkenne/vnd dauon beger ledig zu werden. Wo solches ein rechter ernst ist/vnd du dich des leydens vnsers Herrn Christi tröstest/so bist du zu disem Abendtmal recht vnd wol geschickt/Es soll aber ferner folgen/weil du darumb zu disem Abendtmal kombst/das du von sünden begerest ledig zu werden/das du fürt an für sünden dich hütest/vñ in allerley guten wercken übest/vnd sonderlich deines beruffs fleyssig wartest/Da gehöret aber auch stettiges [p. 100] gebet zu/das wir Got vmb seinen heiligen Geyst bitten/das er vns regiere/vud [sic, for vnd] für sünden beware.

Fourthly, whoever would now use this Supper is first to examine himself, that is, to search his heart, whether he acknowledges himself a sinner and desires to be set free from it. Where this is in true earnest, and you comfort yourself with the suffering of our Lord Christ, then you are rightly and well prepared for this Supper. But it is further to follow, since you come to this Supper because you desire to be set free from sins, that henceforth you guard yourself against sins, exercise yourself in every kind of good works, and above all attend diligently to your calling. But to this belongs also continual prayer, that we ask God for His Holy Ghost, that He may govern us and keep us from sins.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is 1 Corinthians 11:23–25 in King James wording, fitted to Dietrich's sentences ("For the Lord Jesus …"; "gave thanks, and brake it"). Into the word over the cup Dietrich inserts, in parentheses, "which is shed for you and for many, for the remission of sins," combining Luke 22:20 ("which is shed for you") with Matthew 26:28 ("which is shed for many for the remission of sins").
- "Testament." zum Testament … vermeinet: Dietrich takes up "the new testament in my blood": the Supper is Christ's last will, bequeathed to His Church.

- "Whoever eats this bread eats His body." Dietrich's own summary of the words of institution, not a quotation.
- Zwingli. Huldrych Zwingli (1484–1531), the reformer of Zurich, taught that the bread signifies Christ's body. Sacramentschwirmer ("sacramentarian fanatics") is the Lutheran name for those who denied the presence of Christ's body and blood in the sacrament.
- "Examine himself." 1 Corinthians 11:28.
- "Attend diligently to your calling." deines beruffs fleyssig wartest: warten (with genitive) is to look after, to attend to.
- Misprint. vud has a turned n, for vnd.

Relation to TLHy. TLHy's Maundy Thursday collect (Stratman's [33], which he marks as TLHy's alone) is a free adaptation of this prayer, readdressed to Christ: its thanksgiving for the sacrament, "that we may not receive this gift unworthily," the confession of sins, faith in forgiveness and growth "day by day … in faith and love, until we obtain eternal salvation" all come from Dietrich. It is therefore revised here against Dietrich's German, and the revision serves as the English of [32]. The adaptation was not made by TLHy: TLHy translates the Norwegian collect of 1887, which already has it. TLHy's unrevised text is given in Appendix A, [33].

Prayer (PDF p. 100)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy great grace, that through Thy Son Thou hast instituted this Supper, in which we eat His body and drink His blood: Grant us, we beseech Thee, by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may not receive this gift unworthily, but that we may acknowledge our sins and forsake them, through Christ hope for and believe the forgiveness of the same, and so day by day grow in faith and love, until we obtain eternal salvation; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Address: "O Lord Jesus Christ" → "Lord God, heavenly Father" (HErr Got himlischer Vatter). Dietrich prays to the Father, and the rest of the prayer is turned accordingly.
- "that of Thine infinite mercy Thou hast instituted this Thy sacrament, in which we eat Thy body and drink Thy blood" → "for Thy great grace, that through Thy Son Thou hast instituted this Supper, in which we eat His body and drink His blood" (für dein grosse gnade/das du durch deinen Son diß Abendmal hast verordnet/da wir sein Leyb essen/vnnd sein Blut trincken).
- "but that we may confess our sins, remember Thine agony and death, believe the forgiveness of sin" → "but that we may acknowledge our sins and forsake them, through Christ hope for and believe the forgiveness of the same" (sonder vnsere sünde erkennen/vnd dauon ablassen/vñ durch Christum vergebung der selben hoffen vnd glauben). "Remember Thine agony and death" is not in the German.
- "and day by day grow" → "and so day by day grow" (vnd also … von tag zu tag zunemen).

- "until we obtain eternal salvation through Thee, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost" → "until we obtain eternal salvation; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost," which continues Dietrich's own close (Durch Christum Jesum deinen Son vnnd vnseren Herren; §2.4d).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

Note. Brauchen is "use," as in the Lutheran "use" of the sacrament; TLHy's "receive … unworthily" (cf. 1 Corinthians 11:27) is kept as an equivalent.

That is: through the suffering and death of our dear Lord Christ we have been set free and loosed from all our sins; but from His resurrection we have this benefit besides, that we become righteous, that is, that we remain in this grace, and that sin may henceforth no longer reign over us or harm us. For Christ is risen from the dead and sits at the right hand of God, that He may intercede for us, and by His Holy Ghost not only kindle and preserve faith in us, but also restrain sin in us, and lead us in God's will and in holy obedience, until we depart from this evil and toilsome life, are raised through Christ to eternal life, and are blessed forever, as He is. All this the joyful resurrection of our dear Lord Christ contains within itself. We are to receive it with true faith, wait for all such gifts and graces with certainty, thank God for them daily, and guard ourselves against sins, so that we never lose such grace and hope again, but die to the world with Christ, and live in God and according to His word.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Romans 4:25 in King James wording, with "Christ" for "Who." vnser sünde ("our sins") is the King James "our offences," as in the collect.
- "Justification." gerechtigkeyt; the summary explains it as "that we become righteous" (das wir gerecht werden).
- "Reign over us." Romans 6:12–14. "Intercede for us" (vertrette) is Romans 8:34: "who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us."
- "Die to the world with Christ." Compare Romans 6:8–11 and Galatians 6:14.

Prayer (PDF p. 103)

> HERR Gott himelischer Vatter/der du deinen Son vmb vnser sünde willen hingeben/vnnd vmb vnser gerechtigkeit willen aufferwecket hast/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest deinen heiligen Geyst vns schencken/durch jn/vns regiern vnd füren/im waren glauben erhalten/vnd für allen sünden in eim newen reynen leben behüten/vnnd durch deinen Son Christum Jesum/vns nach disem leben aufferwecken zum ewigen leben/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst deliver Thy Son for our offenses, and didst raise Him again for our justification: We beseech Thee, grant us Thy Holy Ghost, and through Him govern and direct us, keep us in the true faith, and defend us from all sins in a new and pure life, and after this life raise us unto eternal life through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "that He may rule and govern us according to Thy will" → "and through Him govern and direct us" (durch jn/vns regiern vnd füren; "according to Thy will" is not in the German).
- "graciously keep us" → "keep us" ("graciously" is not in the German).
- "defend us from all sins" → "defend us from all sins in a new and pure life" (in eim newen reynen leben).
- "through the same, Thy beloved Son," → "through Thy Son, Jesus Christ," which is Dietrich's own phrase (durch deinen Son Christum Jesum), moved to the end of its clause (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

Note. The opening is Romans 4:25 in King James wording, as in TLHy.

[35] Easter Monday

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 103): Am andern Oster tag/Luce am 24. [On the second day of Easter. Luke 24.]

Verse (PDF p. 104)

> VNser Herr Jhesus sprach zu den zweyen Jüngeren: O jhr thoren vñ treges hertzē zu glauben alle dem das die Propheten gered haben/Muste nicht Christus solches leiden/vnd zu seiner herrligkeyt eingehn.

Our Lord Jesus said unto the two disciples: O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken: ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

Summary (PDF pp. 104–106)

> ES ergerten sich nit allein die vnglaubigen Juden/sonder auch des Herren Christi Jüngern selb an seinem schmehlichen todt/vnd war jnen vnmüglich zu glauben/das der gestorbne Christus widerumb solte lebendig werden/Denn sie sahen auff ander leut Exempel/der war nie keiner erwider kommen/ausserhalb etliche die Christus hette von todten aufferwecket/Aber der selben war diser zeyt auch vergessen/wie anderer herrlichen wunderwerck mehr. Hie sollen wir erstlich lernen/weyl der Herr mit den vnglaubigen Jüngeren so vätterliche gedult tregt/er werde mit vns auch so thun. Darnach sollen wir an seim todt vns nit ergern/sonder Got für solch gnedige erlösung dancken/vñ wissen/dz wir solchem exempel auch folgen/vnd mit dem Herren Christo leyden müssen/ehe wir mit jm herrlich werden/wie [p. 106] Paulus sagt 2. Cor. 1. das gleych/wie wir des leydens theylhafftig werden/also sollen wir auch des trostes theylhafftig sein.

Not only the unbelieving Jews but even the Lord Christ's own disciples were offended at His shameful death, and it was impossible for them to believe that the dead Christ should come to life again. For they looked to the example of other people, and of these none had ever come back, except some whom Christ had raised from the dead; but those too they had forgotten at this time, like many other glorious miracles. This was not only great unbelief, but, as the Lord calls it here, great folly and sinful want of understanding. For if they had known what the proper office of the Lord Christ, the promised Messiah, was, they would not have been offended at such a death. For the prophets say clearly that the Messiah is to bear the sin of the whole world, as it stands in Isaiah 53; and death belongs to sin. It follows, then, that since Christ took upon Himself the sin of all the world and paid for it, He also had to die a shameful death. But because He was not only a man but also the eternal Son of God, death could not hold Him; He raised Himself from death on the third day. Here we are to learn, first, that since the Lord bears with His unbelieving disciples with such fatherly patience, He will do the same with us. Next, we are not to be offended at His death, but to thank God for such gracious redemption, and to know that we too must follow this example and suffer with the Lord Christ before we are glorified with Him, as Paul says, 2 Corinthians 1: that as we are partakers of the sufferings, so shall we be also of the consolation.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 24:25–26 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Jesus said unto the two disciples."
- "Come back." erwider kommen: erwider is a form of herwider, "back again."
- "Messiah." Messie is the Latin genitive (Messiae).
- "Death belongs to sin." Romans 6:23, "the wages of sin is death." "Death could not hold Him" echoes Acts 2:24, and "He raised Himself" John 2:19 and 10:18.

- "Suffer with … glorified with Him." Romans 8:17. The words of 2 Corinthians 1:7 are given in King James wording, in the first person as Dietrich has them.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst reveal Thy Son, Jesus Christ, to the two disciples at Emmaus: We beseech Thee to enlighten our hearts also by Thy word and by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may become strong and steadfast in the faith, hold faithfully to Thy word, delight to speak thereof, and diligently occupy ourselves therewith; that although, according to the example of Christ, we must suffer all manner of things here on earth, we nevertheless may have and retain the true comfort through Thy word, until, after this life, we shall be raised unto eternal life through Thy Son, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy Son" → "Thy Son, Jesus Christ" (deinen Son Christum Jesum).
- "on the way to Emmaus" → "at Emmaus" (zu Emaus).
- "become established in the faith" → "become strong and steadfast in the faith" (im glauben starck vnd fest werden).
- "hold fast to Thy word" → "hold faithfully to Thy word" (An deim wort trewlich halten).
- "diligently meditate thereon" → "diligently occupy ourselves therewith" (fleyssig mit vmbgehen).
- "much evil on earth" → "all manner of things here on earth" (allerley hie auff erden).
- "a sure comfort in Thy word" → "the true comfort through Thy word" (durch dein wort den rechten trost).
- "through the same, Thy Son," → "through Thy Son," Dietrich's own words at the end of the clause (durch deynen Son; §2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

This is a short teaching, but one on which a very great deal depends: namely, that we cannot come to the forgiveness of sins by our works and merit. In the word of God alone do we find it. This is proclaimed to us not only in the sermon but also in holy baptism and in the Supper, and nothing further is lacking but that you believe this word and promise of God. In baptism you are told: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved." In the Supper you are told that the body of Christ is given for you and His blood shed for the forgiveness of your sins. So the gospel says everywhere: through Christ our sins shall be forgiven us. Whoever now believes this promise has forgiveness of all his sins. But whoever does not believe, neither baptism nor sacrament nor word shall help him; his sins are retained against him forever, and he must be damned, whatever else he may undertake and do. So the keys loose and bind, that is, the holy gospel and the office of preaching, which was to begin and to come into full force at the time when Christ had risen from the dead, had paid for sin with His death, and had overcome Satan. For this fruit of Christ's resurrection, that forgiveness of sins is preached in His name, we are to thank God daily.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 20:21–23 in King James wording, without "Peace be unto you" and "when he had said this, he breathed on them."
- The keys. Binding and loosing are the Office of the Keys (Matthew 16:19; 18:18), which Dietrich identifies with the gospel and the office of preaching.
- Scripture. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" is Mark 16:16 in King James wording. "Forgiveness of sins … preached in His name" echoes Luke 24:47.
- Misprints. Tanf has a turned u, for Tauf; Euange-/on omits a syllable at the line break, for Euangelion. Both were checked at 600 dpi; the page is smudged.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy great and ineffable grace, that through Thy Son, our dear Lord Christ, Thou hast ordained the holy gospel and the holy sacraments for our comfort, that we should find therein the forgiveness of sins: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that we may heartily believe Thy word, and through the holy sacraments day by day strengthen our faith, until we at last obtain salvation; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "that of Thine ineffable grace" → "for Thy great and ineffable grace, that" (für deine grosse vnaußsprechliche gnad).
- "for the sake of Thy Son, Thou hast given us the holy gospel, and hast instituted the holy sacraments, that through the same we may have comfort and forgiveness of sin" → "that through Thy Son, our dear Lord Christ, Thou hast ordained the holy gospel and the holy sacraments for our comfort, that we should find therein the forgiveness of sins" (durch deinen Son vnsern lieben Herrn Christum/das heylige Euangelion/vnd die heyligē Sacrament verordnet hast/vns zum trost/das wir vergebung der sünden da sollen finden).
- "grant us Thy Holy Spirit" → "give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts" (gib deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen; §2.2).
- "establish our faith" → "strengthen our faith" (den glauben stercken).
- "through Jesus Christ our Lord" → "through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord," which is Dietrich's own close (Durch Jesum Christum deinē Son/vnd vnsern Herren); the conclusion continues it (§2.4d).

All of us men are like a poor little sheep before a wolf, for we cannot protect ourselves against the devil. But our dear Lord Christ promises us that He will be our Shepherd and lay down His life for us; that is, He will let Himself be slain and devoured, as happened on the cross, and so set us free from death and from the devil's kingdom, so that through Him we may be children of eternal life. For He knows us and takes care of us, as His Father knows Him; that is, although He lets us suffer here, yet He will save us in the end. Therefore we too are to know this faithful Shepherd as our Redeemer, and gladly follow His word. For whoever will not hear this Shepherd, but lets Him call in vain, gives himself willingly into danger, and there is no more help for him. But whoever abides with this Shepherd, although Satan presses on continually with temptation and all manner of misfortune, shall have eternal protection and deliverance against sin, death, and the devil.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 10:11 and 10:14–15 in King James wording. Dietrich has "my Father" (mein Vatter) in verse 15.
- "Know … as our Redeemer." erkennen answers the verse's "I know my sheep": as Christ knows His own, they are to know Him.
- "Lets Him call in vain." vergebens will rüffen lassen: compare John 10:3–5, 27.
- Damaged type. The page is smudged in several places, but every word can be read.

Prayer (PDF pp. 111–112)

Our dear Lord Christ first warns all His Christians that, because they are in the world, they must expect and suffer all manner of adversity and misfortune; and then He comforts them that such suffering shall be but a little while, since God will soon turn it away by His help, and in the life beyond will repay it with eternal joy. This comfort we are to remember when things go ill with us, and wait for the amendment and for gracious help, and by no means despair, even if it seems impossible to us that we can endure it or come to help. For just as a woman with child feels nothing but anguish and distress, and yet God in a moment provides counsel and help, so it shall go with Christians too, especially when they hold fast with prayer and faith. Deliverance and help must follow, if not in time, then in eternity; that is certain. For the promise here does not lie to us: "Your sorrow shall be turned into joy." But just as in temptation it is impossible for us to believe that it will be only a matter of a little while, so, when the temptation is over, it turns out of itself that we must confess it was but a little while, especially when we set it against the promise of eternal life.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 16:20 in King James wording.
- "A little while." ein kleines is Luther's word for Christ's "a little while" (John 16:16–19), the beginning of this Gospel; Dietrich applies it to the Christian's suffering.
- "A woman with child." John 16:21: "A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow … but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy."
- "Counsel and help." rath vnd hilff, as in the St. Thomas prayer ([80]).

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who of Thy fatherly goodness dost suffer Thy children to come under Thy chastening rod here on earth, that we may be like unto Thine only-begotten Son both in suffering and hereafter in glory: We beseech Thee, comfort us in temptation and cross by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may not fall into despair, but, according to the promise of Thy Son, hold fast to this comfort, that the suffering shall be but a little while, and shall then be followed by eternal joy; that we thus, through this hope, may overcome all misfortune in patience, and be saved through Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen, Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "in suffering" → "both in suffering" (bedes).
- "in temptations and afflictions" → "in temptation and cross" (in der anfechtung vnd Creutz).
- "but that we may continually trust in Thy Son's promise, that our trials will endure but a little while" → "but, according to the promise of Thy Son, hold fast to this comfort, that the suffering shall be but a little while" (sonder nach der zusagung deines Sons fest an disem trost halten/es soll das leyden nur ein kleines sein).

- "that we thus, in patient hope, may overcome all evil, and at last obtain eternal salvation, through the same, Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord," → "that we thus, through this hope, may overcome all misfortune in patience, and be saved through Christ," (auff das wir also durch dise hoffnung alles vnglück in gedult vberwinden/vnd durch Christum selig werden). The conclusion follows Dietrich's "through Christ" (§2.4c).
- "Amen, Amen": the print doubles the Amen (Amen/AMEN.), as at [86].
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[39] Fourth Sunday after Easter (Cantate)

Summary (PDF pp. 116–118). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DEr heylige Geyst lehret vnns im Euangelio drey ding/Das erste/das alle/so an Christum nicht glauben/sünder sind/vnd jnen selb nicht können helffen/sie müssen in sünden vnd dem tode bleyben.

The Holy Ghost teaches us three things in the gospel. The first: that all who do not believe in Christ are sinners and cannot help themselves; they must remain in sins and in death.

> [p. 117] Das ander/das wir allein dadurch gerecht/vnd von sünden ledig werden/das Christus zum Vatter gehet/das ist/das er am Creutze/für vns bezalet mit seinem todt/vnd wir jn nit sehen/das ist/wir glauben seinē wort vnd zusagung/vnd trösten vns sein/das er vnser erlöser sey/vnd sitze zur rechten Gottes/vnd vertrette vns.

The second: that we become righteous and free from sins solely by this, that Christ goes to the Father, that is, that He pays for us on the cross with His death; and that we see Him not, that is, we believe His word and promise, and comfort ourselves with Him, that He is our Redeemer, and sits at the right hand of God, and intercedes for us.

Thirdly: that we are not to fear Satan and his power, but to know that he is judged and overcome by the Lord Christ. Therefore he cannot harm those who believe in Christ. This, now, is the treasure that we Christians have through the Holy Ghost: that first we acknowledge our sin and humble ourselves before God, and then comfort ourselves with the merit of Christ, and take courage against Satan and the world, as those who can never harm us, however wicked, mighty and cunning they may be; Christ has already judged them. But since only the smallest part receives such doctrine and comfort with faith, and the others despise or persecute it, the Holy Ghost reproves such unbelief through the office of preaching, and leaves the despisers and persecutors stuck fast in sins and under the devil's tyranny, to perish; for they will not let themselves be counselled or helped.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 16:7–8, shortened, in King James wording. "That is" (Das ist) stands at the end of the verse and introduces the exposition.
- The three points expound John 16:9–11: "Of sin, because they believe not on me; Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more; Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged."
- "Reprove." straffen, as in the verse, is "reprove" in the summary's last sentence too.
- Abbreviation. d̓ is the printer's abbreviation for der (a d with the er-hook above it).

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst through Thy Son promise us the Holy Ghost, that He should convince the world of sin, of righteousness, and of judgment: We beseech Thee, enlighten our hearts, that we may acknowledge our sins, through faith in Christ obtain everlasting righteousness, and in all our needs and temptations lay hold on this true consolation, that Christ is Lord over the devil and death, and all things, and that He will graciously help us out of all misfortune, and save us eternally; through the same, Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy Holy Spirit" → "the Holy Ghost" (den heiligē geist).
- "confess our sins" → "acknowledge our sins" (vnsere sünde erkennen).
- "in all our trials and temptations retain this consolation" → "in all our needs and temptations lay hold on this true consolation" (in allerley vnser not vñ anfechtung disen rechten trost fassen).

Our dear Lord Christ exhorts His disciples to prayer, because they must expect and endure so much need and misery in the world, where there is no other help or comfort than that God will hear us and help us. As indeed our dear Lord Christ gives us the sure assurance that the Father in heaven will not let us, His children, pray in vain. But at the same time Christ also teaches how we are to pray rightly: namely, in His name, and not in our own name; that is, we are to hope that, as God has become our Father through Christ, so He will also hear us for Christ's sake and help us out of all misfortune. Mark both, then: first, the command and the promise, that we are to pray and God will hear the prayer; and then the instruction, that we are to pray in Christ's name alone, that is, relying on His merit and grace. For otherwise our sins will hinder us in prayer. But whoever knows that God will hear only for His Son's sake comforts himself with this promise more than he lets his sins terrify him.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 16:23–24 in King James wording, without "Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name," which Dietrich omits.
- "Gives us the sure assurance." vertröstet is to give someone a firm hope.

- "Christ's sake … Christ's name." The print has Christus in both places where the genitive would be expected (vmb Christus willen, in Christus namen); this is the printer's spelling and is kept.

Prayer (PDF p. 121)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who through Thy Son didst promise us that whatsoever we ask in His name Thou wilt give us: We beseech Thee, keep us in Thy word, and grant us Thy Holy Ghost, that He may govern and direct us according to Thy will; protect us from the kingdom of the devil, from false doctrine and worship; preserve also our body and life from all misfortune; grant us Thy blessing and peace, that we may in all things perceive Thy gracious help, and here and hereafter, forever, praise and glorify Thee as our gracious Father through Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "that He may govern us" → "that He may govern and direct us" (der vnns regiere/vnd füre).
- "from the power of the devil" → "from the kingdom of the devil" (für des Teuffels Reych).
- "also defend our lives against all danger" → "preserve also our body and life from all misfortune" (Bewar auch vnser leyb vnd leben/für allem vnglück).
- "Thy merciful help" → "Thy gracious help" (deine gnedige hilff).
- "and both now and forever praise and glorify Thee" → "and here and hereafter, forever, praise and glorify Thee" (hie vnd dort in ewigkeyt).
- "through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son," → "through Christ," which is Dietrich's phrase (durch Christum); the conclusion follows (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[41] The Ascension of Our Lord

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 122): Am tag der Himelfart Christi/Ephe. 4. Psal. 68. [On the Day of Christ's Ascension. Ephesians 4; Psalm 68.]

Verses (PDF p. 122)

> CHristus ist auffgefaren in die höhe/vnnd hat das gefengnuß gefangen genommen/vnd hat den menschen gaben geben/Ephe. 4.
> Christus ist von todten aufferwecket/vnd sitzt zur rechten Gottes/vnd vertrit vns/Rom. 8.

Christ is ascended up on high, and hath led captivity captive, and hath given gifts unto men. Ephesians 4.

Christ is raised from the dead, and sitteth at the right hand of God, and maketh intercession for us. Romans 8.

Summary (PDF pp. 123–124). The paragraph break follows the print.

> DVrch die Himelfart Christi Jesu/habē wir dise zwo herrliche gaben/Das erstlich/der Teuffel/sünd/vnd todt/alß gefangene feynde/dem Herrn Christo zun füssen müssen ligen/Vnd können wider jhn vnd seine Kirch mehr nicht außrichten/denn was er/alß jr Herr jhnen henget vnd nachlest/nicht zum schaden oder nachtheyl der Christen/sonder das es jnen soll nützen/vñ zum besten dienen/wenn es gleich der feyndt am ergsten meyndt.

Through the ascension of Christ Jesus we have these two glorious gifts. First: that the devil, sin, and death must lie at the Lord Christ's feet as captive enemies, and can accomplish nothing more against Him and His Church than what He, as their Lord, permits and allows them; and that not to the harm or detriment of Christians, but so that it shall profit them and serve them for the best, even though the enemy means it for the very worst.

> Zum andern/gibt er den menschen gaben/das ist/er schenckt vns den heiligen Geist/der lehret vns Got durch das Euangelion recht erkennen vnd anrüffen/vnd tröstet in allerley vnglück/Darumb sollen wir vns der himelfart vnsers lieben Herren Christi trösten/vnd getrost in gewiser hoffnung vmb solche gabe bitten/das er den heyligen Geyst vnns schencken/vnd dem Teuffel/vnd seim reich wehren wölle/Alß der zur rechten Gottes [p. 124] sitzet/ein Herr vber alle Creatur/im himel vnd auf erden. Wir sollen aber der himelfart Christi auch inn disem fall zum trost vñ vnterricht brauchen/das wir erstlich vnser hoffnung dahin setzen/vnd nit zweyffeln sollen/wo er ist/da wöllen wir durch sein genad vnd hilff auch hin/Wie er im letzten Abendmal selb bitet: Vater ich wil wo ich bin/das sie auch sind. Zum andern/das wir vnser lebē darnach richten/vnd nach dem himlischen vñ ewigen trachten/vñ das zeitliche vns nit verfüren lassen/wie Paulus sagt: Wandelt in dem himlischen/vnd nit in dem jrdischen.

Secondly, He gives gifts to men; that is, He gives us the Holy Ghost, who teaches us to know God rightly through the gospel and to call upon Him, and comforts us in every kind of misfortune. Therefore we are to comfort ourselves with the ascension of our dear Lord Christ, and confidently, in sure hope, pray for this gift: that He would give us the Holy Ghost and restrain the devil and his kingdom, as He who sits at the right hand of God, Lord over every creature in heaven and on earth. But we are also to use the ascension of Christ in this respect for comfort and instruction: first, that we set our hope there, and are not to doubt that where He is, there we too shall go by His grace and help, as He Himself prays at the Last Supper: "Father, I will that where I am, they also may be." Secondly, that we order our life accordingly, and seek after what is heavenly and eternal, and do not let what is temporal lead us astray, as Paul says: "Walk in heavenly things, and not in earthly."

Notes on the verses and summary

- The verses are Ephesians 4:8 (Psalm 68:18) and Romans 8:34, both recast by Dietrich as statements about Christ and both given in King James wording. In the second, von todten aufferwecket ("raised from the dead") stands where the King James Version has "risen again." The two references are printed in the verses themselves.
- "Permits and allows." henget vnd nachlest: verhängen is to permit (something that God allows to befall).
- "Means it for the very worst." Compare Genesis 50:20, "ye thought evil against me; but God meant it unto good."
- "Father, I will …" John 17:24, from Christ's prayer at the Last Supper, shortened by Dietrich.

- "Walk in heavenly things." Not a quotation but a summary of Paul; compare Colossians 3:1–2 ("Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth") and Philippians 3:19–20.

Prayer (PDF pp. 124–125)

> O Jesu Christe/du Son des allmechtigen Gottes/der du fürt an nicht mehr auff erden/arm vnnd ellend/sonder zur rechten deines Vatters/vnd ein Herr vber alles bist/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest deinen heyligen Geyst vns senden/fromme Kirchendiener geben/ob deinem wort halten/Dem Sathan vnd allen Tyrannen wehren/vnnd dein Reych auff erden gewaltig erhalten/biß alle deine feinde zu deinen füssen ligen/vnnd wir durch dich vber sünd/todt/vnd alles siegen/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> O Jesus Christ, Thou Son of the almighty God, who art henceforth no more on earth, poor and wretched, but art at the right hand of Thy Father, and Lord over all things: We beseech Thee, send us Thy Holy Ghost; give Thy Church pious pastors, preserve Thy word, restrain Satan and all tyrants, and mightily uphold Thy kingdom on earth, until all Thine enemies shall have been put under Thy feet, and that we may triumph over sin, death, and all things through Thee, who livest and reignest with God the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thou almighty Son of God" → "Thou Son of the almighty God" (du Son des allmechtigen Gottes).
- "who art no longer in humiliation here on earth, but sittest at the right hand of Thy Father, Lord over all things" → "who art henceforth no more on earth, poor and wretched, but art at the right hand of Thy Father, and Lord over all things" (der du fürt an nicht mehr auff erden/arm vnnd ellend/sonder zur rechten deines Vatters/vnd ein Herr vber alles bist).
- "control and restrain the devil and all who would oppress us" → "restrain Satan and all tyrants" (Dem Sathan vnd allen Tyrannen wehren).
- "mightily uphold Thy kingdom" → "mightily uphold Thy kingdom on earth" (auff erden).
- "that we may hold the victory over sin, death, and the devil, through Thee" → "and that we may triumph over sin, death, and all things through Thee" (vnnd wir durch dich vber sünd/todt/vnd alles siegen). Dietrich's list ends with "all things," not "the devil."
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit"; the OLM web text's "Amen," corrected.

Note. "Until all Thine enemies shall have been put under Thy feet" is TLHy's scriptural wording (1 Corinthians 15:25; Psalm 110:1) for biß alle deine feinde zu deinen füssen ligen ("until all Thine enemies lie at Thy feet"); it is kept.

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 125): Am sechsten Sontag nach Ostern/warnung der künfftigen verfolgung halb/Johan. 16. [On the Sixth Sunday after Easter: a warning concerning the persecution to come. John 16.]

Verse (PDF p. 126)

Christ said unto His disciples: These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known my Father, nor me.

> DJß ist ein weyssagung/wie die Christen vmb des wortes willen/auff der welt müssen verfolget werden. Weil es aber für der vernunfft scheynet/alß sey Gott denen feind/die also vnter dem Creutz ligen/vnd sich leyden müssen/zeyget der Herr die vrsach an/wo solche verfolgung vñ haß wider die Christen herkomme/vnnd spricht: Es geschicht nit darumb/das euch Gott feynd sey/oder niches [sic, for nichts] guttes gönne/Sonder das die welt weder meinen vatter/noch mich kennet. [p. 127] Diß vrtheyl sollen wir fleyssig mercken/Denn ye vnd ye haben dise/die Christen am hefftigsten verfolget/so für der welt für froñ vnd heylig geachtet sind. Zu Jerusalem waren es die Phariseer vnnd Schriff[t]gelerten vnd Hohenpriester/Heutigs tages ist es der Bapst/die Bischoffe/Münche vnd Pfaffen/die sich rhümen/sie sind allein die rechte Kirch. Aber gewiß ist es/sie kennen weder Christum noch seinen Vatter/sonst würden sie sein wort nicht verfolgen. Darumb erger sich niemandt an dem grossen scheyn vnd herrlichen namen/den die verfolger des worts bey der welt haben. Widerumb beschwere sich auch nyemandt des leydens vnnd der verfolgung/sintemal wir den schatz haben/vnd den ewigen Vatter vnnd seinen Son Christum Jesum recht kennen/Solches erkentnuß bringt vns ye den höchsten trost/das wir an Gottes hilff vnd gnad nit können zweyfflen/vnd macht vns endlich gar selig.

This is a prophecy of how Christians must be persecuted in the world for the word's sake. But since it seems to reason as though God were the enemy of those who thus lie under the cross and must suffer, the Lord shows the reason, whence such persecution and hatred against Christians comes, and says: It does not happen because God is your enemy, or begrudges you anything good, but because the world knows neither My Father nor Me. This judgment we are to mark diligently. For always it is those who are reckoned godly and holy before the world that have persecuted Christians most fiercely. At Jerusalem it was the Pharisees and scribes and chief priests; today it is the Pope, the bishops, monks and priests, who boast that they alone are the true Church. But it is certain that they know neither Christ nor His Father; otherwise they would not persecute His word. Therefore let no one be offended at the great show and glorious name that the persecutors of the word have before the world. On the other hand, let no one complain of suffering and persecution either, since we have the treasure, and rightly know the eternal Father and His Son, Jesus Christ. Such knowledge brings us the highest comfort, so that we cannot doubt God's help and grace, and at last makes us wholly blessed.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 16:1–3 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ said unto His disciples." Luther's in den Bann thun is "put under the ban," that is, excommunicate; the King James Version has "put you out of the synagogues." Dietrich's text has "my Father" (meinen Vatter) for the King James "the Father."
- "Priests." Pfaffen, a disparaging word for the Roman clergy.
- "Life eternal." Compare John 17:3: "this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."
- Print. niches is a misprint for nichts. In Schriff[t]gelerten the second t is damaged, leaving only a speck.

Prayer (PDF p. 128)

> HERR Gott himlischer Vatter/wir dancken dir das du vns durch deinen heyligen Geyst zu zeugen deines Sones/vnsers lieben Herren Christi gesetzet hast/Vnd bitten dich/weyl die welt solches zeucknuß nicht kan dulden/vnd vns drüber zusetzet/du wöllest vns mut vnd trost verleyhen/das wir am Creutz vns nicht ergern/sonder bey deinem zeucknuß fest bleyben/vnd für vnd für bey dem hauffen gefunden werden/der dich vnd deinen Son kennet/biß wir endlich gar selig werden/durch Jhesum Christum deinen Son/vnd vnseren Herren/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we give thanks unto Thee, that by Thy Holy Ghost Thou hast appointed us to be witnesses of Thy Son, our dear Lord Christ: We beseech Thee, inasmuch as the world cannot endure such testimony, and assaileth us for it, grant us courage and comfort, that we may not be offended because of the cross, but continue steadfastly in Thy testimony, and be found always among those who know Thee and Thy Son, until at last we be wholly saved; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "to bear witness of Thy dear Son, our Lord Jesus Christ" → "to be witnesses of Thy Son, our dear Lord Christ" (zu zeugen deines Sones/vnsers lieben Herren Christi).
- "and persecutes us in every way" → "and assaileth us for it" (vnd vns drüber zusetzet).
- "until we obtain eternal salvation through the same, Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord," → "until at last we be wholly saved; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord," which is Dietrich's own close (biß wir endlich gar selig werden/durch Jhesum Christum deinen Son/vnd vnseren Herren); the conclusion continues it (§2.4d).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit"; the OLM web text's "Holy Gaost" corrected.

On holy Pentecost our dear Lord Christ has let us see what benefit we are to have from His resurrection and ascension. We poor men are so wholly corrupted by sin that there is nothing good in us. If, then, we would be saved, we must have new hearts and become altogether different men. For this purpose our dear Lord Christ sends His Holy Ghost, who with the Father and the Son is eternal God, that He may change our hearts and make other men of us. And the Holy Ghost accomplishes this through the holy gospel and blessed baptism. For through the word He kindles hearts, so that they believe in Christ and receive the forgiveness of all sins through faith, and thereafter have delight and love in God's word and will; and do not follow the evil spirit, but resist his promptings, and do not let sin reign, and despise the wrath and hatred of the world, and every danger besides. All these are works of the Holy Ghost, which He brings about in men's hearts, and which without the working of the Holy Ghost are utterly impossible for us men. For by nature we can do no more than be afraid before God; we have delight and love for sin, and in suffering become fainthearted and sad. This inborn perversity of our hearts the Holy Ghost changes, and above all He stirs up hearts, so that in need and temptation they cry and plead to God for help out of childlike trust, and guard themselves against sins from their hearts. For such grace we are to thank God from our hearts, and pray Him daily that He would increase it in us and not withdraw it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Joel 2:28 and 2:32 (Luther 3:1, 5), as Peter quotes them at Pentecost (Acts 2:17, 21, whence "saith God"), in King James wording. The section takes the prophecy as its text rather than the Gospel of the day (Appendix D).
- "Follow." hengen (with dative) is to hang on someone, to adhere to him.
- "Perversity." vnart, a bad or unnatural disposition.

Prayer (PDF pp. 131–132)

> O Herr Jhesu Christe/du Sun des Allmechtigen Gottes/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest durch dein liebes wort deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen geben/das der selbe vns regier vnnd füre nach deinem willen/vnnd in allerley anfechtung vnd vnglück vns tröste/vnd in deiner warheyt/wider alle jrrthumb vns leyte/auff das wir im glaubē fest bestehen/inn der liebe vnnd allen guten wercken zunemen/vnd durch die gewisse hoffnung deiner gnad/so du vns mit deim sterben erworben hast/ewig selig werdē/der du regierest mit dem Vatter/vnnd heyligem Geyst in ewigkeyt/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> O Lord Jesus Christ, Thou Son of the almighty God: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts through Thy dear word, that He may govern and direct us according to Thy will, comfort us in every temptation and misfortune, and lead us in Thy truth against every error, so that we may continue steadfast in the faith, increase in love and all good works, and through the sure hope of Thy grace, which by Thy death Thou hast purchased for us, obtain eternal salvation, Thou who reignest, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thou almighty Son of God" → "Thou Son of the almighty God" (du Sun des Allmechtigen Gottes), as at [41].
- "send Thy Holy Spirit into our hearts, through Thy word" → "give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts through Thy dear word" (durch dein liebes wort deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen geben).
- "rule and govern us" → "govern and direct us" (vns regier vnnd füre), as at [34] and [40].
- "and defend us by Thy truth against every error" → "and lead us in Thy truth against every error" (vnd in deiner warheyt/wider alle jrrthumb vns leyte).
- "and firmly trusting in Thy grace, which through death Thou hast purchased for us" → "and through the sure hope of Thy grace, which by Thy death Thou hast purchased for us" (vnd durch die gewisse hoffnung deiner gnad/so du vns mit deim sterben erworben hast).
- The conclusion is Dietrich's own (der du regierest mit dem Vatter/vnnd heyligem Geyst in ewigkeyt). TLHy's rendering of it is kept, and no ending is added (§2.4g).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[44] Monday after Pentecost

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 132): Am andern Pfingstag [On the Second Day of Pentecost.] No Scripture reference is printed; the text expounded is John 3:16–21.

Verse (PDF p. 133). The heading (p. 132) has no reference, and the woodcut beneath it is the Crucifixion.

> ALso hat Gott die welt geliebet/das er seinen eingebornen Sun gab/Auff das alle/die an jn glauben/nit verlorn werden/sonder das ewige leben haben. Denn Gott hat seinen Sun nicht gesendet/das er die welt richte/sonder das die welt durch jn selig werde. Wer glaubt/wird nit gerichtet/wer aber nicht glaubt/ist schon gerichtet/Darumb das er nicht glaubt an den namen des eingebornen Sun Gottes.

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

Darumb sollen wir mit dem Gebet anhalten/vnd vmb den glauben an dise verheissung bitten.

This is, as it were, a summary of the whole gospel, or of the preaching which the Holy Ghost carries on in the world and by which He changes hearts. For where this is certain in the heart, that God is not our enemy on account of our sins, but loves us and will save us through His Son, there our hearts are no longer afraid of God, but hold to Him, look to Him for help and comfort, and are willing to do all that they know pleases Him and that He would have. They call upon Him for help in temptation; they acknowledge His word and grace, and praise and glorify Him. Whereas, on the other hand, where this preaching is not, hearts flee from God, are afraid of Him, and despair in need. Learn, then, this preaching: that God loves us and gives us His Son, and wills that we believe in Him, that is, that we comfort ourselves with Him and are saved through Him. On this art everything depends. But it is not an art of men; the Holy Ghost must be the master here, or it remains unlearned. Now we have the promise, plain and clear, that God will give His Holy Ghost to those who ask Him for it. Therefore we are to persevere in prayer, and pray for faith in this promise.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 3:16–18 in King James wording. Dietrich's text lacks "For" at the start, "into the world" and "on him," and the translation follows him.
- "Summary." summa, the sum and substance.
- The promise. Luke 11:13: "how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?"
- The last lines of the summary are set as a tapering block (p. 134), a common way of ending a section.

Prayer (PDF p. 135)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du auß väterlicher lieb gegen vns arme sünder/deinen Sun vns geschencket hast/das wir an jn glauben/vñ durch den glauben sollen selig werden/Wir bitten dich/gib deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen/das wir in solchem glauben/biß ans ende beharren/vnd selig werden/Durch Jesum Christum vnseren lieben Herren. AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who of Thy fatherly love toward us poor sinners hast given us Thy Son, that we should believe in Him, and through faith be saved: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that we may continue steadfast in such faith unto the end, and be saved; through Jesus Christ, our dear Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Restored "toward us poor sinners" (gegen vns arme sünder), which TLHy omits.
- "that through faith in Him we may be saved" → "that we should believe in Him, and through faith be saved" (das wir an jn glauben/vñ durch den glauben sollen selig werden).

- "grant us Thy Holy Spirit in our hearts" → "give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts" (gib deinen heyligen Geyst in vnsere hertzen).
- "and thus obtain everlasting salvation" → "and be saved" (vnd selig werden).
- "through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord," → "through Jesus Christ, our dear Lord," which is Dietrich's own close (Durch Jesum Christum vnseren lieben Herren); the conclusion continues it (§2.4d).

[45] Festival of the Holy Trinity, first prayer

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 136): Vom Fest der heyligen Tryfeltigkeyt/Matth. 4. [Of the Feast of the Holy Trinity. Matthew 4 [sic].] The text expounded is Matthew 3:16–17 ("Da Jesus getauffet war…"), so "4" is a misprint for "3."

Verse (PDF pp. 136–137)

> DA Jesus getauffet war/steyg er bald herauff auß dem wasser/Vnd sihe/da thet sich der himel auff vber jm/vnnd Johannes sahe den Geyst Gottes/gleych alß eine Taube berab [sic, for herab] faren/vnd vber jn kommen/vnnd sihe/eine stim̃ vom himel herab sprach: Diß ist mein lieber Sune [p. 137]/an welchem ich wolgefallen (das ist/alle frewde) habe.

When Jesus was baptized, he went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and John saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him: and lo a voice from heaven said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased (that is, in whom I have all joy).

Today's Sunday is called the day of the Holy Trinity, so that all Christians may learn what they are to believe of God, and how they are to know God rightly. For in this point all men on earth are lacking. Neither Turks, Jews nor heathen know what God is. Christians alone know it: that God the eternal Father has begotten a Son from eternity, and that the Holy Ghost proceeds from the Father and the Son from eternity; so that God is called, and is, God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost. This one eternal God, yet three distinct Persons, has revealed Himself toward us men in this way: that God the Father has created us and every creature through His word, and preserves them continually; God the Son became man by the Father's will, and has delivered us from sins by His death and reconciled us with God; God the Holy Ghost comes into our hearts through the preaching of the gospel, kindles faith in us, and sanctifies us, so that through faith we have forgiveness of sins and resist sin. So you see how the whole Godhead opens itself toward us in grace, and how we have everything temporal and eternal by the grace of God alone. Therefore we are to praise and love so gracious a God, and gladly do everything that we know He would have. When our dear Lord Christ was baptized, God revealed Himself in this way: John sees the Holy Ghost above the Lord Christ in the form of a dove, while God the Father in heaven speaks with an intelligible voice and testifies: "This is my Son." Therefore we are to hold fast to this faith: God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost is the one almighty, eternal God, the Creator, Redeemer and Savior of us all; and we are to call upon this God in every need, and comfort ourselves with His grace and help.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 3:16–17, as at the Sunday after New Year ([10]), in King James wording, with Dietrich's "John saw" and his gloss "(that is, all joy)" on the Father's good pleasure. The heading's "Matth. 4." is a misprint (Appendix D). In the print the first herab is set berab.
- "Turks." The Ottoman Turks, that is, Muslims.
- "Proceeds from the Father and the Son." The language of the Nicene Creed (qui ex Patre Filioque procedit).
- "Has revealed Himself." The print has a plural verb (haben sich … offenbaret) after "three distinct Persons."
- "Opens itself." sich auffthun, as printed (an infinitive where the finite auffthut would be expected).

Assignment: TLHy's Festival of the Holy Trinity, beside TLHy's present collect. That collect is Dietrich's second Trinity prayer [46], which comes from the separate section An der heyligen Trifaltigkeyt tag/wie der Herr Nicodemum lehret [On the Day of the Holy Trinity, how the Lord teaches Nicodemus], PDF pp. 140–143.

Prayer (PDF p. 139)

> ALmechtiger ewiger Gott/Gott Vatter/Gott Sun/Gott heyliger Geyst/der du dein gnad vns menschē in dem erzeygt/vnnd dein barmhertzigkeyt reychlich hast sehen lassen/das erstlich du ewiger Vater/vns zu menschen erschaffen/vnd du ewiger Sun Gottes/für vns mensch wordē/vñ für vnsere sünde am Creutz bezalet/vnd du ewiger Geyst/der du vom Vater vñ Sun in ewigkeyt außgehest/vns durch das heylige Euangelion glaubig gemacht/vnd geheyliget hast/Wir bitten dich/O eyniger/ewiger vnd allmechtiger Gott/Gott Vater/gott Sun/gott heyliger geyst erhalte vns in deiner gnad/biß an dz ende/vnd mache vns ewig selig/AMEN.

New translation

> Almighty and everlasting God, God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, who hast shown Thy grace unto us men, and hast richly displayed Thy mercy, in that, first, Thou, eternal Father, didst create us men; and Thou, eternal Son of God, didst become man for us, and didst pay for our sins upon the > cross; and Thou, eternal Spirit, who from eternity proceedest from the Father and the Son, hast made us believers through the holy gospel, and hast sanctified us: We beseech Thee, O one, eternal, and almighty God, God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, keep us in Thy grace unto the end, and save us eternally; who livest and reignest, one God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices.
  - erstlich opens a list ("first … and … and"); it does not mean "at the beginning."
  - vns zu menschen erschaffen means "created us human beings."
  - Gott heyliger Geyst is "God the Holy Ghost," as TLHy writes in Trinitarian formulas.
- Ending. The prayer is addressed to the Holy Trinity, so it takes the prayer-book ending for such a prayer, "who livest and reignest, one God, world without end" (§2.4f).

[46] Festival of the Holy Trinity, second prayer

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 140): An der heyligen Trifaltigkeyt tag/wie der Herr Nicodemum lehret/von der seligkeyt/wie wir inn himel mögen kommen/Joh. 3. [On the Day of the Holy Trinity: how the Lord teaches Nicodemus concerning salvation, how we may come into heaven. John 3.]

Verse (PDF p. 140)

> ES sey denn/das yemand geborn werde auß dem wasser vñ geyst/so kan er nicht in das reych Gottes kommen/Was vom fleysch geboren wirdt/das ist fleisch/vnnd was vom Geyst geboren wirdt/das ist Geyst.

Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

Summary (PDF pp. 141–142)

> VNser lieber Herr Christus lehret in disen wortē/wie wir müssen selig werden. Vernunfft gedēckt/wenn wir ein züchtigen wadel [sic, for wandel] füren/mit der hand nicht tödtē/nit stelē/noch anders thun das ergerlich sey so habe man gnug zum ewigen leben. Aber vnser lieber Herr Christus sagt/so wir selig werden sollen/müssen wir andere menschen/vñ von newem geborn werden/es sey nit genug das wir die hende/augen/zungen zemen/das sie nicht vnrecht thun/das hertz müsse gar anders werden. Solches geschehe aber/wenn wir im namen/vnnd in den todt Christi getauffet werden/durch solche tauff wölle der heylig Geyst in die hertzen kommen/den glauben drinn anzünden/vnd gar newe menschen auß vns machen. Denn durch den glauben werden wir von sünden reyn/vnnd der heylig Geyst hilfft wider die sünde vns streyten/vnnd weyset weytrer [sic, for weyter] vns zum gehorsam Gottes/Jst allso [p. 142] diß der eynige weg zur seligkeyt/an Christum glaubē/Solches können wir von vns selb nicht/es ist des heyligen geystes werck/der will durch das wort Gottes/vñ die heyligen Sacrament/den glauben in vns anzünden vnnd erhalten.

In these words our dear Lord Christ teaches how we must be saved. Reason thinks that if we lead a decent life, do not kill with our hand, do not steal, nor do anything else that gives offense, then we have enough for eternal life. But our dear Lord Christ says that if we are to be saved, we must become other men and be born anew. It is not enough that we tame our hands, eyes and tongues, so that they do no wrong; the heart must become wholly different. This happens, however, when we are baptized in the name and into the death of Christ. Through such baptism the Holy Ghost will come into the hearts, kindle faith in them, and make wholly new men of us. For through faith we are made clean from sins, and the Holy Ghost helps us to fight against sin, and further directs us to obedience to God. This, then, is the one way to salvation: to believe in Christ. This we cannot do of ourselves; it is the work of the Holy Ghost, who will kindle and preserve faith in us through the word of God and the holy sacraments.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 3:5–6 in King James wording.
- "Decent life." züchtigen wandel, an orderly, respectable conduct. wadel lacks its n (or the bar that stands for it).
- "Born anew." von newem geborn: John 3:3, 7 (King James "born again").
- "Into the death of Christ." Romans 6:3, as at Advent 4 ([4]).
- Two Trinity sections. This is the second section for Trinity Sunday, on the Nicodemus Gospel (John 3:1–15), the one TLHy uses; the first ([45]) treats Christ's baptism (Appendix D).

Relation to TLHy. This is the prayer TLHy uses for the Festival of the Holy Trinity. Dietrich's first Trinity prayer, from the section on Matthew 3, is [45].

Prayer (PDF pp. 142–143)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/wir arme sünder bekennen/das nichts gutes an vns ist/vnd wir vnserthalben musten in sünden vnd ewigem todt verderben/Sintemal was vom fleysch geborn wirdt/ist fleysch/vnnd kan dein Reych nicht sehen/Wir bitten dich aber/sey gnedig vnd barmhertzig/vñ sende deinen heyligen Geyst/vmb deines Suns Christi Jesu willen in vnsere hertzen/vnd mache newe menschen auß vns/das wir vergebung der sünden durch Christum/wie vns in der Tauff zugesagt/gewiß glauben/vnd in der lieb gegen vnserm Nechstem/vnd allen andern Christlichen tugenden von tag zu tag zunemen/biß wir endlich selig werden. AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father: We poor sinners confess that there is no good thing in us, and that, left to ourselves, we must perish in sin and eternal death, since that which is born of the flesh is flesh and cannot see Thy kingdom. But we beseech Thee: Be gracious and merciful, and for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, send Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, and make new men of us, that we may firmly believe the forgiveness of sins through Christ, according to Thy promise in baptism, and that we may daily increase in love toward our neighbor, and in all other Christian virtues, until at last we be saved; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "O Lord God" → "Lord God" (HErr Gott); the "O" is not in the German.
- "that in our flesh dwelleth no good thing" → "that there is no good thing in us" (das nichts gutes an vns ist).
- "we die and perish in sin" → "we must perish in sin and eternal death" (musten in sünden vnd ewigem todt verderben).

- "and cannot see the kingdom of God" → "and cannot see Thy kingdom" (vnnd kan dein Reych nicht sehen). Dietrich turns the words of John 3:3 into address to God.
- "Grant us Thy grace and mercy" → "Be gracious and merciful" (sey gnedig vnd barmhertzig).
- "that being regenerate, we may firmly believe the forgiveness of sins" → "and make new men of us, that we may firmly believe the forgiveness of sins through Christ" (vnd mache newe menschen auß vns/das wir vergebung der sünden durch Christum ... gewiß glauben).
- "daily increase in brotherly love, and in other good works" → "daily increase in love toward our neighbor, and in all other Christian virtues" (in der lieb gegen vnserm Nechstem/vnd allen andern Christlichen tugenden von tag zu tag zunemen).
- "until we at last obtain eternal salvation" → "until at last we be saved" (biß wir endlich selig werden). Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics (§2.4b).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

The Trinity season

[47] First Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 143): Am ersten Sontag/vom reychen Mann/vnd armen Lazaro/Luce am 16. [On the First Sunday: of the rich man and poor Lazarus. Luke 16.]

Verse (PDF p. 144)

> ABraham sprach zum Reychen Mann: Gedencke Sun/das du dein gutes empfangen hast in deinem leben/vnd Lazarus dagegen hat böses empfangen. Nun aber wirdt er getröstet/vnnd du wirdst gepeyniget.

Abraham said unto the rich man, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

Summary (PDF pp. 144–145)

> DJsen spruch sollē wir fleyssig mercken/Deñ weyl die Christen auff erden sich vil müssen leyden/vnd es dagegen den vnchristen vnd bösen buben/nach all jrem willen gehet/Haben die Christen allein disen trost der hie stehet. Nemlich/das es nach disem leben sich zu beden theylen werde vmbkeren/Welchen es hie auff erden wol gehet/vnd alles gnug haben/vnnd one anfechtung sind/vnnd derhalb alles thun was sie gelüstet/one alle schew/den selben soll es dort in ewigkeyt/wie dem Reychen Mann/vbel gehn/Widerum̃ aber/die sich hie [p. 145] auff erden vil müssen leyden/vñ doch im leyden gedultig sind/vnnd durch Christum auff den ewigen trost hoffen/die sollen mit dem armen Lazaro ewig selig werden. Derhalb erschrecke niemand für dem Creutz vnd leyden/weyl dise ewige hoffnūg dabey ist. Widerumb/vberhebe sich niemand gelts vnd guts/sonder fürchte Gott/vnd brauche seines segens/zu Gottes ehr/vnnd des negsten nutz/so soll es nicht not haben.

This saying we are to mark diligently. For since Christians on earth must suffer much, while unchristian men and wicked knaves have everything go just as they will, Christians have this comfort alone which stands here: namely, that after this life it will be reversed for both parties. Those with whom it goes well here on earth, who have enough of everything and are without temptation, and therefore do whatever they please without any scruple, it shall go ill with them yonder in eternity, as with the rich man. But on the other hand those who must suffer much here on earth, and yet are patient in suffering and hope through Christ for the eternal comfort, shall be blessed forever with poor Lazarus. Therefore let no one be terrified at the cross and suffering, since this eternal hope goes with it. On the other hand, let no one be puffed up over money and goods, but let him fear God, and use His blessing to God's honor and his neighbor's good; then there shall be no danger.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 16:25 in King James wording, introduced by "Abraham said unto the rich man."
- "Without any scruple." one alle schew, without any shyness or restraint (Scheu).
- "There shall be no danger." so soll es nicht not haben, an idiom: then there is nothing to fear.

Prayer (PDF pp. 145–146)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/Wir bitten dich/du wöllest vnsere hertzē durch deinen heyligen Geyst/also füren vnd regieren/das wir dein liebes wort/nit/wie der reyche Man/one frucht hören/vnd mit dem zeytlichen gut nit also vmbgehn/das wir des ewigen dabey vergessen/sonder armen leuten gern vñ miltigklich nach vnserm vermögen helffen/vnd mit hoffart vnd vberfluß vns nit versündigen/auch wo wir mit dem Creutz vnnd vnglück bedranget werden/nicht verzagen/sonder alle hoffnung an deiner ewigen hilffe vnd genad haben/vnd in gedult alles vberwinden. Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we beseech Thee so to direct and govern our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may not, like the rich man, hear Thy dear word without fruit, nor so occupy ourselves with temporal goods as to forget things eternal; but that we readily and liberally, according to our ability, minister to such as are in need, and sin not through pride and excess; and that, when we are oppressed with cross and misfortune, we may not despair, but put all our hope in Thine eternal help and grace, and in patience overcome all things; through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "so to rule and govern our hearts by Thy Holy Spirit" → "so to direct and govern our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost" (vnsere hertzē durch deinen heyligen Geyst/also füren vnd regieren).
- "hear Thy word in vain" → "hear Thy dear word without fruit" (dein liebes wort … one frucht hören). TLHy has "in vain" here and "without fruit" at [48], where the German has the reverse.
- "and become so devoted to things temporal as to forget things eternal" → "nor so occupy ourselves with temporal goods as to forget things eternal" (vnd mit dem zeytlichen gut nit also vmbgehn/das wir des ewigen dabey vergessen).
- "readily and according to our ability" → "readily and liberally, according to our ability" (gern vñ miltigklich nach vnserm vermögen).
- "and not defile ourselves with surfeiting and pride" → "and sin not through pride and excess" (vnd mit hoffart vnd vberfluß vns nit versündigen).
- "in trial and misfortune keep us from despair" → "and that, when we are oppressed with cross and misfortune, we may not despair" (auch wo wir mit dem Creutz vnnd vnglück bedranget werden/nicht verzagen). Dietrich continues the petition; TLHy turns it into a new request.
- "and grant us to put our trust wholly in Thy fatherly help and grace" → "but put all our hope in Thine eternal help and grace" (sonder alle hoffnung an deiner ewigen hilffe vnd genad haben).

- "so that in faith and Christian patience we may overcome all things" → "and in patience overcome all things" (vnd in gedult alles vberwinden). "In faith and Christian" is not in the German. Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.

Summary (PDF pp. 147–148)

> VNser lieber Herr Christus lehret in disem gleychnuß/vom Abendmal zwey ding/Erstlich/das Gott so gnedig vnnd barmhertzig ist/vñ gern yederman durch seinen Son Christum Jesum wolte selig machen/Denn er lest jhn nicht vmb des/oder yenes willen/mensch werden vnd leyden/Er soll das Lemlein sein/das der gantzen welt sünde wegnimbt/vnnd legts auff sich vnd bezalet dafür/vnd fehlet ferner an nichte/denn das alle arme sünder die sünde erkennen/vñ solche gnad vnd wolthat/des Sone Gottes annemen/vnd der selben sich trösten/das er vnser sünde von vns [p. 148] genommen/auff sich geladen vnd dafür bezalet hat/Das ist das erste.

Our dear Lord Christ teaches two things in this parable of the supper. First, that God is so gracious and merciful, and would gladly save everyone through His Son, Jesus Christ. For He lets Him become man and suffer not for the sake of this one or that one: He is to be the Lamb that takes away the sin of the whole world, and lays it upon Himself and pays for it. And nothing further is lacking but that all poor sinners acknowledge their sin, receive this grace and benefit of the Son of God, and comfort themselves with it, that He has taken our sin from us, laid it upon Himself, and paid for it. That is the first.

> Das ander ist/das leyder die welt so blind vnd ellend ist/vñ will solcher gnade nicht/Etliche halten sich für from̃/vnnd gedencken sie dürffen der gnade nicht/Etliche sind mechtig vñ reych/die verachten das Euangelion gar/Etliche gehn noch damit vm̃/das sie reych werden/vñ schlagen sich in mancherley hendel/die haben so vil weil nicht/das sie mit dem Euangelion köndten vmbgehen/Aber da folget ein schwerlich vrteil/Wer das Euangelion also verachtet/soll nimmermehr selig werden. Darum̃ sollen wir Gottes wort fleyssig hören/vnd es vnsern höchsten trost vnnd besten schatz lassen sein/so werden wir dadurch selig werden. Solchs aber thun nur die krüppel vnnd lamen/so für der welt ellend vnd arm sind/vnnd jre sünde vnd missethat erkennen.

The second is that, alas, the world is so blind and wretched, and will not have this grace. Some hold themselves to be godly, and think they have no need of grace. Some are mighty and rich; they despise the gospel altogether. Some are still busy getting rich, and involve themselves in all manner of business; they have not so much leisure that they could occupy themselves with the gospel. But there follows a grievous judgment: whoever thus despises the gospel shall never be saved. Therefore we are to hear God's word diligently, and let it be our highest comfort and best treasure; so shall we be saved by it. But this only the crippled and the lame do, who are wretched and poor before the world and acknowledge their sins and misdeeds.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 14:23–24 in King James wording; Dietrich omits "the lord said unto the servant."
- "Not for the sake of this one or that one." nicht vmb des/oder yenes willen: not for any one person only, but for the whole world.
- "The Lamb." John 1:29.
- "The crippled and the lame." Luke 14:21: "bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind."
- "Leisure." weil, time to spare (Weile).

Prayer (PDF p. 149)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/wir dancken dir/das du vns zu deiner Malzeit dem ewigen leben/durch dein liebes wort hast lassen laden/Vñ bitten dich/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst vnsere hertzen erwecken/das wir dein wort nicht vergeblich hören/vns zu solcher Malzeyt recht schicken/vnd das zeytliche vns nit dran hindern lassen/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we give thanks unto Thee, that through Thy dear word Thou hast called us to Thy supper, even to eternal life, and we beseech Thee: Quicken our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may not hear Thy word in vain, but that we may prepare ourselves rightly for such a supper, and not suffer ourselves to be hindered therein by things temporal; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "through Thy holy word" → "through Thy dear word" (durch dein liebes wort).
- "to Thy great supper" → "to Thy supper, even to eternal life" (zu deiner Malzeit dem ewigen leben). "Great" comes from the Gospel (Luke 14:16), not the prayer; Dietrich names the supper as eternal life.
- "without fruit" → "in vain" (vergeblich); see [47].
- "for Thy kingdom" → "for such a supper" (zu solcher Malzeyt).
- "by any worldly care" → "therein by things temporal" (vnd das zeytliche vns nit dran hindern lassen).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit"; the OLM web text's "Son. Jesus Christ" corrected to "Son, Jesus Christ."

[49] Third Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 149): Am dritten Sontag nach Trinitatis/von dem verlornen schefflein/welchem der Hirt nachgehet/vnd es suchet/Luc. 19. [sic, for Luke 15] [On the Third Sunday after Trinity: of the lost sheep, which the shepherd goes after and seeks. Luke 15.]

Verse (PDF p. 150)

> ES wirdt frewde im Himel sein/vber ein sünder/der busse thut/für neun vnnd neuntzig gerechten/die der busse nit bedürffen.

Joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

Summary (PDF pp. 150–152). The paragraph break follows the print.

> DAs ist zu gleych ein trost/vnd ein lehr für alle arme sünder/die gern vom zorn Gottes wolten ledig sein/Denn vnser lieber Herre Christus sagt in disem gleichnuß/eim sünder sey eben/wie eim Schefflein/das in die jrre gerathen/vnd sich von [p. 151] seim Hirten verlassen hat/Er aber wölle die sünder nicht in der jrre lassen/sonder durch sein wort sie suchen/vnd wider zu recht bringen/Das ist doch ye ein grosser trost. Deñ wir gedencken/wenn wir vnser sünde gewar werden/Got sey vns feind/vnd wölle sich vnser nicht mehr annemen/so er doch wie ein Hyrt/dem jrrigen Schefflein nachgehen/vnd es wider suchen/vnnd inn sein stellin bringen will.

This is at once a comfort and a teaching for all poor sinners who would gladly be set free from the wrath of God. For our dear Lord Christ says in this parable that it is with a sinner just as with a little sheep that has gone astray and has strayed from its shepherd. But He will not leave sinners in their straying, but will seek them through His word and bring them back to the right way. That is surely a great comfort. For when we become aware of our sin, we think that God is our enemy and will no longer take care of us; whereas He will, like a shepherd, go after the straying little sheep, and seek it again, and bring it into His little fold.

> Dagegen aber sollen die Schefflein auff des Hirten stym̃ gute acht haben/vnd jnen nit vergebens lassen nachgehn/sonder sich zu jrem Hirten der sie suchet/wenden/das ist/die sünder sollen buß thun/vnd wenn Christus sie durch sein wort suchet/von sünden abfordert/straffet vñ vermanet/sollen sie hören/vñ in der jrre nit fort lauffen/sonder von der sünde ablassen/rew vnd leyd drüber haben/vnd sich des Herrn Christi vnd seiner gnade trösten/so wil Christus sie mit frewden annemen/vñ wie ein hirt jr warten [p. 152]/das sie nicht allein jhr futter haben/sonder auch inn ewigkeyt/wider den wolff den Teuffel sollen beschützet sein/Amen.

But on the other hand the little sheep are to give good heed to the shepherd's voice, and not let him go after them in vain, but turn to their shepherd who seeks them. That is: sinners are to repent; and when Christ seeks them through His word, calls them away from sins, rebukes and admonishes them, they are to listen, and not run on in their straying, but leave off sin, be sorry and grieved for it, and comfort themselves with the Lord Christ and His grace. Then Christ will receive them with joy, and tend them like a shepherd, so that they not only have their pasture, but are also protected forever against the wolf, the devil. Amen.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 15:7 in King James wording, without "I say unto you" and "likewise." The heading's "Luc. 19." is a misprint (Appendix D).
- "Has strayed from." sich … verlassen hat: sich verlaufen or sich verlassen von is to stray away from.
- "Little fold." stellin, a diminutive of Stall.
- "Repent." buß thun, as in the verse.
- "Amen." As at Epiphany ([12]), the summary itself ends with "Amen."

Prayer (PDF p. 152)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/wir sind leyder wie die Schaffe in der jrre/vnnd haben vns durch den Sathan/vnnd vnser sündhafftes fleysch vom rechten wege lassen abfüren/wir bitten dich aber/sey gnedig/vnd vergib alle vnsere sünde/vmb deines Sones Christi Jesu willen/vnd erwecke vnsere hertzen durch deinen heyligen Geyst/das wir an deinem wort fest halten/vnnd im Schaffstal deyner Christlichen Kirchen/in rechter Buß vnd warem glauben/biß ans ende beharren/vnd selig werden/ANEN. [sic, for AMEN]

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we are, alas, as sheep going astray, having suffered ourselves to be led away from the right path by Satan and our own sinful flesh: But we beseech Thee graciously to forgive us all our sins for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ; and quicken our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may hold fast to Thy word, and in true repentance and true faith continue unto the end in the sheepfold of Thy Christian Church, and be saved; through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "we all like sheep have gone astray" → "we are, alas, as sheep going astray" (wir sind leyder wie die Schaffe in der jrre). TLHy quotes Isaiah 53:6 and drops "alas"; Dietrich's present tense is closer to 1 Peter 2:25 ("as sheep going astray").
- "We beseech Thee" → "But we beseech Thee" (wir bitten dich aber).
- "that we may abide in Thy word" → "that we may hold fast to Thy word" (das wir an deinem wort fest halten).
- "and in true repentance and a steadfast faith continue in Thy Church unto the end" → "and in true repentance and true faith continue unto the end in the sheepfold of Thy Christian Church" (vnnd im Schaffstal deyner Christlichen Kirchen/in rechter Buß vnd warem glauben/biß ans ende beharren).
- "and obtain eternal salvation" → "and be saved" (vnd selig werden). Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit"; the OLM web text's missing period before "Amen" supplied.

Summary (PDF pp. 154–156)

> ES hat vnser lieber Herr Gott/dreyerley stend auff erden verordnet/die richten vnnd straffen sollen/doch ein yeder nach seinem maß/Vatter vnd Mutter im hause/sollen richten vnd straffen jhre Kind vnd gesind/mit worten vnd schlegen/vnd ja nicht zusehen noch gedulden/das sie vnrecht thun/solches ist Gottes ernster befelh. Denn mit dem maß wir andern messen/will Got vns auch messen.

Our dear Lord God has ordained three kinds of estate on earth which are to judge and punish, yet each according to its measure. Father and mother in the house are to judge and punish their children and servants with words and blows, and by no means look on or tolerate their doing wrong; this is God's earnest command. Next there is a higher and wider government. To it God has given the sword, and commanded it to punish all public offenses with it, and so to keep people in fear and discipline. This command the secular authority has, and it is a great sin if it would be merciful and not promptly let the sword go forth. The third and highest government is the office of the Church. On it is laid the charge to judge all men and to rebuke all sin, by the word, and not by the sword or by force. In these three estates judgment and punishment must take their course, and nothing at all is to be forgiven or remitted; for by that one would only make people worse. But where there is no such command or government, where neither the sword nor the word nor the government of a household is committed to you, there, says Christ, we are to refrain from judging and condemning, and forgive and give to everyone. And He promises that whoever does this, to him God will be gracious; He will not judge or condemn him either, but forgive and give. So let everyone to whom it has not been committed learn to leave other people in peace and not to judge. But let him judge himself; there he will find enough to do. And to his neighbor let him be kind and serviceable, and by no means give anger its head; for by that one earns God's displeasure. For with the measure with which we measure others, God will measure us too.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 6:36–38 in King James wording.
- The three estates. The household (Haußregiment), the secular government (weltliche Oberkeyt, "the sword," Romans 13:4) and the office of the Church (Kirchenampt, "the word"). These are the three orders of Lutheran social teaching; Dietrich ranks the Church's office highest.

- "Rebuke." straffen means both "punish" and "rebuke"; for the Church's office, which acts by the word, "rebuke" is used.
- "Remitted." geschencket, let off.
- "Give anger its head." dem zorn den zaum … lassen, literally "give anger the rein."

Prayer (PDF p. 156)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who art merciful, and through Christ dost promise us that Thou wilt neither judge nor condemn us, but graciously forgive us all our sins, and abundantly give us all that we need: We pray Thee, that by Thy Holy Ghost Thou wilt make such confidence in Thy mercy sure and firm in our hearts, and teach us also to do likewise toward our neighbor, that we may not judge or condemn others, but willingly forgive and give to all men, and, judging only ourselves, lead blessed lives in Thy fear; through Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "didst promise us" → "dost promise us" (zusagest, present tense).
- "and abundantly provide for all our wants of body and soul" → "and abundantly give us all that we need" (vnnd was wir bedürffen/reychlich geben). "Of body and soul" is not in the German.
- "that by Thy Holy Spirit Thou wilt establish in our hearts a confident faith in Thy mercy" → "that by Thy Holy Ghost Thou wilt make such confidence in Thy mercy sure and firm in our hearts" (mache solches vertrawen auff dein barmhertzigkeyt/durch deinē heiligen geyst in vnsern hertzen gewiß vnd fest).
- "and teach us also to be merciful to our neighbor" → "and teach us also to do likewise toward our neighbor" (vnd lehre vns dergleychen gegen vnserm nechsten auch thun).
- "but willingly forgive all men" → "but willingly forgive and give to all men" (yederman gern vergeben/vnd geben); TLHy omits "and give."
- The OLM web text's "Judging" corrected to "judging." Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.

[51] Fifth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 157): Am fünfften Sontag/wie Petrus auff den befelh Christi/vil Fisch fahet/Luce am 5. [On the Fifth Sunday: how Peter, at Christ's command, catches many fish. Luke 5.]

Verse (PDF p. 157)

> PEtrus sprach: Meyster/wir haben die gantze nacht gearbeytet/vnd nichts gefangen/Aber auff dem wort will ich das netz außwerffen. Vnd da sie das theten/fiengen sie ein grosse meng fisch/vnnd das netz zureyß.

Peter said, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net. And when they had this done, they caught a great multitude of fishes: and the net brake.

Summary (PDF pp. 158–159)

> SOlche Histori lehret/wie wir vns sollen halten/weñ wir bergern [sic, for begern] glück vñ segen zu vnser arbeit vnd beruf. Denn da Petrus vergebens fischet/hat er Gottes wort nicht/vñ trawet bloß seiner kunst/alß könne es jm nit fehlen. Aber wenn wir allein auff vnser geschickligkeyt vñ arbeyt das vertrawen setzen/gibt Gott keinen segen dazu. Wer aber Gottes wort höret/vnd nimbts mit glauben an/vnnd ist bey seiner arbeyt fleyssig/vnnd gibt Gott nicht vrsach zur straffe/durch sündhafftes leben/dem wil Got glück vnd segen geben/Darumb lerne yederman sich fleyssig zu Gottes wort halten/vnnd für sünden sich hütten/Denn die sünde muß vnglück mit sich bringen/vñ sey darnach in der arbeit fleyssig/vnd trawe Got/der vns zur arbeyt beruffen hat/er werd auch seinen segen/wie Petro/geben/vnd vns gnedigklich bedencken/Arbeyten vnd froṁ sein/gehört zusaṁ/Faulentzen vnd müssig gehn/oder vnfleyssig sein/ [p. 159] ist verbotten. Soll derhalb kein glück dabey sein/wie Salomo sagt: Arbeytsame hende machen reych/verstehe/das man doch gottselig dabey sey/vnd durch sünde zum fluch vñ vnglück nit vrsach gebe.

This history teaches how we are to conduct ourselves when we desire good fortune and blessing on our work and calling. For when Peter fishes in vain, he does not have God's word, and trusts merely in his own skill, as though he could not fail. But when we set our trust in our own skill and work alone, God gives no blessing to it. But whoever hears God's word and receives it with faith, and is diligent at his work, and gives God no occasion for punishment by a sinful life, to him God will give good fortune and blessing. Therefore let everyone learn to keep diligently to God's word and to guard himself against sins, for sin must bring misfortune with it; and then let him be diligent in his work, and trust God, who has called us to work, that He will give His blessing too, as He did to Peter, and be graciously mindful of us. Working and being godly belong together; idling and being idle, or being negligent, is forbidden, and so there shall be no good fortune in it. As Solomon says: "The hand of the diligent maketh rich"; understand, provided that one is godly in it, and gives no occasion through sin for the curse and misfortune.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 5:5–6 in King James wording, introduced by "Peter said" (King James "Simon answering said unto him"). Dietrich has "they caught" (fiengen sie) where Luther and the King James Version have "inclosed," and "the net" for "their net"; the translation follows him. In fiengen and vnnd the type is damaged.
- "Calling." beruf, one's vocation and station in life, as at the Lord's Supper ([32]).
- "Be graciously mindful of us." vns gnedigklich bedencken; compare bedacht in the table in §2.2.
- Solomon's word. Proverbs 10:4, which Dietrich quotes freely (Arbeytsame hende machen reych, "industrious hands make rich"); it is given in King James wording.
- Misprint. bergern for begern ("desire").

Prayer (PDF p. 159)

> O Jesu Christe/du Son des lebendigen Gottes/der du vnns dein liebes wort geben/vnd mit allerley leyblichem segē begnadet hast/Wir erkennen vnd bekennen/das wir zu solchem allem vnwirdig/vnnd wol ergers verdienet hetten/Vnnd bitten aber dich/du wöllest vns/wie Petro/vnsere sünde vergeben/vnd glück vnnd heyl zu vnserm beruff geben/auff das wir durch dich/zeytlich vnd ewig erhalten/vnd beschützet/Dich inn ewigkeyt loben vnd preysen/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> O Jesus Christ, Thou Son of the living God, who hast given us Thy dear word, and hast favored us with all manner of bodily blessing, we acknowledge and confess that we are unworthy of all these mercies, and that we have well deserved worse: But we beseech Thee, as Thou didst Peter, forgive us our sins, and prosper and bless us in our several callings, that through Thee we may be sustained and defended, both in time and in eternity, and so praise and glorify Thee eternally, Thou who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy holy word" → "Thy dear word" (dein liebes wort).
- "and hast bountifully provided for all our temporal wants" → "and hast favored us with all manner of bodily blessing" (vnd mit allerley leyblichem segē begnadet hast).
- "we confess" → "we acknowledge and confess" (Wir erkennen vnd bekennen).
- "and that we have rather deserved punishment" → "and that we have well deserved worse" (vnnd wol ergers verdienet hetten).
- Restored "as Thou didst Peter" (wie Petro), which TLHy omits.
- "that by Thy strength we may be sustained and defended, now and forever" → "that through Thee we may be sustained and defended, both in time and in eternity" (auff das wir durch dich/zeytlich vnd ewig erhalten/vnd beschützet).
- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending for a prayer to Christ is kept in italics.

[52] Sixth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 160): Am sechsten Sontag nach Trinitatis/ein lehr/was Christliche gerechtigkeyt sey/Matth. 5. [On the Sixth Sunday after Trinity: a teaching on what Christian righteousness is. Matthew 5.]

Verse (PDF p. 160)

> CHristus sprach: Es sey denn ewr gerechtigkeyt besser/denn der Schrifftgelerten vnd Phariseer/so werdet jr nicht in das Himelreych kommen.

Christ said: Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Summary (PDF pp. 161–162). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DJe Phariseer vñ Schrifftgelerten/hielten sich darumb für froṁ vñ gerecht/das sie eusserlicher zucht sich beflissen/vnnd für ergerlichem wandel sich hüteten/Das aber noch böse neygung vnd lüsten im hertzen waren/solches achteten sie für kein sünde.

The Pharisees and scribes held themselves godly and righteous because they applied themselves to outward discipline and guarded themselves against offensive conduct. But that there were still evil inclinations and lusts in their hearts, this they counted no sin.

> Darumb schleust vnser HERR Christus/wer nicht mehr denn solche eusserliche zucht habe/werde in hymel nicht kommen. Denn Gott gebeut in den zehen Gebotten nicht allein/das wir böse werck vnterlassen/vnnd gute werck thun sollen/sonder er wil ein reynes hertz haben/das der mensche nicht eusserlich allein/sonder auch jnnerlich/vnd nicht stückweyse/sonder gantz froм̃ sey.

Therefore our Lord Christ concludes that whoever has no more than such outward discipline will not come into heaven. For in the Ten Commandments God commands not only that we are to leave off evil works and do good works; He will have a pure heart, so that a man is godly not outwardly alone but inwardly too, and not piecemeal but wholly.

> Wie können wir aber zu solchem hertzen kommen/das gantz vnd gar rein vnd one sünd sey? Also. Erstlich/weñ du sihest/ob gleich du dich für dem eusserlichen ergernuß hüttest/das dennoch dein hertz lust vñ liebe dazu hette [p. 162]/da hüte dich/vnd sey nicht sicher/alß wer solches kein sünd/sonder beichte es Gott/vnd bitt vmb vergebung/das er solche vnreynigkeyt/vnd böse neygung deines hertzens nicht wölle straffen/Darnach tröste dich des Herren Christi/vnd hoffe durch jn genad vnd barmhertzigkeyt/Also bist du gerecht vnd gefellest Gott wol/deñ erstlich hütest du dich für sünden/vnnd dem eusserlichen ergernuß/vnnd ob gleych böse neygung im hertzen sindt/so demütigest du dich für Gott/vnnd bittest vmb gnad/vñ hoffest darnach/Got werde solche böse neygung sampt andern sünden/vmb Christi willen vergeben/das heist alß denn die rechte gerechtigkeyt/so für Got gilt/vnd vns in das reych bringet. Jn summa/Buß thun/das ist/sich für einen sünder erkennen/vnd bessern/vnd vergebung der sünden glaubē durch Christum/solches ist der eynige gewise weg zum ewigen leben.

But how can we come to such a heart, one that is wholly and utterly pure and without sin? Thus. First, when you see that, although you guard yourself against outward offense, your heart nevertheless has delight and love for it, then be on your guard and do not be secure, as though this were no sin; but confess it to God, and pray for forgiveness, that He would not punish such impurity and evil inclination of your heart. Then comfort yourself with the Lord Christ, and hope for grace and mercy through Him. So you are righteous and well-pleasing to God. For, first, you guard yourself against sins and outward offense; and although there are evil inclinations in the heart, you humble yourself before God, pray for grace, and then hope that God will forgive such evil inclinations, together with other sins, for Christ's sake. That, then, is called the true righteousness which avails before God and brings us into the kingdom. In sum: to repent, that is, to acknowledge oneself a sinner and amend, and to believe the forgiveness of sins through Christ: this is the one sure way to eternal life.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 5:20 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ said." In Schrifftgelerten the t after ff is damaged and looks like an r.
- "Lusts." lüsten, evil desires.
- "Confess it to God." beichte es Gott.
- "Avails before God." so für Got gilt, Luther's phrase for the righteousness of faith (Romans 1:17 and 3:21 in his Bible: die Gerechtigkeit, die für Gott gilt).

Prayer (PDF p. 163)

> HERR Gott himlischer Vatter/wir bekennen das wir leyder arme/ellende sünder sint/da gar nichts gutes an ist/Deñ vnser hertz/fleysch vnd blut/ist durch die sünde dermassen vergifftet/das wir der bösen lüste nymmer können on sein. Darumb lieber Vatter/bitten wir dich/vergib solche sünde/vnnd reynige vnsere hertzen durch deinen heyligen Geyst/das wir zu deinem wort lust vñ lieb haben/vnd vns darnach halten/vnnd durch Christum in deiner genade ewig bleyben mögē/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we confess that we are, alas, poor, wretched sinners, and that there is no good in us at all, our hearts, flesh and blood being so poisoned by sin that we can never be without evil lusts; therefore we beseech Thee, dear Father, forgive us these sins, and let Thy Holy Ghost so cleanse our hearts that we may desire and love Thy word, abide by it, and remain forever in Thy grace through Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Restored "alas" (leyder) and "at all" (gar).
- "so corrupted by sin" → "so poisoned by sin" (durch die sünde dermassen vergifftet).
- "that we never in this life can be without sinful lust and concupiscence" → "that we can never be without evil lusts" (das wir der bösen lüste nymmer können on sein). "In this life" is not in the German.
- "and thus by Thy grace be forever saved; through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son," → "and remain forever in Thy grace through Christ," (vnnd durch Christum in deiner genade ewig bleyben mögē). Dietrich asks to remain in grace, not to be saved by it; his "through Christ" leads into the conclusion (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[53] Seventh Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 164): Am sibenden sontag nach Trinitatis/wie der Herr Jesus mit wenig brodt/vil menschen speyset/in der Wüsten/Mar. 8. [On the Seventh Sunday after Trinity: how the Lord Jesus feeds many people with a little bread in the wilderness. Mark 8.]

Verse (PDF p. 164)

> CHristus spricht: Mich jammert des volcks/denn sie haben nun drey tag bey mir beharret/vnnd haben nichts zu essen.

Christ saith: I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat.

Summary (PDF p. 165). The paragraph break follows the print.

> HJe hörest vnnd sihest/das vnser lieber herr Christus auch sich daruñ annimbt/das die/so sein wort hören vnd annemen/zu essen haben/vnd jammert jhn/das sie sollen mangel leyden/Es bleybet aber bey dem nicht/das er sich solches mangels halb kümmert/Da sonst nicht mehr/denn siben brodt/vnd ein wenig fischlein da sind/gibt er seinen segen dazu/das viertausent Man/gnug dran zu essen haben.

Here you hear and see that our dear Lord Christ also takes care that those who hear and receive His word have something to eat, and it moves Him with compassion that they should suffer want. But it does not stop at His being troubled over such want. Where there are no more than seven loaves and a few little fishes, He gives His blessing to them, so that four thousand men have enough to eat from them.

> Solches Exempel merck/wenn du wilt/das Gottes segen bey dir sey/halte dich zu dem Herrn Christo/das ist/höre sein wort/nim̃ es mit glauben vnd hertzen an/So alß deñ ein mangel fürfellet/schreye den Herrn Christum an vmb hilff so soll es dir widerfaren/Denn er kan niemand lassen/der jn anrüffet/er will helffen vnnd segnen/Wer aber des Herren Christi wort nit annimbt/der wirt nit allein zeytliches vnfalß/sonder auch des ewigen verdamniß sich besorgen müssen.

Mark this example. If you would have God's blessing with you, hold to the Lord Christ; that is, hear His word, and receive it with faith and with your heart. Then, if want befalls you, cry to the Lord Christ for help, and it shall come to you. For He cannot forsake anyone who calls upon Him; He will help and bless. But whoever does not receive the word of the Lord Christ will have to fear not only temporal misfortune but eternal damnation as well.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Mark 8:2 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith."
- "Four thousand men." Mark 8:9 has "about four thousand"; the prayer adds "not counting women and children," as at Lent 4 ([28]), whose prayer this one nearly repeats.
- "Cannot forsake." kan niemand lassen, cannot abandon anyone.

Prayer (PDF p. 166)

> HERR Gott himlischer Vatter/der du durch deinen Son in der wüsten viertausent Mañ/Weyb vnnd kind nicht mit gerechnet/nur mit siben broten vnd wenig fischen/reichlich gespeyset hast/Wir bitten dich/sey mit deinem segen auch gnedig bey vns/behüte für dem geytz/vnnd sorgen der narung/das wir dein Reych vnd dein gerechtigkeyt am ersten suchen/vnnd deine milte Vätterliche güte inn allem/was wir zu leyb vnd Seel bedürffen/gnedigklich spüren/durch Jhesum Christum vnsern Herrn/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who in the wilderness didst by Thy Son abundantly feed four thousand men besides women and children with only seven loaves and a few small fishes: We beseech Thee, graciously abide also among us with Thy blessing, and keep us from covetousness and the cares of this life, that we may seek first Thy kingdom and Thy righteousness, and in all things needful for body and soul graciously perceive Thy bountiful fatherly goodness; through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "with seven loaves" → "with only seven loaves" (nur mit siben broten).
- "graciously abide among us" → "graciously abide also among us" (auch gnedig bey vns).
- "experience Thine ever-present help" → "graciously perceive Thy bountiful fatherly goodness" (deine milte Vätterliche güte … gnedigklich spüren).
- "through Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ," → "through Jesus Christ, our Lord," which is Dietrich's own close (durch Jhesum Christum vnsern Herrn); the conclusion continues it (§2.4d).

Note. "Besides women and children" and "a few small fishes" are the King James wording of the feeding stories (Matthew 15:38; Mark 8:7), which Dietrich's German follows; they are kept.

[54] Eighth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 167): Am achten Sontag nach Trinitatis/warnung der falschen Propheten halb/Mathei am 7. [On the Eighth Sunday after Trinity: a warning concerning false prophets. Matthew 7.]

Verses (PDF pp. 167–168). The two verses are printed as separate paragraphs.

> CHristus spricht: Sehet euch für/für den falschen Propheten/die in Schaffskleydern zu euch kommen [p. 168]/jnwendig aber sindts reyssende Wölff/An jren früchten solt jr sie erkennen.
> Es werden nicht alle die zu mir sagen: Herr Herr/in das Himelreych kommen/sonder die den willen thun meines Vatters im himel.

Christ saith: Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits.

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but they that do the will of my Father which is in heaven.

> VNser Herr Jesus vermanet vnd warnet alle Christen/das sie sondern fleyß auff reyne Christliche lehre wenden wöllen/denn der Teuffel werde seine diener haben/die sich stellen/alß seyen sie rechtschaffene Prediger/aber es werden eytel schedliche/verfürer vnd Seelmörder sein. Darumb soll ein yeder Christ nit auff dē schein/sonder auff die rechte frucht sehen/die heist den willen des Vaters im himel thun/Solchs thut ein prediger/wenn er seine zuhörer allein auff die gnade Gottes/vnd den tod vñ die aufferstehung vnsers Herren Christi [p. 169] weyset/das sie damit wider die sünd/vnd den todt/vnd alles vnglück sich trösten/Solchs thut ein yeder Christ/ob er gleich kein prediger ist/wenn er durch Christum vergebung seiner sünden glaubt/vnd zu Gott sich aller genaden versihet/Auff solche frucht folget gewiß das ewig leben.

Our Lord Jesus admonishes and warns all Christians to apply special diligence to pure Christian doctrine; for the devil will have his servants, who make out that they are upright preachers, but they will be nothing but harmful seducers and murderers of souls. Therefore every Christian is to look not at the appearance but at the true fruit, which is called doing the will of the Father in heaven. A preacher does this when he points his hearers to the grace of God alone, and to the death and resurrection of our Lord Christ, so that they comfort themselves with these against sin, death and every misfortune. Every Christian does this, even if he is no preacher, when he believes the forgiveness of his sins through Christ and looks to God for every grace. Upon such fruit eternal life surely follows.

> Wo aber dise frucht nicht ist/ob gleich daselb Moses Gesetz/vnd allerley tugend vnd Gottesdienst sind/so kan man doch zum Reych Gottes nit kommen/noch dadurch selig werden.

But where this fruit is not, even though Moses' law and all manner of virtue and worship are there, one cannot come to the kingdom of God, nor be saved by them.

Notes on the verses and summary

- The verses are Matthew 7:15–16 and 7:21 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith." Dietrich, with Luther, has the plural "they that do the will" (die den willen thun) for the King James "he that doeth."
- The woodcut (p. 167) shows the false prophets as wolves in clerical dress, in bishops' mitres and a papal tiara, with a winged devil above them.
- "Special diligence." sondern fleyß: sonder is the adjective "particular, special."
- "Murderers of souls." Seelmörder.
- "Looks to God for every grace." zu Gott sich aller genaden versihet, as at Palm Sunday ([30]).
- "Worship." Gottesdienst, as at Septuagesima ([21]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 169–170)

> HERR Gott hymelischer Vatter/Wir dancken dir von hertzen/das du vns hast lassen zum erkentnuß deines lieben worts kommen/Wir bitten dich aber auch/du wöllest vns dabey gnedig erhalten/vnd seligklich drinn sterben lassen/wöllest auch alle from̃e prediger/so dein wort trewlich fürtragen/für allem ergernuß vnd anderm vnglück/gnedig behüten/vnd jnen jr leben fristen. Die andern aber so vntrewlich mit deinem wort vmbgehen/vnd sich alß from̃e scheflin lassen sehē/sind aber reyssende Wölff/die wöllest jrem verdienst nach/straffen/vñ jnen wehren/Vnd dein arme Christenheyt gnedig für jnen behüten/durch Christum Jesum deinen Son/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we most heartily thank Thee that Thou hast caused us to come to the knowledge of Thy dear word. We pray Thee also: graciously keep us steadfast therein, and let us die blessedly therein; graciously defend also all pious preachers, who faithfully preach Thy word, from all offense and other misfortune, and grant them long life. But the others, who deal unfaithfully with Thy word, and show themselves as pious sheep, but are ravening wolves, do Thou punish according to their desert, and restrain them, and graciously defend Thy poor Christendom from them; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy. TLHy recasts the second half of this prayer freely.

- "the knowledge of Thy word" → "the knowledge of Thy dear word" (zum erkentnuß deines lieben worts).
- "We pray Thee: graciously keep us steadfast in this knowledge unto death, that we may obtain eternal life" → "We pray Thee also: graciously keep us steadfast therein, and let us die blessedly therein" (Wir bitten dich aber auch/du wöllest vns dabey gnedig erhalten/vnd seligklich drinn sterben lassen), as at [13].
- "send us now and ever pious pastors, who faithfully preach Thy word, without offense or false doctrine, and grant them long life" → "graciously defend also all pious preachers, who faithfully preach Thy word, from all offense and other misfortune, and grant them long life" (wöllest auch alle from̃e prediger/so dein wort trewlich fürtragen/für allem ergernuß vnd anderm vnglück/gnedig behüten/vnd jnen jr leben fristen). Dietrich asks protection for the preachers the Church already has; TLHy asks for preachers to be sent.
- "Defend us from all false teachings, and frustrate Thou the counsels of all such as pervert Thy word, who come to us in sheep's clothing, but are inwardly ravening wolves" → "But the others, who deal unfaithfully with Thy word, and show themselves as pious sheep, but are ravening wolves, do Thou punish according to their desert, and restrain them" (Die andern aber so vntrewlich mit deinem wort vmbgehen/vnd sich alß froñe scheflin lassen sehē/sind aber reyssende Wölff/die wöllest jrem verdienst nach/straffen/vñ jnen wehren). "Ravening wolves" is kept from TLHy (Matthew 7:15).

- "that Thy true Church may evermore be established among us, and be defended and preserved from such false teachers" → "and graciously defend Thy poor Christendom from them" (Vnd dein arme Christenheyt gnedig für jnen behüten).
- "Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son" is Dietrich's own close (durch Christum Jesum deinen Son, rendered "Jesus Christ" as in §2.2); TLHy already has it, and the conclusion continues it (§2.4d).

[55] Ninth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 170): Am neundē Sontag/vom vnrechten Haußhalten/Luc. 16. [On the Ninth Sunday: of unjust stewardship. Luke 16.]

Verse (PDF p. 171)

> CHristus spricht: Jch sage euch/machet euch freund mit dem vnrechten Mammon/auff das/wenn jr nun darbet/sie euch auffnemen in die ewigen hütten.

Christ saith: I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

Summary (PDF pp. 171–172). The paragraph break follows the print.

> VNser Herr Jesus Christus warnet mit disem spruch/alle reyche leut/das sie jhr gelt vnd gut nach Gottes willen recht/vñ wol brauchen sollen/das ist/den armen leuten sollen sie helffen so not leyden/vnd jr narung entweder kranckheyt/oder anders vnfals halben/nicht mehr gewinnen können/vnnd verheysset er wölle solche hilff/so armen leuten hie auff erden geschicht/inn yenem leben reychlich bezalen.

With this saying our Lord Jesus Christ warns all rich people that they are to use their money and goods rightly and well, according to God's will; that is, they are to help poor people who suffer need and can no longer earn their living, whether because of sickness or of some other mishap. And He promises that such help as is given to poor people here on earth He will repay richly in the life beyond.

> Solche verheissung bringet diß vrtheyl klar mit sich/das alle/so armen leuten wol köndten helffen/wöllens aber vmb des guts willen nit thun/oder thun es kerglich/oder noch auch den leuten vmb des geytzes willen vnrecht [p. 172] thun/sie vbersetzen/oder sonst vberfortheylen/das sie Gott in yener welt auch wölle lassen mangel leyden/vnd vmb solcher vntrew willen ewig verdammen. Darumb sollen alle reyche diser lehre gut acht nemen/vnnd darnach sich haltē/das sie jnen freunde mit dem vnrechten Mammon machen/das ist/mit gelt vnd gut/welchs der Herr darumb vnrecht heyst/das schier niemandt sein recht vnnd wol brauchet/sintemal yederman sich lest bedunckē/er sey eygen Herr vber das seine/so wir doch alle nur Schaffner vnd verwalter drüber sind/vnd müssen Gott am Jüngsten tag rechenschafft drüber geben/wie wirs gebrauchet haben.

This promise clearly carries this judgment with it: all who could well help poor people, but will not do it for the sake of their goods, or do it stingily, or even wrong people out of covetousness, overcharge them or otherwise take advantage of them, God will let them too suffer want in the world beyond, and condemn them eternally for such unfaithfulness. Therefore all rich people are to pay good heed to this teaching, and conduct themselves by it, so that they make themselves friends with the unrighteous mammon, that is, with money and goods. These the Lord calls unrighteous because scarcely anyone uses them rightly and well; for everyone imagines that he is lord in his own right over what is his, whereas we are all only stewards and managers of it, and must give account to God on the Last Day of how we have used it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 16:9 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith." wenn jr nun darbet ("when you are now in want") is the King James "when ye fail."
- "Overcharge … take advantage of." vbersetzen is to charge too much, vberfortheylen to take unfair advantage of.
- "Lord in his own right." eygen Herr, owner outright, as against a steward.
- "Stewards and managers." Schaffner vnd verwalter: the rich are what the steward of the parable is (Luke 16:1–2, "give an account of thy stewardship").

Prayer (PDF pp. 172–173)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/der du vnns reychen segen/vnnd das tegliche brod vberflüssig hast gebē/Wir bitten dich/behüte für geytz/vñ erwecke vnsere hertzen/das wir armen leuten gern vnd miltigklich von solchem segen mitteylen/auff das wir trewe haußhalter vber deine gütter erfunden werden/vnnd nicht müssen inn ewigkeyt darben/wenn wir von solcher haußhaltung abgefordert/vñ für dein gericht kommen werden/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who hast bountifully given us rich blessing and our daily bread: We beseech Thee, preserve us from covetousness, and so quicken our hearts that we willingly and liberally share such blessing with the poor; that we may be found faithful stewards of Thy goods, and may not suffer want in eternity, when we shall be removed from our stewardship, and shall come before Thy judgment; through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy blessing" → "rich blessing" (reychen segen).
- "that we willingly share Thy blessed gifts with our needy brethren" → "that we willingly and liberally share such blessing with the poor" (das wir armen leuten gern vnd miltigklich von solchem segen mitteylen).
- "faithful stewards of Thy gifts" → "faithful stewards of Thy goods" (trewe haußhalter vber deine gütter), the word of the parable (Luke 16:1).
- "and abide in Thy grace" → "and may not suffer want in eternity" (vnnd nicht müssen inn ewigkeyt darben).
- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.

[56] Tenth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 173): Am zehenden Sontag von der zerstörung Jerusalem/Luce am 19. [On the Tenth Sunday: of the destruction of Jerusalem. Luke 19.]

Verse (PDF p. 174)

> CHristus sprach: Jerusalem/deine Feynde werden dich schleyffen/vnnd keinen steyn auff dem andern lassen/Darumb das du nicht erkennet hast die zeyt/darinn du heymgesuchet bist.

Christ said: Jerusalem, thine enemies shall lay thee even with the ground, and they shall not leave one stone upon another; because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

Summary (PDF pp. 174–175). The paragraph break follows the print.

> DJe herrliche Stadt Jerusalem/stehet zum ewigem Exempel da/das wir zwey ding lernen sollen. Das erste/wenn Gott sein liebes wort der welt offenbaret/das yederman solches für die höchste gnad/vnd den besten schatz achten/es mit frewden annemen/darauß sich besseren/vnd frömmer soll werden. Denn diser vrsach halb schicket Got sein wort/das wir jn dadurch erkennen/seynen willen darauß lernen vnd thun/vnd durch den glauben an Christum sollen endlich selig werden.

The glorious city of Jerusalem stands there as an everlasting example, from which we are to learn two things. The first: when God reveals His dear word to the world, everyone is to esteem it as the highest grace and the best treasure, receive it with joy, amend his life by it, and become more godly. For God sends His word for this reason: that by it we may know Him, learn His will from it and do it, and at last be saved through faith in Christ.

> Das ander/wer aber solche gnad nicht mit hertzen annemen/Gelt/gut/ [p. 175] macht/ehr/vnd anders jm mehe [sic, for mehr]/deñ das wort will lieben lassen/Er hörets wol/aber bessert sich nicht/vnd bleybt heut wie gester/hewer wie fernet/da soll das vrtheyl folgen/wie vber Jerusalem/das Gott die verachtung seines worts/mit zeytlichem vnfall vnd jammer/vñ letzlich mit dem hellischen fewer straffen wil. Darumb gewehne sich yederman dahin/das er Gottes wort fleyssig höre vnd wol lerne/vnd sein leben darnach anrichte/vnd bessere/so will Gott zu allem thun/glück vnd heyl geben/vnnd dazu ewig selig machen/Amen.

The second: whoever will not receive such grace with his heart, but lets money, goods, power, honor and other things be dearer to him than the word; who hears it well enough but does not amend, and stays today as he was yesterday, this year as he was last year: upon him the judgment shall follow, as upon Jerusalem, that God will punish the contempt of His word with temporal mishap and misery, and at last with the fire of hell. Therefore let everyone accustom himself to hear God's word diligently and learn it well, and to order his life by it and amend. Then God will give good fortune and well-being in all that he does, and save him eternally besides. Amen.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 19:43–44, condensed by Dietrich and introduced by "Christ said," in King James wording. schleyffen, "raze," is the King James "lay thee even with the ground."
- "An everlasting example." The city's destruction by the Romans in A.D. 70.
- "Today as he was yesterday, this year as he was last year." heut wie gester/hewer wie fernet, a proverbial pairing (heuer, this year; fernd, last year).
- "Amen." As at Epiphany ([12]) and Trinity 3 ([49]), the summary itself ends with "Amen."

Prayer (PDF pp. 175–176)

> ALmechtiger ewiger Got/der du dein wort von deinem Son Christo Jesu/durch dein heiligen Geyst vns offenbaret/vnd kundt hast gethon/Wir bitē dich/erwecke vnsere hertzen/das wirs mit ernst añemen/vñ ja nit in wind schlagen/oder vnfleyssig hören/wie dein volck/die vnglaubigen Juden/Auff das wir in deiner forcht/vnd rechtem vertrawen auff deine Barmhertzigkeyt leben vnd teglich zunemen/Vnd endlich durch deinē Son/Christum Jesum/ewig selig werden/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Almighty and everlasting God, who by Thy Holy Ghost hast revealed and made known unto us Thy word concerning Thy Son, Jesus Christ: We beseech Thee so to quicken our hearts that we may earnestly receive Thy word, and by no means make light of it, or hear it negligently, as did Thy people, the unbelieving Jews; that we may live in Thy fear and in a right confidence in Thy mercy, and daily increase therein, and finally obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "hast revealed unto us the gospel of Thy Son, Jesus Christ" → "hast revealed and made known unto us Thy word concerning Thy Son, Jesus Christ" (dein wort von deinem Son Christo Jesu … vns offenbaret/vnd kundt hast gethon).
- "sincerely receive" → "earnestly receive" (mit ernst añemen).
- "and not make light of it, or hear it without fruit" → "and by no means make light of it, or hear it negligently" (vñ ja nit in wind schlagen/oder vnfleyssig hören).
- "but that we may fear Thee and daily grow in faith in Thy mercy" → "that we may live in Thy fear and in a right confidence in Thy mercy, and daily increase therein" (Auff das wir in deiner forcht/vnd rechtem vertrawen auff deine Barmhertzigkeyt leben vnd teglich zunemen).
- "and finally obtain eternal salvation, through Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord," → "and finally obtain eternal salvation through Thy Son, Jesus Christ," which is Dietrich's phrase (Vnd endlich durch deinē Son/Christum Jesum/ewig selig werden); the conclusion follows (§2.4c).

[57] Eleventh Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 176): Am eylfften sontag/vom Phariseer vnd Zölner/wie sie bede im Tempel betten/Luc. 18. [On the Eleventh Sunday: of the Pharisee and the publican, how they both pray in the Temple. Luke 18.]

Verse (PDF p. 177)

> DER Zölner stundt von ferne/wolte auch seine augen nit auffheben gen Himel/sonder schlug an sein brust/vnd sprach: Got sey mir sünder gnedig/Diser gieng hinab gerechtfertiget in sein hauß. Denn wer sich selb erhöhet/der wirt ernidriget/Vnd wer sich selb ernidriget/der wirt erhöhet werden.

The publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. This man went down to his house justified: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Summary (PDF pp. 177–178). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DJß ist ein schönes vnd nützes exempel/auß welchem wir lernen/wie wir zu vergebung der sünden sollen kommen. Diser Zölner bekennets/er sey ein armer sünder/vñ erschrickt für seinen sündē dermassen/das er so kleynmütig vnd engstig drüber wirdt/das er nicht vnter die leut/noch seine augen gen himel darff auffheben/vnd dennoch bittet er vmb vergebung.

This is a beautiful and profitable example, from which we learn how we are to come to the forgiveness of sins. This publican confesses that he is a poor sinner, and is so terrified at his sins, and becomes so fainthearted and anxious over them, that he dares not go among people nor lift up his eyes to heaven; and yet he asks for forgiveness.

> Also sollen wir auch thun/vnsere sünde sollen wir erkennen/vnd bekennen [p. 178]/vnd vns von hertzen lassen leyd sein/das wir dem Teuffel so lang gefolget/vnd Gottes wort vnd willen/so leychtfertigklich verachtet haben/Da vmb gelts/dort vmb ehr/da vmb gutes lebens willen ꝛc. Wenn nun die sünde dir also hertzlich leyd ist/deñ du sihest/was für ein straff Gott drauff geschlagen hat/So sihe alß deñ den Son Gottes am creutz an/tröste dich seines sterbens/damit er für der gantzen welt sünde bezalet hat/vnd rüffe zu Gott/vnd bitte vmb gnad/vnnd zweiffel nicht/wie du bittest/Got wölle vmb seines Sons willen dir gnedig sein/vnd sünde vergeben/so wirdts dir gewißlich widerfaren.

So we too are to do. We are to acknowledge and confess our sins, and let it grieve us from our hearts that we have followed the devil so long and have despised God's word and will so lightly, here for money's sake, there for honor's, there for the sake of good living, etc. Now when sin grieves you thus heartily, since you see what punishment God has laid upon it, then look upon the Son of God on the cross, comfort yourself with His dying, by which He has paid for the sin of the whole world, and cry to God and pray for grace; and do not doubt, as you pray, that God will be gracious to you for His Son's sake and forgive sin. Then it will surely be done for you.

> Wir sollen aber auch für vnd für/des willen Gottes vns fleyssigen/vnd für sünden vns hütten/Denn sonst ist es nur Heucheley/wenn du in sünden ligen/vnd nicht teglich dich woltest bessern.

But we are also continually to apply ourselves to God's will and guard ourselves against sins. For otherwise it is mere hypocrisy, if you would lie in sins and not amend yourself daily.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 18:13–14 in King James wording, introduced by "The publican"; Dietrich lacks "I tell you" and "rather than the other."
- "Dares not go among people." das er nicht vnter die leut … darff: the publican "stood afar off."
- "ꝛc." The sign for et cetera, kept as printed.
- "Apply ourselves to God's will." des willen Gottes vns fleyssigen, as at New Year ([8]).

Prayer (PDF p. 179)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/Jch bitte dich/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst/mich also leyten vñ füren/das ich erstlich meiner sünde nicht vergesse/noch sicher werde/sonder in steter busse stehe/vnd mich von tag zu tag bessere/vnd darnach allein mich dessen tröste/das du vmb deines Suns Christi Jhesu willen/mir genedig sein/alle sünde vergeben/vnd selig wilt machen/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, I beseech Thee so to guide and direct me by Thy Holy Ghost, that, first, I may not forget my sin, nor grow secure, but continue in constant repentance, and amend my life from day to day; and then comfort myself with this alone, that for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, Thou wilt be gracious unto me, forgive me all my sins, and save me; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Congregational form (TLHy practice)

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we beseech Thee so to guide and direct us by Thy Holy Ghost, that, first, we may not forget our sin, nor grow secure, but continue in constant repentance, and amend our lives from day to day; and then comfort ourselves with this alone, that for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, Thou wilt be gracious unto us, forgive us all our sins, and save us; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Person: Dietrich's prayer is in the first person singular ("I"); TLHy makes it plural. The revised text follows Dietrich, and a congregational form is supplied (§2.2).
- "that we may not forget our sins and be filled with pride" → "that, first, I may not forget my sin, nor grow secure" (das ich erstlich meiner sünde nicht vergesse/noch sicher werde). Dietrich's word is carnal security, not pride.
- "but continue in daily repentance and renewal" → "but continue in constant repentance, and amend my life from day to day" (sonder in steter busse stehe/vnd mich von tag zu tag bessere).
- "seeking our comfort only in the blessed knowledge that Thou wilt be merciful unto us" → "and then comfort myself with this alone, that for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, Thou wilt be gracious unto me" (vnd darnach allein mich dessen tröste/das du vmb deines Suns Christi Jhesu willen/mir genedig sein). TLHy omits "for the sake of Thy Son."
- "forgive us our sins, and grant us eternal life" → "forgive me all my sins, and save me" (alle sünde vergeben/vnd selig wilt machen). Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

Our Lord Jesus took the dumb and deaf man aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and spit, and touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

Summary (PDF pp. 181–182)

> DJß wunderwerck/will vnser lieber Herr Christus/für vnnd für in seiner kirchen üben/vñ sehen lassen. This miracle our dear Lord Christ will continually perform and show in His Church. For although bodily we are neither dumb nor deaf, yet our hearts are so poisoned by sin that we will neither hear nor speak God's word; we would rather hear and speak of offensive, frivolous and unprofitable things. And the wicked enemy helps in this too, as we see that the young people curse and blaspheme God, and have little devotion or desire for the sermon. These are deaf ears and bound, dumb tongues. This misery our dear Lord Christ now remedies by His finger, that is, by the Holy Ghost, with which He opens the ears, and by His spittle, that is, by His word, with which He looses the tongue. For whoever hears God's word diligently receives the Holy Ghost through it; and it follows further that hearts receive God's word and gladly hear it, and that the mouth confesses the faith, and praises and extols God and His grace. This is the work and art of our dear Lord Christ, which He showed here bodily on this poor man; but on us He will show it spiritually, if only we keep diligently to His word. Amen.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Mark 7:33–35 in King James wording, introduced by "Our Lord Jesus took." Dietrich has "the dumb and deaf man" for the King James "him." spürzet is an old form of "spat."
- "His finger, that is, the Holy Ghost." Compare Luke 11:20, "the finger of God," with Matthew 12:28, "the Spirit of God" (Lent 3, [27]).
- Misprint. sd has d for o. In taub the printer uses a b with a closed, looped ascender, which looks like ß but sits on the line; the same b occurs in lieben on p. 184.
- "Amen." The summary ends with "Amen," as at Trinity 3 and 10.

Prayer (PDF pp. 182–183)

Revised TLHy

> Almighty and everlasting God, Thou gracious Creator of all things, I thank Thee that Thou hast given me a sound body, and hast graciously preserved my tongue, ears, and other members from the evil foe; and I beseech Thee, grant me Thy grace, that I may rightly use especially my ears and tongue: with my ears diligently hear Thy word and mark it well, and with my tongue praise and magnify Thy grace, that no one may be offended by my tongue, but that all may be edified thereby; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Congregational form (TLHy practice)

> Almighty and everlasting God, Thou gracious Creator of all things, we thank Thee that Thou hast given us sound bodies, and hast graciously preserved our tongues, ears, and other members from the evil foe; and we beseech Thee, grant us Thy grace, that we may rightly use especially our ears and tongues: with our ears diligently hear Thy word and mark it well, and with our tongues praise and magnify Thy grace, that no one may be offended by our tongues, but that all may be edified thereby; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Person: Dietrich's prayer is in the first person singular ("I"); TLHy makes it plural. The revised text follows Dietrich, and a congregational form is supplied (§2.2).
- "who hast created all things" → "Thou gracious Creator of all things" (du gnediger schöpffer aller ding).
- "our tongues and other members" → "my tongue, ears, and other members" (meine zungen/ohren/vnd andere glidmaß); TLHy omits "ears."
- "from the power of the adversary" → "from the evil foe" (für dem bösen feind).
- "that we may rightly use our ears and tongues" → "that I may rightly use especially my ears and tongue" (das ich sonderlich meine ohren vñ zunge/recht brauche).
- "help us to hear Thy word diligently and devoutly, and with our tongues so to praise and magnify Thy grace" → "with my ears diligently hear Thy word and mark it well, and with my tongue praise and magnify Thy grace" (Mit meinen ohren dein wort fleyssig hören/vñ wol mercken/vnnd mit meiner zungen/dein gnad preysen vñ rhümen möge).
- "offended by our words" → "offended by my tongue" (durch mein zunge geergert). Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.

Christ turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many kings and prophets have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

With these words our dear Lord Christ praises the doctrine of the holy gospel: that it is the highest, best and noblest treasure, since it is through the gospel alone that we come to the true knowledge of God, to the forgiveness of sins, and to eternal life. The law, on which the scribe here insists, is indeed also a divine and upright doctrine; for what better could one command than that we should love God with all our heart and above all things, and our neighbor as ourselves? But it is not a saving doctrine, by which we could be saved. For we cannot fulfill that command; our hearts are so corrupted by sin that we can love neither God nor our neighbor as we should. So the fault is not in the doctrine but in us. But the gospel is the true saving doctrine, which makes blessed ears and eyes; for it brings us the Holy Ghost, who kindles faith in the heart, that our sins are forgiven us, and we receive new hearts and begin to love God and our neighbor. And although love is not so wholly perfect as it should be, yet whatever is still lacking in it is forgiven through faith in Christ.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 10:23–24 in King James wording, with "Christ" for "he." Dietrich has "kings and prophets" for the King James "prophets and kings."
- "Saving … blessed." selig is both "saved" and "blessed" (see [3]); Dietrich plays on the verse's "Blessed are the eyes": the law is not a selige lehr, but the gospel is the selige lehr that makes selige ohren vñ augen.
- The scribe's question. Luke 10:25–27: "what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" The heading names it (von der schrifftgelerten frag).
- "Command." heyssen, to bid.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we most heartily thank Thee that Thou hast granted us to live in this blessed time, when we may hear the blessed doctrine, Thy holy gospel, know thereby Thy will and fatherly heart, and behold Thy Son, Jesus Christ! We beseech Thy fathomless mercy: Graciously preserve unto us this blessed light of Thy word, and so guide and direct our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may never depart from it, but hold fast to it, and sooner forsake all things, and at last be saved thereby; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "this accepted time" → "this blessed time" (dise selige zeyt). TLHy's phrase comes from 2 Corinthians 6:2; Dietrich's "blessed" answers the Gospel of the day, "Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see" (Luke 10:23).
- "when we may hear Thy holy gospel, know Thy fatherly will" → "when we may hear the blessed doctrine, Thy holy gospel, know thereby Thy will and fatherly heart" (das wir die selige lehr/dein heyliges Euangelion hören/deinen willen vnd Väterliches hertz dadurch erkennē).
- "We pray Thee, most merciful Father: Let the light of Thy holy word remain with us" → "We beseech Thy fathomless mercy: Graciously preserve unto us this blessed light of Thy word" (Wir bitten dein grundtlose barmhertzigkeyt/du wöllest solches seliges liecht deines worts/vns gnedig erhalten).
- "and so govern our hearts" → "and so guide and direct our hearts" (vnsere hertzen also leyten vnd füren), as at [57].
- "that we may never forsake Thy word, but remain steadfast in it" → "that we may never depart from it, but hold fast to it, and sooner forsake all things" (das wir nimmermehr dauon abweychen/sonder fest dran halten/ehe alles verlassen). TLHy omits the last clause.
- "and finally obtain eternal salvation" → "and at last be saved thereby" (vnd endlich dadurch selig werden). Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[60] Fourteenth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 187): Am vierzehenden Sontag von den zehen Aussetzigen/Luce am 17. [On the Fourteenth Sunday: of the ten lepers. Luke 17.]

Verse (PDF p. 187)

Jesus said unto the Samaritan: Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine? There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger. And he said unto him, Arise, thy faith hath helped thee.

Summary (PDF p. 188)

> VNser lieber Herr Christus beweyset sein güte/vnd mitleydentes hertz hie widerum̃/das er den armen aussetzigen/bald sie jn vmb hilff anschreyen/so gnedigklich hilfft. Aber es wird jm vbel gedanckt/vnter den zehen ist nur einer/der ein Heyd war/der wider kombt/vñ solcher gnedigen grossen hilff jm danckt/die andern neun bl[i]ben aussen/vnd lassen sich bereden/Christus habe sie nicht gesund gemachet/es sey sonst an der zeyt also gewest/Aber den Herren verdreust solcher vndanck. Our dear Lord Christ here shows His goodness and compassionate heart again, in that He so graciously helps the poor lepers as soon as they cry to Him for help. But He is ill thanked. Among the ten there is only one, who was a heathen, who comes back and thanks Him for such gracious and great help. The other nine stayed away, and let themselves be persuaded that Christ had not made them whole, but that it was simply the time for it anyway. But such ingratitude grieves the Lord. Therefore let everyone learn to acknowledge God's grace and blessing, and then also to give thanks for it, and to pray that God would not take His blessing from us, but increase it daily. The saying, "Thy faith hath helped thee," testifies that when we call upon God and would ask something of Him, we are to look to His grace and mercy alone and comfort ourselves with it; then help shall come to us.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 17:17–19 in King James wording, introduced by "Jesus said unto the Samaritan," with "helped thee" for the King James "made thee whole," as at Quinquagesima ([23]): Dietrich expounds the saying as a promise of help. Sind jr nit zehen reyn worden is "Are not ten of them made clean?" (jr, genitive "of them"), the King James "Were there not ten cleansed?"
- "A heathen." Dietrich calls the Samaritan ein Heyd, the Gospel's "stranger" (frembdlinger).
- "Stayed away." bl[i]ben aussen: one narrow letter has failed to print, leaving a gap; bliben (blieben) is the likely reading.
- "Simply the time for it anyway." es sey sonst an der zeyt also gewest: they would have been healed in any case, in due course.

Prayer (PDF p. 189)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, by Thy word and Thy holy baptism hast graciously delivered all us who believe from the fearful leprosy of sin, and still dost daily grant us Thy gracious help in all our need: We beseech Thee so to quicken our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may never forget these Thy blessings, but ever live in Thy fear and in hearty confidence in Thy mercy, > and with joyful hearts continually thank and praise Thee; through Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Restored "through Thy Son, Jesus Christ" (durch deinen sun/Christum Jesum), which TLHy omits.
- "by Thy blessed word" → "by Thy word" (durch dein wort).
- "hast mercifully cleansed all who believe" → "hast graciously delivered all us who believe" (vns glaubigen allen … gnedigklich geholffen).
- "and daily dost grant us" → "and still dost daily grant us" (vnd beweysest noch tegliche gnedige hilff).
- "so to enlighten our hearts" → "so to quicken our hearts" (erwecke vnsere hertzen).
- "but ever live in Thy fear, and, trusting fully in Thy grace, with thankful hearts continually praise and glorify Thee" → "but ever live in Thy fear and in hearty confidence in Thy mercy, and with joyful hearts continually thank and praise Thee" (sonder in deiner forcht vnd hertzlichem vertrawen auff deine Barmhertzigkeyt für vnnd für leben/vnd mit frölichem hertzen dir jmmerdar dancken/vnnd dich loben).
- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics. "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

This is a necessary warning: that we Christians are to attend faithfully to our calling and work and put away all temporal care, but trust God in heaven for this, that He will sustain us by His blessing and provide what we need. But all our care and diligence we are to turn to this, that we come to God's kingdom, that is, to God's word, and to His righteousness, that is, to the forgiveness of sins. When we have that, there is no danger. For we have a Father in heaven who will not let us, His little children, suffer want; He knows what we need, and will let it come to us as our need requires. This is a necessary teaching, but alas, the smaller part follows it. We cannot leave off worrying, and will not rise to faith. But two great misfortunes hang on worry. First, that we accomplish nothing by it, for everything depends on God's blessing alone. Secondly, it is also a great sin, which draws us away from the service of God altogether and makes servants of Mammon of us. Therefore let everyone learn to guard himself against worry, but to concern himself heartily and earnestly with God's word, and be diligent in his calling and in his work, and let God take care how we are to be fed.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 6:31–33 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith." sorgen is the King James "take thought," that is, be anxious; in the summary it is "care" and "worry."
- "As our need requires." nach notturfft.
- "Will not rise to faith." wöllen mit dem glauben nit hinan, will not go up (hinan) with faith.
- "Servants of Mammon." Matthew 6:24, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon," from the same Gospel. Gottesdienst is here the service of God.
- The woodcut (p. 190) shows a man kneeling in church between Christ and a horned devil, who tempts him with a box.

Prayer (PDF pp. 192–193)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/Wir dancken dir für alle deine wolthat/das du leyb vnd leben geben/vnd bißher vns gnedigklich erhalten hast/Vnnd bitten dich/nimme deinen segen nicht von vns/sonder behüte für dem geytz/auff das wir dir allein dienen/dich lieben/vnd dir anhangen/vnd vns nit mit Abgötterey vñ dem schedlichen Mammonßdienst versündigen/sonder alle hoffnung/trost vnnd zuuersicht/allein auff dein güte vnd gnad setzen/durch Christum deinen Sun/vnd vnsern Herren/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for all Thy benefits: that Thou hast given us body and life, and graciously sustained us unto this day: We beseech Thee, take not Thy blessing from us, but preserve us from covetousness, that we may serve Thee only, love Thee, and cleave unto Thee, and not sin through idolatry and the hurtful service of mammon, but set all our hope, comfort, and confidence on Thy goodness and grace alone; through Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "given us life" → "given us body and life" (leyb vnd leben).
- "preserve us from covetousness" → "but preserve us from covetousness" (sonder behüte für dem geytz).
- "love and abide in Thee" → "love Thee, and cleave unto Thee" (dich lieben/vnd dir anhangen), the wording of Deuteronomy 13:4.

- "and not defile ourselves by idolatrous love of mammon" → "and not sin through idolatry and the hurtful service of mammon" (vnd vns nit mit Abgötterey vñ dem schedlichen Mammonßdienst versündigen).
- "but hope and trust only in Thy grace" → "but set all our hope, comfort, and confidence on Thy goodness and grace alone" (sonder alle hoffnung/trost vnnd zuuersicht/allein auff dein güte vnd gnad setzen).
- "through Jesus Christ our Lord," → "through Christ, Thy Son and our Lord," which is Dietrich's own close (durch Christum deinen Sun/vnd vnsern Herren); the conclusion continues it (§2.4d).

[62] Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 193): Am sechzehendē Sontag/wie Christus den todten Sun/einer Wittib auffwecket/Luc. 7. [On the Sixteenth Sunday: how Christ raises a widow's dead son. Luke 7.]

Verse (PDF p. 194)

> DER Herr Jesus trat hinzu/vñ rüret den Starck [sic, for Sarck] an/vñ die treger stunden/vñ er sprach: Jüngling ich sage dir/stehe auff/vnnd der todte richtet sich auff/vnnd fieng an zu reden/vnd er gab jn seiner Mutter.

The Lord Jesus came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

> DJß herrlich wunderwerck ist zum sondern trost allen Christen geschriben/auff das wir lernen/durch den Herrn Christum vns wider den todt trösten. Denn sihe/da sonst alle welt vber einen todten menschen stunde/schrie/rüttele/vnd thete was zu thun müglich ist/so wer es doch alles vmb sonst. Aber vnser lieber Herr Christus spricht nur ein eyniges wort: Jüngling ich sage dir/stehe auff/Solches wort ist so krefftig das es der verstorbne jüngling höret/vnnd bald solchem wort nach/auffstehet vñ wider lebet. Also sihest wie des [p. 195] Herrn Christi wort allein/die rechte ärtzney wider den tod ist/Derhalb so du wilt/das dir vom tod auch geholffen werde/vnnd du zum rechten lebē kommen mögest/halte dich zu Christo/der ist der Herr vber den tod/der tod ist jm nur ein schlaff/mit eim wort kan er dir helffen/da sonst alle hilff vmb sonst vnd vergebens ist.

This glorious miracle is written for the special comfort of all Christians, so that we may learn to comfort ourselves through the Lord Christ against death. For see: though all the world otherwise stood over a dead man, cried out, shook him, and did whatever is possible to do, yet it would all be in vain. But our dear Lord Christ speaks only a single word: "Young man, I say unto thee, Arise." This word is so mighty that the dead young man hears it, and at once, at this word, rises up and lives again. So you see that the word of the Lord Christ alone is the true medicine against death. Therefore, if you would be helped from death too, and come to the true life, hold to Christ. He is the Lord over death; death is to Him only a sleep. With a word He can help you, where all other help is in vain and to no purpose.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 7:14–15 in King James wording, introduced by "The Lord Jesus." The print's Starck ("strong") is a misprint for Sarck (Sarg, "bier"), Luther's word here.
- "Death is to Him only a sleep." Compare Luke 8:52, "she is not dead, but sleepeth," and John 11:11.
- "Shook him." rüttele, as of someone trying to wake a sleeper.

Prayer (PDF p. 195)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du deinen Sun hast lassen mensch werdē/das er erstlich mit seinem todt für vnsere sünde bezalen/vnd darnach vns vom ewigen todt helffen soll/Wir bitten dich erhalte vns in solcher hoffnung/auff das wir ja nicht dran zweyffeln/wie vnser lieber Herr Christus der Witwen sun/durch sein wort hat aufferwecket/das er der gleichen vns am Jüngsten tag auch aufferwecken/vnnd ewig werde selig machen/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst suffer Thy Son to become man, that He should first by His death pay for our sins, and then deliver us from eternal death: We pray Thee, keep us in this hope, that we may in no wise doubt that, as our dear Lord Christ by His word raised the widow's son, so He will in like manner raise us also on the last day, and save us eternally; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "who didst send Thy Son to be made flesh" → "who didst suffer Thy Son to become man" (der du deinen Sun hast lassen mensch werdē), TLHy's own wording for this phrase at [3]. "Send" is not in the German.
- "that by His death He might atone for our sins and deliver us from eternal death" → "that He should first by His death pay for our sins, and then deliver us from eternal death" (das er erstlich mit seinem todt für vnsere sünde bezalen/vnd darnach vns vom ewigen todt helffen soll).
- "confirm in our hearts the hope that" → "keep us in this hope, that we may in no wise doubt that" (erhalte vns in solcher hoffnung/auff das wir ja nicht dran zweyffeln).
- "our Lord Jesus Christ, who with but a word raised the widow's son, in like manner will raise us on the last day, and grant us eternal life" → "as our dear Lord Christ by His word raised the widow's son, so He will in like manner raise us also on the last day, and save us eternally" (wie vnser lieber Herr Christus der Witwen sun/durch sein wort hat aufferwecket/das er der gleichen vns am Jüngsten tag auch aufferwecken/vnnd ewig werde selig machen).
- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics; the OLM web text's colon before it is made a semicolon.

> CHristus beweyset sich hie wider/das er sich vnsers ellends vnd jammers annemen/vnd vns gern wil helffen/in allerley nöten. Derhalben sollen wir vns zu jm haltē/vnd durch glaubiges gebet solche hilff bey jm suchen. Das westen die Phariseer nicht/die hoffertigen heyligen/Legtens derhalb dem Herren vbel auß/Aber er sagt/weil sie hoffertig sindt/werde sie Got demütigen.

Here again Christ shows that He will take our wretchedness and misery to heart and gladly help us in every kind of need. Therefore we are to hold to Him, and seek such help from Him by believing prayer. But it offends the Pharisees that He does such a good work on a Sabbath. Therefore the Lord answers for Himself, and teaches that on the Sabbath especially one is to take pains to help poor people. For God's commandment does not mean that on the Sabbath one is to be wholly idle and do nothing, but that one is to hallow it, that is, to spend it in holy works. Now these are holy works: to hear God's word; to instruct others in God's word; to gather with other Christians for prayer and divine service; to give alms; and to serve poor and needy people in other ways. By such works the Sabbath is not broken, but hallowed according to God's will. This the Pharisees, those proud saints, did not know, and so they took it ill of the Lord. But He says that, because they are proud, God will humble them.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 14:11 in King James wording, without its opening "For." The summary treats chiefly the healing of the man with dropsy on the Sabbath, the first part of the Gospel (Luke 14:1–6).
- "Hallow it." The Third Commandment, "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy" (Exodus 20:8; in Luther's catechism, Du solt den Feiertag heiligen).
- "Divine service." Gottesdienst, here public worship.
- "Took it ill of the Lord." Legtens … dem Herren vbel auß, they put a bad construction on what He did.

Prayer (PDF pp. 198–199)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father: We beseech Thee so to govern and direct us by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may keep ourselves in Thy fear, and not become proud, but with our whole hearts hear and receive Thy word, and rightly hallow the Sabbath, that we also may be hallowed by Thy word: first, that we may place all our trust and hope in Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who alone is our righteousness and redemption; and then, that we may also amend and better our lives in accordance with Thy word, and avoid all offenses, until we obtain eternal salvation through Thy grace in Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "so to guide and direct us" → "so to govern and direct us" (vns also regieren vnnd füren), as at [34] and [43].
- "that we may not exalt ourselves, but humbly fear Thee" → "that we may keep ourselves in Thy fear, and not become proud" (das wir in deiner forcht vns halten/vnd nicht hoffertig werden).
- "hear and keep Thy word" → "hear and receive Thy word" (dein wort hören/vñ annemen).
- "and hallow the Lord's day" → "and rightly hallow the Sabbath" (vñ den Sabbath recht heyligen), the day of the Gospel (Luke 14:1).
- "help us, first, to place our hope and confidence in Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who alone is our righteousness and Redeemer" → "first, that we may place all our trust and hope in Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who alone is our righteousness and redemption" (erstlich also/das wir auff deinen Sun Jesum Christum/all vnser vertrawen vnd hoffnung setzen/das er allein sey vnser gerechtigkeyt vnd erlösung). "Righteousness and redemption" are the words of 1 Corinthians 1:30.
- "and, then, so to amend and better our lives in accordance with Thy word, that we may avoid all offenses and finally obtain eternal salvation" → "and then, that we may also amend and better our lives in accordance with Thy word, and avoid all offenses, until we obtain eternal salvation" (vñ darnach/das wir vnser leben nach deinem wort auch bessern/vnd für allem ergernuß vnns hüten biß wir … ewig selig werdē).
- "Through Thy grace in Christ" is Dietrich's phrase (durch dein gnad in Christo), as in TLHy, and the conclusion follows it (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit"; the OLM web text's "one true God. world without end" corrected.

[64] Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 199): Am achzehenden Sontag wie der Schrifftgelerte erstlich Christum fraget/von dem fürnemesten gebot im Gesetz. Christus aber die Phariseer widerfraget/wens Sun Christus sey/Matth. 22. [On the Eighteenth Sunday: how the lawyer first asks Christ about the chief commandment in the Law, but Christ asks the Pharisees in return whose Son Christ is. Matthew 22.]

Verse (PDF p. 200)

> DV solt Gott lieben von gantzem hertzen/von gantzer seel/vñ von gantzem gemüt/Diß ist das fürnemest/vnd das gröste Gebot. Das ander aber ist dem gleych/Du solt deinen nechsten lieben alß dich selbs/Jn disen zweyen gebotten/Hanget das gantze gesetz vnd die Propheten.

Thou shalt love God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Summary (PDF pp. 200–202)

> DJse zwo fragen schickē sich sehr fein auff einander/vñ ist gleych alß in einer summa/drinn angezeyt/was ein yeder Christ wissen soll. Ein yeder Christ soll erstlich das Gesetz wissen/in welchem Gott vns lehret/was er von vns wölle haben/das wir thun sollen. Solches stehet auff disen zweyen haubtpuncten/das wir Gott vnnd vnsern nechsten von hertzen sollen lieben. Diß ist der höchste/vñ beste Gottesdienst/den wir durch vnser gantzes leben leysten/vnnd dawider nichts thun sollen. Aber da findet [p. 201] sich ein grewlicher mangel an vns menschen allen/das vnsere hertzen durch die sünde verderbet sind/vnnd vns vnmüglich ist/solche lieb reyn vñ volkommen leysten/Darumb müssen wir/neben dem Gesetz auch das Euangelion haben vnd wissen/das lehret vns/wens Sun Christus sey/Ein mensch ist er/vnd kombt von Dauids same her/Vnnd dennoch heyst jn Dauid seinen Herrn/vnnd sagt: Gott heysse jn zu seiner rechten sitzen/Solches zwinget/das/Christus nicht allein ein mensch/sonder auch Gott ist/Da folget nu ferner/das du lernest/warumb er am Creutz stirbt/warum̃ er von todten wider aufferstehet ꝛc. Es sagt aber das Euangelion/es sey geschehē vmb vnser sünde willen/das die selben versöhnet würden/vñ vmb vnser gerechtigkeyt willen/das wir in Gottes gnade ewig bliben. Durch solche predigt wirdt der heylig Geyst vns mitgetheylet/der macht newe hertzen in vns. Also wirdt vns durch den glauben an Christum vergeben/ [p. 202] was wir wider Gottes Gesetz gesündiget haben/vnnd der heylige Geyst hilfft vns/das wir doch etwas vom Gesetz thun. Wer solches von Christo nicht weyß/wie die Phariseer hie/dem ist das gesetz nur ein last/vnd fluch/vñ hilfft zur verzweyfflung vnd tod.

These two questions fit very finely together, and in them, as in a summary, is shown what every Christian should know. Every Christian should first know the law, in which God teaches us what He would have of us, what we are to do. This rests on these two chief points: that we are to love God and our neighbor from the heart. This is the highest and best service of God, which we are to render through our whole life, and against which we are to do nothing. But here a dreadful lack is found in all of us men: our hearts are corrupted by sin, and it is impossible for us to render such love pure and perfect. Therefore, besides the law, we must also have and know the gospel. This teaches us whose son Christ is. He is a man, and comes of David's seed; and yet David calls Him his Lord, and says that God bids Him sit at His right hand. This compels the conclusion that Christ is not only a man but also God. Then it follows further that you learn why He dies on the cross, why He rises again from the dead, etc. And the gospel says that this happened for our sins, that they might be atoned for, and for our righteousness, that we might remain forever in God's grace. Through such preaching the Holy Ghost is imparted to us, and He makes new hearts in us. So through faith in Christ we are forgiven whatever we have sinned against God's law, and the Holy Ghost helps us to do at least something of the law. Whoever does not know this of Christ, as the Pharisees here do not, to him the law is only a burden and a curse, and helps him to despair and death.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 22:37–40 in King James wording. Dietrich has "Thou shalt love God" without Luther's "thy Lord" (deinen HErrn); das fürnemest/vnd das gröste is the King James "the first and great."
- The two questions. The scribe's question about the great commandment (Matthew 22:35–40) and Christ's question to the Pharisees, "What think ye of Christ? whose son is he?" (22:41–46), answered from Psalm 110:1, "The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand."
- "Service of God." Gottesdienst.
- "For our sins … for our righteousness." Romans 4:25, the text of Easter Day ([34]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 202–203)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/Wir sind ja arme ellende sünder/Deinen willen wissen wir/aber wir sind zu schwach/wir können jn nicht erfüllen/fleysch vnd blut ist in vns zu starck/So lest der leydige feind der Teuffel/vnns auch nicht zu friden/Darumb bitten wir dich/du wöllest deinen heyligen Geyst inn vnsere hertzē außgiessen/das wir mit festem glauben/vns an deinen Sun Christum Jesum halten/seines todes vnd sterbens vns trösten/vnnd volle vergebung aller sünden/durch jhn glauben/Vnnd also hie auff erden in deinem willen vnnd gehorsam heyligklich leben/vnd auff dein gnad/durch Christum Jesum seliglich sterben mögen/Amen.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father: We are indeed poor, miserable sinners; we know Thy will, but we are too weak to fulfill it, for flesh and blood is too strong in us; moreover, the hateful enemy, the devil, will not leave us in peace. Therefore we beseech Thee, shed Thy Holy Ghost in our hearts, that, in steadfast faith, we may cling to Thy Son, Jesus Christ, find comfort in His death and dying, and believe the full forgiveness of all sins through Him; and so here on earth lead holy lives in Thy will and obedience, and, trusting in Thy grace, die blessedly through Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "We are poor, miserable sinners" → "We are indeed poor, miserable sinners" (Wir sind ja arme ellende sünder).
- "but cannot fulfill it because of the weakness of our flesh and blood" → "but we are too weak to fulfill it, for flesh and blood is too strong in us" (aber wir sind zu schwach/wir können jn nicht erfüllen/fleysch vnd blut ist in vns zu starck). TLHy reverses Dietrich's point: the weakness is ours, and flesh and blood are too strong.
- "and because our enemy, the devil, will not leave us in peace" → "moreover, the hateful enemy, the devil, will not leave us in peace" (So lest der leydige feind der Teuffel/vnns auch nicht zu friden).
- "find comfort in His passion and death" → "find comfort in His death and dying" (seines todes vnd sterbens vns trösten).
- "believe the forgiveness of sin through Him" → "believe the full forgiveness of all sins through Him" (volle vergebung aller sünden/durch jhn glauben).
- "and in willing obedience to Thy will lead holy lives on earth" → "and so here on earth lead holy lives in Thy will and obedience" (Vnnd also hie auff erden in deinem willen vnnd gehorsam heyligklich leben).
- "until by Thy grace, through a blessed death, we depart from this world of sorrow, and obtain eternal life, through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord," → "and, trusting in Thy grace, die blessedly through Jesus Christ," (vnd auff dein gnad/durch Christum Jesum seliglich sterben mögen), as at [13]. "This world of sorrow" and "obtain eternal life" are not in the German; Dietrich's "through Jesus Christ" leads into the conclusion (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[65] Nineteenth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 203): Am neunzehendē Sontag wie Christus einem Gichtbrüchtigen menschen seine sünde vergibt/vnd jn gesund machet/Matth. 9. [On the Nineteenth Sunday: how Christ forgives a man sick of the palsy his sins, and makes him whole. Matthew 9.]

Verse (PDF p. 204)

> CHristus sprach: Auff das jr wisset das des menschen Sun macht habe/die sünde zu vergeben auff erden/sprach er zu dem Gichtbrüchtigen: Stehe auff/heb dein bette auff/vnd gehe heym/vnnd er stund auff/vnd gieng heym.

Christ said: That ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house. And he arose, and departed to his house.

> ERstlich lernen wir im heutigen Euangelio/wie kranckheyt durch sünde verursachet werde/Sonst solte der Herr dem Gichtbrüchtigen nicht ehe vergebung der sünden haben zugesagt/denn jn geheylet. Derhalb weil doch yedermā kranckheyt scheuhet/vnd gern gesunden leyb behalten wolt/soll sonderlich das junge volck sich für sünden hüten/vnd in Gottes forcht wandeln/Vnd wen Got angriffen/vñ mit kranckheit beladen hat/der versöne sich am aller ersten mit Gott/vnd sehe wie er von sünden ledig wer/so soll es mit der kranckheyt sich auch bald bessern.

First, we learn in today's Gospel how sickness is caused by sin; otherwise the Lord would not have promised the paralytic forgiveness of sins before He healed him. Therefore, since everyone shrinks from sickness and would gladly keep a healthy body, the young people especially are to guard themselves against sins and walk in the fear of God. And whomever God has laid hold of and burdened with sickness, let him first of all be reconciled with God, and see to it that he is rid of his sins; then it shall soon be better with the sickness too.

Secondly, we learn here where we are to seek the forgiveness of sins: namely, nowhere else than with the Lord Christ. He has left the office of preaching and the holy sacraments behind Him on earth, and has commanded that repentance and forgiveness of sins be preached in His name. Therefore, if you desire the forgiveness of your sins, seek it in the word and in the sacraments; and what the word promises you through Christ, receive with undoubting faith. Then it shall be done to you accordingly.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 9:6–7 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ said."
- Sickness and sin. Compare John 5:14: "sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee." wen Got angriffen … hat: whom God has seized, afflicted.
- "Repentance and forgiveness of sins … in His name." Luke 24:47. in seinem name is printed without a final n.

Prayer (PDF pp. 205–206)

> ALmechtiger Ewiger Gott/der du durch deinen Sun Christum Jesum dem Gichtbrüchtigen menschen an leib vnd seel/hast gnedigklich helffen lassen/Jch bit dein grundlose barmhertzigkeyt/sey mir auch genedig/vnnd vergib alle meine sünde/stercke meinen glauben/durch dein wort vnd heyligen Geyst/vnnd leyte mich also/das ich nit durch sünde zur kranckheyt/vñ anderm vnglück/vrsach gebe/sonder in deiner forcht mich halte/vnd also vom zeytlichen vnnd ewigem zorn vñ straff erledigt werde/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Almighty and everlasting God, who by Thy Son, Jesus Christ, didst graciously help the palsied man both in body and soul: I beseech Thy fathomless mercy: Be gracious also unto me; forgive me all my sins; strengthen my faith by Thy word and Thy Holy Ghost, and so lead me, that I may not by sin give occasion to sickness and other misfortune, but keep myself in Thy fear, and so be delivered from temporal and eternal wrath and punishment; through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.

This wedding is nothing else than the preaching of the holy gospel, in which God offers us, through His Son, the forgiveness of sins and eternal life. The Jews would not have this preaching; for they thought they had enough for salvation in Moses and the law, and had no need of the Lord Christ and His word besides. Some, as still happens today, made so much business for themselves with temporal things that they had no leisure to occupy themselves with the gospel. Now when God let the Jews go because of their unbelief, and called the heathen to this wedding, they came in great crowds. But here some are found who have not on a wedding garment. In holy baptism a pure and beautiful garment is put on us: namely, the forgiveness of sins through Christ, and righteousness. This garment we are to keep pure and clean, to grow and increase daily in faith, and to guard ourselves against sins. But if we fall, and soil this garment again by sin, we are to repent, that is, leave off our sins and pray for grace. But the greater part goes on in sins without any penitence. These have no wedding garment; and although they may hide themselves here on earth, yet on that day they shall be cast out and punished for their sins with the eternal flame. This Gospel, therefore, is a warning and an admonition that we are to hear God's word diligently and amend ourselves by it, or else look for the eternal wrath.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 22:11–14 in King James wording; Dietrich has "said" (sprach) for "saith," "his servants" for "the servants," and lacks "and take him away"; the translation follows him. in das finsternuß hinauß, "out into the darkness," is the King James "into outer darkness."
- The baptismal garment. Galatians 3:27, "as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ"; compare Isaiah 61:10, "the robe of righteousness."
- "Let the Jews go." liesse faren, let them go their way, gave them up.
- "Penitence." bußfertigkeyt.
- Misprint. Gottee for Gottes.

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, I thank Thee for Thy great mercy and kindness, that Thou hast caused me to come to Thy dear word, unto the joyful marriage-feast, and through Thy Son hast forgiven me all my sins; but, since daily temptation, offense, and danger are so many, and we are very weak in ourselves and strongly inclined to sin, I beseech Thee graciously to protect me by Thy Holy Ghost from every fall; and if I fall, and so defile my wedding-garment, with which Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, hath clothed me, graciously help me up again, and lead me to true repentance and to true faith in Thy mercy, and let me not sink forever; through our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- Person: Dietrich's prayer is in the first person singular ("I"), turning to "we" for the weakness common to all; TLHy makes it plural throughout. The revised text follows Dietrich, and a congregational form is supplied (§2.2).
- "that of Thy great mercy Thou hast called us by Thy holy word to the blessed marriage-feast of Thy Son" → "for Thy great mercy and kindness, that Thou hast caused me to come to Thy dear word, unto the joyful marriage-feast" (für dein grosse barmhertzigkeyt/vnnd gütigkeyt/das du mich zu deinem lieben wort auff die fröliche hochzeyt/kommen lassen). For Dietrich, coming to the word is coming to the wedding.
- "and through Him dost forgive us all our sins" → "and through Thy Son hast forgiven me all my sins" (vnd durch deinen Sun/mir all meine sünde vergeben hast).
- "being daily beset by temptation, offense, and danger, and being weak in ourselves and given to sin" → "since daily temptation, offense, and danger are so many, and we are very weak in ourselves and strongly inclined to sin" (Weil aber der teglichen anfechtung/ergernuß vnnd fahr/so vil ist/vñ wir für vns selb sehr schwach/vñ zur sünden hefftig geneyget sind).

The nobleman said unto Jesus, Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

Summary (PDF pp. 211–213). The paragraph break follows the print.

> DAs ist ein sehr feine Histori/da wir erstlich jnne sehen/wie vnser lieber HERR Christus so gern vnnd willig hilfft/weñ wir nur vmb hilff bey jm ansuchen/vnnd das vertrawen zu jm haben.

This is a very fine history, in which we see, first, how gladly and willingly our dear Lord Christ helps, if only we seek help from Him and have confidence in Him.

> Zum andern/lernen wir an dem Königischen/was ein rechter glaube sey/vnd wie er für vnnd für wachsse vnd zuneme/Er hette das vertrawen zu Christo/er würde seinem krancken Son helffen/Aber > solches vertrawen war noch gering vñ schwach. Denn er gedacht/wenn der Herr nit gegenwertig wer/würd er nicht können helffen/Darumb straffet jhn der Herr/Wenn jr nit zeychen vnd wunder [p. 212] sehet/spricht er/so glaubt jr nicht/Das ist/jr wölt den glauben inn den henden haben/vnnd nichts glauben was jr nit sehet. Aber glauben heyst/sich an das wort halten/vnd das vrtheyl nicht stellen nach dem die augen sehen/sonder nach dem die ohren hören. Derhalb da der Königische ferner vmb hilf anhelt/gibt der Herr jm das blosse wort/das er spricht: Gehe hyn/dein Son lebet/Solches wort glaubt der Königisch/vnd gehet hyn in vollem vertrawen/wie der Herr gesagt hab/also sey es/vnd findet sich auch also in der erfarung. Dahin soll vnd muß es mit vnns auch kommen/soll vns geholffen werdē. Vergebung der sünde/Gottes gnad/vnd das ewige leben/sehen wir mit augen nicht/wir hörens aber im wort/Wer nu das wort mit glauben annimbt/vñ zweiffel[et] nit/dem sol geschehē wie er glaubet/Vnd ob er gleich noch sünde fület/sollen doch die sünde durch Christum jm vergeben sein/Ob er gleych nichts denn den todt sihet vnnd fület/soll [p. 213] doch das ewige leben gewiß folgen/Wie der Herr etlich mal sagt: Dir geschehe wie du glaubest. Weyl aber der glaub nicht ein werck ist/das wir von vns selb vermögen/der heilige Geyst muß es geben/Derhalb soll ein yeder Christ Got ernstlich drum̃ bitten/vnd fleyssig sich zu Gottes wort halten.

Secondly, we learn from the nobleman what true faith is, and how it continually grows and increases. He had the confidence in Christ that He would help his sick son; but this confidence was still slight and weak. For he thought that if the Lord were not present, He would not be able to help. Therefore the Lord rebukes him: "Except ye see signs and wonders," He says, "ye will not believe"; that is, you would have faith in your hands, and believe nothing that you do not see. But to believe means to hold to the word, and to form one's judgment not by what the eyes see but by what the ears hear. Therefore, when the nobleman persists further in asking for help, the Lord gives him the bare word, saying: "Go thy way; thy son liveth." This word the nobleman believes, and goes his way in full confidence that as the Lord has said, so it is; and so he also finds it in experience. To this it shall and must come with us too, if we are to be helped. The forgiveness of sins, God's grace and eternal life we do not see with our eyes, but we hear them in the word. Whoever now receives the word with faith and does not doubt it, to him it shall be done as he believes. And although he still feels sin, yet his sins shall be forgiven him through Christ; although he sees and feels nothing but death, yet eternal life shall surely follow. As the Lord says more than once: "As thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee." But since faith is not a work that we are able to do of ourselves, but the Holy Ghost must give it, every Christian is to pray God earnestly for it and keep diligently to God's word.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 4:49–50 in King James wording, with Dietrich's "said unto Jesus" for "saith unto him." der Königische (Luther's word, "the king's man," a royal official) is the King James "nobleman."
- "Except ye see signs and wonders." John 4:48 in King James wording.
- "Faith in your hands." den glauben inn den henden haben: to want faith to be something one can hold and see.
- "As thou hast believed." Matthew 8:13 in King James wording; compare Matthew 9:29 and 15:28. etlich mal, "several times."
- "Not a work." Compare Ephesians 2:8, "it is the gift of God."
- Damaged type. In zweiffel[et] the letters after fel are smudged; zweiffelet is the likely reading.

Prayer (PDF p. 213)

Revised TLHy

> Almighty and everlasting God, who by Thy Son hast promised us the forgiveness of our sins, righteousness, and everlasting life: We beseech Thee, do Thou by Thy Holy Ghost so lead and quicken our hearts, that we may seek such help from Him in daily prayer, and especially in all temptations, and through a right and firm faith in His promise and word surely find and attain it, and at last obtain eternal salvation through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "the forgiveness of sins" → "the forgiveness of our sins" (vergebung vnser sünde).
- "so quicken our hearts" → "so lead and quicken our hearts" (vnsere hertzen also füren vnd erwecken).
- "that we in daily prayer may seek our help in Christ against all temptations" → "that we may seek such help from Him in daily prayer, and especially in all temptations" (das wir solche hilff durch tegliches gebet/vnd sonderlich inn allen anfechtung bey jm suchen).
- "and, constantly believing His promise, obtain that for which we pray" → "and through a right and firm faith in His promise and word surely find and attain it" (vnd durch ein rechten festen glauben/auff sein zusagung vñ wort/gewiß finden vñ erlangen).
- "and at last be saved, through Thy Son Jesus Christ," → "and at last obtain eternal salvation through Him," which is Dietrich's phrase (Vnd endlich durch jn ewig selig werden); the conclusion follows (§2.4c).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[68] Twenty-second Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 214): Am zwey vñ zwentzigsten Sontag/Das gleychnuß vom knecht der seym Herrn zehen tausent pfund schuldig war/vnnd hette nicht zubezalen/Matth. 18. [On the Twenty-second Sunday: the parable of the servant who owed his lord ten thousand pounds and had nothing to pay. Matthew 18.]

Verse (PDF p. 214)

> PEtrus sprach zum Herrn Jesu: Wie offt muß ich denn meinem Bruder vergeben/der an mit [sic, for mir] [s]ündiget? Jsts gnug siben mal? Jesus spricht zu jm: Jch sage dir nicht siben mal/sonder sibentzig mal siben mal.

Peter said unto the Lord Jesus, How oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven.

Summary (PDF pp. 215–216). The paragraph break follows the print.

> DAs gleichnuß von dē knechte/der seinem Herrn schuldig war/vnd nicht kondt bezalen/lehret vnns wie Gott sich gegen vns wölle halten/vnd wir vns gegen den leuten halten sollen. Alle menschen auff erden sind Gott schuldig/vnnd ist nicht müglich/das sie können bezalen/Deñ in sünden sindt wir > geboren/vnnd ist vns vnmüglich/das wir vns selb von sünden helffen/vnd die verderbte natur köndten endern. Darumb gehet des gesetzes sententz vnd vrtheyl vber vns/das wir den todt verschuldet haben. Wer nu solchen jammer sihet vñ weyß/vnd lest jm sein sünde leyd sein/vnd gedencket der schulde nicht mehr zu machen/vnd bittet alß denn Gott vmb gedult vnd vergebung/vnd hoffet durch Christum vergebung/Dem will Gott alle schuld nachlassen/vnd schencken frey lauter vmb sonst/vmb seines Sons Christi Jesu willen.

The parable of the servant who owed his lord and could not pay teaches us how God will deal with us, and how we are to deal with people. All men on earth are debtors to God, and it is not possible for them to pay. For we are born in sins, and it is impossible for us to help ourselves out of sins and to change our corrupt nature. Therefore the sentence and judgment of the law goes forth over us, that we have deserved death. Whoever now sees and knows this misery, and is sorry for his sin, and means to run up the debt no more, and then asks God for patience and forgiveness, and hopes for forgiveness through Christ, to him God will remit all the debt, and forgive it freely, purely for nothing, for the sake of His Son, Jesus Christ.

> Da soll aber ferner folgen/gleych wie Gott vns gnedig ist/vnd gern alles [p. 216] vergibt/wenn wir jhn drumb bitten/das wir der gleichen mit vnserm nechsten auch thun/gern alles vergeben/vnd vns nicht rechen sollen/Wer es aber nicht thun/mit den leuten vnfreundlich sein/vnd nichts will nachlassen/Dem will Got auch also thun/vnd nit das wenigste nachlassen. So last nun vns Gottes genad/so durch Christum vns widerfaren ist/erkennen/vnd jm drumb dancken/vnd gegen vnserm nechsten auch alle freundligkeyt vnd dienst beweysen/vnd allen zorn faren lassen.

But it is further to follow that, as God is gracious to us and gladly forgives everything when we ask Him, so we are to do the like with our neighbor, gladly forgive everything, and not avenge ourselves. But whoever will not do this, but will be unfriendly with people and let nothing go, to him God will do the same, and not remit the least thing. So let us, then, acknowledge God's grace, which has come to us through Christ, and thank Him for it, and show our neighbor too every kindness and service, and let all anger go.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 18:21–22 in King James wording, introduced by "Peter said unto the Lord Jesus." Dietrich's "Is it enough seven times?" (Jsts gnug siben mal, as in Luther) is the King James "till seven times?" In the print mit stands for mir, and the s of sündiget, at the start of the line, has not printed.
- "Ten thousand pounds." The heading follows Luther's zehen tausent pfund (King James "ten thousand talents").
- "Patience." The servant's plea, "Lord, have patience with me" (Matthew 18:26).
- "Sentence." sententz, from Latin sententia, a judicial verdict.
- "Run up the debt." der schulde … zu machen, to incur debt.
- "Avenge ourselves." vns … rechen (rächen).

Prayer (PDF pp. 216–217)

Revised TLHy

> Almighty, eternal God: We acknowledge that we are poor sinners, and deep in Thy debt; but with all our hearts we thank Thee, that Thou hast taken this debt from us and laid it upon Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, and made Him pay it for us: And we pray Thee also graciously to keep us in this faith, and by Thy Holy Ghost so to guide and direct us here on earth, that we may live according to Thy will, and gladly show our neighbor all love, service, and help; and, on the other hand, put away all anger, impatience, and vindictiveness, that we may not provoke Thy wrath against us, but always find in Thee a gracious Father through Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "O almighty, eternal God" → "Almighty, eternal God" (ALmechtiger ewiger Got).
- "We confess that we are poor sinners and cannot answer one of a thousand, when Thou contendest with us" → "We acknowledge that we are poor sinners, and deep in Thy debt" (wir erkennen/das wir arme sünder sind/vnnd tieff in deinem regiester stehen, literally "stand deep in Thy register"). TLHy substitutes Job 9:3 for Dietrich's image of the debt book, which belongs to the parable of the day.
- "all our guilt" → "this debt" (solche schulde).
- "and made Him to atone for it" → "and made Him pay it for us" (vnnd jn für vns hast bezalen lassen).
- "We pray Thee graciously to sustain us in faith" → "And we pray Thee also graciously to keep us in this faith" (Vnnd bitten dich auch/du wöllest in solchem glauben vns gnedig erhalten).
- "and so to govern us by Thy Holy Spirit" → "and by Thy Holy Ghost so to guide and direct us here on earth" (vnd durch deinen heyligen Geyst/hie auff erden also leyten vnd füren).
- "in neighborly love, service, and helpfulness" → "and gladly show our neighbor all love, service, and help" (vnd vnserm nechsten alle lieb/dienst vnnd hilffe gern beweysen).
- "and not give way to wrath or revenge" → "and, on the other hand, put away all anger, impatience, and vindictiveness" (Widerumb/allen zorn/vngedult vnnd rachgirigkeyt fallen lassen).
- "that we may not incur Thy wrath" → "that we may not provoke Thy wrath against us" (auff das wir deinen zoren wider vns nicht erregen).
- The conclusion is Dietrich's own (durch Christum Jesum … Der mit dir vnd dem heiligen Geyst/lebet vnd regieret/von ewigkeyt zu ewigkeyt). TLHy's "our Lord" and "one true God" are not in it and are dropped; nothing is added (§2.4g).
- "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit."

[69] Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 217): Am drey vnd zwentzigsten Sontag/wie die Phariseer Christum versuchen/ob man dem Keyser soll den zinß geben/Matth. 22. [On the Twenty-third Sunday: how the Pharisees tempt Christ, whether one should give tribute to Caesar. Matthew 22.]

Summary (PDF pp. 218–220)

> DJe welt hat die vnart/das sie in keinem ding maß helt. Weñ sie anfahet geistlich zu werdē/so wil sie gar geistlich sein/wie die München vnnd Pfaffen/sich allem weltlichem gehorsam entzogen haben/vnter dem schein/das sie Got möchten recht dienē. The world has this perversity, that it keeps measure in nothing. When it begins to become spiritual, it will be wholly spiritual, as the monks and priests have withdrawn themselves from all worldly obedience, under the pretext that they might serve God rightly. Likewise, where people get into worldly business, they care nothing at all for God, for His word, for conscience, for the eternal. So the Jews too imagined that they could not serve both the emperor at Rome and God. But the Lord rebukes this opinion, and says that both shall stand together: that one give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's. That is: God does not want everything from us. If we serve Him with the heart, in true faith, fear and calling upon Him, and love our neighbor, with that He will be content. On the other hand, we are not to give Caesar everything either. He has authority to command over money and goods, and over the body; with these we are to serve him. This is what God would have: that in these two services we show our obedience toward God and toward the secular authority. But where the obedience would collide, and the secular authority would take from God what is His, there one is to obey not men but God, and suffer whatever there is to suffer for it.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 22:21 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith"; Dietrich lacks "therefore."
- "Caesar." Keyser is both the King James "Caesar" and the ordinary word for the emperor; it is rendered "Caesar" where the verse is quoted or echoed, and "the emperor at Rome" for dem Keyser zu Rom.
- "Perversity." vnart, as at Pentecost ([43]).
- "Monks and priests." München vnnd Pfaffen; Pfaffen is disparaging, as at Exaudi ([42]).
- "Obey not men but God." Acts 5:29, "We ought to obey God rather than men."
- Misprint. wekliche for weltliche.

Prayer (PDF p. 220)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father: we thank Thee that Thou hast hitherto granted us gracious peace, and as a father hast protected us from war and foreign dominion: We pray Thee, give us Thy grace henceforth, that we may live in Thy fear and according to Thy will, and by sin give no cause for war and other like punishments; govern and direct our magistrates, that they may not hinder the obedience due to Thee, but further it, and that we may enjoy the more happiness and blessing under their government; through our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "granted us peace and graciously spared us" → "granted us gracious peace, and as a father hast protected us" (genedigen frid geben/vnd ... vns Vätterlich behütet hast).
- "graciously let us continue to live in Thy fear according to Thy will" → "give us Thy grace henceforth, that we may live in Thy fear and according to Thy will" (gib dein gnad ferner/das wir in deiner forcht/vnnd nach deim willen leben).
- "giving no cause for wars or other punishment" → "and by sin give no cause for war and other like punishments" (vnnd durch sünde nicht vrsach zu krieg/vnnd andern der gleychen straffen geben).
- "but maintain righteousness" → "but further it" (sonder fürdere), that is, the obedience due to God.
- "that we may enjoy happiness and blessing" → "and that we may enjoy the more happiness and blessing" (vnd wir dest mehr segens vnd glücks ... haben mögen).
- Dietrich gives no conclusion, so TLHy's ending is kept in italics.

[70] Twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 221): Am vier vnd zwentzigsten Sontag/wie vnser lieber Herr/des Obersten Dochter vom todt aufferwecket/vnnd vnter wegens dem krancken Weyblein hilfft/Matthei am 9. [On the Twenty-fourth Sunday: how our dear Lord raises the ruler's daughter from death, and on the way helps the sick woman. Matthew 9.]

Verses (PDF pp. 221–222). The two verses are printed as separate paragraphs.

> DAs Weyblin sprach bey jhr selb: Möchte ich nur sein kleyd anrüren/so würde ich gesundt/Da wendet sich Jesus vmb/vnd sahe sie/ [p. 222] vnd sprach: Sey getröst mein Dochter/dein glaub hat dir geholffen/Vnd das Weyb war gesundt/zur selben stundt.
> Alß Jesus in des Obersten hauß kam/vnd sahe/die Pfeyffer vnd das getum̃el des volcks/sprach er zu jnen: Weychet/denn das Medlin ist nicht todt/sonder es schlefft.

The woman said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole. But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise, he said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth.

Summary (PDF pp. 222–224). The paragraph break follows the print.

> DAS sindt zwo treffenliche Histori/in der ersten sehen wir/wie ein so gewaltiges mechtigs ding es vmb den glauben sey/wo man alles gutes sich zum Herrn Christo versihet/vnd auff sein hilff hoffet. Denn da disem weyblin zwölff gantze Jar/kein Artzt noch ärtzney kondte helffen/wirdt sie yetzund in eim augenblick gesund/da sie des Herren Christi kleyd anrüret. Solche krafft ist nicht im kleid Christi gestecket/Denn andere leut haben es auch angerüret/aber dadurch ist jnen [p. 223] nicht geholffen/Allein der glaub vnd das vertrawen/auff den Herrn Christum hat es thun/das sie den Herren Christum dafür hielte/er würde jhr helffen/wenn sie nur sein kleyd köndte anrüren. Solchem Exempel sollen wir folgen/vñ Gottes wort mit fleyß mercken/vnnd mit gantzem hertzen dran hangen/was es vns durch Christum zusaget/das es gewiß muß geschehen/es scheyne gleych so vnmüglich für der vernunfft alß es ymmer könne.

These are two excellent histories. In the first we see what a powerful and mighty thing faith is, where one looks to the Lord Christ for every good thing and hopes for His help. For although for twelve whole years no physician or medicine could help this woman, she now becomes whole in an instant when she touches the Lord Christ's garment. This power was not hidden in Christ's garment; for other people touched it too, but they were not helped by it. Faith and trust in the Lord Christ alone did it: that she believed of the Lord Christ that He would help her if she could but touch His garment. This example we are to follow: to mark God's word diligently, and to cling with our whole heart to what it promises us through Christ, that it must surely come to pass, however impossible it may seem to reason.

> Die ander Histori/vom verstorbnen Meydlin ist auch tröstlich. Denn Christus gehet nicht anders mit jhm vmb/denn alß schlieffe es/Er nimbts bey der hand/wie man ein schlaffendes mensch auffmundert/bald stehet das Meydlin auf/vnd lebet. Derhalb sollen wir den todt ansehen/nicht wie er gegen vns ist/Denn wir sind jm zu schwach/er tödet vns alle/sonder wie er gegen dem Herren Christo ist/da ist er nicht ein todt/sonder ein schlaff/Vnnd ist gewiß/alle so an Christum [p. 224] glauben/sterben nicht/sonder entschlaffen/Vnd ist dem Herrn Christo nur vmb ein wort zu thun am Jüngsten tag/so werden sie auß dem schlaff auffwachen zum ewigen leben.

The other history, of the little girl who had died, is comforting too. For Christ deals with her no otherwise than as if she were asleep. He takes her by the hand, as one rouses a sleeping person; at once the girl gets up and lives. Therefore we are to look at death not as it is toward us, for we are too weak for it, and it kills us all, but as it is toward the Lord Christ: there it is not a death but a sleep. And it is certain that all who believe in Christ do not die, but fall asleep; and on the Last Day the Lord Christ has but to speak a word, and they will wake out of sleep to eternal life.

Notes on the verses and summary

- The verses are Matthew 9:21–22 and 9:23–24 in King James wording. Dietrich begins "The woman said within herself" (King James "For she said within herself"). Luther's dein glaub hat dir geholffen ("thy faith hath helped thee") is given here in the King James form, "made thee whole," since the summary speaks of her becoming whole (gesund).
- "Twelve whole years … no physician." Matthew 9:20 has the twelve years; that no physician could help her is from Mark 5:26 and Luke 8:43.
- "Other people touched it too." Compare Luke 8:45, "the multitude throng thee and press thee."

- "He takes her by the hand." Matthew 9:25.
- "Has but to speak a word." ist dem Herrn Christo nur vmb ein wort zu thun; compare Epiphany 2 ([15]), "it costs Him no more than a word."
- Spelling. The girl is Medlin in the verse and Meydlin in the summary; getum̃el is getümmel.

Prayer (PDF p. 224)

> ALmechtiger ewiger Gott/der du durch deinen Son/vergebung der sünden/vñ rettung wider den ewigen todt/vns hast zugesaget/Wir bitten dich/stercke vns durch deinen heyligen Geyst/das wir inn solchem vertrawen auf dein gnad durch Christum/teglich zunemen/vnnd die hoffnung fest vnnd gewiß behalten/das wir nicht sterben/sonder sanfft entschlaffen/vnnd durch deinen Son Christum Jesum am Jüngsten tag/zum ewigen leben wider sollen aufferwecket werden/AMEN.

Revised TLHy

> Almighty and everlasting God, who by Thy Son hast promised us forgiveness of sins and deliverance from eternal death: We pray Thee, strengthen us by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may daily increase in such confidence in Thy grace through Christ, and hold fast and sure the hope that we shall not die, but peacefully fall asleep, and be raised again on the last day to eternal life through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "O almighty and everlasting God" → "Almighty and everlasting God" (ALmechtiger ewiger Gott).
- "forgiveness of our sins" → "forgiveness of sins" (vergebung der sünden).
- "We pray that by Thy Holy Spirit Thou wilt daily increase our faith in Thy grace through Christ" → "We pray Thee, strengthen us by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may daily increase in such confidence in Thy grace through Christ" (stercke vns durch deinen heyligen Geyst/das wir inn solchem vertrawen auf dein gnad durch Christum/teglich zunemen).
- "and establish us in the certain hope" → "and hold fast and sure the hope" (vnnd die hoffnung fest vnnd gewiß behalten).
- "but peacefully sleep" → "but peacefully fall asleep" (sonder sanfft entschlaffen).
- "and be raised again on the last day to eternal life and salvation; through our Lord, Jesus Christ, Thy Son," → "and be raised again on the last day to eternal life through Thy Son, Jesus Christ," (vnnd durch deinen Son Christum Jesum am Jüngsten tag/zum ewigen leben wider sollen aufferwecket werden). "And salvation" is not in the German; Dietrich's "through Thy Son" leads into the conclusion (§2.4c).

[71] Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 225): Am fünff vnd zweintzigstē Sontag/vom grewel der verwüstung/Matth. 24. [On the Twenty-fifth Sunday: of the abomination of desolation. Matthew 24.]

Verse (PDF p. 225)

> WEnn jhr sehen werdet den grewel der verwüstung/das er stehet an der heiligen stett/Alß denn fluhe auff die berge/wer im Jüdischen Land ist. Bittet aber das ewre flucht nit gescheh im winter/noch am Sabbath.

When ye shall see the abomination of desolation stand in the holy place, then let them which be in Judaea flee into the mountains. But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day.

Summary (PDF pp. 226–227). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DAs ist ein warnung für die Christen/das sie der straffe/so vber die vnglaubigen Juden ergehn must/entgehen solten. Denn diß hat Gott ye vnd ye gethon. Gleich wie er den rohen Gottlosen hauffen/endlich heimsuchet vnd straffet/Also errettet er die/so jn fürchten/vñ sein wort vor augen haben. Wie Petrus spricht: 1. Pet. 2. [sic, for 2. Pet. 2.] Der Herr weyß die gottseligen auß der versuchung zuerlösen/Die vngerechten aber/behalten zum tag des gerichts zum peynigen.

This is a warning to Christians, that they should escape the punishment which had to come upon the unbelieving Jews. For God has always done this: as He at last visits and punishes the coarse, godless crowd, so He delivers those who fear Him and keep His word before their eyes. As Peter says, 2 Peter 2: "The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished."

> Gleych aber/wie bey den Juden/die verwüstung muste folgen/da der grewel an der heyligen Stedte stunde/das ist/da an stadt des wort Gottes/die lügen vnd lesterung/vnd an stadt des heyligen Gottesdiensts/die Abgötterey mit gewalt gienge/Also gehet es noch heutiges tages/wo man wider Gottes wort tobet/es verfolget/Abgötterey verteydigt/vnd der gleychen thut/da hoffe niemandt bessers/es muß mit solchen leuten zu boden [p. 227] gehen/wenn sie gleych die mechtigsten auff erden weren.

But just as with the Jews the desolation had to follow when the abomination stood in the holy place, that is, when in place of the word of God lies and blasphemy held sway by force, and idolatry in place of the holy service of God, so it still goes today. Where men rage against God's word, persecute it, defend idolatry and do the like, let no one hope for anything better: things must go to ruin with such people, even though they were the mightiest on earth.

> Es ist aber tröstlich für die Christen/das der Herr sie heyst betten/das jr flucht nicht geschehe im winter/da das reysen schwer ist/oder am Sabbath/da es den Juden verbottē war/Denn damit lehret er/es wölle Gott das gebet der seinen erhören/vnd die straff vmb jres gebets willen lindern/Derhalb muß es bedes beysam̃ sein/das wir Gottes wort fleyssig hören/vnd es mit hertzen annemen/vñ vns drauß bessern/vnnd das wir mit dem gebet stetigs anhalten/das Gott für vnglück behütten/sünde vergeben/vnd vmb Christus willen vnser verschonen wölle/Amen.

But it is a comfort for Christians that the Lord bids them pray that their flight be not in the winter, when traveling is hard, or on the Sabbath, when it was forbidden to the Jews. For by this He teaches that God will hear the prayer of His own, and soften the punishment for the sake of their prayer. Therefore both must go together: that we hear God's word diligently, receive it with our hearts and amend ourselves by it, and that we continue steadfastly in prayer, that God would keep us from misfortune, forgive sin, and spare us for Christ's sake. Amen.

Rubric (PDF p. 227). Between the summary and the prayer, which follows on p. 228:

> Ende der Sontags Euangelien.

End of the Sunday Gospels.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 24:15–16 and 24:20 in King James wording, without "spoken of by Daniel the prophet" and "(whoso readeth, let him understand)," which Dietrich omits. wer im Jüdischen Land ist is the King James "them which be in Judaea"; fluhe is an old form of fliehe.
- Peter's word is 2 Peter 2:9, in King James wording; the print's "1. Pet. 2." is a misprint.
- The abomination. Dietrich explains it as lies and blasphemy in place of God's word, and idolatry in place of true worship (compare Daniel 9:27 and 11:31).
- "Coarse, godless crowd." den rohen Gottlosen hauffen.
- "Go to ruin." zu boden gehen, to go to the ground.
- Order. The rubric "End of the Sunday Gospels" stands after this summary and before its prayer; the sanctorale begins after the prayer, on p. 229.

Prayer (PDF p. 228)

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we most heartily thank Thee that by Thy word Thou hast led us out of the harmful error of the Papacy, and brought us to the true light of Thy grace: We beseech Thee, graciously keep us in that light, preserve us from all error and heresy, and by all means guard us, that we may not, as the Jews, become unthankful unto Thee, and despise or persecute Thy word, but receive it with all our heart, amend our lives according to it, and put all our trust in Thy grace alone and in the merit of Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "hast brought us out of the darkness of Papacy into the light of Thy grace" → "hast led us out of the harmful error of the Papacy, and brought us to the true light of Thy grace" (auß dem schedlichen jrrthumb des Bapstumbs/durch dein wort gefüret/vnd zum rechten liecht deiner gnaden gebracht hast).
- "mercifully help us to walk in that light" → "graciously keep us in that light" (du wöllest inn solchem liecht vns gnedig erhalten).
- "guard us from all error and false doctrine" → "preserve us from all error and heresy" (für allem jrrthumb vnd ketzerey bewaren).
- "and grant that we may not, as the Jews, become ungrateful and despise and persecute Thy word" → "and by all means guard us, that we may not, as the Jews, become unthankful unto Thee, and despise or persecute Thy word" (vnd ja dafür behüten/das wir nicht wie die Juden dir vndanckbar werden/dein wort verachten oder verfolgen).
- "govern our lives according to it" → "amend our lives according to it" (vnser leben darnach bessern).
- "and put all our trust in Thy grace through the merit of Thy dear Son, our Lord Jesus Christ" → "and put all our trust in Thy grace alone and in the merit of Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ" (vnd alles vertrawen allein auff dein gnad vnnd verdienst deines lieben sons Christi Jesu setzen).

- The conclusion is Dietrich's own (Der mit dir vnd dem heyligen Geyst/lebt vnd regieret/von ewigkeyt zu ewigkeyt). TLHy's "one true God" is not in it and is dropped; nothing is added (§2.4g).

PART II. SANCTORALE

Section title (PDF p. 229). The sanctorale opens with a title page of its own, above a woodcut of Christ on the shore calling fishermen from their boats and nets:

> Sum̃aria Christlicher ler auß den Euangelien der fürnembsten Fest durchs Jar.

Summaries of Christian doctrine from the Gospels of the principal feasts through the year.

[79] St. Andrew, Apostle (November 30)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 230): An Sanct Andreas tag/Wie er zum Herren Christo komen/vnnd zum Apostelampt beruffen sey/Johannis am 1. [On St. Andrew's Day: how he came to the Lord Christ and was called to the apostolic office. John 1.]

Verse (PDF p. 230)

Summary (PDF pp. 230–232)

The evangelist shows clearly how holy Andrew was moved by the preaching of John the Baptist to come to the Lord Christ in the first place. Therefore the most depends on such preaching; and there is still sure hope that, where it is diligently set before people, they too, like Andrew, will be led by it to the Lord Christ. When our dear Lord Christ went about on earth, He had no outward distinction, as John the Baptist says to the Jews: "He standeth among you, and ye know Him not." But when it happens one day that the Lord walks by the Jordan, John points to Him and says: "This is the Lamb of God." As soon as Andrew and his companion hear this, they follow the Lord Christ; for they understand what John means by this word, in calling Him the Lamb of God. The prophet Isaiah had said long before that the Messiah would be like a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and would not open His mouth. But that John calls Him not simply a lamb but the Lamb of God, they take to mean that God has ordained this Jesus, His Son, to be a sacrifice, and to pay with His blood for the sin of the whole world. Therefore they will abide with this little Lamb, learn and hear God's will from Him, and comfort themselves with His sacrifice. This we too are to do, and hold to this man alone, who died for us. Other saints did not die for us, and cannot help us either. Therefore we are neither to call upon them nor trust in them. But in the Son of God, who died for us, we cannot go wrong, as the promise is clear.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 1:35–37 and 1:40 in King James wording, with Dietrich's "Simon's brother" (King James "Simon Peter's brother") and without "which heard John speak, and followed him."
- "No outward distinction." kein sonders ansehen, no special standing or appearance. John's word is John 1:26, the verse of Advent 4 ([4]).
- Isaiah. Isaiah 53:7, "he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter … so he openeth not his mouth."
- "His companion." sein gesell, the other of the two disciples, whom the Gospel does not name.
- The saints. Dietrich applies the feast to the Lutheran rejection of the invocation of saints (compare Augsburg Confession, Article XXI).
- "Go wrong." fehlen, to miss the mark.

Prayer (PDF pp. 232–233)

> HERR Gott himelischer Vatter/der du durch den heyligen Johannem am Jordan/deinen son Christum Jesum inn der welt hast offenbar gemacht/Wir bittē dich/du wöllest auch vnsere hertzen durch deinen heyligen geyst rüren/das wir mit dem heyligē Andrea/vns solcher predig von deynem Son hertzlich annemen/jhn für vnsern Seligmacher erkennen/vnd jm nachfolgen/vñ ja kein verfolgung vns von jhm lassen abweysen/biß wir durch jn gar selig werden/AMEN.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who by Saint John at the Jordan didst make Thy Son, Jesus Christ, manifest in the world: We beseech Thee, move our hearts also by Thy Holy Ghost, that with Saint Andrew we may heartily embrace such preaching of Thy Son, acknowledge Him as our Savior, and follow Him, and by no means suffer any persecution to turn us away from Him, until we be wholly saved through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices. rüren means touch or move. vns … annemen (with genitive) means to embrace or take to heart. gar selig means wholly saved.
- Ending. Dietrich's closing "through Him" is moved to the end of its clause so that TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" can follow it; only the word order changes (§2.4c).

[80] St. Thomas, Apostle (December 21)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 233): An Sanct Thomas tag/Johannis am 20. [On St. Thomas's Day. John 20.]

Verse (PDF p. 234)

> CHristus spricht zu Thoma: Dieweyl du mich gesehen hast Thoma/so glaubest du/Selig sind/die nicht sehen/vnnd doch glauben. Dise zeychen sind geschriben/das jr glaubt/Jesus sey Christ/der Son Gottes/vnnd das jr durch den glauben/das leben habet in seinem namen.

Christ saith unto Thomas: Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed. These signs are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name.

Summary (PDF pp. 234–236)

> DAs Exempel mit Thoma/ist geschriben zum sonderen trost/den schwachglaubigē Christen/Denn weyl wir wissen/das der glaub allein vns selig machet/vnd aber befinden wie wir im glauben so gar schwach sind/vnd bald auch in geringer anfechtung vnnd not/alle hoffnung fallen lassen/daher förchten wir vns/vnnd besorgen/Gott wölle vnser nicht. The example of Thomas is written for the special comfort of Christians who are weak in faith. For we know that faith alone saves us, but we find that we are so very weak in faith, and soon, even in slight temptation and need, let all hope fall; and so we are afraid, and fear that God will not have us. But here take the example of the apostle Thomas before you, and see, first, in how great an unbelief he is stuck. He believes no more of the Lord Christ than of any other man. And when the women, Peter, the two disciples from Emmaus, and afterward the ten apostles and other disciples say that Christ is risen from the dead, they must all be liars to him; he alone will be right, that Christ is not risen. Next, see also how Christ deals with so unbelieving a pupil. Not one harsh word does He give him, but by the very means that Thomas himself proposes He helps him from unbelief to faith, and lets Thomas not only see Him, as the others did, but also touch Him. Learn from this, then, that our Lord God will bear with the weak in faith too, just as a rich man has in his house not only strong, healthy servants but also small, sickly children, who cannot be brought up without help and care. Yet it is to follow that we do not remain weak forever, but grow in faith from day to day through the word. But whether you believe firmly or weakly, this is true: that they are blessed who believe that Jesus is the Christ, that is, our Savior, and that through such faith (not through merit or our own works, as the papists teach) we are to have eternal life, as the evangelist John himself concludes this history.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 20:29 and 20:31 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith unto Thomas." Dietrich's "These signs are written" (Dise zeychen) takes "signs" from verse 30.
- The witnesses. The women, Peter, and the two disciples from Emmaus (Luke 24), and the ten apostles (John 20:19–25). "Must all be liars to him": müssen sie alle jhm liegen (lügen).
- "The very means that Thomas himself proposes." John 20:25, "Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails … and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe"; compare 20:27.
- "Will not have us." Gott wölle vnser nicht, will have nothing to do with us.
- "Help and care." hilff vnd wart (Wartung), tending.
- "Firmly." vhest is fest.

Prayer (PDF p. 236)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/der du durch deynen Son vns armen sündern rath vnd hilf hast schaffen wöllen/Sey mir gnedig/vnnd hilffe/das ich des vnglaubens mich erwehren/vnd mit gantzem vertrawen auff dein wort begeben möge/Vnd O du Son Gottes/der du den vnglaubigen Thomas in solcher sünde nit stecken lassen/sonder jm gnedigklich geholffen hast/Gibe dein heyligen Geyst auch in mein hertz/das ich an deiner gnad nymmer mehr zweiffle/sonder durch vesten glauben auff deine barmhertzigkeit ewig selig werde/Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who through Thy Son hast been pleased to provide counsel and help for us poor sinners: Be gracious unto me, and help me, that I may resist unbelief, and with entire trust commit myself to Thy word. And O Thou Son of God, who didst not leave unbelieving Thomas stuck fast in such sin, but didst graciously help him: Give Thy Holy Ghost into my heart also, that I may nevermore doubt Thy grace, but through firm faith in Thy mercy obtain eternal salvation, Thou who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Congregational form (TLHy practice)

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who through Thy Son hast been pleased to provide counsel and help for us poor sinners: Be gracious unto us, and help us, that we may resist unbelief, and with entire trust commit ourselves to Thy word. And O Thou Son of God, who didst not leave unbelieving Thomas stuck fast in such sin, but didst graciously help him: Give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts also, that we may nevermore doubt Thy grace, but through firm faith in Thy mercy obtain eternal salvation, Thou who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Two addresses. The prayer is in the first person singular and is addressed first to the Father and then to the Son. Because its last petition is to the Son, it takes TLHy's ending for a prayer to Christ (§2.4e).
- Rendering choices. rath vnd hilf means counsel (remedy) and help. sich … erwehren (with genitive) means to fend off or resist. sich … begeben auff means to commit oneself to.

[81] St. Stephen, Martyr (December 26)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 30): An Sanct Steffans tag/in den geschichten/wie er vmb des Herrn Christi willen/von Juden ist gesteyniget worden/Acto. 7. [On St. Stephen's Day, from the Acts: how he was stoned by the Jews for the sake of the Lord Christ. Acts 7.] In the 1548 book this section stands in the Christmas sequence, between Christmas and the Sunday after Christmas.

Verse (PDF pp. 30–31)

> DJe Juden steynigeten Steffanum/Er aber betet vnd sprach: Herr Jesu/niḿ meinen Geyst [p. 31] auff/er knyet aber nider/vnnd schrey laut/Herr behalt jn dise sünde nicht/vnd alß er das gesagt/entschlieff er.

The Jews stoned Stephen; but he prayed and said, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

Summary (PDF pp. 31–32)

In several sermons one after another we have heard of the office of our Lord Christ, and how we are to have the benefit of Him: namely, that through Him we are to have the forgiveness of sins, the Holy Ghost, and eternal life. But in this history of holy Stephen we see an example of how it shall go with us in the world when we rightly believe in Christ and confess Him: namely, that we must bear and look for all manner of misfortune. For the world and its lord the devil cannot bear such faith in Christ, and so he presses hard upon Christians until he kills them outright. Here we are to comfort ourselves with the example of holy Stephen, and learn from it that, wherever the like befalls us, we are to suffer all things gladly and forgive everyone from our hearts. For that a Christian dies is nothing evil, since the word of our Lord Christ stands there and says: "He that believeth in me shall never see death; and though he die, yet shall he live." Therefore Stephen, as concerns his own person, is well content. He commends his spirit to the Lord Christ, and knows that it is kept safe for ever. His only concern is for the blind persecutors; them too he would gladly see godly and saved. This we are to learn, and in temptation to be as patient, and to believe and love as finely, as he.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Acts 7:59–60 in King James wording, introduced by "The Jews stoned Stephen."
- "We have heard in several sermons." Dietrich refers to the preceding sections, Advent 1 to Christmas, all of which treat Christ's office.
- "Bear and look for." das wir vns leyden … gewarten müssen: sich leiden is to endure patiently, gewarten to expect.
- Christ's word combines John 8:51 ("he shall never see death") and John 11:25 ("though he were dead, yet shall he live"); it is given in King James wording.
- "It is kept safe." das er in ewigkeyt bewaret ist; er may be his spirit or Stephen himself.

Assignment: St. Stephen's Day, beside TLHy's present collect, which is not Dietrich's ("O eternal and merciful God, our heavenly Father, who didst give such grace to Saint Stephen…"; Appendix A, [82]). TLHy also has a second collect for the day, a Norwegian prayer of 1887 for use with its second and third series of texts, which give Christmas readings (Appendix A).

Prayer (PDF pp. 32–33)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/der du den heiligen Steffanum seins glaubens halb/leyden vñ steynigen hast lassen/vns damit anzuzeigen das dein reich nit von diser welt sey/sonder in ein anders leben gehöre/Wir bitē dich/wo wir vmb deines worts vñ namens willē auch müssen leidē/sterck vnser hertzē durch deinen heiligē geist/das wir fest bestehn/vñ vns mit deiner gnad/vnd den ewigen gütern/anstat der zeitlichen trösten mögen/Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst permit Saint Stephen to suffer and to be stoned for his faith's sake, thereby to show us that Thy kingdom is not of this world, but belongeth to another life: We beseech Thee, if we also must suffer for the sake of Thy word and name, strengthen our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may stand fast, and comfort ourselves with Thy grace and with the eternal goods in place of the temporal; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- God's purpose. vns damit anzuzeigen states what God intended, "thereby to show us." It is not something Stephen showed.

[83] The Holy Innocents (December 28)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 237): An der vnschuldigen kindlein tag/Matthei am 2. [On the Day of the Innocent Children. Matthew 2.]

Verse (PDF p. 237)

> HErodes schicket auß/vnnd ließ alle Kinder zu Bethlehem tödten/die da zweyjerig vnd drunter waren.

Herod sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, from two years old and under.

Summary (PDF pp. 238–239)

> DAs ist ein sonder grosser jammer/vnd vnerhörete Tyranney gewest/das so ein grosser hauffe junger kindlin sind erwürget worden. Aber es hat der leydige Sathan bald sich müssen lassen sehen/wie er gegen dem kindlin Jesu/vnd seim reych gesinnet sey/das er mit würgen/oder sonst in andere wege/es gedenck wüst zumachen/vnd zu tilgen. Aber da ist der trost fest vnd gewiß/weder Teuffel noch Tyrannen sollen es enden/Ob sie gleich etliche Christen hin reyssen/damit geschicht jnē nichts arges/Denn sie werden durch den todt von disem argen zeytlichen leben/gefürdert zum ewigen. Christus aber/vnd sein Reych wirdt nur ye lenger ye grösser/wie yener lehrer spricht: Es sey der Christen blut in der kirch/wie ein mist auf dem acker/der macht das feld fett vnd fruchtbar. Denn Herodes verursachet durch sein Tiranney/das das kindlin Jesus auch in Egypten/vnter den Heyden bekand wirt. [p. 239] Zum dritten/gibt es die erfarung/dz die Tyrannen/durch solches fürnemē jr zeytliches vnnd ewiges verderben fürdern/Herodes hat müssen mit der haut bezalen/das bey lebendigem leib würm in jm gewachssen/vnd er dermassen gestuncken hat/das kein mensche vmb jn hat können bleyben/vnd ist nach jhm sein gantzes geschlecht zu boden gangen/vnnd schendtlich verdorben vnd vmbkomen. Das heist wie Christus zu Paulo sagt/mit dem fuß in ein stachel schlagen/vnd jm selb alles vnglück zurichten/Das sol den Tyrannen/so die vnschuldigen Christen verfolgen/endlicher lohn sein.

This was an especially great misery and an unheard-of tyranny, that so great a crowd of young children was slaughtered. But the wretched Satan had to show at once how he is minded toward the child Jesus and His kingdom: that he means to lay it waste and destroy it, by slaughter or in other ways. But here the comfort is firm and sure: neither devil nor tyrants shall accomplish it. Even if they carry off some Christians, no harm is done to them by it; for through death they are sped from this evil temporal life to the eternal one. But Christ and His kingdom only grow ever greater, as that teacher says: the blood of Christians is in the Church like dung on the field, which makes the field fat and fruitful. For by his tyranny Herod brings it about that the child Jesus becomes known in Egypt too, among the heathen. Thirdly, experience shows that the tyrants hasten their own temporal and eternal ruin by such undertakings. Herod had to pay with his own skin: worms grew in his body while he was still alive, and he stank so that no one could stay near him; and after him his whole house went to ruin, and perished and was destroyed in disgrace. That is what Christ, speaking to Paul, calls kicking against a goad, and bringing every misfortune upon oneself. This shall be the final reward of the tyrants who persecute innocent Christians.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 2:16, shortened, in King James wording.
- "Lay it waste." es … wüst zumachen.
- "That teacher." Tertullian, whose saying is "the blood of Christians is seed" (Apology 50); Dietrich gives it with the image of dung on a field.
- Egypt. The flight into Egypt, Matthew 2:13–15.
- Herod's death. The worms and the stench are from Josephus's account of the death of Herod the Great (Antiquities 17.6.5). mit der haut bezalen, "to pay with one's skin," is to pay in one's own person.
- "Kicking against a goad." Acts 9:5 and 26:14, "it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks."
- Points. The summary has no "first" and "second"; "Thirdly" follows the two points introduced by "But."

Prayer (PDF pp. 239–240)

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who hast revealed unto us Thy Son, Jesus Christ, through Thy word: Thou seest how even unto this day the devil hath his Herods, and inciteth and driveth on against the word with all manner of persecution. We beseech Thee, restrain the harmful tyrants; pour out upon their own heads all the mischief which they devise against Thy Christian Church; and graciously grant us peace and quiet, that Thy word may spread abroad ever farther and farther, and that from day to day we may ever more and more know and praise Thy gracious protection and help; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices. reytzet vnd treibet has no object expressed in the German, so the English leaves none. auff jren kopf schütten echoes Psalm 7:16. ye lenger ye weytter/ye mehr means "ever farther / ever more."

[84] The Conversion of St. Paul (January 25)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 240): An Sanct Paulus bekerung/1. Timoth. 1. [On the Conversion of St. Paul. 1 Timothy 1.]

Verse (PDF p. 241). The heading stands alone on p. 240; a woodcut of Saul struck down from his horse heads p. 241.

> DAs ist gewißlich war/vnnd ein tewres werdes wort/das Christus Jesus kommen ist inn die welt/die sünder selig zu machen/vnter welchen ich der fürnemest byn/Aber darumb ist mir barmhertzigkeit widerfaren/auff das an mir fürnemlich/Jesus Christus erzeygte alle gedult/zum Exempel denen/die an jhn glauben solten zum ewigen leben.

This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief. Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

Summary (PDF pp. 242–243). The paragraph break follows the print.

> WJE Paulus/der ein hefftiger verfolger der Christen war/bekeret sey worden/da er auff dem wege gen Damasco war/zeyget die Histori fein an/in den geschichten der Apostel am 9. vnd 25. [sic] Cap. Wozu aber solche Histori diene/vñ was wir drauß sollen lernen/hören wir hie von Paulo selb/Nemlich/das wir > erstlich fest sollen glauben/Gott habe nit lust an des sünders todt/wölle auch nit/wie 2. Pet. 3. stehet/das yemandt verlorn werde/sonder das yederman sich zur buß kere/vñ selig werde. Darumb lest vnser lieber Herr Christus Paulum nit also in der verfolgung fort faren/er fordert jn dauon ab/vnd Paulus folget/Vnd noch für vnd für gehet vnser lieber Herr Christus vnns sündern mit seinem wort nach/rüffet vns/das wir von dem jrrweg ablassen/vnd vns bessern sollen/Denn dahin ist alle predig gerichtet/das man im namen Jesu Buß vnd vergebung der sünden soll predigen.

How Paul, who was a fierce persecutor of the Christians, was converted when he was on the road to Damascus, the history in the Acts of the Apostles, chapters 9 and 25, shows well. But what this history serves for, and what we are to learn from it, we hear here from Paul himself: namely, first, that we are to believe firmly that God has no pleasure in the death of the sinner, and also wills, as it stands in 2 Peter 3, that no one be lost, but that everyone turn to repentance and be saved. Therefore our dear Lord Christ does not let Paul go on so in persecution; He calls him away from it, and Paul obeys. And still our dear Lord Christ continually goes after us sinners with His word, and calls us to leave off the wrong way and amend ourselves. For all preaching is directed to this, that repentance and forgiveness of sins are to be preached in the name of Jesus.

> Zum andern sollē wir auch dem exempel Pauli folgen/vnd der himlischē offenbarung oder erscheynung nit vnglaubig sein/Bald Christus im gesicht jm anzeygt/er thue vnrecht/ist es jm leid/vnnd spricht mit zittern/Herr/was wilt du das ich thun soll? Also sollē wir auch thun/vns nicht vmb sonst lassen predigē/sonder erstlich von sünden ablassen/vñ vns bessern/vñ darnach durch den Herrn Christum Gottes gnad vnd barmhertzigkeyt gewiß hoffen/so soll das ewige leben folgen.

Secondly, we too are to follow the example of Paul, and not be disobedient to the heavenly revelation or vision. As soon as Christ shows him in the vision that he is doing wrong, he is sorry for it, and says with trembling: "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" So we too are to do: not let ourselves be preached to in vain, but first leave off sins and amend ourselves, and then hope surely for God's grace and mercy through the Lord Christ; so shall eternal life follow.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is 1 Timothy 1:15–16 in King James wording. The German "This is certainly true, and a precious, worthy word" (gewißlich war/vnnd ein tewres werdes wort) is the King James "a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation."
- "Chapters 9 and 25." Acts 25 contains no account of the conversion. Paul tells it himself in Acts 22 and 26, and the summary's second paragraph quotes Acts 26:19 (Luther: war ich der himlischen erscheinung nicht vngleubig, King James "I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision"), so "25" is probably a misprint for 26.
- "No pleasure in the death of the sinner." Ezekiel 33:11 (compare 18:23). "That no one be lost" is 2 Peter 3:9, "not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance."
- "Repentance and forgiveness of sins … in His name." Luke 24:47, as at Trinity 19 ([65]).
- "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" Acts 9:6 in King James wording, where Saul speaks "trembling and astonished."

Prayer (PDF p. 243)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/der du den heyligen Paulū so gnedig beruffen/von sünden abgewendet/vñ auß eim verfolger einē erweletē rüstzeuge gemachet hast/Jch bitt dich/gibe mir dein gnad/das ich dein wort vñ warnung auch mit ernst anneme/vber meine sünde hertzliche rew habe/dauon ablasse/vnd mich allein deiner gnad vñ barmhertzigkeyt durch Christū tröste/vñ durch jn ewig selig werde/Amē.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst so graciously call Saint Paul, turn him from sin, and make of a persecutor a chosen vessel: I beseech Thee, give me Thy grace, that I also may earnestly receive Thy word and warning, have hearty contrition for my sins, forsake them, and comfort myself only with Thy grace and mercy through Christ, and obtain eternal salvation through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Congregational form (TLHy practice)

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst so graciously call Saint Paul, turn him from sin, and make of a persecutor a chosen vessel: We beseech Thee, give us Thy grace, that we also may earnestly receive Thy word and warning, have hearty contrition for our sins, forsake them, and comfort ourselves only with Thy grace and mercy through Christ, and obtain eternal salvation through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices. The German is in the first person singular. erweletē rüstzeuge is "a chosen vessel" (Acts 9:15).
- Ending. Dietrich's closing "through Him" is moved to the end of its clause so that TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" can follow it; only the word order changes (§2.4c).

Denn warumb wolten oder solten wir vns für dem tod förchten/sintemal wir Gottes Heylande vnnd hilff haben/die vns in ewigkeyt nicht kan fehlen?

This is a short but very excellent sermon about the Lord Christ: what His office is, and for what we are to have the benefit of Him. Old Simeon calls Him God's Savior, that is, a help which God Himself has appointed for us men, so that we may be helped against sin, death, and Satan. Therefore we are to think and believe nothing else of God in heaven than that He is gracious and merciful, and loves us heartily, although we are poor sinners, since He Himself provides help and deliverance against sin and death for us lost and condemned men. But lest anyone should think that this help is meant for the Jews only, Simeon says that this Savior of God is prepared, that is, appointed and firmly established, for all peoples, for the heathen just as much as for the Jews. The heathen He is to enlighten, that is, to bring God's word and the knowledge of Him among them, so that they too may be saved; and to the Jews He is to be a glory, so that they come to honor, and sin and death may neither put them to shame nor overpower them. Therefore this fruit is further to follow in us, which we see in old Simeon. He is not afraid of death, but says that he will depart with a joyful heart when God calls him away. For why would we, or should we, be afraid of death, since we have God's Savior and help, which can never fail us?

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is the Song of Simeon, Luke 2:29–32, in King James wording, introduced by "Old Simeon said." Where the King James Version has "thy salvation," Luther and Dietrich have "thy Saviour" (deinen heyland), and the summary expounds that word, so "Saviour" is kept.
- The heading. nach den sechs wochen, "after the six weeks": the forty days of the mother's purification under the law (Leviticus 12:2–4; Luke 2:22).
- "Glory." preyß (Preis), praise and glory.
- "Calls him away." abfordere, summons from this life.

Prayer (PDF p. 247)

> HErr Got hymlischer Vater/der du deinen Sun vns zum Heylandt bereyttet hast/das er der Heyden liecht/vnnd der Juden preyß sol sein/Wir bitten dich/erleuchte vnsere hertzen/das wir dein gnad vnd Vätterlichen willen gegen vns in jm erkennen/vnd hilff vnd schutz/wider die sünd/verdamnuß vnd den Sathan an jm haben/vnd durch jn ewig selig werden/AMEN.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who hast prepared Thy Son to be our Savior, that He should be the light of the Gentiles and the glory of the Jews: We beseech Thee, enlighten our hearts, that we may know in Him Thy grace and fatherly will toward us, and have in Him help and protection against sin, damnation, and Satan, and obtain eternal salvation through Him, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- The quotation. der Heyden liecht/vnnd der Juden preyß is Luke 2:32 in Dietrich's own phrasing ("the glory of the Jews").
- Ending. Dietrich's closing "through Him" is moved to the end of its clause so that TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" can follow it; only the word order changes (§2.4c).

[86] St. Matthias, Apostle (February 24)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 247): An Sanct Matthias tag/Matthei am 9. [On St. Matthias's Day. Matthew 9 [sic].] The text expounded (PDF p. 248, "Kombt her zu mir/alle die jr mühselig vnd beladen seydt…") is Matthew 11:25–30.

Verse (PDF p. 248). The heading stands at the foot of p. 247; the woodcut heads p. 248.

> KOmbt her zu mir/alle die jr mühselig vnd beladen seydt/Jch will euch erquicken. Nemet auff euch mein Joch/vnd lernet von mir/Deñ ich bin sanfftmütig/vnd von hertzen demütig/so werdet jr ruhe finden für ewre seele. Denn mein joch ist sanfft/vnd mein last ist leycht.

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

Summary (PDF pp. 249–250)

> ES lehret vnser lieber Herr Christus im heutigen Euangelio erstlich/wie das Euangelion von den weltweysen verachtet vnd verfolget werde/Denn weil sie es nicht wöllen annemen/vñ mehr auff jr vernunfft/verdienst vñ macht/denn auff Gottes gnad bawen/lest sie Gott in solcher blindheyt jm̃er hingehen/Dagegen aber werden die armen ellenden gewissen/so jre sünden erkennen/vnd Gottes zorn fülen vnd fürchten/solcher predigt fro/vnd nemen sie mit hertzen an/Sie müssen aber auch redlich drumb herhalten/vnnd sich vom Teuffel vnnd der welt plagen lassen. Also spricht der Herr/wird euch mein joch sanfft/vnnd mein last leycht werden/Denn er will mit seim Geyst/vnnd durch sein wort bey vns sein/vnnd durch die gewisse hoffnung des ewigen lebens alles vnglück leicht vnd treglich machen.

In today's Gospel our dear Lord Christ teaches, first, how the gospel is despised and persecuted by the worldly wise. For because they will not receive it, and build more on their own reason, merit and power than on God's grace, God lets them go on and on in such blindness. But on the other hand the poor, wretched consciences that acknowledge their sins, and feel and fear God's wrath, are glad of such preaching and receive it with their hearts. But they must also pay for it in full measure, and let themselves be plagued by the devil and the world. Therefore our dear Lord Christ comforts them, and promises that, although they must suffer, yet He will give them rest and help them to bear it. They are only to be bold and of good courage, and to learn from His example, first, to be meek, that is, patient, and not to let the cross make them angry or impatient; and then also to be lowly, that is, they are to acknowledge that we are poor sinners, and often by sin ourselves give occasion for God to come with His little rod. They are therefore to bow down, not to want to rise up, but to let themselves be pressed down, until God provides gracious help and helps them up again. So, says the Lord, My yoke shall become easy to you, and My burden light. For He will be with us by His Spirit and through His word, and by the sure hope of eternal life make all misfortune light and bearable.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 11:28–30 in King James wording. The Gospel for St. Matthias is Matthew 11:25–30; the heading's "Matthei am 9." is a misprint (Appendix D). erquicken ("refresh") is the King James "give you rest," and the summary's "give them rest" renders the same word.
- "The worldly wise." weltweysen: Matthew 11:25, "thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes."
- "Pay for it in full measure." redlich drumb herhalten.
- "Meek … lowly." Dietrich explains the verse's two words: sanfftmütig, "that is, patient"; demütig, that is, acknowledging oneself a sinner.
- "Little rod." rütlein, a diminutive of Rute: God's fatherly chastening (compare Hebrews 12:6).
- "Bow down … pressed down." sich schmiegen, to bend, submit; sich lassen drucken, to let oneself be pressed down; embor is empor, "up."
- The prayer. The summary is proper to St. Matthias; the prayer printed after it is the Annunciation prayer (Appendix D, item 3).
- Misprints. durche for durchs; in erzüvnen a v stands for r.

Prayer (PDF pp. 250–251)

> HErr Got himlischer vater Wir dancken dir für deine vnaußsprechliche gnade/dz du vns arme sünder bedacht/vñ deinen Sun in vnser fleisch geschickt/vnd vmb vnsert willen hast lassen mensch werden. Vñ bitten dich du w[ö]llest [type damaged] durch deinen heyligen geist vnsere hertzen also erleuchtē/das wir vns seiner menschwerdung/leydens vnd sterbens trösten/jhn für vnsern herrn vnd ewigen König erkennen/vnd annemen/vnnd durch jn mit dir vnnd deinem heyligen Geyst/ewig leben/vnd selig werden/Amen/Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thine ineffable grace, that Thou hast been mindful of us poor sinners, and hast sent Thy Son into our flesh, and for our sakes hast suffered Him to become man; and we beseech Thee so to enlighten our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may comfort ourselves with His incarnation, suffering, and death, acknowledge and receive Him as our Lord and everlasting King, and through Him live eternally with Thee and Thy Holy Ghost, and be saved. Amen, Amen.

Notes

- A duplicated prayer. In this edition the Matthias prayer is the Annunciation prayer [87], differing only in spelling and in the doubled "Amen/Amen." It does not reflect the Matthias exposition, which treats the easy yoke and light burden of Matthew 11:28–30. The section's heading also misprints the chapter.
- Likely cause. Together these point to a printer's duplication. Comparing another edition of the Summaria would settle whether Dietrich wrote a distinct Matthias prayer.
- Ending. No TLHy ending is added (§2.4g).

The chief teaching of today's feast is this: that we are to consider with the utmost diligence what great, immeasurable grace God has shown us, in that He let His only-begotten Son come into our flesh and become a man like us. So now we can boast henceforth that, although Satan has dreadfully disgraced and weakened our flesh through sin, yet shame, weakness and all of it together has been taken away through the Son of God, since God Himself lives in our flesh. But it is not to stop at the boasting, although we are to thank God daily for such grace; we are also to consider the benefit. For this is a sure testimony that God is not the enemy of us men on account of sin, nor will let us be damned. For, as the angel says here, Christ becomes man for this reason, that He may sit on the throne of His father David, that is, that He may be King and set up His kingdom among us men, a kingdom that does not last for a time like the other kingdoms of the world, but is eternal. Now if we men are to come into this eternal kingdom of the Son of God, it follows that first, through this King, our sins must be atoned for, the Holy Ghost must be given to us, and we must become other men, wholly new-born. For if sin were to remain upon us, we could not live eternally. This grace and benefit that has come to us through the Son of God, that He sets up an eternal kingdom and has called us to it through His word and blessed baptism, we are to learn well, and thank God for it with our hearts, and guard ourselves against sins, so that we do not fall out of this eternal kingdom back into death. And there is no doubt that the Holy Ghost will graciously help us to this, if only we pray for it in earnest.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 1:30–33 in King James wording, introduced by "The angel said," without "for thou hast found favour with God," which Dietrich omits. With Luther, Dietrich has "he shall be a King over the house of Jacob" where the King James Version has "he shall reign," and the summary builds on the word "King," so it is kept.
- "Boast." rhümen, glory in.
- "Sits on the throne." Dietrich's sitze auff dem stul paraphrases the verse's "the Lord God shall give unto him the throne."
- "Wholly new-born." gar Newgeborne; compare John 3:3–5 (Trinity, [46]).
- The prayer that follows is the same text as at St. Matthias ([86]).

Assignment: The Annunciation, beside TLHy's present collect, which is not Dietrich's ("O almighty God, who of Thy great mercy didst cause Thy Son to be conceived by the Holy Ghost…"; Appendix A, [88]).

Prayer (PDF pp. 254–255)

> HErr Gott himlischer Vatter/Wir dancken dir für deine vnaußsprechliche gnade/das du vnns arme sünder bedacht/vnnd deinen Sun in vnser fleysch geschicket/vnnd vmb vnsert willen hast lassen mensch werden/Vnnd bitten dich/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst/vnsere hertzen also erleuchtē/das wir vns seiner menschwerdung/leydens vnnd sterbens trösten/jn für vnserm Herrn vñ ewigen König erkennen/vnd annemen/vnnd durch jn mit dir vnd deinem heyligen Geyst/ewig lebē vnd selig werden/Amen.

[89] Sts. Philip and James, Apostles (May 1)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 255): Am tag Philippi vnnd Jacobi/Johan. 14. [On the Day of Philip and James. John 14.]

Verse (PDF p. 256)

Christ saith: I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. For he that seeth me seeth the Father.

Summary (PDF pp. 256–258). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DJß ist ein hohe predigt/vñ lehret wie wir dazu mögen kommen/das wir Got eygentlich erkennen/Solchs ist die höchste kunst/Denn wer Gott recht erkennet/der hat das ewige leben/Johan. 7. This is a lofty sermon, and teaches how we may come to know God truly. That is the highest art; for whoever knows God rightly has eternal life, John 17. And it is certain that no one has this art but true Christians alone. Turks and Jews know that God created heaven and earth; with that they imagine that they have surely grasped God and know Him truly, whereas both Turks and Jews not only do not know the Lord Christ, but also blaspheme and deny Him. But Christ says here: I am the way on which you must go, if you would come to God. The world has indeed its own ways by which it trusts to come to God; but they are wrong ways, and lead into eternal death. But whoever has the Lord Christ as his way has the true way to the right knowledge of God and to eternal life.

> Wie gehet aber solches zu? Also. Sihe am ersten/wer Christus sey/So findest/das er Gottes Sun sey/von Gott dem Vater in ewigkeyt gezeugget/wie im andern Psalm stehet. Darnach sihe weytter was er thue? So findest/das er erstlich predigt/vnnd dich Gottes willen lehret/wie Gott durch jn/allen menschen von sünd vñ todt wölle helffen. Zum andern findest/das er sich hin gibt/an das creutz in den todt/vnd opffert sein leyb vnd leben für der gantzen welt sünde. Stehet darnach am dritten tag wider auf von dem todt/fehret gen himel/vnnd [p. 258] gibt den heyligen Geyst allen/so das Euangelion hören vnd annemen.

But how does this come about? Thus. See first who Christ is: you find that He is God's Son, begotten of God the Father from eternity, as it stands in the second Psalm. Then see further what He does: you find, first, that He preaches and teaches you God's will, how God will help all men from sin and death through Him. Secondly, you find that He gives Himself up to the cross, into death, and offers His body and life for the sin of the whole world. Then on the third day He rises again from death, ascends into heaven, and gives the Holy Ghost to all who hear and receive the gospel.

> Weil nun solches der Sun Gottes thut/vnd thuts auß des Vatters befelh vñ willen/Sage mir/was wilt du von Gott halten? oder was solt du vom [sic, for von] jm glauben? Jsts nicht war/du kanst jn anders nicht/denn für gnedig vnnd barmhertzig erkennen/der es mit vns menschen auff das freundlichest meynet/sintemal er nit allein vns erschaffen hat/sonder auch/nach dem wir durch die sünde in den todt gefallen/wider sünd vnd todt/durch seinen eingebornen Sun vns hilffet vnnd rettet? Das heyst Gott recht kennen/vnnd solche erkentniß bringt das ewige leben mit sich/Man kombt aber zu solchem erkentniß allein durch Christum. Wer den kennet/der kennet den Vater/wer jn sihet/der sihet den Vatter.

Now since the Son of God does this, and does it by the Father's command and will, tell me: what will you think of God? Or what are you to believe of Him? Is it not true that you can know Him only as gracious and merciful, as one who means it toward us men in the friendliest way, since He has not only created us, but also, after we had fallen into death through sin, helps and rescues us against sin and death through His only-begotten Son? That is to know God rightly, and such knowledge brings eternal life with it. But one comes to such knowledge through Christ alone. Whoever knows Him knows the Father; whoever sees Him sees the Father.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 14:6–7 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ saith," with the end of 14:9. There Luther and Dietrich have the present, "he that seeth me seeth the Father," where the King James Version has "he that hath seen me hath seen the Father"; the present is kept, because the summary ends with it.
- "John 17." "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17:3). The print's "Johan. 7." has lost the 1.
- "Turks and Jews." As at Trinity ([45]).
- "The second Psalm." Psalm 2:7: "Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee."
- "Means it toward us … in the friendliest way." der es mit vns menschen auff das freundlichest meynet.
- Misprint. vom jm for von jm.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast so clearly shown us Thy gracious will and loving heart in Thy Son, Jesus Christ; and we beseech Thee, cause us to grow from day to day in this knowledge, that in all manner of temptation we may comfort ourselves therewith, and through such hope overcome all things, and at last be saved; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways; to give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins, through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us.

Nemlich/durch den glauben an Christum/welchen er heist den auffgang auß der höhe.

These words teach how holy John is to carry on a special preaching, the like of which had never been heard before under the law. And holy Zacharias calls this preaching a knowledge of salvation, that is, a preaching by which we are saved. This is to come about thus: the merciful God sends His Son down from heaven, and through Him offers us the forgiveness of sins and eternal life, so that all who receive the Son of God and comfort themselves with His death, that by it He has paid for our sins and reconciled us with God, shall be saved and be children of God. This preaching holy John brings into the world. Therefore, as the angel says, we are to rejoice at his birth from our hearts, that God gives us such a preacher of grace, who does not, like Moses, only urge and insist on what we are to do and leave undone; but, since we cannot keep pace with Moses, John teaches how we are nevertheless to be saved: namely, through faith in Christ, whom he calls the dayspring from on high.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 1:76–78, from the song of Zacharias, in King James wording. Dietrich lacks the "for" before "thou shalt go."
- "Knowledge of salvation." erkentniß des heyles; Dietrich explains it as "a preaching by which we are saved."
- "As the angel says." Luke 1:14: "many shall rejoice at his birth."

- "Keep pace with Moses." mit Mose nicht hernach können: we cannot follow where the law of Moses leads, that is, cannot fulfil it.
- "He calls." er heist: Zacharias, in the verse, calls Christ "the dayspring from on high."

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee from our hearts for Thy great grace, that Thou didst not let it rest with the preaching of the law, but didst send Saint John, that he should point with his finger to Christ, and promise us through Him forgiveness of sins, holiness, and righteousness; and we beseech Thee also, enlighten our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may receive with true faith this preaching of grace by Saint John, and serve Thee without fear, in holiness and righteousness, all the days of our life; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- The closing clause. It is Luke 1:74–75 (the Benedictus), given in King James wording.

[91] Sts. Peter and Paul, Apostles (June 29)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 264): Am tag Petri vnd Pauli/Matthei am 16. [On the Day of Peter and Paul. Matthew 16.]

Verse (PDF p. 264)

> PEtrus sprach zum Herrn Jesu/Du bist Christus des lebendigen Gottes Sun/Jesus antwortet vnd sprach zu jm: Selig bist du Simon Jonas Sun/Denn fleisch vnd blut hat dir das mit [sic, for nit] offenbaret/sonder mein Vatter im hymel/Vnnd ich sage dir/du bist Petrus/vnd auff disen Felß will ich mein Kirch bawen/vnnd die pforten der Hellen sollen sie nicht vberweltigen.

Peter said unto the Lord Jesus, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven. And I say unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

Summary (PDF pp. 264–266). The paragraph breaks follow the print.

> DAs ist ein feyne lehr/von der Christlichen Kirchen/was sie sey/wo bey man sie soll kennen/vnnd wie es jr auf erden werde gehn. Die Christlich Kirch heyst das heufflein/das mit Petro bekennet/diser Jesus/der Junckfrawen Marien Sun/sey [p. 265] der Christ/vnd des lebendigen Gottes Sun/das ist/Got hab jn gesalbet/vnnd dazu gesendet/das er für aller welt sünde bezalen/den todt würgen/vnnd/alle so an jhn glauben/soll selig machen. This is a fine teaching about the Christian Church: what it is, by what it is to be known, and how it will go with it on earth. The Christian Church is the name of the little flock that confesses with Peter that this Jesus, the son of the Virgin Mary, is the Christ and the Son of the living God; that is, that God has anointed Him and sent Him to this end, that He should pay for the sin of all the world, slay death, and save all who believe in Him. Whoever believes this of the Lord Christ, and holds it for true and beyond doubt, and therefore comforts himself with God's grace, is a member of the true Christian Church, and is blessed with Peter, and has the Holy Ghost. For flesh and blood cannot believe this of itself; the Father in heaven must kindle this light in the heart by His Holy Ghost.

> Weil aber der Herr sagt/er wölle sein kirch auff solches bekendtnuß bawen/folget das die Kirch kein gewissers gemerck noch zeychen hab/denn dises bekentnuß. Wo das gehet/da ist die Christliche kirch/ob sie gleich nicht scheynet das sies sey/Widerumb/wo diß bekentnuß nit recht gehet/da ist kein Christliche kirch/ob sie gleich den scheyn vnd Namen hat. Es schliessen [p. 266] sich aber inn diß bekendtnuß mit ein/die heylige Tauff/vnd das Nachtmal des Herrn/Denn der Herr Christus wirdt in beden bekennet vnd gepreyset/das er für vnsere sünde bezalet/vnd vns mit Gott versönet habe.

But since the Lord says that He will build His Church on this confession, it follows that the Church has no surer mark or sign than this confession. Where it is made, there is the Christian Church, even though it does not appear to be so. On the other hand, where this confession is not rightly made, there is no Christian Church, even though it has the appearance and the name. But holy baptism and the Lord's Supper are included in this confession; for in both the Lord Christ is confessed and praised as having paid for our sins and reconciled us with God.

> Zum dritten/sagt der Herr/die kirch werde vmb diß bekendtnuß willen/der hellen pforten/das ist/den Sathan mit all seinem Reych vnnd vermögen/zu feynde haben/Weyl aber der Sathan ein Fürst vnd Gott der welt ist/folget/das er die welt wider diß bekentnuß erregen/vnnd es zu dempffen werde fürnemen/Solchs kan on grosse fahr vnd not der armen Christen nicht abgehen/Vnd dennoch tröstet der Herr/es soll seine Kirch bleyben/Der Teuffel aber mit all seiner macht/müsse ablassen vñ zu schanden werden. An solchen trost sollen wir vns vhest halten/vnd Got vmb schutz auch bitten.

Thirdly, the Lord says that the Church, on account of this confession, will have the gates of hell, that is, Satan with all his kingdom and power, for its enemy. And since Satan is a prince and god of the world, it follows that he will stir up the world against this confession and undertake to stifle it. This cannot happen without great danger and distress for poor Christians. And yet the Lord gives the comfort that His Church shall remain, while the devil with all his might must give up and be put to shame. To this comfort we are to hold fast, and also pray God for protection.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 16:16–18 in King James wording, introduced by "Peter said unto the Lord Jesus." Luther's "Simon, Jonas' son" (Simon Jonas Sun) is the King James "Simon Barjona." The print's mit is a misprint for nit.
- "Is blessed with Peter." ist mit Petro selig, taking up the verse's "Blessed art thou."
- The mark of the Church. Dietrich makes the confession of Christ its surest mark, with baptism and the Supper included in it; compare the Augsburg Confession, Article VII.
- "Where it is made." Wo das gehet, where it is current, where it has its course.
- "Prince and god of the world." John 12:31, "the prince of this world"; 2 Corinthians 4:4, "the god of this world."

Prayer (PDF p. 267)

> ALmechtiger/ewiger Got/wir dancken dir/das du vns zum erkentnuß deines liebē Suns hast lassen kommen/vnd bitten dich/weyl doch der Sathan auff allen seyten wider vns fichtet/vnnd von solchem erkendtnuß vns begeret zu dringen/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst vns regieren vnd füren/das wir biß an vnser ende in solchem erkendtnuß vhest bleyben/vnd selig werden/durch Christum Jesum deinen Sun/vnnd vnsern Herrn/Amen.

New translation

> Almighty and everlasting God, we thank Thee that Thou hast brought us to the knowledge of Thy dear Son; and we beseech Thee, since Satan fighteth against us on every side and seeketh to drive us from this knowledge, govern and direct us by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may abide steadfast in this knowledge unto our end, and be saved; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices. vhest = fest, "steadfast." regieren vnd füren is TLHy's "govern and direct" (Advent 1).
- Ending. Dietrich's own close, "through Jesus Christ, Thy Son and our Lord," is continued with TLHy's "who liveth and reigneth…" (§2.4d).

For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; and holy is his name. And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation. He hath shewed strength with his arm; he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree. He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away. He remembereth his mercy, and hath holpen his servant Israel; as he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

The Virgin Mary is moved to this beautiful sermon, about God and His grace and how we are to prepare ourselves for it, by her kinswoman Elizabeth, because Elizabeth praises and extols her so highly, and calls her the blessed, or most renowned, among women. Yes, says the Virgin Mary, it is indeed true: God has shown me an especially great grace, in which I must rejoice from my heart, and for which I must praise and thank God; for I am but a poor, lowly, insignificant girl. But, dear Elizabeth, although this great grace has befallen me alone, yet God will be merciful and gracious not to me alone but to all men, if only they fear Him and apply themselves to His word and will. But whoever will not fear God, and, as is the perversity of men, would comfort himself with his wisdom, his power or his riches, and pride himself on them, him God will punish without any grace, so that such people become fools, perish and suffer want. Therefore let everyone learn to fear God, that is, to hear God's word and follow it; then there shall be no danger, although we are poor, wretched, despised and unhappy. God well knows how to lift us up and make us rich. And at last this grace too shall follow: that God will let such God-fearing hearts come to the promise made to Abraham, and save them eternally through His Son, Jesus Christ. So the Virgin Mary teaches that we are to fear God, and guard ourselves most diligently against pride, as against the abomination that God cannot endure; then God will be with us with temporal and eternal blessing.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is the Magnificat, Luke 1:46–55, in King James wording. Luther and Dietrich put the second half in the present tense ("He sheweth strength … He putteth down the mighty"), where the King James Version has the past; the King James wording is kept.
- Order in the book. The Visitation (July 2) is printed after Mary Magdalene (July 22) (Appendix D, item 6).
- "Kinswoman." Mume is an aunt or female relative; the King James Version calls Elizabeth Mary's "cousin" (Luke 1:36).
- "The blessed … among women." Luke 1:42. gebenedeyte (from Latin benedicta) is glossed by Dietrich as berümbtiste, "most renowned."
- "Unhappy." hartselig, the opposite of glückselig.
- "The promise made to Abraham." verheyssung Abrahe (Latin genitive), taking up Luke 1:55.
- "The abomination." Compare Proverbs 16:5, "Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD."

Prayer (PDF pp. 275–276)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/Wir dancken dir für alle deine wolthat/leiblich vnnd geystlich/die du so reychlich [catchword "reichlich"] vns hast widerfaren lassen/Vnd bitten dich/behüte für hoffart/vnd sicherheyt/das wir nicht in vndanck vnd sünd gerathen/vnnd dein huld verlieren/wie die liebe Junckfraw Maria drowet/dz weder weißheyt/gewalt noch gelt die helffen sol/die dich nicht förchten/Gib aber vns ein solches hertz/das für vnnd für in deiner forcht bleybe/vnnd an deinem wort hange/auf das dein segen bey vns bleybe/vnd wir durch dein gnad ewig selig werden/AMEN.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for all Thy benefits, bodily and spiritual, which Thou hast so richly bestowed upon us; and we beseech Thee, keep us from pride and carnal security, that we fall not into ingratitude and sin, and lose Thy favor; as the dear Virgin Mary threateneth, that neither wisdom, power, nor money shall help them that fear Thee not. But give us such a heart as may abide evermore in Thy fear, and cleave unto Thy word, that Thy blessing may remain with us, and we through Thy grace obtain eternal salvation; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Supplied object. behüte has no object in the German; "us" is supplied, as TLHy does with the same construction at Epiphany 5.
- "Threateneth." drowet (dräuet) means "threatens." It reads the Magnificat (Luke 1:51–53) as a threat against the proud, the mighty and the rich, here wisdom, power and money.

[93] St. Mary Magdalene (July 22)

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 267): Am tag Marie Magdalene/welches Fest wir am 7. Sontag nach Trinitatis halten/Lu. 7. [On the Day of Mary Magdalene, which feast we keep on the Seventh Sunday after Trinity. Luke 7.] In the 1548 book this section (pp. 267–271) is printed before the Visitation.

Verse (PDF p. 268). The heading stands at the foot of p. 267; the woodcut heads p. 268.

> DAs Weyb tratt hinden zu des Herren Jesu füssen/vnnd weynet/Vnnd fieng an seine füsse zu netzen mit threnen/vnd mit den haren jres haubts zu trücknen/vnd küsset seine füß/vnnd salbet sie mit köstlichem wasser. The woman stood behind at the Lord Jesus' feet, weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with precious water. And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven. Thy faith hath helped thee; go in peace.

The evangelist says that this woman had been a sinner. Now since at the end the Lord gives her this excellent comfort, and says, "Thy sins are forgiven," the chief and best teaching is this: that we see and learn from her how she came to the forgiveness of sins. Now we see that she does no more than come to the Lord Christ, humble herself before Him, and weep bitterly, with the confidence (as the Lord clearly shows here, when He says, "Thy faith hath helped thee") that He will be gracious to her and show her help. This is the way that we too must go when we desire the forgiveness of sins. In the papacy it was taught that one must confess, make satisfaction for sin with special works, and seek and buy the intercession and merit of the saints, etc. But that is nothing but lies and seduction. The beginning is to be this: that your sins grieve you heartily, and that you are wholly resolved not to continue in sins any longer, but to amend yourself with God's help. This you see in this woman here; for her violent weeping and sighing comes only from this, that she would gladly be free from sins. Next, betake yourself to the Lord Christ Jesus with firm confidence that He will take your need to heart and help you, as He is called Jesus and a Savior for this very reason, that He will not leave us stuck fast in sin and death. And that is to seek and find the Lord Christ: when you receive His word with faith, and hope for the forgiveness of sins through His death, as He promises it to you in baptism, in the Supper, and elsewhere. But this fruit too is to follow: that you keep yourself in the fear of God and guard yourself against sins; for otherwise, if you would go on in sins, there would be no true earnestness in your repentance. But if you fall into sin out of weakness, you are to return through repentance and leave off sins.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 7:38, 48 and 50, introduced by "The woman," in King James wording, with "helped thee" for "saved thee," as at Quinquagesima ([23]), because the summary takes up the word. Where Luther and the King James Version have "anointed them with the ointment" (mit Salben), Dietrich has mit köstlichem wasser, "with precious water," a perfumed water; it is translated as he has it.
- The feast. The heading says that the feast of Mary Magdalene is kept on the Seventh Sunday after Trinity (Appendix D, item 6). Dietrich, like the Gospel of the day, identifies her with the sinful woman of Luke 7:36–50.
- "Make satisfaction." gnugthun: satisfaction, with contrition and confession, was one of the three parts of penance in the medieval system. Dietrich instead names the two parts of repentance of the Augsburg Confession, Article XII: contrition ("that your sins grieve you heartily") and faith ("Next, betake yourself to the Lord Christ … with firm confidence").
- "Jesus and a Saviour." Compare Matthew 1:21, as at New Year ([8]).
- "Weakness." schwacheyt, as printed (for schwachheyt).
- Misprints. On consecutive lines of p. 269 the a and the g have changed places: aewest for gewest and gm for am. In annemen (p. 270) the second n is damaged and looks like ni.

Prayer (PDF p. 271)

> O Jesu du Sun des lebendigen Gottes/der du vmb der sünder willen auff erden koḿen/vnd am creutz für sie bist gestorben/Wir bitten dich/gib deinen heyligen Geyst inn vnsere hertzen/das er rechte rew vnser sünden in vns/vnnd vestes vertrawen auff dein verdienst vnd gnad anrichte/auff das wir vns wider die sünd vnd böses gewissen/auffhalten/vnnd mit der lieben Magdalena/durch den glauben/im fride hingehen/dich loben/preysen/vnd lieben in ewigkeyt/Amen.

New translation

> O Jesus, Thou Son of the living God, who for sinners' sake didst come upon earth, and didst die for them upon the cross: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that He may work in us true contrition for our sins, and firm trust in Thy merit and grace; that we may uphold ourselves against sin and an evil conscience, and with the beloved Magdalene, through faith, go in peace, and praise, glorify, and love Thee for ever, Thou who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Address and ending. The prayer is addressed to Christ. Its opening follows TLHy's Trinity 5 pattern, and so does the ending, TLHy's form for a prayer to Christ (§2.4e).
- Rendering choices. im fride hingehen echoes Luke 7:50 ("go in peace"). vns … auffhalten means to uphold ourselves.

But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be mighty among you, shall be your minister: and whosoever will be the chiefest, shall be your servant. For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

This teaching applies chiefly to the ministers of the Church: that they are to guard themselves against this temptation, and are not to strive after power and temporal pomp. That befits those who are in secular offices; for they must have power and might, so that they may restrain wrong and offenses and keep their subjects in peace. But whoever has been entrusted with the office of preaching, let him consider that he must serve, and not only serve but also suffer for it; for the world gives no other wage. It is the enemy of the word and of those who confess it and carry it on, and neither can nor will tolerate it. All preachers and ministers of the Church are to make up their minds to this, and be well prepared and armed against this danger. But whoever, like the Pope, the cardinals and bishops, priests and monks, and in sum the whole papacy throughout, misuses the office of preaching or of the Church for his own glory, power and riches, is no disciple of Christ. For here it stands: "So shall it not be among you"; that is, you are to be servants and not lords, and when you have served most faithfully, you are to expect all manner of ingratitude from the wicked world. Now if that hurts, then look here at Me: how I not only serve, but also suffer for it, and give up body and life in this service, so that you may be helped and provided for. Consider this example: although you serve other people, I too have served you and all the world, and by My death redeemed you from sin and death. O a hearty, beautiful warning and exhortation! God grant that we all, but especially the ministers of the Church, take it to heart, and guard ourselves against pride, covetousness, envy and the like.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Mark 10:42–45, from the Gospel of the sons of Zebedee, in King James wording, introduced by "The Lord Jesus called His disciples to Him." Where Dietrich differs from the King James Version in ways the summary takes up, he is followed: "the worldly princes rule, and the overlords have power" (King James "they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them"); "mighty" (gewaltig) for "great"; and "your servant" for "servant of all."
- The woodcut (p. 277) shows a woman kneeling with two young sons before Christ, who holds a cup: the mother of Zebedee's children (Matthew 20:20–22).
- "Look here at Me." Dietrich again slips into Christ's own voice (compare [29]).
- "Make up their minds to." sich erwegen, as at Epiphany 4 ([18]).
- "Priests and monks." Pfaffen vnd München, as at Exaudi ([42]) and Trinity 23 ([69]).

Prayer (PDF p. 280)

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, the cross grieveth us sore, and we would gladly be spared it. But Thou first didst not spare Thine own only-begotten Son, who must needs come to His glory through the cross and suffering; and Thou willest that all we Christians should follow such a Captain and be made like unto Him. Therefore we beseech Thy fathomless mercy, grant by Thy Holy Ghost that in suffering we become neither fainthearted nor impatient, but through the hope of the glory to come overcome all misfortune with strong faith; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Scripture echoes. Hertzog is "Captain," as in Hebrews 2:10 (Luther: "Herzog ihrer Seligkeit"; King James: "captain of their salvation"). müssen kommen echoes Luke 24:26, and nicht verschonet echoes Romans 8:32.

This Gospel has almost the same meaning as the last, on St. James's Day. For at the Last Supper a dispute arose among the disciples, when they heard that the Lord was going to go away from them, which of them should then be accounted the greatest, the one to whom all the others would look and by whose command they would conduct themselves. But the Lord gives them this answer: ruling belongs to worldly kings and lords; "but ye," He says, "shall not be so: but whoever among you would be the chiefest, let him be as he that doth serve." After such a word, just consider whether the Pope too abides by it, who would be lord over all churches and alone have the power to forgive sins. For he claims the keys for himself alone, as if no one could have or use them unless he had them from him; whereas the Lord makes all His apostles equal, and will prefer none above another: all alike are to serve, and none is to rule or be the chiefest. Whoever now attends diligently to this command shall receive his reward for it, not here on earth, but in eternal life. For the Lord says: "I appoint unto you the kingdom, as my Father hath appointed it unto me"; that is, you are to be lords and to reign, but not on earth: your lordship shall be in a better life. For so My Father has appointed the kingdom to Me too: that here on earth I should serve and suffer, and through much tribulation enter into glory. Be content, then, with this: that, as My nearest and dearest friends, you are to eat and drink at My table; that is, it shall go with you as it goes with Me. For you carry on the very office that I carry on. Here on earth you are to serve and suffer; but after this life you are to have eternal joy and glory.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Luke 22:29–30 in King James wording, introduced by "Christ said unto His disciples." bescheyden is "appoint" (as by will or decree).
- "The last, on St. James's Day." dem nechsten, the section immediately before, on Mark 10:42–45 ([94]).
- The dispute. Luke 22:24–27, "there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest … he that is chief, as he that doth serve," the opening of this Gospel.
- The keys. Dietrich denies the papal claim to sole possession of the keys: Christ gave them to all the apostles (Matthew 18:18; John 20:23; see Easter 1, [36]).
- "Through much tribulation." Acts 14:22.
- "Be content with this." Da seyt nun mit zu friden, where mit stands for damit. Dietrich again speaks in Christ's voice.

Prayer (PDF p. 284)

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, Thou hast furnished Thy Church with faithful servants, who should bear Thy word, and by their ministry bring every man to know Thee, to walk in Thy fear, and through Christ to be saved: We beseech Thee, govern all such servants of the Church by Thy Holy Ghost, that they may faithfully wait on their ministry, and be neither beguiled by Satan through covetousness, pride, or aught else, nor grow slack and slothful in their ministry; that Thy kingdom may be increased, and that of Satan destroyed; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices.
  - Dienern … Kirchendiener are both given as "servants," to keep Dietrich's link. TLHy renders Kirchendiener as "pastors" at the Ascension.
  - trewlich warten is "faithfully wait on" (cf. Romans 12:7, King James).
  - bethöret means befooled or beguiled.
- Date. Stratman dates this feast August 25; the traditional date is August 24.

The Pharisees give the Lord Christ occasion for this sermon, for they took it ill of Him that He had fellowship with the publicans. But He will not be rebuked for it, and will have the right on His side. For, He says, I am a physician against sin. Now as a physician of the body is to go to sick people, and by reason of his office is to be among sick people, so it is My office to be among sinners, that I may call them to repentance and set them free from sins. Mark this sermon with the utmost diligence. For our greatest temptation, care and distress is that on account of our sins we are afraid of God. If, then, you are a sinner, what will you do? Will you despair? O no! For hear this: there is a physician against sin. Who is He? It is the Son of God, our dear Lord Christ. What medicine does He use? This: that He calls to repentance; that is, He exhorts us to fear God, not to go on securely in sins, to consider God's wrath and judgment, and to leave off sins; and then to comfort ourselves with this, that He, the Son of God, offers Himself up for us on the cross and pays for our sins with His life. Whoever does both of these is helped from his sins. But you must not only acknowledge this sickness, but also follow the physician, and not do as intractable, disobedient patients do, who will not take what the physician gives them, but eat and drink what is most harmful to them. Guard yourself against that; follow your faithful physician. If it hurts you to leave off unchastity, covetousness, anger and the other sins to which you have grown accustomed, that does not matter. But consider that eternal death would surely follow if you would go on in sins. Let this danger move you to follow this physician and escape eternal death.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Matthew 9:12–13 in King James wording, introduced by "The Lord Jesus said," with Dietrich's order in the last sentence. starcken ("strong") is the King James "whole"; Luther's "I have pleasure in mercy" (Jch hab wolgefallen an barmhertzigkeyt) is the King James "I will have mercy."
- The heading. "Matthei am 9." is correct here: the Gospel is the call of Matthew, Matthew 9:9–13.
- "Fellowship with the publicans." Matthew 9:10–11: "Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?"
- "Intractable, disobedient." vnleidlichen, insufferable, impatient; vngefölgigen, not following orders.
- "That does not matter." da ligt nit an.

Prayer (PDF p. 288)

> HErr Got himlischer Vatter/du hast vnns durch dein liebes wort/zu deynem Reych beruffen/da vergebung der sünden/vñ alle genad vnd barmhertzigkeyt jnne ist/Jch bitte dich/du wöllest durch deinen heyligen Geyst/vnsere hertzen erwecken/vnnd erleuchten/das wir/wie Mattheus der Zolner/solchen beruff annemen/von sünden ablassen/vnd vns bessern/vnnd aller gnad durch deinen Son Christum Jesum/vns zu dir versehen/vnd also endlich selig werden/AMEN.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, Thou hast called us by Thy dear word into Thy kingdom, wherein is forgiveness of sins and all grace and mercy: I beseech Thee, quicken and enlighten our hearts by Thy Holy Ghost, that we, like Matthew the publican, may accept such a call, forsake sin, and amend our lives, and look to Thee for all grace through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, and so at last be saved; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Congregational form (TLHy practice): Read "We beseech Thee" for "I beseech Thee"; the rest is unchanged.

Notes

- Mixed number. The German mixes "Jch bitte dich" with "vnsere hertzen … das wir"; it is kept as printed.
- Rendering choices. erwecken is TLHy's "quicken" (Trinity 3). aller gnad … vns zu dir versehen means "to look to Thee for all grace" (sich zu jemandem einer Sache versehen, to expect something confidently from someone).

Daruñ sey yederman froñ vñ förchte Got/so wil Got behüten vñ segnē.

That Satan and his whole kingdom are the enemy of us men, and lie in wait for us every moment to see whether he may do harm to body or soul, we experience daily in ourselves and in other people. For that so much misery comes upon us unforeseen, with sickness, storms, hail, water, fire and other things, and that men so grieve and injure one another and cause all manner of misfortune: all this happens at the instigation and driving of the wretched Satan. And it is all the more grievous because the enemy is too strong for us, and we cannot resist him as we can resist people. He cares nothing for guns or sword; we are defenseless against him, but he is invisible, and we can do him no harm with our strength or might. But so that we should have no cause to complain, as though God had forgotten us, the dear angels are appointed by God to watch over us and keep us, and to resist and restrain the enemy. As David says here, they have the charge to keep us in all our ways, that is, everywhere we go in our calling, and to bear us up in their hands, so that no harm may befall us. All Christians are to know this, and not only comfort themselves with such aid and help and pray for it daily, but also lead and order their whole life accordingly, so that they are not robbed of this protection. For in the 34th Psalm it stands that the angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear God. Therefore, where there are coarse, ungodly people, who lie in sins and care nothing for God's word, with them the dear angels will not be. Therefore let everyone be godly and fear God; then God will protect and bless.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is Psalm 91:11–13 in King James wording. With Luther, Dietrich has the perfect, "He hath given his angels charge" (King James "For he shall give"). The heading's reference, "In dem 91. Psalm," is correct. As at Palm Sunday and Pentecost, the text is not the Gospel of the day (Matthew 18:1–10) but a passage of the Old Testament.
- The woodcut (p. 289) shows Revelation 12: the woman clothed with the sun and crowned with stars, the dragon casting out water after her, and angels fighting with swords.
- "Guns." büchssen, firearms.

- "Everywhere we go in our calling." Dietrich's gloss on "in all thy ways," as at Trinity 5 ([51]) and elsewhere: the angels guard us in our station and work.
- Psalm 34. Psalm 34:7 (Luther 34:8), in King James wording with Dietrich's "God" for "him." sich vmb die her legere is Luther's lagert sich vmb die her, "encampeth round about."
- The prayer that follows has no "Gebet" rubric (see the note on the German).

Prayer (PDF p. 292). There is no "Gebet" rubric: the prayer follows directly after the catchword "Herr" on p. 291.

> HERR Gott himlischer Vatter/Wir danckē dir für deine Vätterliche barmhertzigkeyt/das du deine liebe Engel dazu verordnet hast/das sie auff vns sehen/vnnd wider des leydigen Sathans fürnemen vns schützen sollen/Vnd bitten dich/regier vnnd füre vnsere hertzen vnnd sinn/durch deinen heiligen Geyst dermassen/das wir in deiner forcht vns halten/vnnd wider deinen willen nicht thun/vnnd also in allerley zufallenden nöten/die zuuersicht mögen behalten/das deine liebe Engel werden vmb vns/vnd alles was wir haben/einen starcken vesten zaun machen/das weder der Sathan/noch die arge welt einbrechen/vnnd schaden möge thun/auff das gleich wie durch deinen lieben Sun Christum Jhesum/vns vnsere sünde vergeben/vnnd das ewige leben versprochē ist/also durch den schutz deiner lieben Engel/leyb/leben/vñ alles was wir auff erden haben/möge erhalten vnd befridet werden. Amen.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy fatherly mercy, that Thou hast ordained Thy dear angels to watch over us and to defend us against the designs of the hateful Satan; and we beseech Thee, so rule and direct our hearts and minds by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may keep ourselves in Thy fear and do nothing against Thy will, and so in all manner of need that befalleth us may retain the confidence that Thy dear angels will make a strong and sure hedge about us and all that we have, so that neither Satan nor the wicked world may break in and do harm; that, even as through Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, our sins are forgiven us and eternal life is promised us, so through the protection of Thy dear angels body, life, and all that we have on earth may be preserved and protected; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Rendering choices.
  - leydig means hateful or accursed.
  - zaun is a "hedge" (cf. Job 1:10, King James: "made an hedge about him … and about all that he hath").
  - befridet means protected; literally "kept in peace," or "fenced about."

Dietrich's heading (PDF p. 293): Am tag Simonis vnd Jude/Johan. am 15. [On the Day of Simon and Jude. John 15.]

Verse (PDF pp. 293–294)

> DAs gebiette ich euch/das jr euch vnter einander liebet/So euch die welt hasset/so wisset das sie mich vor euch gehasset hat/Weret jr [p. 294] von der welt/so hette die welt das jr lieb. Die weil jhr aber nicht von der welt seydt/sonder ich hab euch von der welt erwehlet/Darumb hasset euch die welt.

These things I command you, that ye love one another. If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

> DJß ist ein nötige vermanung vñ trost für die Christen/das erstlich sie vnter einander/alle lieb vnnd freundtligkeyt beweysen/vnd darnach am Creutz sich nicht ergern sollen. Was [p. 295] solt du aber alß denn gedencken? Wilt du es dafür halten/die lehr sey vnrecht/sonst solte die welt sie annemen? Nein. Wilt du aber glauben/Got habe dein vergessen/das er nicht besser vber dir helt/vnd dich so plagen lest? Nein. Sonder das widerspil solt du glauben/vñ das Creutz anders nit annemen noch deuten/Deñ ein gewisses zeychen vnnd zeugniß/das Gott dich von der welt außerwehlet hab/vnnd du nicht ein welt kind/sonder Gottes kind seyest. Derhalb soll niemandt für dem Creutz sich entsetzen/frewen sollen wir vns/als eines gewissen zeugnuß/das vnser lehr recht/vnnd wir Gotes kinder sind/vñ vnsern lohn in yenem leben gewiß empfangen sollen/AMEN.

This is a necessary exhortation and comfort for Christians: first, that they are to show all love and kindness to one another, and then that they are not to be offended at the cross. For when things go ill with us, our reason can judge no otherwise than that God is angry with us and will have nothing to do with us. But here our dear Lord Christ tells His disciples beforehand in plain words that the world will hate them. Therefore let no one think, if he preaches rightly, that the world will hold him in high esteem, praise, honor and celebrate him: it will hate him, and upon the hatred all manner of misfortune will follow. But what are you to think then? Will you hold that the doctrine is wrong, since otherwise the world would accept it? No. Or will you believe that God has forgotten you, since He does not keep better watch over you, and lets you be so plagued? No. But you are to believe the opposite, and to take and interpret the cross in no other way than as a sure sign and testimony that God has chosen you out of the world, and that you are not a child of the world but a child of God. Therefore let no one be dismayed at the cross; rather we are to rejoice in it, as a sure testimony that our doctrine is right, that we are God's children, and that we shall surely receive our reward in the life beyond. Amen.

Notes on the verse and summary

- The verse is John 15:17–19 in King James wording. Dietrich's "This I command you" (Das gebiette ich euch) is the King James "These things I command you."
- "A child of the world." ein welt kind; compare Luke 16:8, "the children of this world."
- "Keep better watch over you." besser vber dir helt.
- "Amen." The summary ends with "AMEN," as at Epiphany ([12]) and several Trinity Sundays.
- Misprint. vnsers for vnser.
- The rubric closes the sanctorale, as "End of the Sunday Gospels" closes the temporale (p. 227, under [71]); here it follows the prayer.

New translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who hast revealed Thyself through Thy Son, Jesus Christ: We beseech Thee, give Thy Holy Ghost into our hearts, that He may kindle in us true Christian love, and guard and keep us from all that is contrary to love; and that He may moreover comfort and strengthen us in all adversity which befalleth us for the sake of Thy word, that we may hold fast to Thy grace and word, and despise the wrath of the world and of the devil; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Notes

- Supplied object. behütte vnnd beware has no object in the German; "us" is supplied.

PART III. END MATTER (PDF pp. 297–304)

After the sanctorale the book closes with Dietrich's address to the Christian reader (pp. 297–298), two further prayers (pp. 299–303) and the colophon (p. 304). The address is prose and is translated like the summaries. Neither prayer is a Gospel collect, and neither appears in Stratman or TLHy; they are given in the same form as the collects, and each ends with its own conclusion, so no TLHy ending is added.

Translation

This short exposition has been composed for the benefit of the young people, so that they might have their exercise in God's word all the better. Therefore fathers and mothers may accustom their little children to learn by heart, every Sunday, the principal saying, which is always set first, taken from the Gospel, and to say it nicely by heart all through the following week after the Gratias, and at times also to read the short exposition and the prayer with it. So a diligent householder, by this weekly exercise, can bring it about that the children and the servants learn more comforting and beautiful sayings from the New Testament than all the papist monks, priests and nuns know. O, it is a blessed exercise and a service well pleasing to God, where in this way the young people are accustomed early to God's word and kept continually in such exercise. There without doubt the blessing will come that stands in the 128th Psalm: "Thy children shall be like olive plants round about thy table"; that is, God will grant and give you such children that you will not only have your delight in seeing them, but also a sure hope that they will turn out well, and you will live to see every good thing in them; whereas the other young folk, who are neither brought up nor instructed in God's word by their parents, remain insolent, wild and ill-bred, and their parents must see every misery in them. From this may God graciously preserve all godly Christians. Amen.

Veit Dietrich.

Notes

- How the book was to be used. The "principal saying … always set first" is the Scripture verse that heads each section, given in this edition as Verse. Children were to learn it by heart on Sunday and recite it daily through the week, and at times to read the summary ("the short exposition") and the prayer with it.
- "After the Gratias." The grace after meals, named from the Latin gratias, "thanks"; Luther's Small Catechism gives a form of it for the household. The verse was to be said after it.
- "Householder." Haußvatter, the father of the household, whom Luther's catechisms charge with teaching the household.
- "Servants … young folk." gesind is the household, and especially its young people and servants; compare gesindlin in the dedicatory letter (¶9). The second time it occurs, of children not brought up in God's word, it is rendered "young folk."
- Psalm 128:3, in King James wording with Dietrich's "children" (kindlin). Luther's Ölzweige ("olive branches") is the King James "olive plants."
- "Papist monks, priests and nuns." Bepstische München/Pfaffen vnnd Nonnen; Pfaffen is disparaging (see [42]).
- Spelling. jm wort is printed with the long j, as the pronoun forms are (§2.1); here it is the preposition and article (im).

Translation

> Lord God, heavenly Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast so graciously kindled for us the blessed light of Thy word, and hast suffered it to shine until now; and we beseech Thee, do Thou at this time graciously uphold this light, and suffer not Satan and the wicked world to quench it. Have mercy upon us, dear Father, upon whom such misery would especially fall. We are yet young and untrained, and have continual need to be taught by our parents in Thy fear and in Thy word, and to learn to know Thee better and better from day to day. But the enemies of Thy word go about to lead us into idolatry and darkness, and would take the word from us altogether. Such misery, dear Father, do Thou prevent for Thy name's sake. Thou sayest that Thou wilt perfect Thy praise out of the mouth of babes and sucklings: for such grace we now beseech Thee, dear Father, give peace to Thy Church, and restrain all the enemies of Thy word who now oppress us; that we and our little brothers and sisters, who are daily growing up after us, may also have this gracious light, and with our prayer morning and evening may praise, call upon, and confess Thee, who with Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Holy Ghost art our only God and everlasting comfort. Amen.

Notes

- Voice. The heading frames this as a prayer that parents are to teach their children. The prayer itself speaks in the children's voice ("We are yet young and untrained…").
- Scripture. dein lob zu zurichten auß dem munde der vnmündigen vñ seugling follows Matthew 21:16 (cf. Psalm 8:2), rendered in King James wording ("perfected praise").
- Rendering choices.
  - ob solchem liecht … halten means to uphold or keep hold over this light.
  - da mit vmb gehen is "go about to" (cf. John 7:19, King James).

  - wehren (with dative) means to restrain or prevent.
  - abens = abends (evening).
- Name. Christo Jesu is given as "Jesus Christ," as in the collects (§2.2).

Translation

> True, eternal, and almighty God, Father of our Savior Jesus Christ, Creator of heaven and earth, together with Thine eternal Son and Holy Ghost: We confess that, alas, we have much sin, and have sinned not only unwittingly but also wittingly, with great ingratitude, and have well deserved Thy wrath and punishment; and we have a hearty displeasure at our sins.
> But we pray from our hearts that Thou wouldest graciously forgive us all our sins for the sake of Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast appointed to be the Reconciler, and govern our hearts with Thy Holy Ghost, that we may live before Thee at all times in true faith, true invocation, and true obedience.

> And since Thou seest the great need of our rulers and of us all, men, women, and children, and that without Thy help we have no protection; since Thou knowest also the hearts of all men, and seest that our enemies chiefly seek the destruction of true doctrine and the setting up and establishing of their shameful idolatry and lewdness: we therefore beseech Thee from our hearts, through our Savior Jesus Christ, that for Thine honor's sake Thou wouldest graciously protect and keep, now and at all times, our rulers, our church, ourselves, our children, and our households, as Thou didst preserve and protect Thy people Israel in the Red Sea; and that Thou wouldest destroy the counsel and might of the enemies, and not suffer the murderous foreign nation to practice its lewdness and cruelty upon our wives and children.
> Do Thou also, for Thine honor's sake, henceforth graciously preserve Thy doctrine and Christian and blessed government in these lands, and by Thy Holy Ghost incline our rulers to Christian and blessed rule, that they and the subjects may live and abide in the true knowledge of Jesus Christ, in true invocation of Thee and obedience toward Thee, and in peace, and may praise Thee and give thanks unto Thee forever. Thou hast said: "Call upon Me in trouble, and I will hear thee, that thou shalt glorify Me." Such words of Thine are without doubt true. Therefore I beseech Thee, hear us also in this great need, for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, and graciously preserve us. Amen.

Notes

- Psalm 50:15. Bugenhagen quotes the verse with erhören ("hear"), where Luther's Bible reads erretten ("deliver"). The translation follows Bugenhagen.
- Rendering choices.
  - versöner (Versöhner) is "Reconciler."
  - Herrschafft is the ruling authority, here "our rulers."
  - anrüffung is invocation, the calling upon God.
  - vnzucht is unchastity or lewdness.
  - heußlin are little houses, that is, households.
- Person. The prayer speaks as "we" throughout but closes Darumb bit ich dich ("Therefore I beseech Thee"); this is kept as printed.
- Paragraphs. The paragraph breaks follow the print.
- Setting (an inference). The prayer asks protection for rulers, church and households against enemies bent on rooting out true doctrine and setting up idolatry, and against a "murderous foreign nation." In a book printed at Nuremberg in 1548, whose dedication (2 September 1546) speaks of the sword now added to the speaking against the gospel (front matter, ¶5), this points to the Schmalkaldic War of 1546–47, and the unnamed "foreign nation" is presumably the emperor's foreign soldiery. Bugenhagen addressed the Saxon clergy on that war in 1546 (Von der jetzigen Kriegsrüstung). Whether this prayer comes from that writing has not been checked.

Colophon (PDF p. 304)

A woodcut of the Transfiguration fills most of the page: Christ stands in light above the clouds between Moses and Elijah, and the three disciples kneel below. Two banderoles frame it. The lower reads DOMINE BONVM EST NOS HIC ESSE ("Lord, it is good for us to be here," Matthew 17:4). The upper is worn; its legible letters, …FILIVS MEVS DILECTVS … IPSVM…, belong to the Father's word at the Transfiguration, "This is my beloved Son … hear ye him" (Matthew 17:5). Beneath the woodcut:

> Psalm. LXXXIX.
> Wol dem Volck das jauchtzen kan.
> Gedruckt zu Nürmberg/durch Johañ vom Berg/vnd Vlrich Newber.

Psalm 89: Blessed is the people that can rejoice.

Printed at Nuremberg by Johann vom Berg and Ulrich Neuber.

Notes

- The Psalm. Psalm 89:16 in Luther's Bible (89:15 in the King James Version, "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound"). The line is in Luther's wording.
- The printers. Johann vom Berg (Montanus) and Ulrich Neuber printed together at Nuremberg from the 1540s.

Appendix A. TLHy collects not taken from Dietrich

These are the collects that Stratman marks (H), as TLHy's own, together with one TLHy collect that he omits, the second collect for St. Stephen's Day. Where Dietrich has a collect for the same day, it is given in Part I or II, and the index (§3) lists both.

The Norwegian originals. TLHy prints two series of collects (p. 45; see Appendix B). The first series is the collects of the Church of Norway in English, in the revised form appointed for use from Advent 1887. Most of those collects are Dietrich's prayers in Danish-Norwegian form, which is why most of TLHy's first series is found in the Summaria. The first-series collects that are not Dietrich's are Norwegian as well, and each is given here as Dietrich's collects are given in Parts I and II: first the Norwegian, from the official collection of 1887, Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, then TLHy's text revised against it (Revised TLHy), with every change listed under Changes from TLHy. The rules of §2.2 and §2.3 apply, with the Norwegian in place of the German. TLHy's wording is quoted from the printed hymnary (1913). The Orthodox Lutheran Ministerium's web text agrees with it, except that in [74] it has a colon after "repentance" where the print has a semicolon.

Older forms. Except for the second St. Stephen's Day collect, all of these prayers are older than 1887. Each is already in the Danish-Norwegian Altar Book, cited here from its printing of 1812. The committee of 1887 modernized their spelling and revised several of them, most of all [14], [20] and [88], and TLHy follows the revised text throughout. The older readings, and the Latin collects behind [7], [17], [31] and [88], are given under Origin. The revision itself follows the Norwegian of 1887, which is what TLHy translated.

Conclusions. Every Norwegian collect ends som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed [who with Thee liveth and reigneth in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God from eternity to eternity]. TLHy's first series gives these prayers its usual conclusion instead: "who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end." The Norwegian close is restored, as Dietrich's own closes are (§2.4 g). Its wording is that of TLHy's other version of [72], in the second series (p. 81), "who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end," with "Holy Ghost" (§2.3) and the first series' "one true God": "who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end." Fra Evighed og til Evighed is "world without end," as throughout TLHy. Because this change is made in every entry, it is not listed in each; changes in the words that lead into it, such as "through Thy beloved Son," are listed. Nothing is set in italics, since nothing is added to the Norwegian.

Transcription. The Norwegian is given in roman type with its spelling and punctuation. The Fraktur double hyphen is printed "-", and words divided at a line end are joined. The bidding printed before each collect, Lader os alle bede ("Let us all pray"), is not part of the prayer and is not given. "Thy Spirit" ([14]) and "the power of Thy Spirit" ([74]) stand as TLHy prints them; they render din Aand and din Aands Kraft (§2.3).

[24], [33] and [77]. These three are given as TLHy prints them, for reference, and are not revised here. [24] and [33] are Dietrich's prayers in another form. TLHy's Quinquagesima collect, [24], is Dietrich's [10], which this edition restores to the Sunday after New Year and revises there. TLHy's Maundy Thursday collect, [33], is a free adaptation of Dietrich's [32], and is revised against it under [32]. Both are in the Norwegian of 1887 in the form that TLHy translates (Fastelavns-Søndag, pp. 101–102; Skjærtorsdag, pp. 142–143). The Maundy Thursday prayer is already addressed to Christ there, and already asks that we "remember Thine agony and death" (komme din Pine og Død ihu). The harvest collect [77] belongs to TLHy's second series (p. 82), on which see Appendix B. The three are read from the page images of the printed hymnary. For [24] and [33] the web text agrees with the print, apart from a closing "Amen," in [24]; [77] is not in the web text. In [24] and [33] "Holy Spirit" is changed to "Holy Ghost" (§2.3), and the change is noted.

[7] First Sunday of Christmas

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 48, "Sunday after Christmas." Dietrich's collect for this Sunday is [6].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 39)

Søndag efter Jul. [Sunday after Christmas.]

> O evige og almægtige Gud! vi bede dig, at du naadig vil styre og regjere vore Veie, at vi kunne vandre efter din Vilje, og voxe og forfremmes i et gudeligt Levnet, ved din elskelige Søn, Jesus Christus, vor Herre, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O almighty and everlasting God, we beseech Thee mercifully to direct and govern our ways, that we may walk according to Thy will, and grow and increase in a godly life; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "mercifully direct our ways" → "we beseech Thee mercifully to direct and govern our ways" (vi bede dig, at du naadig vil styre og regjere vore Veie).
- "walk in Thy law" → "walk according to Thy will" (vandre efter din Vilje).
- "and be made to abound in good works:" → "and grow and increase in a godly life;" (og voxe og forfremmes i et gudeligt Levnet). TLHy's words are those of the Latin collect for the day (see Origin).

Origin

- Latin. The prayer is the Latin collect for the Sunday after Christmas, Omnipotens sempiterne Deus, dirige actus nostros in beneplacito tuo: ut in nomine dilecti Filii tui mereamur bonis operibus abundare. TLHy prints it in English as its second-series collect for the day (p. 48): "Almighty and everlasting God, direct our actions according to Thy good pleasure, that in the name of Thy beloved Son, we may be made to abound in good works…".

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing of the Altar Book (p. 19) reads vi bede dig, at du vil naadelig styre og regiere vore Veye, at vi kunne vandre efter din Villie, og for din elskelige Søns Skyld voxe og forfremmes i et gudeligt Levnet. There the Son is named inside the petition ("for the sake of Thy beloved Son"), where the Latin has in nomine dilecti Filii tui. The revision of 1887 moved His name into the conclusion.
- TLHy. "Be made to abound in good works" comes from the second-series collect. "Walk in Thy law" is in neither prayer.

[9] The Circumcision of Christ

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 49, "New Year." Dietrich's collect for this day is [8].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 44)

Nytaarsdag. [New Year's Day.]

> O barmhjertige, evige Gud, himmelske Fader! du, som ved Omskjærelsen vilde give din elskelige Søn under Loven, at vi derved skulde forløses fra Lovens Forbandelse: Vi bede dig, giv os din Naade, at vi saaledes maa faa Del i denne Forløsning, at vi til evig Tid blive salige, ved den samme din elskelige Søn, vor Herre Jesus Christus, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O merciful and eternal God, heavenly Father, who by circumcision didst cause Thy beloved Son to be made subject to the law, that we might thereby be redeemed from the curse of the law: We beseech Thee, grant us Thy grace to become partakers of this redemption and thus obtain eternal salvation, through the same, Thy beloved Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "who didst cause Thy Son to endure circumcision and to be made subject to the law" → "who by circumcision didst cause Thy beloved Son to be made subject to the law" (som ved Omskjærelsen vilde give din elskelige Søn under Loven). "Beloved" is restored, and circumcision is again the means by which the Son is put under the law, not a separate event.
- "that we might be redeemed" → "that we might thereby be redeemed" (at vi derved skulde forløses).
- "grant us grace" → "grant us Thy grace" (giv os din Naade).
- "Jesus Christ our Lord" → "our Lord Jesus Christ" (vor Herre Jesus Christus).

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The prayer is already in the 1812 printing (p. 22), in nearly the same words. There the petition begins Giv os din Naade, without Vi bede dig ("We beseech Thee"), which was added in 1887.

- Scripture. Galatians 3:13, "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law," and 4:4–5, "made under the law, to redeem them that were under the law."

[11] Second Sunday of Christmas

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 49, "Sunday after New Year." Dietrich's collect for this Sunday is [10].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 48)

Søndag efter Nytaar. [Sunday after New Year.]

> O Herre Gud, himmelske Fader! du, som lod din kjære Søn Jesus Christus blive Fremmed og Udlænding i Ægypten for vor Skyld, og førte ham uskadt hjem igjen til sit Fædreland: Vi bede dig, giv os din Naade, at vi arme Mennesker, som ere Fremmede og Udlændinge i denne farlige Verden, maatte snarlig komme hjem til Himmeriges Rige, vort rette Fædreland, der at leve altid i Herlighed og Glæde, for din Søns Jesu Christi Skyld, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst suffer Thy dear Son, Jesus Christ, to become a stranger and a sojourner in Egypt for our sakes, and didst lead Him safely home to His fatherland: We beseech Thee, grant us Thy grace, that we poor men, who are strangers and sojourners in this perilous world, may soon come home to our true fatherland, the kingdom of heaven, where we shall live in eternal joy and glory; for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Mercifully grant that we poor sinners" → "We beseech Thee, grant us Thy grace, that we poor men" (Vi bede dig, giv os din Naade, at vi arme Mennesker).
- "may soon be called home" → "may soon come home" (maatte snarlig komme hjem).
- "through the merits of Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord" → "for the sake of Thy Son, Jesus Christ" (for din Søns Jesu Christi Skyld).

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing (pp. 23–24) has the same prayer. It answers to the Gospel of the old series, the return from Egypt (Matthew 2:19–23).

[14] First Sunday after Epiphany

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 50. Dietrich's collect for this Sunday is [13].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, pp. 58–59)

Første Søndag efter Hellig tre Kongers Dag. [First Sunday after Holy Three Kings' Day.]

> Herre Gud, himmelske Fader! du, som af Naade har sat en christelig Husstand iblandt os, vi bede dig, giv os saadanne Hjerter, at vi kunne give Børn og Tyende gode Exempler, og ikke forarge dem med Ord eller Gjerninger, men holde dem flittig til Kirke at høre dit salige Ord, og giv dem din Aand og Naade, at saadan Sæd kan bære god Frugt, saa at vi kunne leve i vore Hjem dig til Lov, Ære og Pris, og hverandre til Nytte og Forbedring, og Ingen til Forargelse, ved din elskelige Søn, Jesus Christus, vor Herre, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who in mercy hast established the Christian home among us: We beseech Thee, give us such hearts, that we may be good examples to children and servants, and not offend them by word or deed, but faithfully keep them to church, to hear Thy blessed word; and give them Thy Spirit and grace, that this seed may bring forth good fruit, so that we may live in our homes to Thy glory, honor and praise, and to one another's welfare and improvement, and give offense to no one; through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "We beseech Thee so to rule and direct our hearts, that" → "We beseech Thee, give us such hearts, that" (vi bede dig, giv os saadanne Hjerter, at).
- "but faithfully teach them to love Thy Church and hear Thy blessed word. Give them" → "but faithfully keep them to church, to hear Thy blessed word; and give them" (men holde dem flittig til Kirke at høre dit salige Ord, og giv dem). The Norwegian asks that the household be kept to church, to hear the word.
- "so that our homelife may conduce to Thy glory, honor and praise, to our own improvement and welfare," → "so that we may live in our homes to Thy glory, honor and praise, and to one another's welfare and improvement," (saa at vi kunne leve i vore Hjem dig til Lov, Ære og Pris, og hverandre til Nytte og Forbedring).
- "through the same, Thy beloved Son" → "through Thy beloved Son" (ved din elskelige Søn). The Son has not been named before.

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The prayer was recast in 1887. The 1812 printing (pp. 25–26) begins HErre Gud, himmelske Fader! du som formedelst din Naade og Velsignelse haver givet os Børn og Tyende ("who by Thy grace and blessing hast given us children and servants"). It asks that the children and servants may live dig til Lov, Ære og Priis, og andre Folk til Nytte og Forbedring ("to Thy praise, honor and glory, and to the profit and amendment of other people"). The revision made it a prayer for the Christian household, and that is the form TLHy translates. The Gospel of the old series is the boy Jesus in the temple (Luke 2:42–52).

[17] Third Sunday after Epiphany

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 51. Dietrich's collect for this Sunday is [16].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 70)

Tredie Søndag efter Hellig tre Kongers Dag. [Third Sunday after Holy Three Kings' Day.]

> O almægtige, evige Gud! vi bede dig, at du naadig vil se til vor Skrøbelighed, og udrække din vældige Haand til at beskjærme os imod vore Fiender, ved Jesus Christus, din Søn, vor Herre, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen.

Revised TLHy

> O almighty and everlasting God, we beseech Thee mercifully to look upon our infirmities, and to stretch forth Thy mighty hand, to defend us against our enemies; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "mercifully look upon our infirmities, and in all dangers and necessities stretch forth Thy mighty hand" → "we beseech Thee mercifully to look upon our infirmities, and to stretch forth Thy mighty hand" (vi bede dig, at du naadig vil se til vor Skrøbelighed, og udrække din vældige Haand). "In all dangers and necessities" is in neither the Norwegian nor the Latin; it comes from TLHy's second-series collect for the day (see Origin).
- "Thy Son" → "Thy Son, our Lord" (din Søn, vor Herre).

Origin

- Latin. The prayer is the Latin collect for the Third Sunday after Epiphany, Omnipotens sempiterne Deus, infirmitatem nostram propitius respice: atque ad protegendum nos dexteram tuae majestatis extende, with "against our enemies" (imod vore Fiender) added. The 1812 printing (p. 32) has it in the same words as 1887.
- TLHy. TLHy's second series gives the Latin collect in the form of the Common Service, with the Book of Common Prayer's "in all our dangers and necessities" (pp. 51–52): "Almighty and everlasting God, mercifully look upon our infirmities, and in all our dangers and necessities stretch forth the right hand of Thy majesty, to help and defend us". The first-series text borrows that phrase.

[20] Sixth Sunday after Epiphany

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 53. The Summaria has no section for this Sunday. In the Norwegian book the prayer is the collect of the Twenty-seventh Sunday after Trinity, and the Sixth Sunday after Epiphany has no propers of its own, only a rubric (p. 87): Det sker undertiden, dog sjelden, at der imellem Hellig tre Kongers Dag og Søndag Septuagesima ogsaa falder en sjette Søndag: derfor, naar det sker, da maa man bruge den Kollekt, Epistel og Evangelium, som falder paa den 27de Søndag efter Trefoldighed, fordi der da ikke falder saa mange Søndage mellem Trefoldighed og Advent. [It happens at times, though seldom, that a sixth Sunday also falls between Holy Three Kings' Day and Septuagesima Sunday: therefore, when it happens, one is to use the collect, Epistle and Gospel that fall on the 27th Sunday after Trinity, because there are then not so many Sundays between Trinity and Advent.] TLHy reverses the arrangement. It prints the collect at the Sixth Sunday after Epiphany and appoints it for "the last Sunday after Trinity in each year" (p. 81); see [73] in Appendix B.

Syvogtyvende Søndag efter Trefoldigheds Fest. [Twenty-seventh Sunday after the Feast of the Trinity.]

> O barmhjertige, evige Gud, himmelske Fader! Vi takke dig, at du har aabenbaret os din Søns Herlighed og ladet dit Evangeliums Lys skinne for os: Vi bede dig, opvæk os ved dette Lys, at vi med al Flid kunne vandre christelig i alle gode Gjerninger, og altid styrkes af din Naade, og leve i Gudfrygtighed, ved vor Herre Jesus Christus, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O merciful and everlasting God, heavenly Father: We thank Thee that Thou hast revealed unto us the glory of Thy Son, and let the light of Thy gospel shine upon us: We pray Thee, quicken us by this light, that we may walk with all diligence as Christians in all good works, ever be strengthened by Thy grace, and conduct our lives in godliness; through our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "guide us by this light that" → "quicken us by this light, that" (opvæk os ved dette Lys, at). Opvække is erwecken, which TLHy renders "quicken" (§2.2).
- "walk diligently" → "walk with all diligence" (med al Flid … vandre).
- "in all godliness" → "in godliness" (leve i Gudfrygtighed).
- "through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord" → "through our Lord Jesus Christ" (ved vor Herre Jesus Christus).

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing (p. 178) has the prayer without its thanksgiving: O barmhiertige, ævige Gud, himmelske Fader! Vi bede dig, at du vil opvække os, at vi med al Fliid kunne vandre Christeligen i alle gode Gierninger, og altid bestyrkes af din Naade, og befindes i al Gudelighed ("…and be found in all godliness"). The revision of 1887 added the thanksgiving for the revealing of the Son's glory and the light of the gospel, which answers to the day's Gospel in the old series, the Transfiguration (Matthew 17:1–9), and it asks that God awaken us "by this light." The same 1812 printing has the rubric for the Sixth Sunday after Epiphany (p. 39).

[24] Quinquagesima

> Lord God, heavenly Father, who didst manifest Thyself, with the Holy Ghost, in the fullness of grace at the baptism of Thy dear Son, and with Thy voice didst direct us to Him who hath borne our sins, that we might receive grace and the remission of sins: Keep us, we beseech Thee, in the true faith; and inasmuch as we have been baptized in accordance with Thy command, and the example of Thy dear Son, we pray Thee to strengthen our faith by Thy Holy Ghost, and lead us to everlasting life and salvation, through Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

TLHy, first series, p. 54. "Thy Holy Spirit" → "Thy Holy Ghost" (§2.3). This is Dietrich's prayer for the Sunday after New Year, which TLHy prints at Quinquagesima because in the Dano-Norwegian pericopes that Sunday has the Baptism of Christ. It is restored to its Sunday and revised as [10]; Dietrich's collect for Quinquagesima is [23].

[31] Palm Sunday

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 58. Dietrich's collect for this Sunday is [30].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 137)

Palme-Søndag. [Palm Sunday.]

> O almægtige, evige Gud! du, som ved din elskelige Søns Manddom har givet alle Mennesker Ydmygheds Exempel, og ladet ham lide Pine og Død paa Korset for vore Synder: Giv os naadig, at vi kunne kjende dette i en ret Tro, og vogte os for Synden, og ved en christelig Taalmodighed blive delagtige i hans hellige Pines og Døds Velgjerninger, ved den samme din elskelige Søn, vor Herre Jesus Christus, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O almighty and everlasting God, who hast caused Thy beloved Son to take our nature upon Himself, that He might give all mankind the example of humility and suffer agony and death upon the cross for our sins: Mercifully grant that we may know this in a true faith, and guard ourselves against sin, and by Christian patience be made partakers of the benefits of His sacred passion and death, through the same, Thy beloved Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Almighty" → "O almighty" (O almægtige).
- "suffer death" → "suffer agony and death" (lide Pine og Død). TLHy renders Pine og Død "agony and death" in [33].
- "Mercifully grant us a believing knowledge of this, and that, following the example of His patience, we may be made partakers" → "Mercifully grant that we may know this in a true faith, and guard ourselves against sin, and by Christian patience be made partakers" (Giv os naadig, at vi kunne kjende dette i en ret Tro, og vogte os for Synden, og ved en christelig Taalmodighed blive delagtige). TLHy omits the prayer to guard against sin, and makes Christ's patience an example to follow where the Norwegian asks for Christian patience in us. "Following the example of His patience" comes from TLHy's second-series collect (see Origin).
- "Jesus Christ, our Lord" → "our Lord Jesus Christ" (vor Herre Jesus Christus).

TLHy's opening clause is kept. It gives the sense of the Norwegian, in which God gives all men an example of humility in the manhood (Manddom) of His Son, in words taken from the second-series collect.

Origin

- Latin. The prayer reworks the Latin collect for Palm Sunday, Omnipotens sempiterne Deus, qui humano generi ad imitandum humilitatis exemplum, Salvatorem nostrum carnem sumere et crucem subire fecisti: concede propitius, ut et patientiae ipsius habere documenta, et resurrectionis consortia mereamur. TLHy prints the Latin collect in English as its second-series collect for the day (p. 58): "Almighty and everlasting God, who hast sent Thy Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ, to take upon Him our flesh, and to suffer death upon the cross, that all mankind should follow the example of His great humility: Mercifully grant that we may both follow the example of His patience, and also be made partakers of His resurrection…".

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing (pp. 63–64) has the same prayer. It keeps the Latin's opening. Where the Latin asks to learn from Christ's patience and to share in His resurrection, it asks for true faith, watchfulness against sin and Christian patience, and for the benefits of His passion and death.

[33] Maundy Thursday

> O Lord Jesus Christ, we thank Thee, that of Thine infinite mercy Thou hast instituted this Thy sacrament, in which we eat Thy body and drink Thy blood: Grant us, we beseech Thee, by Thy Holy Ghost, that we may not receive this gift unworthily, but that we may confess our sins, remember Thine agony and death, believe the forgiveness of sin, and day by day grow in faith and love, until we obtain eternal salvation through Thee, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

TLHy, first series ("Holy Thursday"), p. 58. "Thy Holy Spirit" → "Thy Holy Ghost" (§2.3). This is a free adaptation of Dietrich's [32], readdressed to Christ, and is revised against the German under [32].

[72] Twenty-sixth Sunday after Trinity

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 80. The Summaria ends the Trinity season with the Twenty-fifth Sunday.

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 377)

Sexogtyvende Søndag efter Trefoldigheds Fest. [Twenty-sixth Sunday after the Feast of the Trinity.]

> O almægtige, evige og barmhjertige Gud! du, som ved din elskelige Søn, vor Herre og Frelser, Jesus Christus, har oprettet Naadens Rige for os, at vi skulle tro vore Synders Forladelse her i din hellige Kirke, efterdi du er en Gud, der ikke vil nogen Synders Død, men at han skal omvende sig og leve: Vi bede dig, at du naadig vil forlade os alle vore Synder ved den samme din Søn, Jesus Christus, vor Herre, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O almighty, eternal and merciful God, who by Thy beloved Son, our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, hast established the kingdom of grace for us, that we might believe the forgiveness of our sins, in Thy holy Church on earth, since Thou art a God who hath no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: We beseech Thee, graciously forgive us all our sins, through the same, Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Thy Son Jesus Christ" → "Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord" (din Søn, Jesus Christus, vor Herre).

TLHy's "who hath no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live" is Ezekiel 33:11 in the King James words. The Norwegian follows the same verse more freely (der ikke vil nogen Synders Død, men at han skal omvende sig og leve, "who willeth not the death of any sinner, but that he should turn and live"), and TLHy's wording is kept (§2.2).

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing (p. 176) has the same prayer, with ligesom du og selv er en Gud ("even as Thou Thyself art a God") for efterdi du er en Gud ("since Thou art a God").
- TLHy's second version. TLHy's second-series collect for the same Sunday (pp. 80–81) is another English version of this Norwegian prayer. It begins "Almighty, everlasting, and merciful God, Thou who, through Thy dear Son, our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, hast for our sakes established the kingdom of grace that here in Thy holy Church we should believe the forgiveness of our sins," and ends "We pray Thee, graciously pardon all our sins, through the same, Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, ever one God, world without end."

Revised TLHy

> O gracious God, merciful and dear Father, who dost bountifully forgive and gladly show mercy unto all who truly repent of their sins: We heartily beseech Thee, most dear and good Father, forgive, forgive us all our sins, and grant us Thy grace, that all we who call upon Thy name may this day and every day abstain from all unrighteousness and sin, and turn unto Thee with all our hearts, that by the power of Thy Spirit we may daily be found in sincere faith and obedience, ever filled with the fruits of true repentance, so that, when we thus seek and call upon Thee in true faith and confidence, we may find Thee a merciful God and Father, and be assured of Thy gracious help and blessing in every need of body and soul, until at length, by Thy grace, we obtain eternal salvation; through Thy dear Son, our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "merciful Father" → "merciful and dear Father" (barmhjertige, kjære Fader).
- "and show mercy" → "and gladly show mercy" (og gjerne vil forbarme dig).
- "dear Father, forgive us" → "most dear and good Father, forgive, forgive us" (allerkjæreste fromme Fader! forlad, forlad os).
- "that all we who call upon Thy name, each day abstain" → "that all we who call upon Thy name may this day and every day abstain" (idag og hver Dag maa afstaa). TLHy also lacks the verb "may."
- "bringing forth fruits of true repentance; grant us also that, seeking and calling upon Thee in faith and confidence," → "ever filled with the fruits of true repentance, so that, when we thus seek and call upon Thee in true faith and confidence," (altid fyldte med de rette Omvendelsens Frugter, for at, naar vi saaledes i en ret Tro og Tillid søge og paakalde dig). The Norwegian has no second petition: what TLHy asks for after "grant us also" is the purpose of the first. "Filled with … fruits" is the wording of Philippians 1:11.
- "our Lord and Savior" → "our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (vor Herre og Frelser Jesus Christus).

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The prayer belongs to the General Prayer Day of Denmark and Norway, kept on the fourth Friday after Easter. It is in the 1812 printing (pp. 83–84), where the day's lesson is Isaiah 55:6–8, and its opening takes up verse 7 of that lesson: saa skal han forbarme sig over ham; og til vor Gud! Thi han er meget rund til at forlade ("and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon"). The revision of 1887 modernized its language.

Amen.

TLHy, second series, p. 82. The Summaria has no harvest festival, and TLHy has no first-series collect for it. The opening is Psalm 145:16. The collect is already in the Church Book of 1868 (p. 64) and passed from there into the Common Service of 1888, the service with which TLHy's second series is to be used. > O evige barmhjertige Gud og himmelske Fader! du, som gav den hellige Stefan den Naade, at han for dit Ords og din elskelige Søns Skyld blev den første Martyr efter Christi Himmelfart, og med Taalmodighed gjorde Bøn for sine Forfølgere: Giv ogsaa os Naade, at vi taalmodig kunne lide, hvad os tilskikkes efter din guddommelige Vilje, og at ogsaa vi kunne elske vore Fiender og Uvenner og bede for dem, — ved den samme din elskelige Søn, Jesus Christus, vor Herre, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O eternal and merciful God, our heavenly Father, who didst give such grace to Saint Stephen, that for the sake of Thy word and Thy dear Son he became the first martyr after the ascension of Christ, and with patience did make intercession for his persecutors: Grant us also grace, that we may endure patiently whatever Thy divine will appointeth, and that we also may love our enemies and adversaries and pray for them; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Grant us grace to endure patiently whatever Thy divine will appointeth, that we also may love our enemies and pray for them" → "Grant us also grace, that we may endure patiently whatever Thy divine will appointeth, and that we also may love our enemies and adversaries and pray for them" (Giv ogsaa os Naade, at vi taalmodig kunne lide, hvad os tilskikkes efter din guddommelige Vilje, og at ogsaa vi kunne elske vore Fiender og Uvenner og bede for dem). The Norwegian asks for two things, patience and love of enemies; TLHy makes the second the purpose of the first, and omits Uvenner.

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing (p. 16) has the same prayer. In 1887 it was kept for use with the old series of texts, whose readings are those of St. Stephen's Day, and a new collect was provided for the two new series (the second collect, below).

TLHy's second and third series of texts give the day Christmas readings (Isaiah 9:2–7 and Luke 2:15–20; Titus 2:11–14 and John 1:1–14); the first keeps St. Stephen's (Acts 6:8–15 and 7:54–60; Matthew 23:34–39), with [82]. Stratman does not include this collect, so it has no number, and it is not in the web text. Dietrich's collect for St. Stephen's Day is [81].

Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "Eternal and almighty God" → "O eternal and almighty God" (O evige, almægtige Gud).
- "by Thy Holy Spirit that" → "by Thy Holy Ghost, that" (ved din Hellig-Aand; §2.3). The comma follows the Norwegian.
- "take up His cross" → "bear His cross" (bære hans Kors; cf. Luke 14:27, "whosoever doth not bear his cross").
- "magnify His name" → "exalt His name" (ophøie hans Navn; cf. Psalm 34:3, "let us exalt his name together").
- "and at last obtain eternal salvation," → "and so obtain eternal salvation;" (og saa til evig Tid blive salige). "Obtain eternal salvation" is TLHy's settled equivalent (§2.2), but "at last" is not in the Norwegian, which has "and so."
- "through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord" → "through the same, Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ" (ved den samme din Søn, vor Herre Jesus Christus).

Origin

- Church of Norway, 1887. The prayer is a Norwegian composition of the 1880s. A royal resolution of 12 October 1886 gave the Church of Norway two new series of sermon texts, to be used in turn with the old one, the first from Advent 1887 and the second from Advent 1888. Under a royal resolution of 8 January 1887 the Ministry of Church and Education then had the collects of the Altar Book revised, by a committee of Jakob Sverdrup, Bishops C. P. Essendrop, A. Grimelund and J. Smitt, Professor A. Chr. Bang, Gustav M. Jensen and Andreas Hansen, the revised collects to be used from Advent 1887. The official collection printed that year gives this prayer under Second Christmas Day as new, for use with the two new series, whose readings for the day are Christmas texts. It names no author.
- TLHy. TLHy's second and third series of texts are these two Norwegian series, and its heading renders the Norwegian rubric. The same English stands in the Altar Book of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Church (1915), pp. 182–183, whose text follows TLHy.

[88] The Annunciation

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 57, "The Annunciation of the Virgin Mary," printed after the Fourth Sunday in Lent and before Palm Sunday. TLHy has no collect for the Fifth Sunday in Lent: the Annunciation takes its place, as in the Norwegian book (see Origin). Dietrich's collect for this day is [87].

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, p. 132)

Marias Bebudelses-Dag. [The Day of Mary's Annunciation.]

> O almægtige Gud! du, som af din usigelige Naade vilde, at din Søn skulde undfanges af den Hellig-Aand og tage menneskelig Natur paa sig af den salige Jomfru Maria efter Engelens Hilsen og Budskab: Giv os naadig, at vor syndige Undfangelse kan blive ren af hans hellige Undfangelse, ved den samme din elskelige Søn, Jesus Christus, vor Herre, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O almighty God, who of Thine ineffable grace didst cause Thy Son to be conceived by the Holy Ghost, and to become incarnate of the blessed virgin Mary according to the angel's salutation and annunciation: Grant us by Thy grace, that our sinful conception may be purified by His holy conception, through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "of Thy great mercy" → "of Thine ineffable grace" (af din usigelige Naade; §2.2).
- "according to the angel's annunciation" → "according to the angel's salutation and annunciation" (efter Engelens Hilsen og Budskab; cf. Luke 1:29, "what manner of salutation this should be").

Origin

- Latin. The opening answers to the Latin collect for the Annunciation, Deus, qui de beatae Mariae Virginis utero Verbum tuum, Angelo nuntiante, carnem suscipere voluisti [O God, who didst will that Thy Word should take flesh in the womb of the blessed Virgin Mary at the message of an angel]. The Latin goes on to ask for the help of Mary's intercession; the Norwegian asks instead that our sinful conception be cleansed by Christ's holy conception.
- Danish-Norwegian. In the 1812 printing (p. 61) the Son takes human nature af den hellige Jomfrue Maria ("of the holy Virgin Mary"), and there is nothing of His conception by the Holy Ghost (undfanges af den Hellig-Aand), which the revision of 1887 added and TLHy has. A note in the same printing says that the feast is moved to the Fifth Sunday in Lent (Henlagt til den femte Søndag i Faste). That is why TLHy, like the Norwegian book, prints the Annunciation in place of that Sunday.

[99] Feast of All Saints

Placement. TLHy, first series, p. 77, "All Saints' Day," after the Twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, where the Norwegian book also has it. The Summaria has no section for All Saints.

Norwegian (Kollekter, Epistler og Evangelier, 1887, pp. 349–350)

Alle Helgens Dag. [All Saints' Day.]

> O almægtige, evige Gud! du, som vil helliggjøre alle dine Udvalgte og Elskelige i din enbaarne og elskelige Søn Jesus Christus, giv os Naade til at efterfølge deres Tro, Haab og Kjærlighed, at vi og med dem kunne blive salige ved den samme din Søn, vor Herre Jesus Christus, som med dig lever og regjerer i Hellig-Aands Enighed, een sand Gud fra Evighed og til Evighed, Amen!

Revised TLHy

> O almighty and everlasting God, who in Thine only-begotten and beloved Son, Jesus Christ, wilt sanctify all Thine elected and beloved: Give us grace to follow their faith, hope, and charity, that we together with them may be saved; through the same, Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee, in the unity of the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "who through Thine only-begotten" → "who in Thine only-begotten" (i din enbaarne … Søn; cf. 1 Corinthians 1:2, "sanctified in Christ Jesus").
- "may obtain eternal life:" → "may be saved;" (kunne blive salige; §2.2).
- "through Thy Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord" → "through the same, Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ" (ved den samme din Søn, vor Herre Jesus Christus).

Origin

- Danish-Norwegian. The 1812 printing (p. 162) has lad os efterfølge deres Troe, Haab og Kierlighed ("let us follow their faith, hope and charity"). The revision of 1887 made it a petition for grace, giv os Naade til at efterfølge, which TLHy translates.

Appendix B. ELH collects in Stratman

Stratman marks with "(ELH)" the prayers that, in his words, "appear in Evangelical Lutheran Hymnary alone." There are four: [73], [75], [76] and [78]. None of them is Dietrich's, and the Summaria has no German for any of them. Each is given below with what could be found of its origin, with Stratman's text, and in a version in TLHy's idiom.

What was found.

- [73] Last Sunday after Trinity is a Latin Advent collect of the Old Gelasian Sacramentary, which came into English in William Bright's Ancient Collects (1862). ELH is the first Lutheran book found to have it. A new translation is made here from the Latin.
- [76] Mission Festival goes back to a collect first printed in 1975, in the Church of England's Series 3 collects and the British Methodist Service Book. Lutheran Worship (1982) recast it as its Collect of the Day for Mission Festival, and ELH took it from there. The version here is made from that Lutheran form.
- [75] and [78] are in TLHy after all. TLHy prints two series of collects: "The first Series of Collects is to be used with the first Service; the second Series, together with the Introits, to be used with the second or Common Service" (p. 45). This edition follows the first series. The second series gives a further collect after each day's Introit. [75] is TLHy's second-series collect for the Day of Humiliation and Prayer (p. 81), and [78] its collect for A Day of General or Special Thanksgiving (p. 82). Both came to TLHy from the Common Service of 1888, and ELH follows TLHy's wording of them. Stratman marks the harvest collect [77] (Appendix A), which stands in the same series on the same page, as TLHy's (H); [75] and [78] belong with it. For these two, TLHy's own text is the version in TLHy's idiom.

How the entries are given. Each entry gives the source text where there is one, Stratman's text with its ELH number, the version in TLHy's idiom, and notes. Stratman's texts are quoted from his PDF (CC BY-NC-ND 4.0). Where ELH's own wording is quoted, it comes from search excerpts of the Internet Archive's scan of ELH; the rest of ELH's text could not be consulted, and Stratman's text stands in for it. The versions follow §2.2–2.4, with "Holy Ghost" for "Holy Spirit" and TLHy's conclusions. Because none of these prayers is Dietrich's, nothing is set in italics.

[73] Last Sunday after Trinity

Placement. Stratman: Last Sunday after Trinity. ELH: no. 136. TLHy has no collect of its own for this day. At the Twenty-seventh Sunday after Trinity it directs: "(The Collect for the Sixth Sunday after Epiphany shall be used on the last Sunday after Trinity in each year)" (p. 81), that is, [20] (Appendix A).

Latin (Old Gelasian Sacramentary, Mohlberg no. 1128)

> Fac nos, quaesumus, domine deus noster, peruigiles atque sollicitos aduentum expectare Christi filii tui domini nostri, ut dum uenerit pulsans, non dormientis peccatis sed uigilantes et in suis inueniat laudibus exultantes: per.

Stratman (from ELH no. 136)

> Lord God, heavenly Father, make us watchful and heedful in awaiting the coming of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, that when he stands at the door and knocks, he may find us not sleeping in carelessness and sin, but awake and rejoicing in his appearance; through your beloved Son, Jesus Christ, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one true God, now and forever. Amen.

Version in TLHy's idiom (new translation from the Latin)

> Make us, we beseech Thee, O Lord our God, watchful and heedful in awaiting the coming of Thy Son, Christ our Lord, that when He cometh and knocketh, He may find us not sleeping in sins, but watching, and rejoicing in His praises; through the same, Thy beloved Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Origin

- Latin. The prayer is an Advent collect of the Old Gelasian Sacramentary (Vatican, Reg. lat. 316). It stands in the Mass headed Item alia missa (§LXXXI), one of the Advent Masses that follow the Orationes de aduentum domini (§LXXX), and is no. 1128 in Mohlberg's edition. It also closes the Orationes de adventu Domini quotidianis diebus [Prayers of the Lord's Advent for weekdays] in Ménard's edition of the Gregorian Sacramentary (Migne, Patrologia Latina 78, col. 194), and it is no. 2600 in the Corpus Orationum. The Roman Missal of Paul VI revised it as the collect for Monday of the First Week of Advent, with orationibus vigilantes ("watching in prayer") in place of non dormientes peccatis sed vigilantes ("not sleeping in sins, but watching").
- Scripture. dum uenerit pulsans … inueniat … uigilantes takes up Luke 12:36–37: "that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately. Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching." The Vulgate has the same verbs (cum venerit et pulsaverit … invenerit vigilantes).

- English. "Watchful and heedful in awaiting the Coming of Thy Son" is William Bright's rendering in Ancient Collects (2nd ed., 1862, p. 16), where the prayer follows three other Gelasian Advent collects (Mohlberg nos. 1120, 1125 and 1127). The sixth edition (1887, p. 16) reads: "Make us, we beseech Thee, O Lord our God, watchful and heedful in awaiting the Coming of Thy Son Christ our Lord; that when He shall come and knock, He may find us not sleeping in sins, but awake, and rejoicing in His praises; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord." From Bright the prayer passed into many Anglican and devotional collections.
- ELH. ELH's text opens "Lord God, heavenly Father, make us watchful and heedful in awaiting the coming of Your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, that when He shall stand at the door and knock, He may find…". It is Bright's English, given the address of the Dietrich collects ("Lord God, heavenly Father") and the words of Revelation 3:20 ("Behold, I stand at the door, and knock"). No earlier Lutheran book has been found with the prayer. The Common Service (1888) and the Church Book (1892) give the Twenty-seventh Sunday after Trinity no collect of its own and point instead to the Introit and Collect of the Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity; TLHy (1913) points to the collect of the Sixth Sunday after Epiphany; and the Common Service Book (1917) gives "Absolve, we beseech Thee, O Lord, Thy people from their offences…". The Lutheran Hymnal (1941) could not be checked.
- Stratman's website. Stratman's posting of this prayer (A Collection of Prayers, 11 June 2020) gives its source as "Veit Dietrich, d. 1549, Trinity Last." It is not in the Summaria, which ends with the Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity, and his own PDF marks it (ELH).

Notes

- Basis. The version translates the Latin and keeps Bright's English wherever it renders the Latin without loss.
- Differences from Stratman's (ELH's) text
  - "Lord God, heavenly Father, make us" → "Make us, we beseech Thee, O Lord our God," restoring domine deus noster and quaesumus.
  - "your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ" → "Thy Son, Christ our Lord" (Christi filii tui domini nostri).
  - "when he stands at the door and knocks" (ELH: "when He shall stand at the door and knock") → "when He cometh and knocketh" (dum uenerit pulsans), in the King James words of Luke 12:36.
  - "not sleeping in carelessness and sin" → "not sleeping in sins" (non dormientis peccatis).
  - "awake" → "watching" (uigilantes), as in Luke 12:37, "shall find watching."
  - "rejoicing in his appearance" → "rejoicing in His praises" (in suis … laudibus exultantes). Stratman's website has "appearing."
- Conclusion. The Latin closes per ("through…"), and the Son has already been named, so the conclusion is that of §2.4 (b), as in Bright's "through the same Jesus Christ our Lord."
- Spelling. Mohlberg prints the manuscript's spellings: peruigiles, aduentum, uenerit and uigilantes (= pervigiles, adventum, venerit, vigilantes), and dormientis for dormientes.

[75] Day of Humiliation and Prayer, second collect

Placement. Stratman prints it after [74], under the Day of Humiliation and Prayer. ELH: no. 141. TLHy: the second-series collect for the Day of Humiliation and Prayer (p. 81). TLHy's first-series collect for the day is [74] (Appendix A).

Stratman (from ELH no. 141)

> Almighty and most merciful God, our heavenly Father, your compassion has no end; you are long-suffering, gracious, and full of goodness and truth, forgiving iniquity, transgression and sin. We have sinned and done perversely, we have forsaken you and offended you, against you, you only, have we sinned and done this evil in your sight. O Lord, do not remember previous sins. Let your tender mercies speedily forgive us, for we have been brought very low. Help us, O God of our salvation, and purge away our sins, for the glory of your holy name, and for the sake of your dear Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one true God, now and forever. Amen.

Version in TLHy's idiom: TLHy's own text (second series, p. 81)

> Almighty and most merciful God, our heavenly Father, of whose compassion there is no end, who art long-suffering, gracious, and plenteous in goodness and truth; forgiving iniquity, transgression and sin: We have sinned and done perversely, we have forsaken and grievously offended Thee; against Thee, Thee only, have we sinned and done evil in Thy sight; but we beseech Thee, O Lord, remember not against us former iniquities; let Thy tender mercies speedily forgive us, for we are brought very low; help us, O God of our salvation, and purge away our sins, for the glory of Thy holy name, for the sake of Thy dear Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

Origin

- The Common Service (1888). The earliest printing found is the Common Service of 1888, where the prayer is the collect for "A Day of Humiliation and Prayer." From there it passed into the Church Book (1892) and the Common Service Book (1917). The Church Book of 1868 has no collect of its own for the day: "Any of the Litany Collects may be used on this Day." No Latin or German original has been found. The prayer is a cento of Scripture in King James and Prayer Book wording:
  - "long-suffering, gracious, and plenteous in goodness and truth; forgiving iniquity, transgression and sin": Exodus 34:6–7, with "plenteous in goodness and truth" from the Prayer Book Psalter (Psalm 86:15);
  - "of whose compassion there is no end": compare Lamentations 3:22, "his compassions fail not";
  - "We have sinned and done perversely": 1 Kings 8:47;
  - "we have forsaken … Thee": compare the day's Introit, Isaiah 1:4, "They have forsaken the Lord";
  - "against Thee, Thee only, have we sinned and done evil in Thy sight": Psalm 51:4;
  - "remember not against us former iniquities; let Thy tender mercies speedily prevent us, for we are brought very low; help us, O God of our salvation, … and purge away our sins, for the glory of Thy … name": Psalm 79:8–9.
- TLHy. TLHy reprints the Common Service's text with two changes of wording. "Speedily prevent us," the King James wording of Psalm 79:8, becomes "speedily forgive us," and "and for the sake of Thy dear Son" becomes "for the sake of Thy dear Son."
- ELH. ELH follows TLHy, not the Common Service: it reads "let Your tender mercies speedily forgive us." It also has "we have forsaken You and offended You," without "grievously," and "our previous sins" for "former iniquities."

Notes

- Text. TLHy's text is printed as it stands, as [77] is in Appendix A. It already has "Holy Ghost" (§2.3). The print reads "perverseiy," with damaged type.
- "Forgive." In Psalm 79:8 "prevent" means "come before," that is, come to meet us. TLHy's "forgive" changes the sense of the verse, but it is TLHy's reading and is kept.

[76] Mission Festival

Placement. Stratman: Mission Festival. ELH: no. 140 (Mission Festival). TLHy has no Mission Festival.

English original (1975)

> Almighty God, who called your Church to witness that you were in Christ reconciling men to yourself: help us so to proclaim the good news of your love, that all who hear it may be reconciled to you; through him who died for us …

Stratman (from ELH no. 140)

> Almighty God, since you have called your Church to witness that in Christ you reconciled us to yourself, grant that by your Holy Spirit we may proclaim the good news of your salvation, that all who hear it may receive the gift of salvation; through Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one true God, now and forever. Amen.

Version in TLHy's idiom

> Almighty God, who hast called Thy Church to witness that in Christ Thou hast reconciled us to Thyself: Grant, we beseech Thee, that by Thy Holy Ghost we may proclaim the gospel of Thy salvation, that all who hear it may receive the gift of salvation; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one true God, world without end. Amen.

Origin

- 1975. The prayer first appears in two British books of 1975: the Church of England Liturgical Commission's Collects to Accompany the Lectionary for Holy Communion, Series 3, and the Methodist Service Book. It rests on 2 Corinthians 5:18–19: "God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation; to wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself." Later books read "reconciling the world to yourself."
- Lutheran Worship* (1982). LW recast it as the Collect of the Day for Mission Festival: "Almighty God, since you have called your Church to witness that in Christ you reconciled us to yourself, grant that by your Holy Spirit…". Where the 1975 prayer has "you were in Christ reconciling" (verse 19), the Lutheran speaks of the finished act, "in Christ you reconciled us to yourself" (verse 18). For "the good news of your love" it has "the good news of your salvation." And where the 1975 prayer asks that all who hear "may be reconciled to you," the Lutheran asks that they "may receive the gift of salvation." LW also prints the prayer, with "you have reconciled," among its prayers, under "Missionary work."
- ELH. ELH no. 140 is LW's collect ("Almighty God, since You have called Your Church to witness that in Christ You reconciled…"), and Stratman's text agrees with it.
- Later. Lutheran Service Book (2006) prints a shortened form among its prayers, "For the mission of the Church" (no. 104): "Almighty God, You have called Your Church to witness that in Christ You have reconciled us to Yourself. Grant that…".

Notes

- Basis. The version renders the Lutheran form (LW, ELH), which is the prayer that ELH and Stratman print. The 1975 original differs from it in substance (above) and is not followed.

- Collect shape. "Since you have called…, grant that…" becomes TLHy's relative clause and petition: "who hast called…: Grant, we beseech Thee, that…" (§2.2).
- Scripture. "Thou hast reconciled us to Thyself" follows 2 Corinthians 5:18, "who hath reconciled us to himself." "The gospel of Thy salvation" gives "the good news of your salvation" in the words of Ephesians 1:13, "the gospel of your salvation." TLHy's collects never say "good news"; they speak of "the gospel of Thy Son" and "the light of Thy gospel."
- Holy Ghost. "By your Holy Spirit" → "by Thy Holy Ghost" (§2.3).
- Conclusion. ELH already closes "through Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord." That close is kept and continued in TLHy's form, as in §2.4 (d).

[78] Day of General or Special Thanksgiving

Placement. Stratman prints it after [77], under "Thanksgiving / Harvest." ELH: no. 143 (Harvest, Thanksgiving). TLHy: the second-series collect for "A Day of General or Special Thanksgiving" (p. 82). TLHy has no first-series collect for this day.

Stratman (from ELH no. 143)

> Almighty God, our heavenly Father, your mercies are new to us every morning, and, though we have in no way deserved your goodness, you abundantly provide for all our needs of body and soul: Give us, we pray, your Holy Spirit, that we may heartily acknowledge your merciful goodness toward us, give thanks for all your benefits, and serve you in willing obedience; through Jesus Christ, your Son, our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one true God, now and forever. Amen.

Version in TLHy's idiom: TLHy's own text (second series, p. 82), corrected

> Almighty God, our heavenly Father, whose mercies are new unto us every morning, and who, though we have in no wise deserved Thy goodness, dost abundantly provide for all our wants of body and soul: Give us, we pray Thee, Thy Holy Ghost, that we may heartily acknowledge Thy merciful goodness toward us, give thanks for all Thy benefits, and serve Thee in willing obedience; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

Changes from TLHy

- "soul; Give us we pray Thee," → "soul: Give us, we pray Thee,". The print omits the comma after "us," which the Common Service and the Church Book have; the colon before the petition is TLHy's practice elsewhere (as in [75] and [77]) and the Common Service's reading.
- "Thy Holy Spirit" → "Thy Holy Ghost" (§2.3).

Origin

- The Common Service (1888). The earliest printing found is the Common Service of 1888, where the prayer is the collect for "A Day of General or Special Thanksgiving." From there it passed into the Church Book (1892), TLHy (1913) and the Common Service Book (1917). No Latin or German original has been found.
- Its predecessor. In the Church Book it replaced the thanksgiving collect of 1868, and its petition reworks that collect's: "O Lord God, heavenly Father, from whom we receive abundantly all good gifts, and by whom we are daily defended against all evil; Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy Holy Spirit, that acknowledging with our whole heart this Thy goodness, we may now and evermore thank and praise Thy loving kindness and tender mercy…" (p. 65).

- Scripture and Catechism. "Whose mercies are new unto us every morning" is Lamentations 3:22–23 ("his compassions fail not. They are new every morning"). The rest echoes Luther's explanation of the First Article, that God mit aller Notdurft und Nahrung dieses Leibes und Lebens reichlich und täglich versorget … ohn all mein Verdienst und Würdigkeit; des alles ich ihm zu danken und zu loben und dafür zu dienen und gehorsam zu sein schuldig bin [richly and daily provides me with all that I need to support this body and life … without any merit or worthiness in me; for all which it is my duty to thank and praise, to serve and obey Him].
- ELH. ELH no. 143 follows TLHy ("Almighty God, our heavenly Father, Your mercies are new to us every morning…," ending "…and serve You in willing obedience; through Jesus Christ, Your Son, our Lord…"). Stratman's text agrees with it.

Appendix C. Stratman compared

Paul C. Stratman's The Collects of Veit Dietrich gives every collect in modern English. It was used throughout as a check on accuracy, never as a source of wording.

Where TLHy has the collect. Stratman's text is a modernization of TLHy. Thee/Thou becomes you, relative clauses become statements, "We beseech Thee" is usually dropped before the imperative, and long sentences are divided. The conclusion becomes "who lives and reigns … now and forever," and the third Person is named in the modern form throughout. "Quicken" becomes "awaken," "carnal security" becomes "worldly security," "covetousness" becomes "greed," "Thy holy word" becomes "your precious Word," and "became man" becomes "became fully human." "The Jews" becomes "your people long ago," and "the darkness of Papacy" becomes "the darkness of error." Because these texts follow TLHy, they share TLHy's departures from the German; those departures are listed under "Changes from TLHy" in each entry and are not repeated here.

Where TLHy lacks the collect. Stratman's texts are his own fresh translations in the same modern idiom. Each was checked clause by clause against the German. Most are sound paraphrases; his substantive departures are listed below, and the German has been followed in every case. The most consequential are these:

- [6]: verfolgen ("persecute") is taken as "do not follow."
- [8]: the subject and sense of the central clauses are reversed.
- [23]: the blind man's sight is transferred to "us."
- [29]: a causal clause is turned into a petition.
- [32] and [84]: dauon ablassen ("forsake them") is taken as "receive forgiveness."
- [83]: the petition against the tyrants is recast as a prayer for rulers' goodwill.
- [96]: sich … versehen ("look to [God] for") is taken as "share with others."
- [97]: the central image, the angels' hedge, is replaced.

[10]. Stratman prints this prayer twice in modern dress, as [10] (Sunday after New Year, from the Summaria) and [24] (Quinquagesima, from TLHy), following TLHy's wording both times.

[6] First Sunday of Christmas (Sunday after Christmas)

- He reads die so dein wort verfolgen as "those who do not follow your Word." verfolgen means "persecute."
- He drops "rise again in Him" and "stumble at Him."
- He gives "rightly confess" for recht erkennen ("rightly know").
- He merges two separate clauses into "not be blinded by the false security of the world or by sufferings and afflictions."

[8] The Circumcision / New Year's Day

- He makes the Son the subject ("your Son put himself under the law").
- He renders the comfort clause "comfort despite such disobedience." The German speaks of Christ's obedience as our comfort.
- He gives "remain your obedient children" where the German has anfahen, "begin to be" obedient children.

[13] First Sunday after Epiphany

- "reached out to me with the blessing of baptism" is a paraphrase.
- He omits "and will."
- He gives "not forget" for versaume ("neglect").
- "May he dwell in my heart" is not in the German.
- He omits the closing "Amen," which the German has.

[16] Third Sunday after Epiphany

- He has "We have your Word"; the German says His word.
- He omits "with a word."
- He gives "remain in the faith until our last hour" for "at our last end abide firmly thereby."

[23] Quinquagesima

- He transfers the light from the blind man to "us" ("have let us poor sinners see your light").
- He omits "by Thy dear word."
- He makes Christ the object of knowledge; the German has "learn to know Thee through Christ."
- He gives "was counted guilty of our sins" for für vnsere sünde bezalet ("paid for our sins").
- He drops "sin" from "devil, sin, and death" and adds "finally be delivered in death."

[29] Fifth Sunday in Lent (Judica)

- He gives "remains in my word" for helt ("keeps").
- He turns the causal clause into a petition ("that your Son's Word may come to us and that we may hear it").
- He gives "never see eternal death" for den todt in ewigkeyt nicht sehen.

[30] Palm Sunday

- He gives "find our highest comfort" for "heartily comfort ourselves."
- He gives "Protect us from temptations to sin more" for "guard ourselves henceforth against sin."
- He gives "whatever hardships may come" for "what Thou sendest us to suffer."
- He gives "have eternal life" for "live with Thee eternally."
- His text has a typo, "you only Son."

[32] Maundy Thursday

- He gives "great mercy" for grosse gnade.
- He gives "confess our sins and receive forgiveness from it" for vnsere sünde erkennen/vnd dauon ablassen ("acknowledge our sins and forsake them").
- He gives "receive forgiveness of sins, hope and faith" for "through Christ hope for and believe the forgiveness of the same."

[45] Festival of the Holy Trinity, first prayer

- "created us at the beginning" misreads erstlich and omits zu menschen.
- He gives "bore the cross" for "paid for our sins upon the cross."
- His ending, "keep us … until our life's end in the eternal blessedness in the life to come," is reworked; the German has "keep us in Thy grace unto the end, and save us eternally."

[79] St. Andrew, Apostle (November 30)

- He omits "with Saint Andrew."
- He gives "in no way forsake him," which drops the persecution clause.
- He gives "until we are eternally blessed in him" for "until through Him we be wholly saved."

[80] St. Thomas, Apostle (December 21)

- He puts the whole prayer in the plural.
- He gives "through your Son you have given us comfort and help."
- He gives "not be overcome by unbelief, but strengthened in faithfulness to your Word" for "resist unbelief, and with entire trust commit myself to Thy word."

[81] St. Stephen, Martyr (December 26)

- He gives "by it he showed."
- He gives "finds its fullness in the next life" for "belongeth to another life."
- The conditional "if we also must suffer…" becomes "so that we can suffer any hardship."
- He omits "in place of the temporal."

[83] The Holy Innocents (December 28)

- He recasts the central petition: "Defend us from all harmful tyrants, all misfortune, so that rulers may have kind regard for your Christian Church, receive your blessings…". The German asks God to restrain the tyrants and turn the harm they plan against the Church upon their own heads. Nothing about rulers' goodwill is present.

[84] The Conversion of St. Paul (January 25)

- He puts the whole prayer in the plural.
- He gives "to be a follower and a faithful witness" for "a chosen vessel."
- He gives "receive forgiveness" for dauon ablasse ("forsake them"), the same misreading as at [32].
- He gives "humble sorrow" for hertzliche rew ("hearty contrition").

[85] The Purification of Mary / Presentation of Our Lord (February 2)

- He conforms the phrase to the biblical "glory of your people Israel."

- He omits "help" (hilff vnd schutz).

[86] St. Matthias, Apostle (February 24)

- His identical [86] and [87], including "Amen. Amen.", faithfully reproduce this edition.

[87] The Annunciation (March 25)

- He gives "bestowed on us poor sinners by sending your Son" for "been mindful of us poor sinners, and sent Thy Son."
- He gives "for our sake became fully human"; in the German the Father suffers the Son to become man.
- He omits "through Him" before "live eternally."

[89] Sts. Philip and James, Apostles (May 1)

- He makes the Son the thing shown ("for showing us your Son Christ Jesus so clearly"). The German says the Father's gracious will and loving heart are shown in the Son.
- He gives "overcome with hope" for "through such hope overcome all things."
- He omits "Amen."

[90] The Nativity of St. John the Baptist (June 24)

- He gives "humbly thank" for von hertzen ("from our hearts").
- He gives "great mercy" for grosse gnad.
- He omits "with his finger" and "without fear."

[91] Sts. Peter and Paul, Apostles (June 29)

- He gives "at all times" for auff allen seyten ("on every side").
- He gives "seeks to keep such knowledge away from us" for "seeks to drive us from this knowledge."
- He omits "unto our end."

[92] The Visitation (July 2)

- He gives "be judged for sin" for "fall into … sin."
- He recasts the Marian clause as "As the virgin Mary sang, neither wisdom nor power earn your help, and you do not regard them," omitting "money" and "them that fear Thee not."

[93] St. Mary Magdalene (July 22)

- He gives "trust in your work" for verdienst ("merit").
- He gives "secure against sin and evil," omitting "conscience" (böses gewissen).

[94] St. James the Elder, Apostle (July 25)

- He gives "you gave up your only Son" for "didst not spare."
- He omits "such a Captain."
- He turns "we beseech Thy fathomless mercy, grant by Thy Holy Ghost that…" into a direct request, "in your boundless mercy," for the gift of the Spirit.
- His text has a typo, "with as strong faith."

[95] St. Bartholomew, Apostle (August 24)

- He gives "bring many" for yederman ("every man").
- He gives "not be deterred by greed, arrogance or Satan." In the German, Satan is the one who beguiles, by means of covetousness, pride and the like.

[96] St. Matthew, Apostle and Evangelist (September 21)

- He gives "share all grace through your Son Christ Jesus with others," which misreads versehen.
- He smooths the mixed number to "Awaken our hearts."

[97] St. Michael and All Angels (September 29)

- He gives "created" for verordnet ("ordained").
- He replaces the central clause (the confidence that the angels will make a strong, sure hedge about us) with "hold to you as our refuge, that we may always have your dear angels around us to serve and strengthen us."
- He gives "break us or bring us to shame" for "break in and do harm."
- He rearranges the final clause and omits "Amen."

[98] Sts. Simon and Jude, Apostles (October 28)

- He gives "despise the world and the devil's wrath" for "the wrath of the world and of the devil." Otherwise his text is faithful.

Appendix D. Observations on the 1548 edition

1. Misprinted Scripture references in headings.
    - Second Sunday in Advent, "Luce am 22." for Luke 21 (p. 16; [2]).
    - Epiphany, "Luc. 2." for Matthew 2 (p. 43; [12]).
    - Trinity, "Matth. 4." for Matthew 3 (p. 136; [45]).
    - Third Sunday after Trinity, "Luc. 19." for Luke 15 (p. 149; [49]).
    - St. Matthias, "Matthei am 9." for Matthew 11 (p. 247; [86]).
    - On the First Sunday in Lent the reference is partly blotted, "Ma[tth]. 4." (p. 76; [25]).
2. Headings without a Sunday or a reference. The Septuagesima section is headed only by its parable, with no Sunday named (p. 67; [21]). The Monday after Pentecost has no Scripture reference (p. 132; [44]). Pentecost cites Joel 2 rather than its Gospel (p. 129; [43]).
3. Duplicated prayer. The St. Matthias prayer (pp. 250–251) is the Annunciation prayer (pp. 254–255), with a doubled "Amen/Amen." See [86].
4. Doubled Amen. The Third Sunday after Easter also ends "Amen/AMEN." (p. 115; [38]).
5. Typesetting slips.
    - p. 75: "völlest" for "wöllest" ([23]).
    - p. 80: "vom dem" for "von dem" in the heading ([26]).
    - p. 95: ")" for a virgule ([30]).
    - p. 152: "ANEN" for "AMEN" ([49]).
    - p. 198: "Gerst" for "Geyst" ([63]).
    - p. 216: "gekommen" for "genommen" ([68]).
    - p. 296: "inn sere" for "inn vnsere" ([98]).
    - The catchwords disagree with the following page at p. 262 ("geschicket" vs. "schicket") and p. 275 ("reichlich" vs. "reychlich").

6. Order of sections. St. Stephen sits in the temporale after Christmas. Mary Magdalene (pp. 267–271) is printed before the Visitation (pp. 272–276). The Magdalene heading states that the feast is kept on the Seventh Sunday after Trinity.
7. Two Trinity sections. There are two Trinity sections, each with its own prayer: the Baptism text, Matthew 3 ([45]), and the Nicodemus text, John 3 ([46], the one TLHy uses).
8. Epiphany 2 (Cana, pp. 54–57). The prayer is headed Für die/so im Ehestand sind [For those who are in the estate of marriage], is in the first person singular (with a shift to "wir" partway through), and is followed by a rubric for the unmarried, given under [15]. No further Dietrich prayer is missing for this Sunday.
9. End matter. The book closes with Dietrich's address to the reader (pp. 297–298), the two appended prayers (pp. 299–303) and the colophon (p. 304), all given in Part III.
10. Dates. The dedication is dated 2 September 1546 (p. 12), two years before this printing (1548). Stratman gives 1546 as the year the work was first published. If so, this is a later printing, and an earlier one would be the natural place to check the Matthias duplication (item 3) and the misprints above.
11. Sayings from outside the Gospels. Nine sections take their saying from elsewhere in Scripture: the First Sunday in Advent (Zechariah 9:9, which the Gospel quotes; p. 13; [1]), St. Stephen (Acts 7:59–60; p. 30; [81]), Palm Sunday (Isaiah 53:4–6; p. 92; [30]), Maundy Thursday (1 Corinthians 11:23–25; p. 97; [32]), Easter Day (Romans 4:25; p. 101; [34]), the Ascension (Ephesians 4:8 and Romans 8:34; p. 122; [41]), Pentecost (Joel 2:28, 32; p. 129; [43]), the Conversion of St. Paul (1 Timothy 1:15–16; p. 241; [84]) and St. Michael (Psalm 91:11–13; p. 289; [97]).
12. Misprinted references in the summaries.

- Epiphany, "Mattheus 1." for Matthew 2 (p. 48; [12]).
- Twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity, "1. Pet. 2." for 2 Peter 2 (p. 226; [71]).
- Conversion of St. Paul, "in den geschichten der Apostel am 9. vnd 25. Cap.", where Acts 26 is evidently meant (p. 242; [84]).
- Sts. Philip and James, "Johan. 7." for John 17 (p. 256; [89]).

13. Slips in the sayings and summaries.

- p. 27: "dem hirten" for "den hirten" ([5]).
- p. 28: ")" for a virgule ([5]).
- p. 29: "aff" for "auff" ([5]).
- p. 33: "sein Seele" for "dein Seele" ([6]).
- p. 34: "druchschneytet" for "durchschneytet" ([6]).
- p. 45: "sum̃er" for "stum̃er" ([12]).
- p. 52: "Jpseph" for "Joseph" ([13]).
- p. 62: "dae" for "das" ([18]).
- p. 71: "vnachsame" for "vnachtsame" ([22]).
- p. 77: "wreden" for "werden" ([25]).
- p. 85: "rages" for "tages" ([27]).
- p. 100: "vud" for "vnd" ([32]).
- p. 108: "Tanf" for "Tauf" and "Euangeon" for "Euangelion" ([36]).
- p. 126: "niches" for "nichts" ([42]).
- p. 136: "berab" for "herab" ([45]).
- p. 141: "wadel" for "wandel" and "weytrer" for "weyter" ([46]).
- p. 158: "bergern" for "begern" ([51]).

- p. 175: "mehe" for "mehr" ([56]).
- p. 182: "sd" for "so" ([58]).
- p. 194: "Starck" for "Sarck" ([62]).
- p. 209: "Gottee" for "Gottes" ([66]).
- p. 214: "mit" for "mir" ([68]).
- p. 219: "wekliche" for "weltliche" ([69]).
- p. 245: "gieych" for "gleych" ([85]).
- p. 249: "durche" for "durchs" and "erzüvnen" for "erzürnen" ([86]).
- p. 258: "vom" for "von" ([89]).
- p. 264: "mit" for "nit" ([91]).
- p. 269: "aewest" for "gewest" and "gm" for "am" ([93]).
- p. 294: "vnsers" for "vnser" ([98]).
- Letters that have failed to print or are damaged: "Schriff[t]gelerten" (p. 127; [42]), "bl[i]ben" (p. 188; [60]), "[s]ündiget" (p. 214; [68]).

14. Rubrics. Ende der Sontags Euangelien [End of the Sunday Gospels] closes the temporale, between the last summary and its prayer (p. 227; [71]). Ende der Euangelien von fürnembsten Festen [End of the Gospels of the principal feasts] closes the sanctorale, after the last prayer (p. 296; [98]).
